The corrected reading of the barometer (reduced to sea level) at New York an Friday, April 23, 1920, at 8 AM, as reported by the United States Weather Bureau, was twenty-nine and seventy-one hundredths (29.71) inches. This closely approximates seven hundred and fifty-four and six-tenths (754.6) millimetres. Captains of all vessels now lying in or near the ports of New York and Brooklyn can advantageously use the above official data for observing whether their own barometers require any considerable correction or adjustment.

Wind at Sandy Hook, 8 PM, SE, 18 miles; cloudy and foggy; light sea. At City Island at sunset, E, light breeze; dense fog; smooth sea.
