Funny! Very Funny!

In my Advertising Column, my Bird Traps, Bird Houses and Breeding Cages, of which I have a splendid assortment, are crowded out. They will be sold cheap, very cheap.

Quer! Very Queer!

My Pills—Blair's, Wheldon's and Cockle's are crowded out and are included in the Notions.

Iron Posts for Wire Fencing, which I will sell for 25 cents each, is much less than the raw material costs here.

The Funniest of All!—Brussels Carpet which I have for sale, a splendid article, and guaranteed of equal quality, at 20 per cent less than the Carpet for the New Hotel cost in San Francisco, besides which, freight, insurance and duty must be added to the San Francisco cost. It would take a mathematician to calculate the loss incurred by not purchasing here.

Not Queer or Very Queer!

The Steamer Kilauea is a decided success and materially assists to promote trade and develop the resources of the Kingdom. (Grumblers notwithstanding.)

The New Hotel.

There has been a difference of opinion in consequence of Opihalma. I am morally certain it will be a decided success in promoting the interests of these fair Islands, and a great benefit to them.

Lodging House Keepers need not quake or seek a reduction in rent, for they will have their share from the extra number of visitors to see the wonders of this Kingdom.

This National Hotel, so much needed for the upbuilding of our Sunny Islands, will, in conjunction with other solid improvements made by our Government, immortalize the reign of KAMEHAMEHA VTH. Long may he live and reign.

Late Foreign News.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK, April 1st.—A special despatch from Matamoras, says Quiroga repeats his report of Rocha's defeat by Martinez and Donatta Guerra, but without giving details. The report of Rocha's capture is not confirmed. These reports are doubtless created to counteract the effect of his recent victory at Zacatecas. The Revolutionists are straining every nerve to raise money, without which their cause will soon be lost. They are levying contributions everywhere, and compelling foreigners and natives alike to pay them. The American Consul and other Americans, merchants in Monterey, refused, when their stores were entered and goods taken by the rebels. They sent a copy of the instructions received from Washington not to contribute toward the support of the revolution, and it was treated with contempt.

Commissioners have arrived to represent matters to General McCook, and to ask for protection, but of course he is powerless. The Commissioners report general demoralization among the Revolutionists. Their soldiers are all forced into service. They have no volunteers, the mass of the people are opposed to the revolution. Its leaders, however, are determined to starve rather than be beaten. They will declare a Republic in the Sierra Madre, call on filibustering Americans, and ask for annexation to the United States. They have already established recruiting offices in Texas. Small bands are fighting in Tamaulipas, with various success, but their movements are of no importance, and Juarez' officers are awaiting events. The Revolutionists again promise an early attack on Matamoras.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Professor Morse died this evening at 7.30.

April 4.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company have learned of the death of Professor F. B. Morse, father of the American Telegraph System, whose name became justly identified with the establishment of the Telegraph throughout the world, therefore,

Resolved, That we mourn with the entire civilized world the loss of one of the greatest benefactors of the age, and we grieve for our friend and associate, whose purity and simplicity of character, and kind, gentle nature have endeared him to our memories. While his great achievement will continue to bless and benefit enlightened and civilized mankind, his memory and his personal worth will ever remain in the hearts of all who have had the good fortune to know him.

Resolved, That we unite in the universal expression of sorrow which is this day being transmitted and echoed back, to and from all quarters of the earth, which means his transcendant achievement, and we hereby tender our earnest sympathy to his family and friends.

Resolved, That this Board will attend Professor Morse's funeral in a body.

April 5.—An immense throng gathered early this morning at the Madison Presbyterian Church, to be present at the funeral services of Professor Morse. A great many were unable to obtain standing room. Among the delegations present were Governor Hoffman and Staff, a Committee from the Legislature, Directors of the Western Union, and of the New York and Newfoundland Telegraph Companies, representatives from the Academy of Design, Evangelical Alliance, New York Common Council, and various other delegations of lesser note. Shortly after the funeral procession entered the church, the coffin being borne on the shoulders of four men, and followed by the mourning relatives of the deceased. After chanting of solemn music, Rev. Dr. Adams proceeded to deliver a funeral oration from the text, "Man cometh up like a flower."

He dwelt at length upon the virtues of the deceased, and traced his life as a Christian, saying he stood almost alone in the qualities of religion. Rev. Mr. Wheeler, of Poughkeepsie, then delivered a prayer, and singing of a hymn constituted the funeral services, after which the remains were viewed by the spectators. The stream of people who filed past the coffin was so great that it was half-past one before the cortege started for Greenwood Cemetery. The pall-bearers were William Orton, Livingston Morse, Gen. Dix, Prof. Cornell, Cyrus W. Field and Peter Cooper. Lines of people thronged the route along Broadway. During the day the public offices and buildings displayed flags at half-mast. The telegraph offices were draped in mourning.

The following resolutions were passed by the National Telegraph Morse Memorial Association at Washington, this afternoon, (April 5th:)

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives has placed a hall at the disposal of this assembly for the purpose of holding a memorial meeting in honor of Samuel F. B. Morse, on Tuesday, April 16th, and prominent members of both Houses of Congress have consented to address the meeting; and,

WHEREAS, The telegraphic wires have been freely placed at the disposal of this Association for that evening; therefore, it is

Resolved, That the municipal authorities of the cities and towns of the United States are hereby invited to hold meetings of a similar character, in their several localities, on the same evening, in order that the meeting may be in telegraphic communication, and thus simultaneous expression given to the national grief on the occasion of this irreparable loss.

POUGHKEEPSIE, April 4.—At a special meeting of the Common Council, held this evening, resolutions of respect to the memory of Professor Morse were adopted. The Council also resolved to attend the funeral in a body. A resolution was also adopted requesting the merchants of the city to close their places of business during the hours appointed for the funeral, and requesting the flags to be placed at half-mast and the bell of the city to be tolled.

NEW YORK, April 2.—P. M.—The obsequies of the late General Robert Anderson, in this city this morning, were of a very imposing character. The military were in line at ten o'clock, and in half an hour after, the procession was fairly en route, the cortege being formed as follows: Police escort, under command of Gen. W. G. Ward; Seventy-first, Ninth and Seventh Regiments, and two batteries of the Fort Artillery, which were in Fort Sumter with General Anderson. Next came the corpse, under the Fort Sumter flag, on an artillery caisson, after which followed the pall-bearers and many miscellaneous organizations. The procession passed through Fourteenth street to Twenty-third; thence to Thirty-fourth street ferry, where the body was placed on the steamer for West Point. The streets through which the procession passed were densely crowded, and flags along the route were dropped at half-mast.

Attorney-General Barlow has instituted in the Superior Court, at Albany, a suit against Jay Gould and Frederick A. Lane, to compel them to account for their management of the Erie Railway and restore money which they have corruptly received. The summons in this suit has been served on Gould, Lane, Gen. John A. Dix and Field. Gen. Dix, as President, is included in the suit, as a mere formality, and it is probably understood that the Road will finally prosecute the case. The fact that the Erie Road is included in the suit, as co-defendent with Gould and Lane, also leads to the belief that Archer, Eldridge, Simons, and all members of the ring are implicated by it. If recovery is had from the Road by a successful suit, all the members of the old Board will have to pay the losses resulting to the Company by the negligence in not restraining Gould, Fisk and Lane in their complicity in any operations which may be proved to be corrupt. The answer will have to be filed before the 24th instant.

LONDON, April 24.—A grand military review took place at Brighton yesterday, in accordance with the programme previously announced. An immense crowd witnessed the manœuvres which were conducted on a large scale, and was rendered more than usually interesting by the rehearsal of the Battle of Dorking. The troops in the field including some 20,000 volunteers, were divided into two armies—one of invasion the other of defence. The enemy was supposed to have effected a landing in Storeham harbor. The movement commenced with an attack on the village, and its capture after an obstinate resistance. The invaders then advanced on Brighton, after repulsing a body of troops, and took up a defensive position. The army of defense being largely reinforced, took the offensive under General Horsford, and attacked the invaders with success, although the latter broke through Horsford's right centre, and created great confusion for a while. Firing ceased at one o'clock, both sides having been impartially beaten. The mock fight was succeeded by a march past, which was not satisfactory. The review, on the whole, was considered a failure. The weather was fine, although there were occasional showers and a fresh, bracing breeze. A train took down large numbers of spectators from London.
