THE VARIETY.

"Bring you back in your slave, the word you say is your master."

The most great in the world is the woman who is superior to her husband, and lets everybody know it.

The last published report of an Irish benevolent society says: "Notwithstanding the large amount paid for medicine and medical attendance, very few deaths occurred during the year."

"Always pay as you go!" was the advice of Abe Bloom. "But suppose, sir," said the boy, "I haven't anything to pay with?" "Then don't go," said old Abe with a merry eye.

Professor James C. S. Henderson has patented "a device to remove and hold a quid of tobacco in the mouth," with the object of producing a maximum of enjoyment with a minimum.

A morning girl told her master, the other morning, that she was about to give the wide warning and quit the house. "Happy girl! Would that I could give that warning too!" responded the indescribable female.

"I want to see," said a customer to his barber, "that in these hard times you ought to lower your prices for shaving." "Can't do it," replied the barber; "now a days everybody wears such a long face that we have a great deal more surface to shave over."

Dealers in patent medicines are sometimes wonderful. From such a source, produced in evidence recently, the following sentence is extracted:—"Dear sirs—I enclosed the postage on your letter twice. I know your tips had touched it."

A young lady said a pretty good thing the other evening. Football many albumen among the limbs of the men, and on being asked how she escaped bruised, she replied she supposed it was owing to the fact that in a multitude of counsellors there is safety.

"Don't you love her still?" asked the judge of a man who applied a divorce. "Certainly I do," said he. "I love her better still than any other way, but the trouble is she will never be still." The judge, who is married himself, takes the case under advisement.

The Edinburgh school board have resolved to prosecute the parents of the children under nine years found selling papers in the street, and of children under 10 found trafficking after seven o'clock, unless the latter are furnished with certificates showing a certain proficiency in reading, writing, and arithmetic.

One star and then another,
Shone the magic gems to wonder;
Shone the star that guided thither
Three wise men from out the East.
To the lowly manger came they,
Where the holiest well is made;
Over Bethlehem's sleeping village
Hung the deepest night to fade.

"I can't hold this baby any longer," called out the young husband and father; "he's getting too heavy." "Poison, Edward," replied a muffled voice from the other side of the room: "you used to hold me for hours and never complain, and baby is not a feather compared to what I was." "I was a fool," said Edward. But she was too sleepy to dispute with him.

A working man applied at the Hammersmith police court for a divorce from his wife, stating that he saw in the newspapers that the magistrate had power to grant it. The magistrate said there was great misconception as to the new Separation Act. The best power on the application of the wife, to grant a separation from the husband, but he could do nothing for the latter. The man left the court greatly astonished.

"Three, sir," said a conductor at a railway terminus to the city to a gentleman who, having been a season ticket holder for some time, believed his face was so well known that there was no need for him to show his ticket. "My face is my ticket," replied the gentleman, a little annoyed. "Indeed?" said the conductor, rolling back his wristband and displaying a most powerful fist. "Well, my orders are to punch all tickets passing on to this platform."

A witness was testifying that he saw the defendant at breakfast, and the latter ruled the waiter, and:—"Hold on," exclaimed the attorney for the defense, "I object to what he said." Then followed a legal argument of about an hour and a half on the objection, which was overruled, and the court decided that the witness might state what was said. "Well, go on and state what was said to the waiter," remarked the district attorney, flushed with his legal victory. "Well," replied the witness, "he said, 'Bring me a rare beefsteak and a couple of well-boiled eggs.'"
