COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, SEPT. 1, 1868.

THE D. C. Murray arrived on the 29th ultimo with merchandise and passengers to Walker & Allen. She brings San Francisco dates to August 15th. We notice quite a decline in flour: extra, quoted at $6 25@6 50; superfine, $5 25@5 50; oats, 11c; barley 2c; potatoes 1c; bran $18@20.

We notice a sale of sugar at auction, by J. C. Merrill & Co., August 12th, at the following prices: Walkapu, $11 60@12 50; Waipio, $9 30; Lihue, $8 25; Koolauloa, 10c, 9⅝ and 6¾.

The American clipper ship El Dorado arrived on the 29th, from San Francisco, and sailed yesterday for Baker's Island, to load Guano for Europe.

The bark Comet is loading, and will sail for San Francisco on Saturday next.

We understand that the bark Manualua is taking in some molasses, salt, etc., for Victoria, B. C., and will sail in a few days.

Adams & Wilder held a large sale, last week, at their room, and among the goods offered were a lot of staple articles which brought fair prices, considering that we are in the midst of the dull season.

C. S. Barrow sold yesterday two shares of the Haiku Sugar Company for $422 a share, and two shares "Kilauea" for $5 per share. The purchasers of the latter was offered an advance of $50 per share.

The bark Kamoeff sailed on Saturday, for Puget Sound, in ballast.

The bark D. C. Murray, we understand, will sail on Saturday, 12th inst.

The bark Cambridge is due from Humboldt, and is advertised for Portland with dispatch.

The schr Red Ant was sold at auction, last week, by Adams & Wilder, for $2,450, John Ourry, Esq., being the purchaser.

The clipper ship Gallilee, in McCondray's line, was to leave San Francisco about Sept. 1st, and may touch here en route for Hongkong.

A NEW HAWAIIAN PERIODICAL.—A publication has been commenced by the "Hawaiian Club" of Boston, which society, by the way, is doing much to disseminate a correct knowledge of these islands abroad. It will be a quarterly of about one hundred pages, the first number of which was to have been issued in July. Among the articles intended for the "Hawaiian Club Papers," are a full account of Hawaii at the French Exposition of 1867, a full catalogue of Hawaiian Publications, Tables of Exports and Imports, a history of the Belgian colonization scheme, several Hawaiian legends, Reminiscences of early settlers, History of the ancient voyages of the Hawaiians, etc., etc. The editing of the publication has been entrusted to Wm. T. Brigham, Esq., who will be assisted by Sanford B. Dole and James F. Hunnewell. The quarterly will be furnished here to subscribers at three dollars a year. From the interest taken in the subject by the club, and the able hands selected to conduct it, we feel confident the publication will prove worthy of support.—P. C. A.

CONCERT.—A very creditable as well as successful concert of vocal music was given last Saturday night, at the Church in Kaahumanu, in aid of a fund for the purchase of a seraphine for the Church. The whole affair was gotten up and conducted by Hawaiians, some twenty children taking part, and their efforts were rewarded by a full house, and enough money to purchase the desired instrument. The room was dressed with flags and evergreens, and the platform nicely arranged with curtains and flowers. Twenty pieces were sung, closing with the national anthem "God save the King." A number of our residents from town went out to the concert, and were very much pleased with the music and the management.

THE letter on "Forms of Contracts," on our first page, was crowded out last week.

THE omnibus will commence running from town to Punahou to-day, for the accommodation of pupils attending the school.

THE Comet, with the outward mails, will sail for San Francisco next Saturday. The Murray is also on the berth, and will have quick dispatch.

BY the Murray a full supply of English school books has been received, and are now ready to be furnished to the schools, as they may be wanted, by application to Mr. J. W. Smith, Secretary of the Board of Education.

THE opening of the Court at Hawaii has been postponed one week; Friday, the 11th instant is the day appointed. His Honor the Chief Justice, the Attorney-General, and members of the bar will leave for Waimea by the steamer next Monday.

THE American vice Consul, Col. E. S. Spalding, sailed for San Francisco on the steamer Idaho on Saturday last. By official notice we see that Elias Perkins, Esq., Consul at Lahaina, will take charge of the Consulate at this port until further notice.

THE Select School of Mr. M. B. Beckwith commenced another term on Monday last. Miss Atherton continues her engagement as assistant teacher. The usual English branches are taught, and parents will find it an excellent school, well worthy of their patronage.

PERHAPS SO.—Several days ago, an elderly Hawaiian was sworn in the Police Court, in the usual form, "That you will tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God." The answer was given in all simplicity: "Pilo paha;"—perhaps so.

ON Saturday night, thieves broke into the residence of Mr. W. R. Seal. They were too sharp to steal anything but money, though valuable articles were within their reach.

The same night, the house on Waikiki Paina, belonging to Capt. Brown, was entered, and money stolen.

WATER CART.—The high winds raise such a dust that every one will be glad to know that a water cart is about to be started to sprinkle our dry streets. A large number have pledged themselves to pay a weekly sum towards this object, and we understand the job will be undertaken at once by Messrs. Collins & Ward.

PERSONAL.—By the Kilauea, on Friday last, Governor Dominis and Mrs. Dominis returned from Molokai, and on Saturday, by the Kilauea, Hon. Mrs. C. R. Bishop returned from Hawaii. Gov. Dominis, Capt. Simpson of the Mokungu, with a large party, start to-day for a tour around Oahu, to be gone eight or ten days. This is a fine season of the year for the trip, and doubtless the party will have a pleasant time.

AT a general meeting of the members of the Royal Hawaiian Agricultural Society, held at the Court-house on Friday last, the following Officers were elected: President, Thomas Brown; Vice-President, John Montgomery; Treasurer, A. F. Judd; Recording Secretary, J. R. Kinney; Corresponding Secretary, Em. Fennel: Members of the Board of Management, E. Hoffmann, L. McCully, C. Derby, C. S. Bartow and J. S. Lemon.

WONDERFUL, IF TRUE.—The million in search of information in the Advertiser of last Saturday—the newspaper that does up everything correct, from its leader to its shortest advertisement—will be glad to know that the steamer Idaho "will leave her wharf for San Francisco on Saturday, May 29th, at 4 o'clock, P. M." "Our numerous readers throughout the Pacific" will please note the fact, and get their trunks packed at once.

THE Idaho sailed promptly on Saturday last, with the mails. She had a full freight of sugars, and a fair list of passengers. Our next steamer will be the Montana, due here the 28th of September. The Montana's trip will be first under the new arrangement, of two steamers, so that every twenty-one days, after her arrival, we may expect a steamer to arrive at this port. There will be no inward mail for the next four weeks, unless by a chance vessel.

MAKIKI SCHOOL.—The Makiki Family School for girls has been discontinued, most of the scholars having been transferred to Miss Bingham's school. Miss Ogden retires from her long labors in the education of Hawaiian girls, and has taken a house in town. Miss Holden has accepted a post as teacher in the Hilo graded school under the care of Mr. H. R. Hitchcock. The Makiki School was started some years since by our residents, and has been sustained by the tuition fees and the contributions of those interested in female education. The large increase of family schools has caused the trustees to believe that the Makiki school is no longer a necessity.

PLANCHETTE.—This wonderful toy has made its appearance in Honolulu, having arrived by the Murray. Although for two or three years past it has been the theme of magazine articles, and newspaper comments, and by its performances has developed in many a belief in its supernatural powers, yet we believe, "little wonder" has up to this time been a stranger to our residents. It is a small heart shaped tablet of dark wood, supported on two glass legs, the lead pencil forming a third one. Placed upon a black sheet of paper on a common table, with casters on its glass legs to expedite its movements, it is ready to answer questions on all sorts of subjects. Two persons setting opposite each other, place their finger tips on planchette, and when it is sufficiently magnetized it begins to travel, the pencil of course describing on the paper the record of its movements. It is not remarkable for elegant writing, but imaginative persons can easily pick out letters and words from the angle lines and curves that cover the sheet when the magnetic force makes its motions freely. We believe its inventor claims no more than that it moves through the occult forces, yet unexplained, developed by the experiments of Mesmer. Enough of mystery is however involved to have gained for it multitudes of experimenters, ready to credit it with marvelous powers and intelligence, while to others it is merely a wonderful toy.

History of Kamehameha.

MR. EDITOR:—I see that you have taken up S. M. Kamakau's "History of the Kamehamehas," published in the Kuokoa. It was intended by Kamakau to take the place of a work on the same subject commenced some time ago but never finished.

It is well known among the Hawaiians that some of Kamakau's historical facts are not authentic, and that his imagination supplies the material of other statements. This is evident by the controversy lately entered into by the native newspapers.

To undertake a history of this kind requires, according to the ancient usages of this country, the sanction of the King, or of some one high in authority appointed by him, to collect materials, and the assistance of those persons whose office has always been to keep the Royal pedigree secure from the encroachments of the multitude of plebian chiefs, claiming a higher rank than the ruling one.

By these persons, called kuauhau, the oral traditions have been secretly kept and handed down to us, of the present day. The old malos do give some account of the past history of the country, but to understand them, and avoid errors, requires a guide who can explain and correct their figures of speech and sift out the facts. The kuauhau, and not the kahua, alone can do this.

Kamakau, though a diligent student, does not belong to this class of people, and his work cannot be thoroughly authentic, although parts of it agree substantially with the oral history given by the kuauhau, such as Kepookalou, David Malo, Auwae, Kaoo, Unauna, Kamokuiki and others. But to him the credit is due for introducing the subject to public notice, when otherwise it might have been entirely overlooked. The history published is very incomplete, and requires revision and addition to make it accurate.

One important omission exists in the last paragraph published last week: "So at Mokulua the succession of the Kingdom was settled by the decision of Kekauilike, the dominion of Maui was confirmed to Kamehameha, because his rank was superior to that of other high chiefs." The omission is in not attaching the word nui or great after the name Kamehameha. This Kamehameha is not the same person as Kamehameha I of Hawaii. The Kamehameha mentioned here is Kamehameha Nui or the Great, son of Kekauilike, King of Maui, and not Kamehameha I the Conqueror, King of Hawaii and son of Keoua.

Again, "because his rank was superior to that of other high chiefs," should read, "because the rank of his (Kamehameha Nui's) family takes precedence of that of Kekauilike's other children."

And again, "So that both on the side of the chief families of Maui and Hawaii, the Kamehamehas were highest in rank," &c. This alludes to the late reigning families of Kamehameha II, Kamehameha III, and Princess Nahienaena, and not to the present family, who properly belong to the Hawaii line of chiefs.

Kamehameha Nui of Maui has been ranked as highest by partisan chiefs under him, but during his reign a dispute arose between him and the Oahu chiefs, which nearly cost him his life. The matter was left undecided, and still remains an open question to this day.

I remain, etc.,

A HAWAIIAN.

Honolulu, Aug. 28, 1868.

VOLCANIC PHENOMENA.—The volcanic phenomena exhibited on these islands during the past year attracts great attention abroad, and every observation regarding it is valuable. We are permitted to make the following extracts from a letter of Rev. T. Coan, Aug. 22d, regarding his late tour through Puna and Kau:

"The south shore of Hawaii has subsided from Kapoko, (east cape) in Puna, to Kalae, (south cape) in Kau. The subsidence in some places is from three to four, and in others, from six to seven feet. It is proved by the trees, once on dry land, but now standing in the sea, and by rocky islets, once in five feet of water, but now submerged. These marks are so distinct that no difficulty exists in getting exact measurements of the subsidence. I found the lava disgorgement at Nuapili. It is very extensive, there being five patches on a longitudinal line of fissures. The lava gushed up from the fissures and spread over the adjoining pahoehoe. I explored thoroughly the land slide at Keaiwa. It is not a sea eruption, but a great land slide, started by the terrific earthquake of April 2d, and gaining its fearful momentum by gravitation. It is three miles long, about one mile broad at the head, and two and a half at the centre. I found the earthquake sea-wave of the same day, by reliable measurement at Punaluu and Honuapo, to have been twenty feet. I crossed the four lateral branches of the igneous eruption of Kahuku at their termination at Kaalike, and then followed the margin of the great stream to its source on the wooded hills. I judge it to be from nine to ten miles long, by a mile and a half at its greatest breadth. I could not get the exact measurement, as the men engaged in running the line across failed on account of a large fissure in the way. There is a great deal of smoke in Kilauea, but little fire is visible. In Hilo, Puna and Kau, from one to five earthquakes occur daily; not heavy, but enough to remind us of the volcanic forces, and keep alive conjecture as to what may happen. The oscillation of the sea at Hilo on the 14th, 15th and 16th instants was remarkable. For three days the sea rose and fell once in ten minutes. The rise was not high, say from three to four feet, and no damage was done."

It appears that the wave, at all points on the islands was about the same—about four feet, and not from ten to sixteen as was at first reported in some places. The movement was slow, gentle and regular. The various observations point out the fact that the cause of the disturbance was very distant from these islands, and that the wave had nearly spent its momentum when it reached us. It may have resulted from earthquakes on the American coast. The knowledge of the exact time when it reached the various points of our shores, would at once decide the direction whence it came.

COLPORTEUR.—We notice by the Friend that Abeyoung, the Chinese colporteur, has commenced his labors among his countrymen on these islands. He speaks very fluently several of the dialects spoken among the Chinese here, and by his conduct and character, during a residence of several years, has shown himself well qualified to undertake the religious work to which he has been assigned. Hitherto the only Christian instruction to this class has been through the Hawaiian language—they will hereafter be supplied with books as well as oral teaching in their own language.

DEATH OF AN OLD WHALER.—The following notice of the death of Captain Clark appears in our exchanges by the last mail. His frequent visits to this port, and the residence here of his wife during the cruise of the Ceres, made them both well known in this community. From the very accurate record of the whaling fleet, kept for many years past by Mr. A. J. Cartwright, we find that the Ceres sailed from New Haven in 1838, and was last at Honolulu in the fall of 1862. The voyage, we believe, was not very successful.

"Captain William Wiltshire Clark died at his residence in New Haven, July 25th. He was probably one of the most enterprising and successful of our American whalemen, and his voyages were almost certain to yield very large profits. He had visited all the whaling grounds, and was acquainted with nearly every seaport in the world. He first sailed as captain for Williams and Barnes, of New London, making several voyages for them. In 1840, he fitted out and took command of the whaler Ceres, of New Haven, in which ship he was a part owner. Taking his wife with him, he sailed on a voyage which lasted six years. He made his headquarters at Honolulu, and from that point pursued his vocations in all the Pacific fishing grounds, as far north as our new territory of Alaska, with the coast of which he was probably more familiar than any other American. On his return in 1846, he retired from the business, and lost his wife the next year. Captain Clark received his Christian name from William Wiltshire, an Englishman, and British Consul in Arabia, who rescued Capt. Clark's father and several other shipwrecked American sailors, whose adventures formed the subject of a narrative that was one of the most popular books of travel with our grandfathers."

THE fall term of Oahu College commences to-day. In addition to the former teachers, Professor Alexander and Professor and Mrs. Church, the services of Miss Emma L. Smith and Miss Sloan have been engaged for the new year. Miss Smith has already been a teacher there for one year, and has proved herself very acceptable to parents and scholars.—P. C. A.

IN a notice of the meeting of the Geographical Society, on the 22d of June last, we find that the "Bishop of Honolulu" read a paper entitled "The Geography of Hawaii and the Recent Volcanic Eruptions." "The author described his visit to the pit crater of Kilauea, the seat of the recent great eruption (in April last), and exhibited specimens of vitreous and vesicular lavas which he had collected." The paper gave also many statistical facts connected with the present condition of the Islands.

Of the Hawaiian Islands---Oahu, s.s.

Mary Anne Basimis, Complainant, vs. Jose Basimis, Defendant.

Action brought before the Honorable Elisha H. Allen, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court at Chambers, upon petition this day filed in the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands.

SUMMONS to Jose Basimis, Defendant, greeting: You are hereby summoned by order of the Hon. Elisha H. Allen, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, to be and appear before the said Chief Justice at his Chambers, in the City of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on MONDAY, the 4th day of JANUARY next, to show cause why Mary Anne Basimis, Complainant, should not recover a judgment and decree of this Honorable Court, divorcing her, the said Complainant, from the bonds of matrimony now existing between her and the said Defendant on the grounds of willful desertion, without cause, for seven successive years past, and which is fully set forth in the petition filed in this cause. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and file an answer to the said petition as above required, the said Complainant will apply to this Court for the relief therein demanded. Witness the Hon. E. H. Allen, Chief Justice [L. S.] of the Supreme Court at Honolulu, this 31st day of August, 1868.

R. H. Stanley, Esq., Attorney for Complainant.

WM. HUMPHREYS,
Deputy Clerk Supreme Court.

LABORERS!

IF THOSE PLANTERS and OTHERS, in want of

will address a line to the undersigned, stating what kind of men, and how many they will be likely to want, he will endeavor to have their requirements met, as far as practicable.

There being at the present moment so many different views as to

or what Laborers will be permitted to be imported, that the united action which is necessary to obtain any adequate amount of Imported Labor is wanting. By getting the views of the majority, something may be effected, or a sufficient number of various classes of Laborers may be asked for to make it worth while to organize (with the sanction of the Board of Immigration) expeditions in different quarters.
