COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, OCT. 6, 1875.

[illegible] report an unusually dull week, and owing to the [illegible] weather, there have been but little movement among the trading fleet.

The Am. bark Clara Bell arrived yesterday from San Francisco, with a full cargo of assorted merchandise, which is consigned to the order. She is consigned to Alex. Cartwright and will probably start back for San Francisco.

The H. Hackfeld Revenuecutter having thoroughly completed her repairs, in a most satisfactory manner, will sail for Lahaina and San Francisco. Her disbursements amount to about $11,000.

The bark G. Grinnell Apiani arrived on the 20th September, from a trading voyage, and brings in a sale fair cargo. She brings news from the whaling fleet, which will be found under its appropriate head.

MEMORANDA.

Report of Hawaiian Trading Schooner Giovanni Apiani, Dority, Master.—Sailed from Honolulu, April 15th, for the Arctic Ocean. Had strong winds mostly to the Fox Islands, where I passed through the Unalaska Passes in company with bark Florence. Made the ice May 29th, in latitude 69° N., longitude 174°W. Arrived at Pioneer Bay, June 8th. Experienced fine weather during June and the first part of July. Having constantly seen whales during the month and later part of the month, I concluded to winter in the Arctic. July 13th, while in company with the bark Arctic, lying at anchor in Wainwright Inlet, a strong south-west gale set the ice in, which drove the Arctic ashore. After losing both anchors I succeeded in working the schooner out. Steamers soon after broke up I went back, and found the ice in 21 feet of water. Captain Whitney had discharged everything to get her off. July 29th, I sailed from Point Barrow, and went day fall to with the Arctic, working northward, I regret Whitney having succeeded in selling her off without injury. Had southerly winds to Plover Bay, and visited Indian September 1st, arriving at Honolulu, September 20th, having had light variable winds the whole passage. New whaling as reported below on July 25th, and none since:

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

☞ H. R. H. Prince Leleiohoku is expected back from his trip to the windward, the latter part of the week.

☞ By advertisement in another column it will be seen that the fine schooner Giovanni Apiani will shortly sail for Tahiti.

REAL ESTATE.—The large lot on the corner of Beretania and Alapai streets, has been purchased by Mr. E. C. Damon. Terms private.

☞ His Majesty returned on Monday evening, from a short tour through Koolau, as far as Laie, His health is good.

SUICIDE.—We learn that a woman named Kuanoa, a resident of Ka'u, Hawaii, cut her throat on the 2d of last month. She was insane at the time she committed the deed.

THE FAST MAIL.—The Government arrangement for fast mails to Chicago and St. Louis went into operation on September 13th. We are not yet advised how much time will be gained with the mails between New York and San Francisco.

A PUZZLE.—As an alleviation to the dull times we offer the following, which we do not remember to have seen in print. Place the nine digits in such a manner that their sum shall amount to 100. Each figure must be used once and no more.

THE RAVENSTONDALE—This ship, which has been peculiarly unfortunate of late, has been repaired in a most thorough manner, and will sail to-morrow for San Francisco. We trust that her trials are at an end, and that she will have a prosperous voyage over.

AT THE IRON WORKS.—They have under way a new vacuum pan for the East Maui Plantation. Mr. Young is also getting out plans for a mill for Campbell and Turton of a larger size than has ever been cast in Honolulu.

OUR NEXT MAIL.—The steamer Vasco de Gama, which leaves San Francisco next Saturday, the 9th., instant to take her place in the new line, will bring a mail, as will also the City of Melbourne which is to sail on the 11th., instant. The former will be due on Saturday or Sunday following.

SUPERSTITION.—From a letter in the Lahui Hawaii we learn that all the inhabitants of a certain village on Molokai are wearing leis of the leaves of the Piela, (a variety of fern), because, forsooth, an old woman of the place, whom they believe to be possessed of spirits, predicted that unless they all wore garlands of that particular plant, a deadly pestilence would prevail. Whatever may have been the danger, they are now doubtless quite safe.

WHO IS "STARLING?"—A London correspondent writes us inquiring, Who is "Starling?" It appears that the poetry written at the islands has reached London! "Starling," we believe, is none other than our editorial brother, H. L. Sheldon, Esq., editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser. In the March number of the Friend for 1865, will be found a poem entitled "The South Sea Slaver," by "Starling;" and other poetical effusion claim a similar paternity.—Friend.

THE WEATHER.—In our dire extremity we fall back upon this never stale, yet much deprecated topic. For the past week or ten days the wind has been light and variable, and generally from the south and west. Consequently the days have been warm and sultry, the thermometer standing as high as 85° in the shade much of the time. But the nights have been wonderfully clear, and after midnight generally rendered refreshingly cool by the land-breeze from the mountain tops.

☞ The nearest approach to an excitement during the past week has been caused by the selling out of accumulated stock which was initiated by Messrs A. S. Cleghorn & Co at their uptown store, and whose example was immediately followed by the dry good stores of Messrs J. T. Waterhouse, B. F. Ehlers, and S. Magnin. Crowds of natives came in from all parts of the Island in search of good bargains, and the quantity of long hoarded quarters, and halves, which has been taken in, must have been something surprising.

☞ Our naval bonamzas have "sailed away" leaving the town in a state of commercial stagnation. Even the weather feels the depressing influences, and the wind is undecided whether to blow from east or west, or whether to blow at all. Dulness is no word for the state of affairs; there is no news, or gossip, no blow-ups, no break downs, no accidents, no drunks. There are no crimes perpetrated, and no signal deeds of virtue done, unless signalling the Kilauea half an hour after she leaves Lahaina be one.

AT a meeting of the members of His Majesty's Privy Council of State at Iolani Palace on the 30th of September, the following resolutions were passed:

Arrival of the Bark Clara Bell.

By the arrival of the American bark Clara Bell, 20 days from San Francisco, we have one day later dates.

WASHINGTON, September 13th.—In a despatch dated at Suez, August 15th, Admiral Reynolds announces the safe passage of the Tennessee through the Canal without meeting with the least accident or obstruction. The passage occupied 19 hours and 17 minutes, including stoppage. Every courtesy was extended to the Admiral and officers of the ship by the Canal Company's officers at Ports Ishmael and Suez, for which Admiral Reynolds returned thanks to the Director of the Canal, through Consul-General Beardsley.

A Washington special says the Treasury Department has obtained its first conviction under the Whiskey Ring prosecutions. It was the case of a distiller at St. Joseph, Mo., whose place was seized with other St. Louis seizures. The distiller pleaded guilty yesterday. The evidence is nearly the same as in all the other cases.

There was a gale on Sunday on the Mediterranean coast. Cette Railway Station was flooded and traffic was interrupted between there and Beziers. Other parts of France were similarly visited Saturday and Sunday. Several rivers in the south of France overflowed; that of the plains of Vignables, between Beziers and Narbonne and Vire were covered with water. Many houses were destroyed.

PARIS, September 13th.—A water-spout, causing terrible loss of life and destruction of property, occurred during the storm yesterday at Montpelier, in the Department of Herault. Over sixty persons were drowned.

PHILADELPHIA, September 13.—The new fast mail train by the Pennsylvania Railroad, which left New York at 4-30 this morning, arrived at West Philadelphia at 7-10 and at Harrisburg at 10-25 this morning, on exact schedule time.

BALTIMORE, September, 13.—The pioneer train of the fast limited mail over the Pennsylvania Railroad and connections, left this city at 7-20 this morning, connecting with the train which left Washington at 6 A. M. It took from this city press packages and daily papers for distribution along the route, and several gentlemen connected with the city papers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 13.—Serious fighting occurred on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday last, in which the Turks were defeated. This has resulted in a renewal of the siege of Trebanje by the insurgents.

BELGRADE, September 13.—On account of the threatening concentration of Turkish troops on the frontier, the Servian Government has ordered the mobilization of six frontier brigades, aggregating 24,000 men each. Each soldier is supplied with 100 rounds of ammunition.

MADRID, September 12.—The dissensions in the Cabinet were caused by the majority insisting that elections should be held for the Cortes by universal suffrage. Senor Canovas del Castillo desired to open the Cortes November 28th, the day King Alfonso becomes of age. The King summoned the Ministers to a consultation at nine o'clock last night. Canovas del Castillo would only consent to preside over a liberal Cabinet of conciliation. A new Ministry was formed under Jovellar to-day; following is the official list: General Jovellar, President and Minister of War; Count Alcola Galiano, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Calderon Colottes, Minister of Justice; Duchy Lera, Minister of Marine; Salneria, Minister of Finance; Romero Robledo, Minister of the Interior; Martin Herrern, Minister of Public Works; Ayola, Minister for the Colonies.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, August 31.—A Lima letter gives the following description of the funeral of Admiral Collins at Callao, August 11th: Public buildings and private dwellings hoisted flags at half-mast, and the different vessels in the bay, wearing American colors, were also in mourning. On board the Richmond and Onward the impressive ceremonial prescribed by the regulations was observed. Immediately on hearing of the Admiral's serious illness, President Pardo dispatched an Aid-de-Camp to the American Legation at Lima, offering to send on board the first medical men of the capital, but the generous offer was useless. When the President received the news of the death of the veteran, he again sent one of his aids to assure Admiral Gibbs of his sympathy and sorrow. At the same time the Minister of War issued an order directing that the honors due to a General of a Division in active service be shown to the memory of Admiral Collins, and an Infantry Regiment of the Line, a Squadron of Cavalry and two sections of flying Artillery were sent to Callao to take part in the funeral procession to the Protestant cemetery.

MEMPHIS, September 8th.—Following are some additional facts concerning the riot which occurred at Clinton, Miss., Saturday. A large majority of the blacks were unarmed, having been cautioned against carrying weapons to the meeting. The difficulty was wholly unsought by them, and they fought only in self-defense. By 5 o'clock there was not a colored man on the grounds. At the same time a Vicksburg train brought armed men from Edwards and Bolton. Saturday night 300 armed white men occupied Clinton and there was quiet. On Sunday morning, at daybreak, the Vicksburghers, 2,000 of whom were here, commenced slaughtering the negroes. All the colored men they could find were killed in cold blood. Armed bands were organized scouring the country, and the work of slaughter went on. It is estimated that 200 men were thus killed in the County on Sunday, while others had fled to woods and swamps for protection. A reign of terror possessed the county. Colored men for two days have been arriving and reporting new outrages. The authorities are utterly powerless to stop the marauding bands. Governor Ames issued an order commanding the rioters to disperse. The city is full of colored refugees who dare not return to their homes. They ask nothing but protection. Governor Ames is doing all he can to prevent bloodshed.
