THE HAWAIIAN GAZETTE.

A WEEKLY JOURNAL, DEVOTED TO HAWAIIAN PROGRESS.

VOL. XI,—NO. 21. HONOLULU, WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1875. WHOLE NO. 541.

It Never Pays.

It never pays to be good,
Whose fortune means our life;
The never tired will look ahead,
And strike the heaviest blow;
For luck is work,
And those who shirk
Themselves and labored their doing,
But yield the prize,
And close the way,
That better men have won.

It never pays to wreck the health
In dredging after gain,
And be a wild wise thinker that gold
Is cheapest bought with pain.
As humble job,
In your soul,
Does integral over kings,
For stations high,
That wealth will buy,
Not all contentment brings.

It never pays! a thousand times,
Well worthy of a song,
Through and truth must have the truth,
That nothing pays that's wrong.
The good not pays
At no one days
To share prolonged success,
While what is right
In Heaven's sight,
It always pays in time.

Variety.

A pair of tights—two drunkards.

A work of art—a fashionable lady.

A matter of course—A horse race.

Sanitary timber—the Board of Health.

The way to kill time—shoot every day.

An indigent envy has become a coaster.

A garment of expectation—the Cape of Good Hope.

What holds all the snuff in the world? No one can.

How did Queen Elizabeth take her pills? In elder.

A lacrimal wave—the wave of a lady's handkerchief.

When a minister gets married she ends a misspent life.

When is music like oysters? When there is a quay ant.

When is a man tied to time?—When he marries a second.

Handled Without gloves—Knives and forks, generally.

What relation is the door to the door mat? A step father.

Why is dancing like new milk? Because it strengthens the calves.

Why is a dishonest bankrupt like an honest poor man? Because both fail to get rich.

Mr. Jewell's new postal cards will protect the secrets of the writers. They will be in violet.

The man who ate his meal with the fork of a river has been attempting to spit a mountain top.

What is the difference between an angler and a dunce?—One baits his hook; the other hates his book.

To Whist Players—Should a chimney-sweep trump his partner's trick when he cannot follow suit?

A Man-on-street belle is so modest that she got up and left the table because the salad wasn't dressed.

Mrs. Mary Bear, of Brazil, Ind., sues for a divorce. She complains of her husband's growling propensities.

If you are cursed with an insatiable appetite, buy a plant vest, so that you can always keep a check on your stomach.

"Do you like codfish balls, Mr. Wiggins?" Mr. Wiggins, hesitatingly, "I really don't know, miss; I don't recollect attending one."

Why is a baby like wheat? Ans.—Because it is first cradled, then thrashed, and finally becomes the flower of the family.

Somebody says a wife should be like roast lamb—tender and nicely dressed. A bachelor adds, "And without any mint."

Host—"Just another wee drap fore you go"! Guest—"Na, na, a'll tak nae mair! I'm in a new religion, and I'm no vera weel acquainted wi' the man."

When two Georgians meet now, they don't go on about the weather, but merely exchange the novel salutation: "Do you think that Tombs will ever die?"

Issac says breakfast cakes are not very dear, but the transformation of sex confuses him. "Day is dise wimmin when first married, and cooking makes dem buck-wheats."

"Do you know who I am?" asked a policeman of a fellow whom he had seized by the throat. "Not exactly, sir; but I fancy you are the malignant collarer."

Obliging waiter—"Sausages? oh, yes, sir, I can recommend the sausages. I know the man to make 'em." Patron—"H'm; it would have been better if you had known the pig."

First wife—"Dear me, Mrs. Doyle, I have heard that your husband was a spirit-medium; is it so?" Second wife—"Medium! Goodness, yes. Comes home drunk every night."

Employer to new clerk—"Well, Sniffles, have you posted the ledger?" New Clerk—"Yesh, sir. I've posted the ledger; but, sir, thir, it wath too big for the letter box, and I had to take it inthide the poothoffith."

Prentice Hic was Rome—Swell: I want you to make me a short coat, without tails or seams in the back. Do you know what I mean? German Tailor: Yaas, yaas; I know vat you want. You want a straight jacket.

An old author quaintly remarks: "Avoid argument with ladies. In spinning yarns among silks and satins, a man is sure to be worsted and twisted. And when a man is worsted and twisted he may consider himself wound up."

"May it please your honor," said a lawyer, addressing one of the judges, "I brought the prisoner from jail to a dubious corpus." "Well," said a fellow, in an undertone, who stood in the rear of the court, "these lawyers will say anything. I saw the man get out of a cab at the court door."

The following was posted up in the county of Kent in the year 1837:—"Notice is hereby given that the Marquis of Camden (on account of the bad weather of the harvest) will not shoot himself or any of his tenants till the 14th of September."

Interesting Paragraphs.

In Dover, Del., recently, a hundred dollar bill paid debts amounting to $1000, and within eight hours returned to the man who first paid it out in the morning. It happened that A owed B $100. He paid it. B owed C $100, so he paid the bill over to him. Thus it went, and the ninth gentleman to whom it was paid, happening to owe A $100, paid it over to him; so it paid all these debts and came back to its original owner.

TRENCH, in his "English Literature," gives the following description of a word in common use, "Snob," the precise meaning of which few understand, and fewer still are able to define. He says: "The snob is the child of aristocratical societies; perched on the step of the long ladder, he respects the man on the round above him, and despises the man on the step below, without inquiring what they are worth, solely on account of their position; in his inmost heart he finds it natural to kiss the boots of the first and kick the second."

A WORD ABOUT THE LUNGS.—In nearly all cases the natural capacity and area of the chest are sufficient for all the uses of respiration. But the capacity of the chest may be diminished by the habit of stooping, or by the abominable habit of tight-lacing. The false grace of the wasp form in woman is almost always gained at the expense of the lungs. The tight belt and the armor above it fatally compress the air-cells, and forbid all easy union of the oxygen of the air with the currents of the blood. The lungs cannot well spare one square inch of the space which they naturally fill. Consumption is the sequent of corsets. The war of hygiene upon tight waists must be positive and unceasing, for fashion is in nothing more destructive to human life than in this. The lungs are also injured by being overworked, strained, or made to do more than any reasonable estimate of their powers would allow.

A COSTLY BIRD'S NEST.—There is a bird in New Guinea called the megapodius, which in the size of its eggs and its manner of hatching their must be considered extraordinary. It is not larger than one of our ordinary fowls, but its eggs are three inches long by two and a half inches in diameter. It does not attempt to sit on them. A colony of birds lay their eggs together in a large mound in the hottest part of the year, from September to March, and leave them to be hatched by the sun. The mound is made of sand, loose earth, and sticks and leaves, which latter, by their decay, increase the heat. The mounds are wonderfully large, being 10 feet high, and about 60 inches in circumference at the base. The young birds come out as a hole in the top. The mother birds wait on the trees around till their chicks are hatched, and then each leads off her own brood. How each knows its own is a mystery. The eggs are much relished by the natives, but not at all by Europeans.—N. Y. Paper.

A QUEER MARRIAGE.—Young Wing of Canton, China, Chief of the Chinese Educational Commission, at Hartford, was married recently to Miss Mary L. Kellogg, at the residence of the bride's father, A. S. Kellogg, in Avon, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. H. Twichell, of the Asylum Hill Congregational Church in Hartford, the pastor being a particular personal friend of the bridegroom. The bride wore a dress of white crape, imported expressly for this occasion from China, and elaborately trimmed with floss silk embroidery, and also the customary marriage veil. Her brother and sister attended as groomsman and bridesmaid. The house was very beautifully decorated. After the ceremony a fine collation was served, in which Chinese delicacies were mingled with more substantial dishes of American style. Messrs. Yeh Shu Tung, manager, and Yung Yan Foo, teacher of the Commission at Hartford, were present at the ceremony in national costume, but the groom, who has long since adopted our style, appeared in full evening dress. The bridal presents were numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Wing left on the evening train for a short wedding trip, via New York.

LENGTH OF WHALES.—Mr. Sourwby, a very high authority on this subject, declares that the common whale seldom exceeds seventy feet in length, and is much more frequently under sixty. Out of three hundred and twenty-two whales, which he measured personally in capturing, not one exceeded fifty-eight feet, and the largest of which he knew the reported measurement to be authentic came up to only sixty-seven feet. Two specimens of the rorqual or razor-back whale have been observed of one hundred and five feet in length. One of these was found floating lifeless in Davis' Straits, and the skeleton of the other was seen in Columbia river, and most, tail and all when alive, have measured one hundred and twelve feet. One cast on shore at North Berwick, Scotland, and preserved by Dr. Knox, was eighty-three feet in length. These instances seem to establish the average and extreme length of these huge animals. But, with considerable credulity in earlier accounts, Baron Cuvier, the eminent naturalist, says stoutly: "There is no doubt that whales have been seen at different epochs and in certain seas upward of three hundred feet long, or one hundred yards in length."

GLASS FOR WEARING PURPOSES.—It is announced that the beautiful glass hats for female wear, produced in Bohemia, and which have attracted so much notice in Vienna, are to be manufactured on an extensive scale in America, arrangements to this effect having already been made. These hats are of the most artistic and beautiful design, and, though the substance is presumably fragile, it is declared to be much stronger and more durable than the delicate materials commonly in use for the same purpose. The body of the hat is made of loose pieces of fine glass fastened closely together by a gutta percha band, which allows it to conform to the head. Inside, there is a lining of silk, which is the only piece of fabric used in the manufacture. The trimmings on the outside are after the prevailing mode, consisting of wreaths, flowers, feathers and ribbons, all made of delicately spun glass of wonderful beauty. All the trimmings have their natural colors, and, by a peculiar process, the glossy appearance of the glass is so well exhibited, that the material is not suspected. Only a very small amount of glass enters into the construction of one of these hats, for the thread is so fine that a great space is covered without any perceptible increase in the weight. They weigh but a few ounces.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
CHLORODYNE
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.
THE PUBLIC ARE CAUTIONED AGAINST the unfounded statements frequently made, "that the composition of CHLORODYNE is known to Chemists and the Medical profession." The fact is, Chlorodyne was discovered and invented by Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE (ex Army Medical Staff), and so named by him, and it has baffled all attempts at analysis by the first Chemists of the day. The method and secret of the preparation have never been published. It is obvious, therefore, that anything sold under the name, save Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, is a spurious imitation.
CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne.
MEDICAL USES AND ACTION.
This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without producing any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Whooping Cough, Cramp Hysteria, &c.
EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.
The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians, and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the SOLE remedy of any service in Cholera was CHLORODYNE.—See Lancet Dec. 31, 1864.
Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in Italy, reports (Dec., 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE was administered, the patient recovered.
Extract from Medical Times, Jan 12, 1866.—"Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"
Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."
CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
