COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, AUGUST 25, 1868.

THE steamer Idaho arrived on the 23d inst. with San Francisco dates to the 11th. She brings a fair freight but few passengers, and will leave again on Saturday the 29th.

Our commercial advices from San Francisco are unimportant. Sugars remain about the same, perhaps a shade lower, owing to a general stagnation in business. Molasses lower, and the demand limited. Owing to the new excise bill the distillers cannot commence operations for some months, and this cuts off a large part of the demand.

The bark Washington, from the Arctic Ocean, had arrived at San Francisco, with 400 barrels of oil. Her report, which will be found below, is not favorable; however the news from the fleet is only up to July, and we have known of good average catch after that date.

The bark Kutusoff is at hand from Puget Sound, with lumber to H. Hackfeld & Co.

The British brig Robert Cowan, sails to-morrow for Victoria, B. C., taking a full cargo of sugar and molasses.

Sales of sugar and molasses have been freely made the last three weeks, for shipment to Victoria and Portland, and, although we have not the exact figures paid, we learn that No. 1 sugars have been sold at 7 @7¾c, medium 6⅝@7c, dark 5⅝c, molasses 12@16c according to quality and condition.

The Comet has discharged cargo and will have dispatch for San Francisco.

The bark Cambridge is due from Humboldt, and will load in the Hawaiian Packet Line for Portland, Oregon.

The D. C. Murray will be due on Saturday from San Francisco, and we understand she is engaged to leave on the 12th proximo.

A cargo of coals for the steamer has been ordered from Australia, and may be expected to arrive in Honolulu shortly.

News from the Arctic.

The first news from the Arctic of the season, have reached us through the report of Capt. Baker, of the bark Washington, which left the sea July 12th badly stove, and arrived in San Francisco early in August. We are indebted to Mr. Peterson for particulars.

Capt. Baker reports the sea free of ice up to the first of July, the ships cruised freely all over the old grounds but no whales were to be seen. The ice then seems to have come down, and the ships striving to hold on, it has caused great damage.

Fifty-two ships were cruising there up to July 12th, and only fifty-one whales taken among the entire fleet. The season to that date cold, whales shy and ice troublesome.

Only four or five ships have escaped, that have not lost three or four courses of copper, with the bows all cleared of both copper and, in many cases, cut-water also. The report gives of damages, bark Washington badly stove; Eagle and Kohala, of Honolulu, Active, of New Bedford, rudders broken; barks George and Eugenia, of New Bedford, leaking badly.

The following is the catch of the ships up to the 12th of July.

OUR thanks are due Bennett, of the News Depot, for papers ex Idaho.

THE Idaho, with the mails, will sail next Saturday, at 4 P. M.

WE are requested by the Secretary of the Agricultural Society to call attention to the notice in another column, and also to state that there will be a meeting of the Board of Management at the Government House, today, at 12 o'clock.

PERSONAL.—We notice, by the Idaho, the arrival of Rev. E. Corwin, Pastor of the Fort Street Church. His congregation, and his many friends in this community, learn with regret that he has accepted a call from the 3d Congregational Church of Oakland, Cal. He will leave Honolulu for his new charge, by the steamer of October next.

THE American Club have rented the Haalelea House, and will be ready to open the establishment by the 1st of October. Provision will be made to accommodate thirty persons at the table, the expense to be met by the mess members, and such other invited persons as may avail themselves of the boarding department.

THE U. S. Steamer Mohongo, Capt. Simpson, arrived in port last Friday, from her trip to windward. She has been gone a month, having made the circuit of the Island of Hawaii, and touched at several ports on Maui. From Hilo, parties of the officers went up to the Crater of Kilauea, but found Pele in a rather quiet condition. The steamer left Ulupalakua Friday morning, and arrived here about 1 o'clock P. M.

EARTHQUAKE-WAVE.—We are indebted to Judge Jones for the following account of the earthquake-wave at Lahaina:

"On Friday, Aug. 14, a little before five o'clock A. M., it was observed that the reef was above water in many places, and the space between the reef and the shore (as in April last), to be nearly dry. In a few minutes the water returned, covering the reef, and rose to high-water mark, in spring tides. It thus continued flowing and ebbing until a little after 11 o'clock, when it rose much higher than at any other time, and forced the water into the main street much higher than any spring tide. This occurred three times in succession. It then resumed its previous action, and continued flowing and ebbing throughout the day and night. There was not the slightest shock of earthquake before the movement of the sea."

LOST.—Sheriff Neville, of South Kona, met with an adventure last week, in the forest near Waimea, Hawaii. Leaving his company, who were on the upper road from Hilo to Waimea, he rode on in advance, and lost himself. Upon their arrival at Waimea, not finding him, and he not making his appearance on the next day, a party of natives were dispatched to hunt him up. He was discovered upon the mountain not far from Waimea, having just made out his own whereabouts by having climbed a ridge, and discovered in the distance the church, and was returning to his camp of the previous night, with the bearings in mind to make a fresh start. He was out in the forest two days and nights, and was reduced to walking for escape, as his horse had given out and died from fatigue. The mountain of Hamakua, with its forest, is a dangerous place for strangers without guides, and there have been instances of persons losing their lives in its maze of cattle paths. It is especially dangerous when mist and clouds settle upon the tree-tops, and shut out both earth and sky from view. Kamealnae, on the mountain in such weather, patiently camp down until it clears up, and the ordinary landmarks become again visible.

MURDER TRIAL.—The trial, at Nawiliwili, of Mary Kokai, for the murder of her husband by poisoning, on the 15th of last October, resulted in a verdict of not guilty, and the discharge of the prisoner. The trial was commenced on Monday, the 10th, and the verdict was rendered about 11 o'clock Saturday night. The important points in the case turned upon Chinese testimony. It was proved that ten days before Kokai's death, Ahlona purchased some arsenic; that a few days before Kokai died, Ahlona gave to Goana a bottle containing something like pla, which the latter gave to Mary, and that Kokai died from the effect of arsenic in rice, which he received from the hands of Mary. Mary was told by the Chinese that the powder placed in her hands was a medicine to destroy the appetite for opium smoking. It could not be proved to the satisfaction of the jury that Mary put the arsenic in the rice, as there were Chinamen in the house at the time the rice was prepared, or that she knew, even, that it was a poisonous powder. No sufficient motive was shown, from her previous life with her husband, to prove a wish on her part to murder him—and the jury acquitted. Ahlona has been retained in custody.

JOHNNY HAMOA.—This is the name of the soldier who was sentenced in the Police Court recently, $100 for an aggravated assault on a Hawaiian, failing to pay which he went into the chain-gang—so called—to work it out. Johnny is a native of Hope Island, somewhere to the southward of Tahiti, but has lived in Hawaii a long time. He is a fellow of extraordinary muscular development, and with the training pursued by the "fancy," in Europe and America, would, no doubt, "strip" well for the prize ring. On one or two occasions, since he went into the gang, he absented himself without leave, but on Wednesday of last week, having again committed the offense, and told a falsehood about it, the overseer, Mr. Hart, gave him a slight flagellation, as a correction. He took the punishment quite stoically, but as soon as the overseer's back was turned, he sprang upon him and grasping him about the neck, a severe tussle ensued. Mr. Hart is a very strongly built man, but Johnny, though weighing less, was all but a match for him. They two were by themselves, in a building on the Esplanade, with nobody in call, and if Johnny had got the best of the overseer, he might have killed him. He declares that he cares nothing for his life. Public safety requires that such fellows should not be allowed at large. Johnny is now at work on the Esplanade, with a ball and chain attached to his leg.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last, at Kualoa Plantation, Willie Wilder, eldest son of Mr. S. G. Wilder, the proprietor, fell into one of the clarifiers, the juice in which was at the boiling point. The lad was amusing himself in the sugar-house, and had passed upon the platform, which is on a level with the tops of the clarifiers, where he busied himself in pushing the skimmings along the trough with a paddle. The native attendant had just gone to the steam-cock and shut off the steam, laying his skimmer across the usual passage way, when Willie, wishing to pass to the other side of the clarifier, attempted to go between the side of the house and the box of skimmings set on the parapet. The box, with his pressure, gave way and slid into the clarifier, he falling across it, with his legs fully immersed in the boiling juice. He caught with his hands on the opposite side of the clarifier, and pulled himself out, instantly, before even those at hand, alarmed by his scream of terror, could reach him.

His clothing and shoes were cut down and removed at once, but the few seconds' contact of the boiling liquid had inflicted a mortal injury—both of his legs and the abdomen were scalded beyond chance of recovery. Reaction never set in, though the little fellow survived twenty-four hours. The injured parts, denuded of the skin, seemed cold and dead; he complained that he could not get warm. Medical assistance was procured from town, but no human aid could avail to save his life. His body was brought to town on Friday night, and the funeral, from the residence of Dr. Judd, on Sunday, was largely attended.

THE IDAHO.—The favorite steamer Idaho, which, during the late trip of the Montana, was laid up for repairs, returned to this port last Sunday morning, very much improved in appearance and strength, having been thoroughly renovated, cleansed and repainted, at an expense of over $40,000. As the heavy dead-weight cargoes of sugar in bags which she is accustomed to carry, subjects the ship to an unusual strain, it was thought best by her proprietors to make her much stronger than she needed to be for an ordinary mixed cargo. For this purpose, an extra planking six inches thick was laid on, about ten feet in width, around the entire vessel; the new planks being at short intervals vertically bolted together, as well as secured to the ship with screw bolts, in the most substantial manner. A large number of extra knees, braces and stanchions were also introduced, to strengthen the ship and sustain both the upper and lower decks. It is found that even this slight increase of beam and buoyancy at the water-line prevents the vessel from rolling as much as formerly, and we are assured by Dr. Newcomb, Rev. Mr. Corwin, and other passengers, that they never made so comfortable a passage in this respect upon any sea-going vessel. We heartily congratulate the Company, the Commander, and the traveling community upon this improvement. It is a pledge that the owners of the steamer line are disposed to spare no pains or expense in making provision for the comfort and safety of the public.

NEW ROOFING.—Corrugated iron roofing is being put on the new building of Mr. G. Rhodes, on Kaahumanu street. This is a new material for Honolulu, though it has been in use in England and elsewhere for some years past. It is used not only for roofing, but also for siding, so that it is available for covering in the frame entirely, and making a fire-proof building at less expense than stone or other material. The roofing is made in sheets of various sizes, the two used by Mr. Rhodes being 30 inches in width by 6 and 8 feet in length. It is about as heavy as good sheet-iron. It covers quickly, and is therefore less expensive than shingles or slates. The advantages of this roofing is, that while fire-proof, it is of less weight than slates, and the first cost and the expense of putting it on is less also. This roofing was procured in Victoria, where it is in general use.

THE ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS.—At a recent sitting of the Paris Academy of Sciences, Palmeiri, of Naples, sent in a communication on the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, which seemed to be on the decline a short time ago, but which, he says, now seems to have settled down into a state of permanence, emitting a little lava every day, a maximum and minimum being perceptible at certain stated hours. A fissure about four hundred yards long, opened a few days ago exactly at the spot where tourists leave their horses in order to make the ascent. From this new cap a quantity of lava kept flowing quietly for seven days, and now the stream has recommenced from the crater.

FLITNER—McINTYRE—In Honolulu, Aug. 25th, at the residence of the bride's father, David N. Flitner to Jane McC. McIntyre, daughter of Archibald McIntyre, Esq. No cards.

DIED.

At Fairmount, Mass., June 11th, Mrs. Sarah Jefferson, aged 80 years. She was the mother of Mrs. John Ivy, of this city. As a shock of corn, ready for the gathering of the Great Reaper, she has fulfilled her mission on earth. Her many noble and lovely traits of character endeared her to a large circle of friends, and in the hearts of her children her memory is enshrined as a good Christian mother.

In Oakland, California, July 21st, Elizabeth M., wife of Jacob Hardy, and daughter of Rev. L. Andrews, of this city, aged 37 years and seven months.

At Kaloa, Oahu, August 21, William C., eldest son of Samuel G. Wilder, aged 9 years, 3 months, and 9 days. A painful accident terminated the life of this young and brave hearted lad. His sufferings were short, but borne with true heroism. The "land beyond the river" to his childish heart, seemed bright beautiful, and alluring, as the shadows of death fell upon him. The suddenness of the calamity was overwhelming, and to human wisdom, the Providence seems dark and inscrutable.

My God, my Father, while I stray
Far from my home, on life's rough way,
Oh, teach me from my heart to say,
"Thy will be done!"

If thou shouldst call me to resign
What most I prize,—it ne'er was mine;
I only yield thee what was thine:
"Thy will be done!"

Renew my will from day to day;
Blend it with thine, and take away
Whate'er now makes it hard to say,
"Thy will be done!"
