FINANCE OFFICE, August 23, 1871.

Regulations of the Board of Health.

1st. The Board of Health, or its agent, will visit the fish, vegetable and meat markets, or other places where such articles are exposed for sale, at any time it may deem fit, ordering said markets or places to be properly cleansed, and any decayed animal or vegetable matter to be immediately removed therefrom.

2nd. No slaughter house will be allowed within the boundaries of the city of Honolulu, or on any of the public highways leading to it, or on the banks of any river or stream where the water is used for drinking or domestic purposes, or in any situation not first approved by the Board of Health.

3rd. No person will be allowed to dry or salt hides or skins within the boundaries of the city of Honolulu, or in any other place close to, or to windward of the city, or in any place not first approved by the Board of Health.

4th. All privies, cesspools, drains, sewers, ponds, or other places containing stagnant water, manure, or other filth, found in a state prejudicial to the public health, will be cleansed by the Board or its agents, at the expense of the person or persons owning them—the said owners having been notified by the Board at least six days before any active interference is taken. In future every privy is to be not less than twelve feet deep and four feet square, and securely cased and covered.

5th. The Board of Health or its agents will visit and endeavor to watch over any suspect there is an insufficient supply of fresh air for the support of health in the tenements, whether from want of proper ventilation, overcrowding, or other causes, and will order such houses to be properly ventilated, and take such other measures as may appear to them to be necessary.

6th. Any badly cured meats or other substances, emitting a noxious or deleterious effluvium, will be immediately removed at the expense of the owner from the premises where they are stored, due notice having first been given by the Board of Health or its agents.

7th. No person shall keep swine within the boundaries of the city of Honolulu.

8th. No person shall throw dead animals on any of the public streets or highways.

9th. No interment shall be made within, or in the immediate neighborhood of any dwelling house; or in any lot of ground not heretofore used for the purpose of a cemetery, unless upon written sanction of the Board of Health; and no grave shall be made less than six feet in depth.

10th. A place on the esplanade to be marked by posts, placed by the Superintendent of Public Works, to be used, for the deposit of rubbish or filth to be carried from the city.

11th. All persons are hereby strictly prohibited from depositing any rubbish or filth upon any street, lane, wharf, or vacant lot, within the boundaries of the city of Honolulu.

12th. Any person violating any of the above regulations is liable to be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, as provided in Section 280 of the Civil Code.

Approved by the Board of Health, this 3rd day of October, 1871. — CHAS. T. GULICK, Sec'y.

On the occasion of the presentation of His Excellency C. E. De Long, Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary of the United States, to His Majesty the Tenno, Emperor of Japan, as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary for His Majesty the King, he made the following address:

YOUR MAJESTY: His Majesty, the King of the Hawaiian Islands, has graciously sought for the establishment of treaty relations between that Kingdom and the Empire of Japan.

To accomplish that purpose, His Majesty has conferred the distinguished honor upon me of commissioning me Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary for the Kingdom of Hawaii near Your Majesty's Government, and fully authorized me, as such, to meet with Commissioners, to be appointed by Your Majesty, to negotiate, conclude, and execute a Treaty of Amity and Commerce; at the same time charging me with the delivery of His Majesty's Royal Letter, which I now, in fulfilment of that high trust, deliver into Your Majesty's own safe keeping. As further directed, I also beg leave to assure Your Majesty of His Majesty's sincere wishes for the prosperity of Your Majesty's reign. It is a most desirable circumstance that two countries whose shores are washed by the same sea, between whom already much communication has passed and much more must ensue, should be allied by Treaty. And I beg leave to assure Your Majesty that, as it has pleased Your Majesty to enter into treaty relations with the Kingdom of Your Majesty's Royal Brother, High Commissioners having already been selected for that purpose and notified to me, it affords me the greatest pleasure to execute this trust, thus joining two Sovereigns and their Realms in so desirable an union, which it is my proper aim prove of the greatest mutual benefit, and be as lasting as time.

Which was replied to by His Majesty the Tenno, as follows:

It affords Us the greatest pleasure to receive the Royal letter from His Majesty the King of the Hawaiian Islands, in which it is stated that His Majesty is desirous of entering into relations of Amity and Commerce with our Empire; and that for this purpose His Majesty has commissioned you Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near Our Government, with full power in the premises, to negotiate, execute and conclude a Treaty of Amity and Commerce.

Accepting with pleasure the offer of His Majesty, and being desirous of entering into such relations, We have nominated and appointed Our High Commissioners, fully authorized and empowered to negotiate, execute and conclude such Treaty in conjunction with you.

We entertain no doubt, from Our knowledge of your ability and diligence, of which We are well informed, that this purpose will be happily consummated.

We improve this opportunity to express for His Majesty Our sincere wishes for the continuance of His Majesty's health and the prosperity of His Majesty's reign; and We hope faithfully that the friendship now existing between us may be everlasting.

Our readers will be pleased to know the promptitude with which the negotiations proceeded. Mr. De Long received his credentials on the 24th of July, notified their Excellencies the Ministers for Foreign Affairs of his authority to conclude a Treaty on the 25th, and requesting an audience with His Majesty the Tenno, for the purpose of delivering the letter of His Majesty the King; on the 8th of August he received the reply of the Ministers, of which the following is a copy:

Tokei, the 22nd of the 6th Month of 4th Year Meiji.

SIR: We have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your dispatch of the 25th of July, 1871, informing us that your Excellency has been empowered by the Hawaiian Government to negotiate and conclude a Treaty for the Hawaiian Kingdom with the Empire of Japan, and requesting that an audience with His Majesty the Tenno may be granted to you, that you may personally deliver the Letter of His Majesty the King.

In reply, we beg to state that His Majesty the Tenno will grant you the required audience, and has fixed the time at one o'clock of the 28th of our present month, corresponding with your 14th inst.

Proper officers will be dispatched on that day, and at the proper hour, to your Legation to escort you to the Court. At the same time, we beg leave to inform you that the Japanese Government having decided to conclude a Treaty with the Hawaiian Kingdom, we are empowered to negotiate and conclude the same with your Excellency.

With respect and consideration,

SAWA NOBUYOSHI,
TERASHIMA MUNENORI,
Ministers for Foreign Affairs.

To His Excellency,
C. E. De Long,
Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the U. S. A. in Japan.

The audience having taken place on the 14th, the Plenipotentiaries met on the following day, (the 15th,) and concluded their negotiations the same day. The Treaty was engrossed and ratifications exchanged on the 19th, on which occasion His Excellency, Sawa Nobuyoshi, Minister for Foreign Affairs, invited Mr. De Long and the officers attending him on the occasion of the reception to dinner.

On the occasion of Mr. De Long's reception by His Majesty the Tenno, he was accompanied by Mr. Longfellow, son of the Poet Longfellow, acting as Secretary of the Hawaiian Legation, and three officers of the U. S Navy.

On the 29th of August, the Japanese Government caused the Hawaiian Flag to be saluted from the Kanagawa Forts, which compliment was returned by the Hawaiian Government, as we indicated would be done, on Wednesday, the 29th inst., by a salute of 21 guns, from the Punchbowl Battery, in honor of which occasion all the Legations and Consulates in town displayed their respective National Ensigns.

Shade Trees.

We notice that those interested have planted on both sides of Fort Street below Queen, rows of Samang (Monkey Pod) and Tamarind trees. It is hardly necessary to urge upon the residents of Honolulu, the utility of planting trees, as they have, almost without exception, improved the facilities offered them by an abundant supply of water to plant a great variety of fruit, and many ornamental trees, which having grown up have made the town appear more like a respectable sized forest than a thickly populated city, both from the sea and from the hills back of the town. The present laudable commencement of planting fast-growing and valuable trees on the new made ground on the Esplanade, will soon have the effect to extend the beautiful grove over that, the only unshaded portion of Honolulu. It will not be long before vessels discharging on the Esplanade may have the pleasure of scoring their cargoes in groves of beautiful tropical trees.

While speaking of the trees now beautifying the town, it may not be improper for us to call the attention of those owning lots on the plains at Kaheekahina that, with very little effort, they could not only make their property much more valuable, but add greatly to the beauty of the city by planting trees on their places. We have noticed for the past year or two, the fine and thrifty Kiawe or Algaroba trees which have sprung up on the plains, apparently of their own accord, (as certainly no one planted them there). These trees during the drought of 1870, when there was no other sign of vegetation on the plains, were always green and healthy, and since have grown in some cases to be fine shade trees. Having proved of itself that it is adapted to the locality, we would suggest to those interested that they will plant this tree on their various lots, and in a short time we have no doubt that the plains will be a place of general resort for pleasure seekers who now seek the shady groves further from town.

Meeting of the Subscribers to the Hotel Bonds.

On Thursday last, at 11 A. M., a large number of subscribers to the Hotel Stock repaired to the office of the Minister of Finance, who had, at the instance of one of the subscribers, invited them to meet together at that hour and place. The Minister of Finance gave a statement as to the cost of the building up to the present time.

The Minister called the attention of the meeting to the fact that they were in no manner of means stockholders in the building, but that, inasmuch as it had appeared expedient to all that such a building ought to be raised, His Majesty's Government had resolved that such a building should be raised, and that an appeal should be made to the citizens to assist in it; and accordingly the gentlemen who had subscribed to the bonds did so on the following conditions:

We, the undersigned, agree with H. M.'s Minister of Finance to pay into the Hawaiian Treasury the amount of money set opposite to our respective names, the same to be paid in by installments, as may be required by the said Minister; And the Minister of Finance hereby agrees that the money so paid into the Treasury, shall be used exclusively for the erection of a Hotel Building and preparing the same for occupancy, it being understood between the undersigned subscribers and the the Minister of Interior, that a Committee of their number, not exceeding two persons, may be chosen by the subscribers to advise with the said Minister of Interior on the selection of a site and the construction of said building.

And the Minister of Finance further agrees that upon the receipt of the money, he will issue to the persons paying the same, Negotiable Bonds of the Government, to be denominated Hotel Bonds, payable in Five Years, pro rata dividends from the rent of said Building to be taken in lieu of interest, and it being further understood that at the maturity of said Bonds, it shall be the option of the holders to retain a share of the Building, or to have their Bonds paid.

Honolulu, Jan. 20th, 1871.

The same being the head of the subscription list.

The Minister proceeded: Thus you will see, gentlemen, that all you have agreed to do is to help the enterprise with your money and receive your Bonds for it. His Majesty's Government, on their part, through me, have agreed to devote that money faithfully to the purpose indicated, and I have so done. You have appointed a committee of two—Messrs. Lowers and Torbert—to consult with the representative of His Majesty's Government as to the most judicious manner of erecting the building. One of these gentlemen, Mr. Lowers, has been placed in charge of the construction, and the other, Mr. Torbert, was always consulted with up to a very short time before his recent death.

It has never been intimated to you that upon every vacancy the subscribers to these bonds would be consulted with regard to the structure, and if they should be, inasmuch as there are forty of you, it would be impossible to complete any structure if everybody's opinion was to be reconciled. I shall be happy to hear any remarks, suggestions, or recommendations from any gentleman here.

Mr. Waterhouse, rising, said—That the meeting had been called at his instance, and that he had seen fit to reduce to writing what he had to say, because he wished to be sure he had said that and nothing else; and he hoped to show that he was not moved by any captious spirit, by paying here and now his last installment, which would not be due until the 15th of October. He stated that it was not his purpose, by requesting a meeting called of subscribers to the Hotel Bonds, to seek an opportunity for avoiding the payment of the last installment. To prevent any suspicion on this score, I now present to you, in advance, my last installment, (check placed on the table.)

We are not stockholders, otherwise I should have adopted another course to the one I now propose—that is to pay up and ask no questions.

If we had been stockholders, I would have made inquiry in regard to the building and asked for a report. At our first meeting, Ministers and stockholders were united on the subject; and if there is a want of unity, it is desirable for the welfare of all concerned that unity should be restored.

I placed my name the last upon the subscription list, influenced more or less by their pledged example, taking equal chances in regard to the interest with the same uncertainty; and under these circumstances I think it the duty of every man, who is now unwilling to redeem his pledge, to assign his reasons to his fellow subscribers, as their conduct, unless satisfactorily explained, becomes a wrong to those who pay.

The interest, under the most favorable circumstances, no doubt will be below par.

I have received information, on reliable authority, that there is a prospect, after the meeting of the next Legislature, for an issue of bonds bearing six per cent. interest from the date of the receipt of the moneys paid into the Treasury. Afterwards I shall be glad for one to purchase some more bonds, bearing six per cent. interest, towards liquidating the cost of the Hotel—provided the Government to be so united then as it is now, and I have no doubt it will be. I reserve further remarks until delinquent subscribers to the three calls just recently have given their session.

If the opposition and refusal of payment arises from an inability to pay up, or is not convenient at the present time, I have thought upon a plan, if I had been in the Treasurer's place, viz: to take a bill from them, bearing six per cent. interest, payable ten days after the meeting of the next Legislature. The bill might float until legal authority was procured.

Mr. McInerny remarked that he had been under the impression before, that the subscribers to the bonds had been in some way holders of the property, and a good deal had been said because the lot had been taken in the name of Mr. Harris and Dr. Smith. He would like to know how it was.

Mr. Harris remarked that it was necessary to make the deed to somebody, and the most feasible idea was to make it to those who would carry on the work and pay the money. On the 20th of March, 1871, Dr. Smith reported to the Cabinet Council as follows:—"The lot (the lot on which the Hotel building is now being erected) was offered at $10,000 including buildings, and iron fence not per up. Mr. Harris and myself thought it best to conclude the purchase;" and the speaker replied at the Council, "But it should be understood that this Council is not compromised by this purchase, for if it be not thought desirable to adopt the purchase I am perfectly willing to keep the lot." Let it be understood that this was before the calling in of any assessment, and before anything was done with the lot at all. At the same time it was resolved, that the lot was "reasonable in point of price considering all things, situation, size, etc., and very suitable for the purpose." And it was further resolved, that the "purchase be assumed by this Council, and the same be devoted to the building of a Hotel thereon." A note to that effect was placed upon the Record. Nothing could be clearer or more aboveboard. Mr. Black has been pleased to make some remarks in his paper, and I for one would like to hear what he has to say now.

Mr. McInerney remarked that every thing appeared to him to be entirely satisfactory, and he did not see any further occasion for discussion on that point. He had been under the impression, as he had stated before, that the subscribers were in some way stock-holders.

Mr. Waterhouse: "No; I expressly disavowed at the time that I would be a stock-holder. I did not wish to become at all responsible for any further assessments than I put down, or for the conduct of the Hotel. I made my subscription on the faith of the Executive Government, and understood that I was to receive my Bonds for it, as I have no doubt I will. (Turning to Mr. McInerney:) Its Bonds are very good property, Mr. McInerney. I feel sure of that."

Mr. McInerney, laughing, replied: "I have no doubt you do; I would like to have some of them."

Mr. Pflueger remarked: "A great deal has come to my ears of what I am reported to have said, but in the presence of this meeting, I desire to say that if I am reported to have said anything disparaging to this enterprise, it is entirely false. All we have to do is to pay up our obligations as we have agreed. There was never any idea of any proprietorship in this Hotel by any of the subscribers to the Bonds. The Government agreed to give us their Bonds, and I have no question that when we have complied with our portion of the agreement, they will comply with theirs. It seems to me a poor way to help on a public enterprise by throwing cold water on it, or making disparaging remarks about its management. In my opinion, we have nothing to do with the management, though we, as citizens, appointed a Committee to consult upon the situation and structure. It appears that they have given their advice, and everything has been done well, so far. I have paid my first three installments, and shall certainly pay my fourth, and if any one has subscribed money which he is unable to pay, it will be much better for him to say so in a manly way, than to seek reasons which do not exist, for avoiding payment."

Mr. Harris continued: "The building could have been placed there for the sum of money originally contemplated, and made just as handsome an appearance from the outside. The extra expense has been for water-pipes, gas-pipes, fixed toilet tables, steps in front, the curtains on the verandas to shade the house, a lookout on top, cess-pool, and the like, to render the building a first-class Hotel. And it will stand second to none in the Pacific Ocean for the purposes to which it is to be devoted. A good deal has been said about its size, but it has not been built with reference to the next five years, or ten, and then to be complained of as useless and thrown aside, and ourselves to be complained of for want of foresight in having constructed a building insufficient for its purposes. His Majesty's Government have resolved to push it to completion."

Mr. Cartwright: "I am glad to hear it, and certainly this ought to be satisfactory. I certainly never had any other idea than that I was to pay my money and take my Bonds; to complete the building in a mean and niggardly manner would not be satisfactory to anybody."

Mr. C. E. Williams: "If any of the things which have been added to the original plan had been withheld, the same persons who now find fault would have still found fault, and much more justly. There is nothing which is not needed to give the building a first-class character. The building is one which all ought to be satisfied with, and I for one am so."

Mr. Black remarked: "That it would be concluded that his paper had been quite consistent, and if the same information had been accorded which had been elicited at this meeting, not so much would have been said."

Mr. Harris inquired of Mr. Black: "Have you ever sought for information either from Dr. Smith or myself?"—Answer, "No."

Mr. Pflueger: "As a public journalist it was your duty to do so. No public journalist has a right to publish anything without seeking information in the best quarters it can be obtained."

Mr. Harris: "I consider it the right of every citizen to inquire regarding every public matter in which he takes an interest, and when he makes such inquiry in good faith, I deem it my duty to meet his inquiry with courtesy, and to give him the information if it is consistent with the public good; and no one ever came to my office to make such inquiry and went away with a refusal."

Mr. Black expressed himself entirely satisfied.

The utmost good feeling prevailed during the meeting, and a great deal of merriment at its close, every body expressing themselves satisfied at having come together.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MR. EDITOR—SIR: There is very little of interest to note at this place. The United States of Columbia (for the name has been changed from New Granada to the above) has the same disease as the balance of the South American Republics, and in fact, I think, a little more affected. Every state in Columbia is a sovereign state of itself, and the general government does not interfere in any of their private troubles, therefore it is not unfrequent for two, or three states, to be in a revolution at the same time, all fighting, or ruining their states for the sake of power. The last revolution in the State of Panama, cost over one hundred thousand dollars, besides the ruin of several indigo plantations, cattle estates and other enterprises that had been started. In fact, the more I see of these people, the more I am convinced that the present generation are not capable of governing themselves, let alone the country.

By charter to the P. R. R. Co. the ports of Panama and Colon are free, but the P. R. R. Co's. tariff is so immense that it has ruined this route. Now when it is too late, they expect to do something. The Straits line carry all freight south of Guayaquil, that formerly passed over this road, which never would have been, had the P. R. R. Co. reduced their tariff. The California Road takes another big slice off. Honduras is building her road, and Minister Alvarez of Costa Rica, tells me he has just made a contract with Mr. Meiggs to build a road through his country for the government. What is to support the Panama Route I cannot see. The P. R. R. Co. have been paying the government $250,000 quarterly in advance, but they have paid nothing this year, and I doubt whether they will pay at all. I should not be surprised if the P. R. R. Co. would be a big burst up. I do not think shareholders, with no dividends, and knowing that the company are not paying expenses, will keep quiet very long. The only advantage I can see, is a canal, but when will it be built?

There have been three Chilian whalers in this bay for the last three weeks, and in that time they have taken about 7,000 barrels of oil, between them, all the whales have been caught from three to twelve miles from Panama. The Captains tell me that they have never seen so many whales together. This is about the first time that whalers have come direct to Panama Bay to fish. Next season I expect we will have a crowd of them here. M. C.

LEGAL NOTICES.

BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS in Probate. In the matter of the Estate of JAMES LOUZADA, late of Waikapu, Maui, deceased.—At Chambers, in the Court House in Honolulu, before the Hon. Alfred S. Hartwell, First Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, this 15th day of September, A. D. 1871.

GORGON G. McLEAN, one of the Executors under the Will of JAMES LOUZADA, late of Waikapu, Island of Maui, deceased, having this day rendered and presented for settlement, and filed in this Court the second and final account of the Executors under the Will of the decedent, and also filed therewith a report of the administration, and petition praying that the said account be settled, approved, and allowed, and that an order of distribution of the estate, remaining in the hands of the Executors be granted:

It is hereby ordered that FRIDAY, the 20th day of OCTOBER, A. D. 1871, at 10 o'clock A. M., be appointed for the settlement of said account, and that Notice thereof be given by publication in the HAWAIIAN GAZETTE and KA ÊE ONOA, Newspapers printed and published in the City of Honolulu, once a week for the period of three weeks before said day appointed for settlement, requesting all persons interested in said Estate to be and appear before the Hon. Alfred S. Hartwell, First Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, at his Chambers in the Court House in Honolulu, on the day and hour above named, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, and the account of said Estate settled, approved, and allowed, and an order of distribution of said Estate should not be made.

Honolulu, Sept. 13, 1871.
ALFRED S. HARTWELL,
Attest: First Justice of Supreme Court.
