GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept Her Locks Dark, Thick, Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.
 Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

NATIONAL DEFENSE AND TAXATION PROBLEMS FOR SIXTY FOURTH CONGRESS

Washington, Dec. 4.—National defense and the means of providing money to carry out the administration plans, admittedly, are the chief problems which the sixty-fourth congress will face when it assembles at noon Monday.

Democratic leaders who had hoped to make military preparedness a non-partisan question are not confident of success, notwithstanding the widespread endorsement given President Wilson's program by prominent members and organizations affiliated with minority parties. The chief stumbling block is the method of raising the enormous revenues which will be needed.

Certain republican leaders have indicated they are ready to make political capital of the democratic dilemma should the party in power find it self compelled to resort to a bond issue or any of the tariff measures hitherto condemned by them. With leaders of both parties looking toward the national campaign next fall the session promises to be of unusual interest.

Washington is enlightened tonight with the last of the arriving members of the new congress, all of them aware of the huge legislative tasks ahead. The nation's law making bodies have not been in session for nine months, the longest legislative hiatus in the last two administrations, during which problems of supreme importance to the nation have arisen.

President Wilson will outline the salient needs of the country in a personally delivered address to congress Tuesday noon after which committees will be organized and actual legislative grinding initiated. In his opening address the president is expected to present in detail form all of the legislation the administration has in mind, but as congress proceeds he plans to send messages on special subjects.

The president's first communication probably will concern chiefly the needs of the army and navy, giving especial attention to revelations and responsibilities growing out of the European war and what may be done to finance a plan of preparedness to assure continuing safety of the nation.

The new congress is still democratic, but not so overwhelmingly as it has been on previous occasions when President Wilson addressed it. In the senate the party has a slightly increased majority, but political fortunes have reduced the almost unswayable force in the house that came in on the democratic landslide that elected Mr. Wilson so that now the party will have only a majority over all of twenty-four votes. This is regarded as a narrow margin in a body composed of 435 members, requiring a party defection of only thirteen votes to defeat a measure.

The new House as officially classified will consist of 229 democrats, 187 republicans, six progressives, one independent, one socialist and one vacancy. In the senate there are sixty-six democrats and forty republicans. Republican ranks in the house have been swelled by the return of many familiar political figures who were leaders in the long period of republican supremacy. Among them are former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and William B. McKinley, former chairman of the republican legislative committee, both of Illinois; Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, son-in-law of Cal. Roosevelt; William A. Rodenberg, of Illinois; Ebenezer J. Hill, for years a republican power on the ways and means committee, and John Q. Tilson, both of Connecticut; George E. Foss, of Illinois, former chairman of the naval committee; remembered as towering above the heads of all other members; George W. Loud, of Michigan; Benjamin K. Focht, and Daniel F. Lafean, of Pennsylvania and many others. Prominent members of the sixty-third house who do not reappear at this session are Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, who now is a senator; A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Robert F. Broussard, of Louisiana, who also went to the senate; Charles L. Bartlett, of Georgia; Timothy T. Ansberry, Robert J. Buckley and Stanley J. Bowdler, of Ohio; Jeremiah Dorr van, of Connecticut; H. Robert Fowler, of Illinois; Henry George, Jr.; Lathrop Brown, Horman A. Metz, Frank E. Wilson, Henry M. Goldfogle, and Jefferson M. Levy of New York; Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, who has led the fight for national prohibition; C. H. Burke and E. W. Martin of South Dakota; Victor Murdock, of Kansas, and many others.

New democrats in the senate are Mr. Underwood of Alabama; James D. Phelan, of California; J. C. W. Beckley, of Kentucky; Mr. Broussard, of Louisiana; Edwin G. Johnson, of South Dakota; and Paul O. Hustling, of Wisconsin. On the republican side the new senators are Charles Curtis, of Kansas, formerly a member; James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York; and Warren C. Harding, of Ohio. Senators who have retired after years of service include Root, of New York; Burton of Ohio; Perkins, of California; Thornton, of Louisiana; Eristow, of Kansas; Crawford of South Dakota and Stephenson of Wisconsin. Others who retired after short service are White, of Alabama, and Camden of Kentucky.

In relative importance on the administration's legislative program the army and navy increases in the five year plan for perfecting the national defenses come first. Allied with them is the revenue problem which involves consideration of many subjects. Re-enactment of the war tax which expires by limitation, increasing the income tax, amending the tariff to retain the duty on sugar which otherwise would go on the free list next year, bond issues, some sort of tax on incomes from the manufacture of munitions of war; and an inheritance tax, all involve serious problems and there is great diversity of opinion as to what should be done.

Republican leaders who are expected to favor generally a large army and navy increase, will seek to restore protective tariff rates and prolonged discussion and vigorous political scheming is expected when once the tariff is opened. Some democrats think the duty on wool should be restored.

The inheritance tax has many advocates and there are some who would amend the war tax materially by assessing all liquors heavily. Others would revive the agitation to tax gasoline and automobiles.

Already democratic opposition to the president's army and navy program has developed, and the defection of Majority Leader Kitchin, who will succeed Mr. Underwood as head of the majority party in the house, has been widely heralded. The administration, however, will not be embarrassed for adequate marshals on the floor of the house. Chairman Hay, of the military committee, will lead the fight for the army bill; Representative Padgett will guide the destinies of naval appropriations, and they will be aided by Representatives Sherley, chairman of the fortifications committee, Fitzgerald, of appropriations, and Speaker Clark himself, who is steadfastly an advocate of reasonable preparedness.

In connection with the preparedness program complications are expected to involve proposed investigation of organizations which are urging congress to make heavy appropriations. The committees of senate and House expect to have plenty to do. Their inquiries may lead into the realm of foreign relations, for there have been predictions that congress would demand information of the government investigations into bomb plots, attempts to cripple munition plants in this country, and of other operations growing out of the European war.

Important measures which will be urged upon congress include: Laws to extend the American merchant marine; rural credit improvement through establishment of farm loan banks, upon which a joint committee has been working for many months; Philippine self government and ultimate independence; revision of the trust laws to prevent dumping of cheap foreign products in American markets after the war and to permit American manufacturers to establish collective selling agencies abroad; national prohibition, prohibition for the District of Columbia, a federal amendment, for woman suffrage, amendments to the bank law, modification of the seaman's law, a national child labor law, conservation legislation to provide a new system for water power sites and mineral resources of the country; a law to provide for regulation by the Interstate Commerce commission of the issuance of railroad securities and many other measures.

The majority in the senate will try to overturn precedent and establish a cloture rule, thus making endless filibustering impossible. Senator Owen, chairman of a special committee to revise the rules, will submit a report at the outset of the session and an effort will be made to adopt a modified cloture rule before anything else is done.

The long delayed treaty with Colombia, including an expression of regret for the partition of Panama, and providing for payment of $25,000,000, is still pending. The Nicaraguan treaty proposing payment by the United States of $3,000,000 for another canal strip and naval station rights is in the senate and the new treaty for a financial protectorate over Haiti will be sent in at once. It is the purpose of the majority to force all the treaties to a vote.
