Miscellaneous Items.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The impeachment of the late Secretary of War, which has so long been in abeyance, has at last got under way, so far as the reading of the articles in the Senate. The latter will take order in the premises and then the trial will be gin. The question was mooted to-day in the House whether the members should not all accompany the managers to the Senate, and Mr. Kelly supposed that even in case of the impeachment of a United States Judge it was one usage for the House in a body to accompany the managers. It was agreed that the managers should go over alone, leaving the question of the necessity of the presence of the House in a body to be agreed upon when the trial actually commences, and to be determined after the House shall be informed of the whole facts.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Counsel for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company made a motion before Judge Gilbert to-day for referees in the case of that corporation vs. the Union Pacific Railroad Company. The Court granted the motion, and appointed Charles E. Strong of Wall street as referee. The motion is for an alleged breach of contract in the transportation of some freight from New York to San Francisco. The damages claimed are $100,000. The defense set upon the failure of the performance of the contract on the part of the Steamship Company, and also that there has been a settlement of all questions between them.

NEW ORLEANS, March 22nd.—The Galveston News' Brownsville special says: A despatch received yesterday from Rio Grande City states that news was received that the Government forces were defeated with a loss of 1,500 men and all their artillery and wagons. There are no further particulars. The news comes over the Mexican Government wires to Camargo and may be considered reliable. The revolution in this section progresses slowly. Gonzales and Riva are still near Matamoros, and Cabigra with his small force remains in the city, and is short of ammunition, having yesterday requested of Colonel Potter a loan of 500 pounds of powder, which was refused. It is said that La Barria has been ordered to proceed with all his men to Monterey to join Fuero, which will leave Ceiff (?) in charge of the National Guards, who will doubtless pronounce in favor of Diaz as soon as the regular troops leave, and Diaz will take quiet possession.

WAR ALARMS.—A cable dispatch in the S. F. Chronicle says that "Denmark is assiduously arming, and that there indications of offensive and defensive warfare." This is an extremely vague and shadowy announcement; and yet, in the present peculiar attitude of the Great Powers of Europe, it is not altogether without significance. The retirement of the Czar, the German visit of Queen Victoria, attended by Lord Derby, her Minister of Foreign Affairs, the sudden declaration by Russia of a new policy in regard to the revolting Danubian Principalities; the troubles of Abdul Aziz, the attitude of the French Republicans toward the Ultramontanes on the school question—all these movements upon the great European chessboard seem to foreshadow exciting events.

The arrest of several officers of the Italian Court, including one of the chief clerks of Victor Emanuel, on a charge of forging the King's name to a check for $40,000, has made a great sensation and led to unpleasant revelations about the royal extravagance. It seems that Victor is always short of money, and frequently borrows and pays high interest, and lately when a stranger who had had a private audience with the King, presented a check for $40,000, signed "Victor Emanuel," and requested several clerks to sign, too, as evidence of authenticity, they supposed it was in the usual course of business and put down their names without suspicion. In a few months, after the forger had gone far beyond arrest or detection, the forgery was discovered. The affair is considered very scandalous in Europe, but they have not yet developed a Boss Tweed or Secretary Belknap on the continent.
