HONOLULU, APRIL 8, 1871.

The American ship Gaboon arrived on the 14th inst. and the steamer Nevada, on the evening of the 28th, the latter consigned to R Rankin & Co., by which vessel we have received dates to the 9th inst. Sugars appear to be a shade lower and the demand rather light. This will, no doubt, have the effect of changing a large portion of sugar shipments towards New Zealand and Australia, where the price is now fully equal to San Francisco rates, and the margin much more favorable.

The British bark Cambrian sailed on the 19th inst. with a cargo of sugar, molasses, etc. for Sydney; and the brig Southern Cross is now loading with sugars for the same port.

The barkentine J A Falkenberg arrived on the 19th inst. from Columbia River, with lumber, oats, salmon, and lumber to Hustace & Cooke.

The schooner Kaiwanlani arrived yesterday from Tahiti, with a cargo of wheat, etc.

The three masted schr A F Jordan, arrived to-day, 13 days from Honshoku, with a cargo of redwood lumber to Walker & Allen.

The steamer Nevada sailed at noon to-day, taking no freight from this place.

The barks Comet and D C Murray sail to-morrow for San Francisco with their freights.

The schr A F Jordan loads in the Hawaiian Packet line for San Francisco to sail with despatch.

The brig Curlew, which left on the 11th inst. returned to port on the 14th, having been disabled and is now undergoing repairs, and will again sail in a few days.

ATTENTION.—Barlow has a large trade sale to day at the store of T. C. Heuck.

We learn that the net receipts of the fair held on Tuesday evening of last week for the benefit of the suffering in France, amounted to $1,804.

We understand that the Agents of the North Pacific Transportation Company have received no intelligence that the Ajax has been withdrawn for this month.

REAL ESTATE SOLD.—On Thursday last, the John Young premises, on Richards Street, belonging to the estate of the late Queen Kaahumanu, was sold at auction for $4,300, and purchased for the Government.

FLOUR ON FANCIES.—We have been very fortunate this month with the supply of mails from San Francisco, which is quite a contrast to last month. Since the arrival of the Ajax, we have had no less than five mails within three weeks, and can will afford to wait patiently for the next one.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The barks Comet and D. C. Murray will sail to-morrow or Friday, with a large complement of passengers. The Curlew will complete repairs and sail about Friday. It is hoped that they will all make as good passages over as were made from San Francisco to this port by the vessels recently arrived.

THE COMING RACE.—The Honolulu Yacht Club, in the coming race, which is to take place about the first of next month, will have a formidable opponent in the new yacht Henrietta. This yacht made an excursion around the harbor and a short distance outside of the passage on Saturday afternoon, with quite a party on board, and proved herself a superior sailer as well as an excellent sea-boat.

ONE BARK LESS.—On Saturday afternoon, a "party," conspicuous more for size than anything else, while acting himself on School Street, with an air of security probably on account of being able to sport a big, and seemingly, "so independent to get out of the way" allowed a Lahaina, which was coming along at a rapid speed, to run over him, dashing out his bowsprit. A bark loss in such a careless manner, ought to be reported among the marine disasters.

FINES.—An owl dealer was fined $100 in the Police Court on Friday last for selling owls without the usual certificate from a physician. The dealer appealed to the Circuit Court. On Saturday, another dealer, who didn't happen to have a certificate, was fined $50 for peddling without a license. He got off cheap, as it was for the evidence in the case proved that the person whom he peddled for—a sick woman—together with her child, died shortly after taking its medicine.

Among the passengers by the Nevada from San Francisco, we notice Thomas Atkinson, Jr., Esq., and Lady. Mr. Atkinson, who was recently U. S. Consul at this port, is en route to Melbourne, Australia.

—Mr. George W. Macfarlane sailed in the Nevada for New Zealand and the Australian Colonies. We understand he visits the Colonies in the interests of the enterprising house of Mr. Theo. H. Davies, who is desirous of extending business relations in that direction.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—A rumor was in circulation the day after the arrival of the Nevada, to the effect that the Ajax would not make another trip, and that no steamer would leave San Francisco until the 8th of next month, which would be the Nebraska. There is no certainty, however, in the report, and if the Ajax should not leave on the 10th inst., it is probable that a smaller vessel will take her place. The next steamer is due on the 28th, and it is likely there will not be another mail until her arrival.

GOT AHEAD.—The Kate Lee, while coming in on Saturday morning, got ashore on the leeward side of the passage, where she remained until afternoon. In tacking, the wind shifted before the sails filled, and the schooner luffing to windward, went ashore on just below the light-house. It was found necessary to lighten her before she could be got off, although the Pele went to her assistance immediately, and a large part of her sugar was discharged into scows. The steam launch Stolen rendered valuable assistance in towing the scows to and from the schooner; and it not been for this, it is doubtful if the Kate Lee would have been floated again without considerable damage. Valuable assistance was rendered to Capt. West by various parties, which was fully appreciated by him.

THE NEVADA.—This magnificent steamship—the first vessel of the Wooth Line for New Zealand—arrived at her dock on Sunday morning at half past 11 o'clock. She was looked for about noon on that day, and as evening approached without any sign of her, considerable disappointment was felt by many who had taken occasional trips down town during the afternoon with the expectation of hearing that she had been telegraphed. At 8 o'clock, however, she announced her arrival off the harbor by sending up rockets, and was shortly after boarded by the pilot, Capt. McIntyre, who brought her in to her wharf. She was crowded with visitors during her stay, and sailed yesterday at noon for Auckland. She is expected here on her return trip about Feb 4th.

VERSAILLES, April 6th.—There has issued a circular stating that the Government troops entered Marseilles taking 300 prisoners. The Committee fled. Warrants are issued for their arrest, which are valid throughout France. Tranquility prevails, allowing reinforcements to be sent to Algiers.

Thiers issued another circular stating that there are slight disturbances at Limoges. The Communists constituted a Colonel but were soon suppressed. The Forts Issy and Vanves will be all united and will soon fall. The insurgents fire shots but are prescribing the another. Europe is Paris, seems rally to the support of the Government.

BERLIN, March 29—[World cable.]—There has been a correspondence between Bismarck and the Central Committee of Paris. The latter represented that the Thiers Government was unsupported by the country, and the election of a new Assembly became necessary. The Committee offered, were willing, to pay, in a few days, the installment of the indemnity due to Germany. Bismarck's reply was favorable.

The opinion here is strong that the restoration of the Empire by aid of the Imperial army is inevitable.

BUCHAREST, March 29th.—The Roumanian Chambers have been dissolved and the Ministry remain in power. The town is quiet.

The city is increasing in sadness. There have been 50,000 departures in ten days.

Chaplains are ordered to cease mass in the prisons.

The Communes have searched the insurance offices for Empire property.

The Communes are active in disarming the loyal Nationals.

LONDON March 31st.—A Times letter says the situation in Paris is critical. There are apprehensions of secret proscriptions and everybody is whispering the word "guillotine."

A Standard special from Bucharest say the people threaten to demolish the German Consulate and infantry and artillery are posted to protect Don Carlos Palace.

It is said the Germans will occupy Paris immediately on the downfall of Thiers.

PARIS, March 31st—[World Special]—The Government has complete all its arrangements for marching against Paris. Troops will move simultaneously along the line by Normandie and Dreux. Lessing also, the Commune have resolved to march on Versailles to night with 20,000 National Guards, the Montagnes, where the insurgy force is stationed. Gromontier or bel-coming from, they will proceed to Versailles, and dispose of the Assembly. New Communes, formed by the Commune, make the world this will also delight.

LONDON, April 1st.—Communications between Paris and Versailles is interrupted. No letters or papers were received on Friday. A meeting of merchants demanding an explanation of the demands of the Commune was held. They explain that Rossel fled with all the materials of the Commune. They will reorganize speedily.

Rumor says the attacking troops have reached Neuilly and St. Ouen. All the western gates of Paris are closed. Several officers of the orderly British Battalion have been arrested. The complete fortification of Paris is universally expected. The journals Le Pouvoir, Finance and Libre have ceased to appear. The Paris Commune has appointed Col. Cluseret to succeed Fort Valerian. He refused.

The Times special says Thiers pays five hundred millions to the Germans on Friday evening. Thiers will then be allowed to remove reinforcements.

VERSAILLES, April 4th.—M Picard has issued the following proclamation to the Francs: "The insurgents have resolved a desperate attack. Our troops have captured a redoubt at Clamiton with two thousand prisoners. Fleurens and Duval are dead and Gen. Henry is a prisoner. Twenty-one of the Communes have resigned and M. Assy has been impriisoned by their colleagues. The Government is happy to inform you of this condition of affairs, which it was expected."

PARIS, April 4th, via London, April 5th, 8 A. M.—It is rumored the Nationalists have established a cordon. Forty thousand troops are massed before Issy and Clamart. The insurgents are strongly guarded. Mont Valerien is silent. The artillery fired the reason Fort Issy and Versailles continues. The Nationalists occupy the bridge at Neuilly. The Government troops are quiet.

The Paris Deputies to the Assembly had an interview to day with the members of the Commune.

The Times special from Versailles says that 15,000 Insurgents were taken prisoners. Mont Paris is in consternation, and the people of Versailles are greatly increased against the Insurgents.

The Telegraph correspondent says the First Prussian Army Corps is ordered to hold itself ready to march to Paris. The corps of Saxon continues. Dr. Field Sir Gilmore, of the American Ambulance Corps, is personally.

The Daily News special says the Nationalist attacked the Government troops on Tuesday, near Meudon, and suffered a complete route.

Garibaldi declined the command of the Insurgents.

It is estimated that 20,000 Nationalists have entered Versailles, but the report is considered doubtful. The effective strength of the Communes is 120,000 men, and 200 guns.

Rochefort is reported wounded.

The following details of the battle before Paris are reported: Bergeret commanded the right wing, with Flourens behind, Duval the centre, and Eudes the left. The left and centre suffered the worst. The forts protected their retreat. The Nationalists were badly organized, and were out of ammunition. Navy need to return but found the gates shut. The men on the ramparts threatened to shoot them. There was a Monday account of the Meudon.

Fighting continues. It is reported that the Mobiles are fortified at Meudon and St. Ouen. Lullier is reported to have escaped.

The Nationalists are retreating; the gates are open, the shops shut, and the tramways are run. There is excitement, but the city is quiet. Foreigners resist their respective flags.

MARSEILLES, April 5th.—The Insurgents, usually Garibaldians, are nearly all secured.

VERSAILLES, April 5th.—Forts Issy and Vanves are continually bombarding Clamiton. The insurgents unsuccessfully attacked last night the bridge at Neuilly.

It is rumored there is disturbance in Limoges.

LONDON, April 5th.—A proclamation of the Communes contains calumnious treasons regarding prisoners.

The Sun, Tribune, and Herald pale here exposed.

LONDON, April 5th.—8.00 A. M.—The Archbishop of Paris has been executed by the Commune, charged with conspiracy against the liberty of the State.

VERSAILLES, April 6th, via London, April 7th.—The Insurgents have been dislodged from the bridge of Neuilly. A force corresponds is kept up between Clamiton and the forts of Issy and Vanves.

Apparently the purpose of the commander of the Versailles army is to completely invest the Capital. His lines are already established on the left bank of the Seine. Bagnolet has been occupied, and it is expected the occupation of Ville and Choisy le Roi will soon follow. The Nationalists have been ordered to retire behind the forts and remain on the defensive. Bergeret claims that he, five from the forts dislodged the Government troops from their advanced positions.

The Commune is making requisitions on the shops for arms and ammunition.

The army of Versailles is waiting for heavy artillery to attack Fort Issy.

VERSAILLES, April 7th.—There was a violent cannonade last night and this morning, in the direction of Courbevoie and Chatillon.

PARIS, April 6th.—The man who escaped from Paris has arrived. He reports that the churches were [illegible] and [illegible] closed, and concerts ceased at night, and searched. A rumor prevailed before he left that twenty Jesuits had been shot. Any successful in escaping from Paris after he had been landed from place to place by the Communists.

PARIS, April 6th, via London, April 7th.—3.30 A. M.—The Commune decrees the arrest of all persons suspected of complicity with the Versailles authorities, and a jury of investigation will decide who shall be detained as hostages. Every execution of a National taken, prisoner, and any civil partisans of the Commune, by Versailles officers, will be immediately followed by the execution of treble the number of hostages. Cluseret reports to the Commune that the reorganization of the National Guard will give them 100,000 picked men. He adds that at the present moment the policy of the patriots is to maintain an attitude of defense. Rochefort's journal is severe in its condemnation of the administration of affairs by the Commune.

LONDON, April 7th, 8 A. M.—Special dispatches to the Daily News report that all the officers and professors of the College of Jesuits in Paris have been arrested by the Communists. Grousset is appointed by the insurgents a delegate.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has sent out a circular addressed to the Representatives of France abroad, notifying them of the election and organization of the Communes.

A deputation of Parisian merchants have had a consultation with President Thiers. A bill has been introduced into the Assembly to accelerate the action of Courts Martial.

NEW YORK, April 7th.—A special cablegram from Paris says at the funeral of the killed, yesterday, an extraordinary scene occurred. There were three huge hearses, with black velvet palls, each decorated with 26 red flags, containing the dead. Following in its wake 8,000 National Guards and double that number of citizens. Women were marching in the wide foot and along the Boulevards at a solemn pace. Many members of the Commune joined the procession as they arrived at Pere la Chaise. Each hearse contained 32 coffins, and 23 other hearses, already on the cemetery, were filled with dead from various hospitals. It was an awful scene. There was no huge grave for all; and the bodies were lowered one at a time, amid the shrieks of women and the wailing of men. Bitter imprecations on the assassins at Versailles. Pere la Chaise was one mass of people swaying with resolve and screaming, "Vive la Republique!" "Vive la Commune!" The losses of the Commune create great grief in the city, mixed with bitter animosity.

LONDON, April 8th.—1.30 A. M.—The details of the fighting at Neuilly on Friday have been received. The Communists, who posted a small force at Courbevoie, were surprised by the guns of Fort Valerien. They rallied on the Avenue de Neuilly and opened fire on the Versailles troops, who appeared on the heights opposite. The Communists were again forced to retire behind the bridge of Neuilly, which they barricaded. The Versailles then shelled and demolished the barricade.

The Nationalists were heavily attempting to hold the bridge, and defeated temporary disorder, but succeeded in extricating their cannon, and abandoned the bridge, taking refuge in the houses on the western bank of the river. The Assemblyists also occupied buildings on the other side, and a sharp fusillade was kept up across the river. They then opened across the bridge and garrisoned the outmost fortifications. The gunboats opened a heavy fire, sweeping the Avenue de Neuilly with shells and checking the pursuit. The conflagrants again commenced to march across the avenue under the protection of a battery under the walls, but ultimately drawn off into Chillie, and withdrew beneath the ramparts. The shelling which was desperate throughout, continued yet at 1 on in the morning and ceased at sunset, which lasted seven hours and protected the gunboats.

The Forts are silent. Versailles Board officially announces the complete surrender of the Government forces, after a hard struggle. Fighting was two days—Thursday and Friday. Hard and several Generals were killed. He returns thanks to the army for its loyalty and courage. The Insurgents, numbering some 4,000, attempted a [illegible] on Friday, towards Chatillon and failed to accomplish anything.

BOLLES & CO.

A Card from Madame Baliga.
Editor Hawaiian Gazette, &c.—The appeal made by me, has been so generously responded to, that it would be impossible for me to express my thanks individually in a short time; please therefore in the meantime, to my interpreter in expressing my sincere gratitude to all who have participated to the success of the Fair for the benefit of the orphans and widows, either by articles sent, or by their attendance at premises.
I do not know as yet the definite amount of the proceeds, but I know that it is fully in accordance with the liberality of the city of Honolulu.
Please to accept my best compliments.
MARIE BALIGA.
