PROCLAMATION.
Whereas the Governor of the State, in accordance with a time honored and most laudable custom, has appointed Thursday, the 18th day of November inst., to be observed as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, now I, Daniel F. Tiemann, Mayor of the city of New York, do hereby earnestly recommend all good citizens to unite on that day in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for all the great and manifest blessings he has bestowed in his good providence on our city and its inhabitants during the past year. The commercial panic which recently prostrated the trade and industry of our city has subsided, and again the merchant is busy, the mechanic employed, and the laborer has work to do. The harvests of the country have been plenteous, affording to our people the fruits of the earth in abundance, so that all can enjoy them. Pestilence has not overrunned the land, and with but very previous season has our city enjoyed the blessings of health. And even the strifes of party have served to the maintenance of that Union by which we as a people are secured in our civil freedom and the right to worship our Creator according to the dictates of our own consciences. For these and other manifold blessings and mercies it is our duty at all times to be thankful to the Giver of all Good, but especially on a day thus set apart by the chief magistrate of the State for religious worship and praise. I would also recommend that on this occasion those who have been favored with prosperity should impart of their abundance to the needy, and thus, by contributing to their comfort and alleviating their distress, honor their Creator, whose nature is divine benevolence.
(Seal.) In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my name and affixed the corporatly seal of the city of New York, this 11th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.
DANIEL F. TIEMANN.
