Good Reading

ALL our news is worth reading, or it wouldn't be printed. Yet, in the very nature of things, there are occasions and periods when its importance is emphasized,—as with newspapers in war-time.'

One of those occasions is now. We intend no analogy, however. We wage no war in our retailing, and this is not retail war-news. It was long ago that we passed the ordeal of combat. Our place has been given us.

Lace Curtains at Two-thirds Substantially every curtain in this White Sale showing is selling at a price a good, square third under the prevailing retail figures.

That is nearly all that is necessary to tell you. The kinds of curtains we carry are well enough known.

$15 to $75.

A month ago, we said $25 to $150.

Second floor, Broadway.

Muslin Underwear for Children The Underwear people have taken good care of the younger folk in this showing. And in their interest, our features of high quality, careful finish and cleanliness of manufacturing conditions should be forceful upon you.

If you have ever seen a "sweat-shop" you will never let a child of yours wear any of its products. This clean, fresh, carefully sewn, beautifully finished underwear is as good as you could make yourself, and as "nice." But it's far cheaper than your own make would be.

More of the Hurt Books Our first look through the Book Store after the Holiday selling, for thumbed and tumbled copies, resulted in about five thousand volumes going into the "hurt" list. Since that, we have found more. Don't think we are complaining;—we are not. You may look at books all you please and as long as you please, and soiling is to be expected.

Now, we are selling these "hurt" books for a trifle.

As examples:—

Martineau's History of England 4 vols. 50c.
Irving's Life of Columbus. 2 vols. 25c.
Twenty Years After. By Alexandre Dumas. 2 vols. 25c.
Amelia. By Henry Fielding. 2 vols. 25c.
Tiryns. The Prehistoric Age. By Dr. Henry Schliemann. Illustrated with 24 plates in color. 188 cuts in black and white. Made to sell at $10; now 90c.
Friends in Council. By Sir Arthur Helps. 4 vols., $2.50; now 50c.
Victor Hugo. 13 vols. $6.
Sindbad the Sailor, Ali Baba, etc. Illustrated. English Ed. Made to sell at 52; now 35c.
Oliver Optic Boat Club Series. 6 vols 90c.
500 Theological and Religious Works, at heavily cut figures, on a separate counter.
Several hundred more sheets of ruffled and tumbled popular music, at 8c., added today. Saturday's selling was tremendous.

The Book Store, Ninth street.

A Matter of Upholstery There are two divisions to this,—labor and materials. The labor is of the highest class of skilled craftsmanship,—the materials are generally high cost. Now read this, and see what we mean by "an occasion."

First—The labor. For the next thirty days we will charge you only the actual cost of the labor done on your re-upholstering work. We hire the most expert hands we can find. You get their service at what it costs us.

Second—The materials. We offer you a great many hundred yards of Tapestries, Damasks, Brocades and Brocatelles at one-third and one-half their actual retail value.

The pieces are in short lengths,—just right for covering furniture of all kinds,—but it is not a remnant sale. There is ample quantity and ample variety. The combination of labor at cost and materials at one-half, will make many presently-dingy parlors blossom as the rose.

Third floor.

Bissell Carpet Sweepers Half Price About one hundred. Slightly rubbed in their showing during the rush preceding the holidays. Now marked at one-half regular prices:

The $3 sort for $1.50.
The $2.25 sort for $1.13.

Basement.

Calendars Five Cents The Wanamaker Calendars, got up for our especial selling, were extremely pretty and very popular. There are not many left, but such as there are will go at Five Cents each. We are selling a great many to dealers.

Sifting Out "Men of Genius" Did you ever stop to think what a lot of trash even the men of the greatest genius have written? The mass of worthless stuff that has been printed by people who have not a spark of genius is bad enough. It is pathetic to consider that most of what even the masters have written is not worth reading now.

You remember Emerson's humorous despair when he tried to read all of Goethe. He got through thirty-five volumes and then gave it up as hopeless. There were at least thirty-five more. Life was too short.

Some of the great masters have been even more diffuse. Think of the ninety volumes of Voltaire! They may have all been worth reading once, but not now.

Sometimes a kindly friend picks out a few volumes of these great masters and a few people read them. Most folks haven't the time.

The International Library does much more. It picks only the greatest works of the greatest writers. It places before the reader only those works of supreme excellence which have survived "the corroding touch and gnawing tooth of time."

True, its purpose is first of all a library of good reading, but it is at the same time a library of the best reading. There is nothing here which is not worth while.

Consider the endless evenings you might spend in these volumes, contentedly "browsing," as old Dr. Johnson used to say. Consider the things you would learn; the stimulating thoughts you would meet; the comparisons between literature old and new; the amazing vistas of all the ages in which man has thought and written, that would be opened.

This is the sort of book that is worth having, and if you investigate the Wanamaker Club's offer, you will find why you should have the library now. A postal card will bring you full information.
