Happy New Year.

The year 1889 has almost run its course. A new decade is soon to be ushered in. "The Burlington" takes advantage of its last speech for the year to wish its legions of patrons and all the people of the Northwest—Happy New Year! May it be pleasant and prosperous in all things, this coming year 1890, and a little selfishness in the wish makes it none the less sincere. for "The Burlington's" prosperity for the year will depend on the good or ill fortune of the good people of this grand Northwest. Heartily grateful for the magnificent share of public patronage that has kindly been accorded to it in the past. "The Burlingson" hopes to give in every way a yet better service, and to merit and receive a still larger share of the railway travel. For tickets by this popular line, call on the local agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Pastors and People.

ST. JAMES A. M. E. CHURCH.

Watch meeting will open at 10 o'clock p. m Program, 10 to 10:30 o'clock. Review of past year by class-leaders, members received, members who have died. 10 to 11 o'clock, In Memory of our Dead; 11 to 11:55 free to all for song, prayer, recitations, relation of experience, exhortation, etc; 11:55 formation of circle and watch for New Year. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Come and participate if you feel like it, come and look on; you are welcome. Regular Christmas service tomorrow. The first Sunday of January is quarterly meeting Sunday. Service at regular hours and at 3 p. m. Rev. Knight will be on hand and will preach the famous sermon, "Death without the Camp." The venerable Rev. W. A. Dove, whose presence has been so ardently expected lies in bed grieviously afflicted. Fifty years of unremitting service in the ministra have exhausted the once iron constitution, the victorious hero of a thousand hardships at last bends the knee to the approaching Monarch who is man's conqueror. There are few men of the race who have a brighter history for unselfish devotion to the church, than has the belovhd man of God, Father Dove, Rt. Rev. J. M. Brown exhausted by the most aaduous labors of the past year lies sick at his home. Perhaps no bishop on the bench labored more and achieved as much last year, as did this indomitble prelate before whose tireless energy aud burning zeal the west has been made to blossom as the rose. Over the Galillee door in the church in letters of fadeless green is inscribed the constant prayer of the people in his behalf. "God bless our Bishop."

All members of the church are notified to be present Sabbath, the rules will be read, and the New Year will be prepared for.

PILGRIM BAPTIST CHURCH.

As education is the influence of one person over another, so christian education is the outflow of that influence, from one who owns in his or her life the power of a christian faith. What a power it is! It changes one all through, puts light where darkness was and love where enmity used to dwell. We thank God for its transforming power.

The last Sunday in the year of 1889, be sure you attend each service, and let us fill the house as it has never been before, not only with our bodily presence, but pray earnestly for the Holy Spirit. Let the day be a spiritual and material rally indeed and in truth. The evening service will be especially to young people. Deacons meeting Tuesday evening early. Watch meeting Tuesday night, every person come, we will watch and pray. Friday evening church meeting, every member must make it a point to be present in order to have your name put on the new roll. Let us hear from you that night without fail. The Church Aid Literary Society had a very interesting gathering at Elder Sheafe's last week The next meeting is on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. Jackson 312 Carroll street near Farrington avenue. Pilgrim Baptist church wishes THE APPEAL a Happy New Year. Our wish is that you may still go on and with the new year make greater progress. The old Welch brother spoke of three kinds of progress, he said there is progress forward, there is progress backward, and there is progress standing still. Progress of the latter kind is like that of the canal boat in the lock. The door is shut and the other door is open and the water comes pouring in, you may think the boat is not making any progress, but by and by we find the boat has reached a higher level and it pursues its onward course. May this be the progress that THE APPEAL for the new year shall make. Tone up and bring the people up also, and your success is assured. We want you to be a power among the Colored people of the Northwest.

Let's Hear From Mr. Cable.

JOSE DO PATROCINIO.

The Great Colored Brazillian Journalist and Author

A Brilliant Man of Letters.

Jose do Patricinio, editor and proprietor of the "Gazeta da Tarde." is the son of a slave mother by the Parish priest of a small village near Rio. At least that is the account he has published of himself in explanation of his vehement championship of the Colored race, and his unmeasured abuse of everything and everybody connected directly or indirectly with the Empire. A writer of extraordinary influence and an orator of telling force, he rallied about him an immense following of Brazillians and posed as the Tribune of the people. He is bold, magnetic, and the support he and his paper received from the masses both in the capital and the provinces, must have satisfied the emperor long ago that it was useless to dream of a "plebiscite." Patrocinio is a dark Mulatto, short, rather burly of frame, possessed of high spirits, He has said more than once that the United States were "behind the times" politically, and that the poor and ignorant with us were practically the slaves of the rich and educated, and I have little doubt that the cause of his arrest as one of the first acts of the republican government was that he insisted on carrying the revolution to lengths, which Bocavuva and his associates saw would be suicidal. Patrocinio is likely to be a permanent thorn in the side of the new republic, but he deserves full recognition as one of the forces contributing to the downfall of Don Pedro.

Douglass Not Snubbed.

Boston, Dec. 24.—Mr. E. W. Kellogg, who is connected with the Thompson-Houston Electric Light Company, has just returned from a visit to Hayti. He says that the published stories that Minister Douglass is not receiving the treatment to which he is entitled as an officer of the United States Government are false. When Mr. Douglass reached Port au Prince there was no organized Government to receive him, but as soon as President Hippolyte was inducted into office he gave Minister Douglass a splendid reception at the palace, speaking especially warm and cordial words of welcome, to which Minister Douglass responded in a most eloquent manner, which made a great impression on all present. The Haytians regard Frederick Douglass as a great statesman, and are ready to honor him at all times.

New Year Plans.

Now that the old year is rapidly drawing to a close, people are beginning to think of 1890 and what it will bring. In nine cases out of ten each feels that in some way he has not spent the past year as he should, and mentally vows that he will mend his course in one way or another. It is the time for good resolutions. It is said that a certain warm locality is paved with that sort of resolves, but they have their use just the same. And while you are at it resolve to travel on the best road, and take the Saint Paul & Duluth—Duluth Short Line—to Duluth, West Superior, and other points, between which it runs fast trains daily. A. The World's Fair of 1892.

Is the bone of contention among the big cities of the country. Chicago and St. Louis are both making tremendous efforts to secure it. The route for all people in the Mississippi Valley to either city is via "The Burlington." An additional train to St. Louis has just been put on, giving two trains per day to each city.

Riot in a Church.

Kansas City, Dec. 23.—For some time bad blood has existed between two factions of the First Baptist Church (Colored) in this city, and the trouble culminated last evening in a ferocious fight between the members. A majority of the members of the church are opposed to the present minister, and they demanded that the meeting should be turned into a business meeting in order that deacons might be elected. Rev. Daniel Jones, the minister, treated the request with scorn, and referred to the opposition as "imps of the devil." At this one of his supporters became so enthusiastic that he raised a cane to strike one of the other faction. This was like the touch of a match to a keg of powder, and in a second the whole congregation was mixed in a free fight. Brother Jones called excitedly to his supporters: "Go ahead, my brethren. The Lord is on our side." One of his opponents resented this with a knock-down blow on the preacher's face. This was followed by more blows, and Jones evidently thought the Lord had forgotten his servant for he fled through the window without his coat and hat. The flight of the pastor disheartened his supporters and the rasult was that they were badly worsted.

BISHOP LENNOX.

An Individual From Michigan Claims That He is a Bishop of a New Dispensation

His Record Here and Elsewhere.

In September 1888, there arrived in Chicago an individual, attired in a coat of ministerial cut. With sanctified mien he said to a reporter of THE APPEAL: "I am Bishop Lenox of the Evangelical Mission church of Michigan."

"I am in chicago to make arrangements to remove my paper, 'The Evangelical Mission Star' from Jackson to this city. I don't think there is a single Colored member of my denomination in Chicago but I imagine I can do well here My paper has a 'circle' of 1,500 in the city of Jackson alone, and if I come here I think I can double it. It's published monthly. I was formerly in the Zion Methodist church, but they were not able to give me bread and fish so I joined the Evangelical Mission and now I have plenty to eat and good clothes to wear."

WELL KNOWN IN MICHIGAN.

That he is well known in Michigan the following clipping from the Detroit Plaindealer of May 24, will show:

BISHOP LENNOX.

"Bishop Lenox, self styled, with his other prefixes that the Lord only knows by what manner he procured them, is raising as big a disturbance in Chicago as he did in Detroit. He and his connected brethren either spent their time filching the public or quarreling among themselves here, and it seems from the dispatches that he hasen't improved on his tactics since going to Chicago. Everyone remembers the long gown that he wore upon the streets here, giving him the appearance of a sanctified crank. Detroiters were extremely delighted when he and his tribe left for green fields and pastures new."

STARTS A CHURCH.

"Bishop" Lenox first opened a church at 1619 Clark street which he called the Methodist Evangelical Mission Church and since that time he has been going around the city soliciting contributions support of his church. It is alleged in that he claimed to be an A, M. E. Bishop, so the Methodist pastors of the city held a meeting in June, to investigate the matter and issued the following:

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

At a meeting of the pastors of the several African M. E. Churches of this city held at St. Paul's church on Tuesday June 11th, 1889, at which Bishop John M. Brown presided, the following was passed:

Whereas, We have also learned that a man by the name of Lenox, residing some where on Clark street this city and calling himself Bishop Lenox, has been collecting money claiming to be a bishop of the A. M. E. church, and Wheaeas, The A. M. E. church has not now and never has had a bishop by that name, and believing that the said Lenox is not a bishop; and believing him to be a fraud of the first water and unworthy of the confidence of the good people of Chicago, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Right Rev. John M. Brown the Bishop of this Episcopal district of the A. M. E. church and Rev. Knight presiding Elder be requested to inform the public through the medium of the press of this action of the pastors of the A. M. E. Church of Chicago.

ORDAINED BY THE TWELVE

In conversation with a reporter, Bishop Lennox said that he was once a cook on the lake, but he determined to rise in the world. He was made a bishop by "twelve elders." He did not give the names of the persons nor the date and place of ordination. But he is perfectly satisfied that he's a bishop as if the twelve disciples themselves performed the ordination.

NO TANK FOR HIM

In his church he uses the Methodist discipline, but does not believe in sprinkling or immersing in a tank. He says Christ was baptized in a river and everyone should be "put under" running water. Brother Lennox has one arch enemy Brother James Darey, formerly a bishop of the church. Lennox and Darey had a monkey and a parrot time on one occasion and Darey was expelled from the bishopric and cast into outer darkness. Brother Lennox now rules supreme in his diocese and finds time to prod the fallen angel Bro. Darey, in his paper.

THE SUNDAY HERO.

Bishop Lennox is a very illiterate man and can make some very peculiar hieroglyphics when he writes. For several months he has, with the assistance of some white man, published a paper which he calls "The Sunday Hero." In the last issue he makes a big blow about its "phenomenal success." Although the Hero has been published less than a year Lennox claims it to be three years old and it bears the inscription Vol. 3, No 31. He has the nerve to say that it is the leading Colored people's paper and that little can be done to enhance its strength as a newspaper. He makes a number of statements that are absolutely false. For instance, above the heading in bold type is the following line: "50,000 Colored people in Chicago. The Hero is read by all of them." There are not 25,000 Colored people in Chicago and very few of them have ever heard of The Hero. Any one who cares to go to Enterprise Chapter Royal Arch Masons elected and installed the following officers for the ensuing year: John Thompson, high priest; Cary Cox, king; Richard Miller, secretary; Napoleon Bonaparte, treasurer; George Taylor, recorder.

The Colored Column writer of the Commercial says that the Colored people of Louisville are pleased with distinct representation in the daily papers. It is possible that some persons like to be stuck off in a separate corner but no intelligent, self respecting Colored person appreciates anything of the kind. The "Colored Column" is unnecessary, as there are more than 200 papers published in the interest of the race, and they'll furnish more news than the average reader cares to see or pay for. The Commercial has no special column for our Irish, German, French, Spanish, Italian, Russian, Hungarian, Polish, Danish, Norwegian and Bohemian fellow citizens. All of these nationalities have their organs containing news of especial interest to them, but in the daily papers they are not given distinct representation. The Colored Column only serves to emphasise the color line. Of all the nations on earth the Colored race is the only one which has a separate department in the Commercial. The Colored Column is not published for the purpose of benefitting the Colored people but in order to show them up to the world as an inferior class, unworthy of the treatment other people receive.

Rev. F. Lomack of the Zion Baptist church has tendered his resignation to take effect on or before the 22d March 1890, providing the church will pay him all claims, etc. Sometime ago the matter was well aired in the courts here, and finally given to a referee to settle; the referee, Mr. H. Roberts, an attorney of this city, devoted sometime in taking testimony and at last filed his decision subject to publicity when his fees which amounted to ($25.00) twenty-five dollars were paid. Both parties refuse to pay, and the decision is likely to be retained for fees due the referee. The reverend has however gone ahead and has been enabled to take in seven members since his trouble in court. Prospects are bright for the young pastor and he says he is not afraid of securing plenty of ministerial work to do.

The social Union of the Bethesda Baptist church met last Friday in the lecture room. A good membership presided and a first-class program for the evening. Mr. J. L. Neal led in the progressive play of "Plato" which was quite interesting to its participants. Messrs. Jasper Gibbs and M. E. Singleton furnished refreshments for the occasion. Rev. Dunjee and others made logical addresses.

Rev. R. H. Williamson preached Sunday evening on "Little Things." His discourse, as usual, was one of interest to his hearers. Some time ago we spoke of the good work that was being done for and by the St. Peter's A. M. E. church. That work has continued to the present time. The pastor and family are universally liked and have a brilliant future for their reward in this city. The heavy debt. though having been decreased largely, still hangs heavily over the church. By simple plans and proper execution considerable money has been raised by the friends and members of the church. After a brief sermon Sunday evening Rev. Williamson gave out some of his future plans which among the first to be put in execution will be as follows: Mr. S. Saunders has been made captain of a company of ten, with Mrs. F. Scott Lieutenant. There are ten companies, and each company will consist of ten members, Among the other captains and lieutenants are Mr. R. C. Marshall and Mrs. J. Joyce, Mr. J. L. Neal and Mrs. William Smith, Mr. C. C. Carter and Misses Shipman and Burke, Mr. E. A. Mitchell and Mrs. R. Burke, Mr. Geo. W. Turner and Mrs. J. J. Duncan, Mr. J. A. Joyce and Miss Josie Williamson, Mr. F. L. Anderson and Miss Eliza Freeman, Mr. M. Brown and Mrs. William Crosle, Mr. J. W. Prakingson and Mrs. N. Akers. These companies are supplied with barrels and will each in turn give an entertainment; the one bringing in the most money within eighty days will be given a prize. The first that is proposed will be an old fashioned spelling match, the winner of which to be given a prize. This will take place some time in the near future, and will be given by Company One.
