WORKING MEN'S AND MECHANICS' MUTUAL AID Association—Capital $100,000.—The object of this association is for mutual aid in establishing and carrying on all the various branches of profitable industry. Each member works and trades exclusively and independently for himself or with such associates as he may choose. Whenever it produces more than he can sell to advantage, the company aids him to sell in the best markets, whether near or distant, and also to procure his supplies at wholesale prices; thus giving to each member the advantage of a large capital and extended trade. A tract of land at Chillicothe, Ohio, fronting on one side on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, and the other on the Ohio canal, has been secured for the operations of the company, to be divided into lots, so as to secure on favorable terms to each member who may desire it, a permanent home and place of business out of the presents of his labor. The capital is divided into 5,000 shares of $20 each, of which 2,500 shares are reserved for working members, 2,500 shares are offered to capitalists. So soon as $10,000 are subscribed by fifty or more subscribers, and 20 per cent of said $10,000 deposited in bank, a meeting of stockholders will be held for the permanent organization of the company. Until the company organized, the undersigned are appointed agents for capitalists residing chiefly in New York and Europe, and expecting to arrive next spring, is prepared to act at once on the plan proposed by the company, also to sell lots and build houses on them in exchange for country produce and manufactured articles; to buy and sell on commission in American and foreign markets, and to make advances of a reasonable nature on merchantable—all with the object of preparing for the future action of the company under agents chosen by its members. From the best information he can obtain he believes that the following occupations are likely to be most profitable at present:—First—Sawyers, carpenters, turners, coopers, builders, agricultural implement makers, and workers in wood and iron generally. Second—Boot and shoe makers, tailors, hatters, harness and saddle makers, wagon and carriage makers, and manufactories for any article for exportation as well as the home market. The location is in the beautiful and fertile valley of the Scioto, in a mild and very healthy climate, and where living is very cheap. Excellent boarding costs but $2 per week. Coal of the best quality, delivered at the door by canal or railroad, sells from $1 50 to $2 per ton. The best firewood from $2 to $2 50 per cord. And by the same conveyances, the articles to be sold can be sent cheaply and expeditiously to the most distant markets, from this central position in the United States, which has advantages rarely to be found combined. For further information please address V. J. Moner, Chillicothe, Ross county, Ohio.

INSURANCE.

CIRCULAR.—THE FIREMEN'S FUND INSURANCE Company begs leave to call your attention to its plan of organization and the results which have been already attained, and which are believed to be attainable under it. Its charter requires that one-half of its profits beyond seven per cent per annum (which is first secured to its stockholders) shall be unconditionally paid over for the benefit of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund of the New York Fire Department. This feature of the charter was adopted with the double purpose of rendering substantial aid to a most noble charity and incidentally of benefiting the stockholders, by identifying their interests with an object which is sure to command the sympathy of all classes of our citizens. The stockholders were willing to assume whatever risk was involved by their consent to surrender so considerable a proportion of their profits, partly because a very large number of them felt a direct and personal interest in the fund, and partly from a firm belief that that this free donation would, in time, win to their company a liberal and hearty support from all its friends.
Starting in business at a period by no means especially favorable to a new enterprise of the kind, the company has received a fair degree of favor, and having enjoyed an entire exemption from loss during the seven months it has been in business, it has paid all its initiatory expenses and has a fair surplus on hand. All its funds have been carefully invested, and it is believed its securities may be safely compared with those of any company in the city.
It now remains with the friends of the New York Fire Department, whose President is ex officio a member of the Board of Directors, and with the citizens of New York generally, to determine whether this company shall be so vigorously sustained as to enable it to make a large annual contribution to the support of the widows and orphans of firemen who have lost their lives in protecting the property of their neighbors, or whether its liberal proposals shall be treated with indifference, and its contributions reduced to an insignificant amount. It requires no pecuniary sacrifice on the part of any one—it does not even require to place a policy in this company than in any other good solvent company—and the only question therefore, is whether it is deemed worth while to turn a policy where it may thus incidentally aid a worthy object without adding a feather's weight to the burden of the insured. A small effort on the part of each person interested in the success of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, would secure an aggregate result which would carry comfort to many firesides, and we make no apology for earnestly appealing to all such to consider the subject and then act accordingly. We are very respectfully yours,
NATHAN B. GRAHAM, President.
