UNITED STATES BREWERY, FORMERLY KNOWN as New York Steam Brewery.—The undersigned beg leave to state to their friends and the public generally, that they have taken the above mentioned Brewery, Nos. 38 and 40 Carmine street, and 17 Downing street, where they will manufacture the choicest brands of Pale and Amber Ales, X and XX Porter. This Brewery will be thoroughly overhauled, and made one of the most complete in the city, affording every convenience to the manufacture of fine Ales, &c. The experience we have had during the last seven years, by having been the superintendents, and having the full control of the late John Harrison's Brewery, in Sullivan street, enable us by practical experience fully to understand our business. We now ask our friends and the public to extend to us a share of their patronage. Yours, respectfully,

WILLIAM MARTIN,
GEORGE KINNIER.

AN ARRIVAL EXTRAORDINARY.

Have you heard the arrival of good Santa Claus,
With his wonderful budgets and bundles and cases,
Who some people thought had gone off to the wars?
He is here, and the best is, he "puts up" at MACY'S,

He arrived in the night, all alone by himself,
And straight down the chimney he came without warning,
And filled up each counter and packed every shelf
With rare Christmas gifts before it was morning.

The pack on his back he soon emptied of toys,
The richest and finest (you'll see them at MACY's);
He brought dolls for the misses and whips for the boys,
And he laughed as he thought of their bright little faces.

He had gifts for the ladies and gentlemen too,
Perfumes for the toilet, and boxes and baskets,
And rich fancy articles, as tempting and new
As Aladdin o'er drew from his magical caskets.

Such dainty embroidery for home wear or dress,
Such neat fitting gloves, and such ribbons and laces,
The merry Saint brought; and it must be confessed
He showed his good sense when he left them at MACY'S.

R. H. MACY,
204 and 206 Sixth avenue,
Two doors below Fourteenth street.
