OPINIONS OF EDITORS.

It Would Help Some.

Congress, instead of bothering itself about literacy tests for immigrants, ought to busy itself about establishing an intelligence test for voters.—Red Wing Eagle.

***

Why Not?

"Wolves destroy more deer than illegal hunters," is the claim made by some of those who ought to know. The natural inference is that at least half of the game wardens should be started out after the wolves.—Biwabik Times.

They Do Not.

It is claimed that the "bridge combine" is back of the agitation for home rule in the letting of bridge contracts. The bridge contractors evidently don't like the highway commission's way of doing business.—Springfield Free Press.

Sufficiently Honored.

How Ex-Governor Eberhart, a man with just ordinary ability, can ask more from the people of Minnesota is beyond us. He has been sufficiently honored. The senatorship for which he is a candidate, should be handed to someone else this time.—Albert Lea Times-Enterprise.

***

A Suggestion.

So our old friend W. W. Rich has been separated from the pay roll of the United States Marshall's office, and is feeling about as lonesome as he did when the office of fireman in the state senate was abolished, several generations ago. Why not make him sergeant-at-arms of the efficiency and economy commission?—Hastings Gazette.

***

Henry Would Make Good.

If State Treasurer Gooding is not to be a candidate for election this fall, we nominate Henry Rines of Mora for the place. No man in the state is better qualified than he. He would add strength to the ticket. Besides, the state owes him something for the good work he did during his long term as a member of the legislature.—Cambridge North Star.

***

The Law's Best Feature.

It is reported that an organized attack on the state highway commission is scheduled for the next legislature. About the best features of the good roads law is the provision requiring the supervision of the highway commission, and the people interested in good roads will do well to get busy in support of the commission.—Elk River Star-News.

***

Well Equipped for the Position.

Henry Rines, of Mora, has filed for the republican nomination for state treasurer. Mr. Rines was a candidate for state auditor two years ago and came within a few votes of receiving the nomination. His newspaper friends in various parts of the state are boosting his candidacy, and he is looking to them for the support promised in case he decided to file. He is a newspaper man, was speaker of the house in 1913, and well equipped for the position.—Brainerd Dispatch.

***

Cancelled.

Senator Clapp will not deliver the Memorial day address at Duluth this year, as the members of the G. A. R. at that city have withdrawn the invitation sent him to participate as the chief speaker, on account of his opposition to the administration. The communication stated that "we will not stultify ourselves by listening to a man who has refused to support the President of the United States in a crisis." Also that "it would be advisable for him to be too busy to be able to accept."—Stillwater Gazette.

A Hazardous Business.

Managing a saloon in this day and age is a mighty risky business from a financial standpoint. Last week a pauper, who was thrown out of a saloon at Bemidji some time ago, secured a verdict for $1,000 against the saloon keeper for frozen hands, which had to be amputated. Courts have repeatedly held that saloon keepers are liable for personal injuries received by a person when intoxicated, when the source from which the liquor came can be established.—Park Rapids Enterprise.

An Unexpected Commission.

The story is told of a temperance business man in a neighboring town who received a letter and blank from a booze concern, soliciting his patronage. The letter stated that if he wasn't a prospective customer, he would be given a liberal commission if he would fill out the enclosed blank with the names of liquor users, providing they purchased within a certain time. In a spirit of levity, the blank was filled out with the names of certain of the prominent and self-avowed "dry" men of the town. The matter was forgotten until a few weeks later when the business man received a check for $10.44 as his commission for the booze sold to the "dry" prospects he had sent in. And now he wonders who were which.—Cokato Enterprise.

HUGHES SECOND IN IOWA

Cummins Gets Delegation to Republican Convention.

Des Moines, April 12.—The boom for Justice Hughes is the real thing in Iowa, as demonstrated at the first presidential preference primary.

Only fractional returns have been received and while Senator A. B. Cummins gets the delegation to the Republican national convention by a handsome majority Justice Hughes carried a few precincts and ran well ahead of Roosevelt.

President Wilson gets the Democratic endorsement without opposition.

The total Republican vote was not over 75,000 and the Democratic 60,000. It may be a week before all the returns are in.

ASKS FOR REPORTS ON STANDARD OIL

Washington, April 12.—Without debate the senate adopted a resolution by Senator Kenyon, Republican, directing the attorney general, if not incompatible with public interest, to submit to the senate all reports of investigations made by the department into the Standard Oil company since the supreme court decree of dissolution against that company, and particularly any investigation into gasoline prices.

Senator Kenyon read to the senate resolutions adopted by the Western Oil Jobbers' association at St. Louis petitioning congress to supplant the Sherman law to make effective the decree of dissolution against the Standard Oil company and declaring it to be the sense of the association that the dissolution decree was a failure.

A letter to Senator Kenyon from R. S. Welsh, counsel for the association, declared independent oil jobbers of the Middle West will be driven out of business and face financial ruin unless an end is brought to discriminatory prices of gasoline dictated by the Standard Oil business.

The Change of a Word.

"You wouldn't think there'd be enough difference between the definite and the indefinite article to matter much, would you?" said a woman who writes for a living. "I made a lifelong enemy of a woman once just by writing 'the' where I meant 'a.' It was an account of her wedding I was doing. I said something about the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's aunt, and then I added that there were present 'only the few friends of the family.' The bride never got over that 'the' in front of few. It happened five years ago, and when my name is mentioned she still froths at the mouth."—Washington Post.

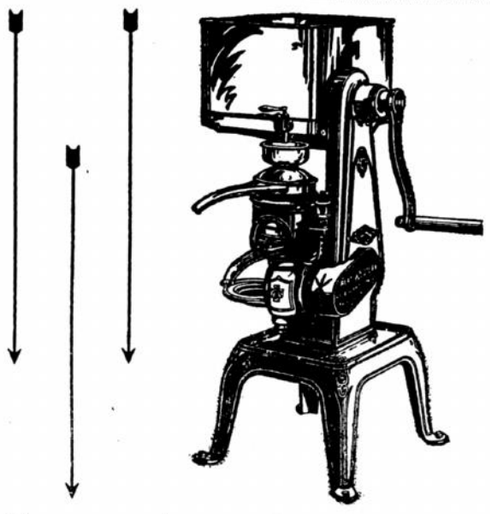
ALWAYS REMEMBER THIS



Cheap separators are cheaply made from cheap materials, that is the only reason why they are cheap. A Great Western costs less than two cheap ones and lasts longer than four. It keeps our old Ford busy these days delivering Great Westerns. They are the world's best, closest skimmer, self draining bowl, and a lot of other features no one else can show you. Also sanitary. Is it any wonder why so many women are unanimously in favor of the Great Western. So simple a child can run it, and you don't have to watch for danger signals. Come in and arrange for a free trial. At the same time it is a low priced car that costs very little to run. It is equipped with the Autolite two-unit starting and lighting system. Its rear springs are the famous cantilever type, probably the easiest riding springs ever designed. It has four-inch tires all around; non-skids on rear. Demountable rims are used and one extra rim is included. There is a magnetic speedometer and a full set of tools. It is not only a thoroughly high grade car, but carries with it a completeness of equipment unheard of in cars of this price.
