THE HAWAIIAN GAZETTE.

A WEEKLY JOURNAL, DEVOTED TO HAWAIIAN PROGRESS.

VOL. XIII.---No. 28. HONOLULU, WEDNESDAY, JULY 11, 1877. WHOLE No. 652.

One Day Out of Seven!

Birds can not always sing;
Stream at times they sink to murmur spent feeling;
To see some new bright thing,
It's a fresh burst of song, fresh joy revealing.

Flowers can not always blow;
Some Sabbath rest they need of silent Winter;
Bye-from its sheath below
Shoots up a small, green blade, brown earth to splinter.

Tongues can not always speak;
O God! in this fond world of noise and clatter,
Save us life once a week,
To let the seen seed grow, not always scatter.

"Toddie is Dead."

A siege by the stormy Atlantic;
A storm on the ice-bound main;
A wail from a foodless fireside,
Arms outstretching in vain.

A heart-chill, colder than winter,
And tears that flow from the eyes,
For the child of beauty and promise
Unheeding our grief and pain.

Our vanished, our golden-haired darling,
Are the angels' wings soft as you thought?
Does down in the sunlight eternal,
Jo an earth when he radiantly yets caught?

While the stars twinkle round in the spaces,
Does that gaze with wondering eyes?
Do the whole go round in the Heavens,
O child, so wistful and wise?

Does long for home and for mother?
Or, mid scenes so strange and new,
Do the angels tell the old stories
We lovingly told to you?

A thrill by the sunny Pacific,
Through the blossoming orange trees,
Where the orange drops fragrant and golden,
And sways in the perfumed breeze.

And is sympathy, sorrow and sadness,
The simple child-story is done;
While the heart-pangs of fathers and mothers
Tell the heart of humanity—one.

VARIETY.

Adam was the first ticket-of-leave man.

Blown glass is not as good as blew glass.

An amendment to the constitution—A wooden leg.

Senator McDonald says "hundred" for hundred.

A sign in South Erie, Pa., reads, "Rooms to Let, Also Boarders."

The laziest man in Burlington, Vermont, writes "fortunately" 42nd'ly.

Treading on the President's corns—When Congress passes over his V-toes.

It isn't "Will you take a smile?" now, but "Will you look through a blue glass?"

An Ovid (N. Y.) man is said to have christened his boy Pyramus. Can This be true?

From recent exposures it seems that honesty is not one of the best policies of insurance companies.

Mankind have been falling for over 5,000 years, and I don't think they have struck bottom yet.

"Any man can do it," exclaimed an earnest speaker, "any man can do it, whether he is a man or a woman."

Herodias was not a Fenian; and yet, suggests the Burlington Hawkeye, she was delighted with the head sent her.

Bottles is the name of a Western preacher. He should enter the ministrel profession and he then could be corked up.

Letters from a French firm to the booksellers Bridgman & Childs in Northampton, come directed to "Bridgman et fils."

To what length may a widow go when she desires a new parent for her children? She may go to one step-father.

A Detroit restaurateur hangs out a sign of "free shops" and when the old loaders come around he shows them an ax and a wood-pile.

When was the most uniform distribution of physical suffering on record? When the Pilgrim Fathers of New England had six cores apiece.

Poser for merchant captains—When the authoress of Uncle Tom's Cabin is "not at home," can she be considered a Stowe-away?

At the restaurant the guest called the waiter to him and remarked: "This goose with wine sauce would be most palatable but for a slight mistake. The age is in the goose and not in the wine."

A Whitehall woman, who was told to heap hot coals upon the head of her enemy, not having any coals on hand squirted a lot of pepper sauce in the eyes of her next door neighbor.

By cutting off his cigars and saving half his carfare every man may fit his house with blue glass windows. As a strange paradox, blue panes make life supremely blissful.

Dr. Schliemann's latest discovery in that tomb is a number of small scraps of parchment, on which are disconnected writings, that he cannot decipher. —They are probably Agamemnonidum's.

Western papers are boasting that a Nevada man read a newspaper while a tumor was taken out of his side. That is nothing. A man in Rhode Island whistled the other day while a Massachusetts frog was taken of his legs.

Keeper of Circulating Library—"I'm very sorry, miss, the third volume happens still to be out; but here is the entire novel in one volume." Young lady—"Oh, that won't do. How on earth am I to find my place in it."

A lady recently asked her servant how the mustard pot had become cracked. The reply made with all gravity, was that she did not know, but supposed that it must have been that the mustard was so strong that it caused the fracture.

She said it was a very bright idea. He said he knew a brighter one, and when she asked him what it was, he answered, "Your eye, dear!" There was silence for a moment, then she laid her head on the rim of his ear and wept.

A person leaving a crowded stage in Madison avenue, N. Y., the other day, steadied himself by resting his hands on the knees of the passengers. "What a savage!" exclaimed one lady. "Yes," replied her companion. "He's a Paw-nee."

"I can never enjoy poetry when I am cook-in," said an old lady; "but when I step out to feed the hogs, and lib myself on the fence and throw my soul into a few lines of 'Cag'n Jinks,' it does seem as if this airth was made to live on, after all."

A young man who mistook a bottle of varnish for a bottle of hair oil, concluded that dancing was a frivolous amusement, and kept away from a masquerade ball. But when inquisitive friends asked why he stayed away, he told an unvarnished tale.

"What's the use of making such a fuss about a little water?" said a Judge before whom motion after motion had come in a case where a small spring was the object of contention. "The parties are both milksops." "Oh! I see," said the Judge.

There had been a discussion about the cost of a dress, she was worthy. "It's all very well," she pouted, "for you to expect a woman to be an angel; but I'd have you to know sir, that I wouldn't even be an angel, unless my wings could be out going. There, now."
