—A correspondent of the New Mississippian wants some more cheap railroad excursions—this time in the direction of New Orleans, where more or less small pox prevails. Let us take a rest on the excursion business for a few weeks.

—The Crystal Springs Meteor says that among the distinguished ministers who will attend the Campmeeting at that place may be mentioned Drs. Marshall, Walker, Carter, Galloway, F. R. Hill and A. J. Wheat—a very distinguished array of talent.

—Rev. Theo. Whitfield, who has been preaching for several years in North Carolina, edified a large congregation at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday night. His theme was the words of the Saviour to his disciples, at the Last Supper. "But I am among you as he that serveth."

—Messrs. J. B. Blackwell, Chancery Clerk of Scott County; Sheriff N. S. Walker, of Claiborne; Rev. E. H. Mounger, of Edwards; Prof. L. L. McInnis, A. and M. College, of Texas; and Hon. J. L. McCaskill, of Brandon have each paid THE CLARION a passing call during the past few days.

—Little Beatrice McWillie, daughter of Dr. Jas. McWillie, was severely injured last Saturday evening by falling from a stairway in the fourth story of the Lunatic Asylum, to the second floor, a distance of thirty-three feet. Her left arm was broken, but she sustained no other serious injuries.

—Beginning with this evening the ladies of St. Andrews Church will serve light refreshments at the Rectory, just opposite the Governor's Mansion, every alternate Wednesday evening from 6 to 11 o'clock. The charges will be moderate and the proceeds are to be used for needed repairs on the Rectory.

—Hon. J. McC. Martin and Mr. Lewellyn Jordan, of Port Gibson, are in the city to-day. They report that as they were leaving Port Gibson at four o'clock yesterday, the flags were flying—and the big gun was getting ready to fire a salute in order of the arrival of the first locomotive through from Vicksburg.

—Rev. C. Johnson had a severe congestive chill late yesterday evening, at Mr. Sidway's store. He was unconscious for several hours, and at one time life was thought to be extinct. Drs. Baley and Boyd were in attendance, and after hard work succeeded in producing a reaction. He was removed to his residence at a late hour, and this morning his condition is much improved.

—The A. and M. College of Mississippi are offering for sale choice collections of vines and trees, consisting of apples, pears, peaches, strawberries, grapes, etc. These trees and vines are grown on the College grounds, are adapted to our climate, and are warranted to be first-class in every respect. Send for terms and price list to Prof. J. J. Colmant, A. and M. College, Starkville, Miss. See advertisement in this issue.

—Mississippians attending the Exposition at Louisville, which opens to-day, will find a comfortable place where they can lodge and breakfast for the moderate sum of one dollar. We call attention to the card of Mrs. E. E. Marsh, who has arranged her house for the Exposition season so that she can accommodate visitors. We know this lady and her family well, and know that all who stop at her house will be well satisfied.

—Judge Wharton gives notice in the Raymond Gazette, that in order to give ample time for the Convention at Raymond next Monday to conclude its labors, the court will convene promptly at 8½ o'clock, A. M., will organize the grand and petit juries for the week, and adjourn until 3 o'clock. By making this arrangement jurors will be notified to be in attendance by the hour first named above and avoid fines. The adjourned meeting can be held at a later hour than 3 if the Convention has not concluded its labors.

Information Wanted,

Of the whereabouts of Jesse Simmons, age 15 years, who was last with his sister in Utica, Miss., just before last Christmas, when he left for Jackson. Any information that will lead to his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his sister, Miss Clara Simmons, care E. B. Comfort, Jackson, Miss.

COOPER'S WELL.

COOPER'S WELL, July 28, 1883.

DEAR CLARION: It is ten years since I visited this once very popular health-resort. It was then in a delapidated condition; but there was a row of rooms, and a dining hall, where Gen. T. C. McMakin presided. I remember the Well in ante-bellum days, when there were hundreds of visitors from near and far. The place received a set-back in 1855, when yellow fever was brought here from New Orleans. Some of the buildings were destroyed during the war, and the others soon thereafter; but there are a few cottages and sheds on the hills around the Well, and these are now fully occupied. The water is as efficacious to-day for bowel complaints, dyspepsia, general debility, etc., as it was when Mr. Cooper, as the result of a series of dreams, first bought it from its iron bed. There is a general regret that the property is not improved, and it certainly would have been but for the labyrynth of litigation through which it is passing in order to arrive at its proper value and satisfy claimants. A stock company was organized in Vicksburg a few years since for the purchase and improvement of the place, and it is thought the way will be clear for opening Cooper's Well to the public next season. Indeed it is now open, in a small way, for there are at least fifty persons who are boarding or tenting in the vicinity who have come here to drink the water.

I arrived here early this morning, via the "Little J.," taking a hack at Raymond, the cost of the drive to the Well being only fifty cents, the distance from Raymond being four miles. I found quite a large company of ladies and gentlemen drinking the water or seated on the few rude benches the place affords. Some are here seeking health, others for a change. Among others, I was glad to meet Prof. J. R. Dobyns, Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institution, who has been here with his family for the past two weeks. They have several tents on one of the hills, in which they sleep at night, and an arbor under which they stay during the day. A cooking stove, tables, cots, and a hammock, give the encampment quite a comfortable appearance. The exercise of the morning and drinking freely at the Wells, gave me a hearty relish for the excellent dinner served by Mrs. Dobyns, Mrs. Mary. C. Young is stopping with the family, and, like the rest, is much improved by this mode of living. Close by is the encampment of Mr. A. N. Kimball and family.

THE ACCOMODATIONS

For guests, though quite limited, appear to be sufficient for all who are likely to come here until the property is improved. Col. Geo. C. Porter, who has charge of the Well, resides three-fourths of a mile distant, and has a dozen boarders, with capacity for several more. His hack is at the service of his guests. He gives good board and lodging, and the use of the water, for $1.00 per day, or $25.00 per month. Messrs. Simmons and Kennedy, who are close by, charge the same, and a colored man sets a good table for day boarders.

The water is sold at the Well, for shipment, at ten cents per gallon. One dollar per week to guests. Col. Porter, however, is not a very close collector, and his rules and regulations for the use and sale of the water are posted so high up, they fail to attract the attention of many visitors. A colored man and mule are constantly employed in drawing the water by means of a windless, and it is to pay this expense that the water is charged for.

The following persons are now at the Well, in addition to those mentioned: From Pearl River.—T. H. Allen, T. A. Geary, A. G. Cassell, L. Levistein, S. Q. Kline, N. B. Lanier, L. Lowenthall, N. Vandenburg, E. K. Grinisbaw, and wife, Mrs. N. Messinger and family, S. Field, St. Joseph, La.—Zach. Griffing, W. M. Davidson, Capt. Mitchie, Joseph Currie, Geo. Moore.

Ohio.—Col. C. E. Hooker, who is quite sick; M. Stein, Satartia; Morris Dreyfus, Mr. Williamson, Washington county; Mr. Brown and Mr. Jones, Tallula, La., Mrs. Dr. W. E. Satterfield, Edwards; H. Sivley and family; Joseph Kern and family; Miss Mollie Jumper, Mr. Kelly.

Rev. Dr. Hunter will preach here tomorrow, and the indications are that he will have a large congregation.

AT RAYMOND.

I was pleased to notice some improvements among the residences. The "Little J." hasn't done very much for the place in the way of business; still the people are well satisfied with what has been accomplished in getting the town into communication with the outer world. Raymond will be immensely benefitted by the improvement of Coopers Well, for the hundreds of guests who will then resort there will leave thousands of dollars among the stores of the town. The Well and the town may yet be connected by a horse railway. There are four hotels and several boarding houses in Raymond, affording excellent entertainment. Those who may not be able to find suitable accommodations near the Well can be supplied in Raymond at one dollar per day.

Of course I called on Mr. Sam D. Harper, publisher of the Gazette, one of the oldest as it is one of best the papers in the State. Sam is the husband of a most accomplished and loving wife, and the father of a bright and beautiful baby, and is therefore as happy as a man gets to be in this mundane sphere. May it ever be thus with him and his.

Yours, J. L. P.

Educational.

The card of Synodical Female College, Florence, Ala., is added to the choice list of schools announced in THE CLARION. The terms are exceedingly moderate, and the advantages are very great. A more delightful location could not be found. The buildings and grounds are commodious and attractive. Miss Sallie Collier is the accomplished President, and she has an efficient corps of assistants.

The next session of that very popular institution of learning, Judson Female Institute, Marion, Ala., will begin October 24.

SCUTTER'S annual summer price-reduction has no connection with "cheap pictures," cheap jewelry, or "cheap talk," as the high standard of his artistic and lasting photographs will be strictly maintained.

Notice.

Since, by over a week's sickness, I have disappointed a great number of my friends and patrons, I therefore extend my annual price-reduction on photographs until September 1.

SCUTTER.

Just Think of It!

The county is in confusion. We have Fusionists, anti-Fusionists, Greenbackers and Independents; All these things are before us.

But Brown's Family and Non-Explosive Petro Oil is always the same, and will always give a steady, unerring light—on the subject. These cheap oils give a dingy, blurring light, so that no one can see clearly to read by them. If you desire to ar ive at the truth and do right, go to Brown's Oil Depot to get your oil.

A New Order of Things.

Every intelligent planter knows that within the past few years a new era has opened for the South, in the rapid and profitable development of its agricultural and manufacturing resources. Its industries have been multiplied and their volume increased in such a degree that a new demand for motive power has sprung up, especially in such branches of production as require light power to take the place of the slow, inadequate system of horse and mule power which has prevailed for so many years.

The old methods are wholly unsuited to the new order of things, of which increased production, larger profits, and the adoption of improved processes are characteristic features.

To meet this prevailing want, the Bookwalter Steam Engine has been produced, and is especially adapted for use on plantations, for such purposes as ginning cotton, grinding corn, and many other purposes that will suggest themselves to any one who desires to keep up with the new order of things and make a profit on his product.

This Engine gives the maximum of service at the minimum of expense. It has an upright boiler, constructed with special reference to economy in fuel, safety, durability, and freedom from leakage. A defect frequently observed in upright boilers—namely, the burning out of tubes, and leakage at the point of insertion at the crown sheet—has been carefully guarded against in the construction of the Bookwalter Engine. Every detail of its mechanism has been made the subject of diligent study and experiment, and it is offered to the public in the full confidence, based upon its successful use by thousands of persons in all parts of the country, that it meets in the most perfect manner every requirement of an effective, practical motive power.

All working parts, including, also grates, bed plate, door and bonnet to boiler, are made in duplicate, so that in case of breakage the owner can get a new part and replace it without having to go to a machine-shop with the Engine.

The aim of the makers of this well-known Engine, Messrs. James Leffel & Co., of Springfield, Ohio, has been to give perfect efficiency to the working parts, producing but few sizes and building them in the most thorough manner—in short, to combine effectiveness with simplicity, durability and cheapness.

Every boiler and engine is tested by steam pressure to over twice the working pressure, and run, before leaving the works, to insure its perfect working in the hands of the purchaser.

They are easily operated, and that they give the best of satisfaction is fully proven by the fact that over three thousand of them are in use in the United States, many of them successfully driving cotton gins, cotton presses, cane and corn mills in the Southern States.

The manufacturers are always pleased to furnish all information regarding this Engine to any one asking for the same.

Repairing of Watches.

In this age of progress, is perfected to the highest degree; in fact equals factory work by the introduction of watch-making lathes. These are finished as highly and true as the finest mathematical instruments and are quite expensive; but watch repairing, with their assistance, actually reaches perfection.

Mr. Ed. v. Seutter, years ago when North, invested his earnings in a complete "Mosely Lathe," and is an expert in its use, and in repairing of watches generally.

Medals, gold and silver bangles and charms are also turned out beautifully on this machine, to be engraved by E. v. Seutter, Sr., who had the talent and nerve, long ago, to master engraving—a branch indispensable to a first class and complete Jewelry establishment.

Mr. Seutter makes no charge for handsomely engraving rings and other small articles bought at his Jewelry store, while long inscriptions and monograms he executes very artistically and at reasonable rates. [4t.

HAD SCROFULA FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS!

I have suffered from Scrofula about 17 years. The disease being mostly confined to my legs and ankles my skin boiled were covered with LARGE ULCERS and ONE MASS OF ROTTEN FLESH, AND THE ODOR ALMOST UNBEARABLE. All remedies and treatments which I tried failed to do me any good. At last I began taking S. S. S., continuing for about four months, and I AM CERTAINLY WELL. I took S. S. S. under the supervision of a physician of 25 years' active practice, by your order. Previous to taking S. S. S. I at times could scarcely walk. Now, I CAN WALK ALL DAY, AND I HAVE TO THANK S. S. S. AND IT ONLY, FOR MY CURE.

THOS. MCFARLAND,
54 Foundry St., Atlanta, Ga.

ECZEMA.

I have taken with great benefit S. S. S. for a clear case of Eczema. The eruption has entirely disappeared, and I am well. W. J. ROBINSON,
Member N. Ga. Conference, Atlanta, Ga.
