COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, OCT. 27, 1880.

We note a slight improvement in business during the week, with the arrival of shipping orders. Sugars are coming in slowly from the other Islands.

On Sunday evening last, about 11 o'clock, the steamer Australia arrived from the South en route for San Francisco, and the usual bustle and activity prevailed on Monday among shippers and forwarding passengers during her stay in port. The coasting steamers C R Bishop and Kinau first also left port on Monday, both well laden with freight and passengers. Taken altogether, Monday last was a lively day along the wharves, and business feel that there was the turn in the tide at the lowest.

The foreign arrivals were: Am bk General Butler from Port Gamble; Rainier with Yield from Fanning's Island and Tabiti; H B M S Gannet from Panama; and some Australia from the Colonies, en route for San Francisco.

The departures were: Schr yacht Lasseliers Witch for Hilo; Am bk Kalkias, Pope, for Port Gamble; Schr Fanny Lake, for Kalaloa; Schr Lucy Ann, for Koloa; Schr Mary Ann, Capt Kaiser, for Koloa; Schr Ka Ulu O Lono, Capt Kaiser, for Koloa; H B M S Pelican also touched there and remained one day; the captain and officers went on shore and dined; took there their provisions for Tahiti. The new ship Corsair, 1480 tons, sailed from Fanning's Island for Tacoma, with 1500 tons of guano; about 2 months from San Francisco. The Bark Samuel, 640 tons, was ready for sea when the Yield left for Cook or Falmouth.

Report of Sch Australia, Cargill, Commander, cleared Sydney Heads October 7th at 4 p m, with a moderate breeze and fair weather; light winds and fine weather to the 10th, when it was off Sandy Cape, Fraser Island; on the 12th, sighted the Three Kings at 1 p m, and also that date, and Cape Maria Van Diemen at 6 p m; passed North Cape at 7 p m. Crossing Ireland off the 19th, sighted the Fiji archipelago on the 23rd, after discharging and remaining New Zealand mails, passengers and cargo, that left from the wharf at 4 p m; discharged pilot at the Bay of Islands at 5:30, and at 6 p m left the Cape; light winds and fine weather to the 24th, with light winds and fine weather up to the 26th. Experienced signals with Star Australia at 3 a m this date; seeing, unusually winds with a rough sea prevailed up to the 16th, and with heavy rains equable to this date. Spoke the Gem off Sydney Heads, out of the 17th, and at 1 P M of the 18th, bore W 6 miles distant; crossed the equator at 4 a m of the 23d, in long 153 22 W. Fresh head winds prevailed from the 19th to the 24th; crossed tropic of Capricorn at 11 30 p m of the 23d, in long 153 22 W. Fresh head winds prevailed from the 19th to the 24th; crossed tropic of Capricorn at 11 30 p m, of this date.

Supreme Court.

The jury gave a verdict for the plaintiff, two dissenting, in Lewis, administratrix, vs. The New York Life Ins. Co. Exceptions were taken. Castle & Hatch for Plaintiff; Hartwell and Austin for defendant.

Several jury waived cases have been heard, but not yet decided.

The constitutionality of the Act abolishing the Chinese immigration within the city limits was argued last week in a test case. Castle & Hatch for Immigration; E. Preston for the Crown.

Last Friday a baseball match was played between a nine from the U. S. S. Pinafore, and a nine of "Our Boys." Honolulu came off victorious; Sailors are usually successful in such contests with sailors, as the latter have so little chance of practice. We append the score:

ISLAND LOCALS.

ABOUT TOWN.

The music Hall is likely to be opened early in December.

Mr. W. R. Castle is building a fine residence on the plains.

It seems that Judge Judd, and not Judge McCully, is to hold the November term of the Circuit Court at Waimea.

The Roman Catholic Boarding School will soon be ready; a large school-room is being built into the rear of the house.

The wash-houses at the mouth of the Nuuanu stream seem to be completed, but we do not know whether they are in use yet.

The Yield brings intelligence of labor in Tahiti. The question is worth looking into. From all quarters comes the cry "labor!"

We hear that the Board of Education contemplate building an addition to Fort Street School: two extra rooms are to be put up.

Last evening the U. S. S. Alaska, Captain Brown, arrived from Samoa. We have not been able to get a list of her officers for this issue.

We hear that the American Commodore refused to hold any social relations with Hawaiian officials in consequence of the late complications.

We are informed that Mons. Pernet, has been appointed to the French Consulate in San Francisco. Mons. Pernet left this for Yokohama where he has been stationed for some time.

Wherever the carcass is there are the eagles gathered together. Men-of-war are winging their way Hawaiiwards at the command of the three great Powers.

By all means let us have the statue placed in front of the Government buildings, it is the proper position for it; we had no idea that any other site was contemplated.

Maui is going ahead, they are running special trains to Wailuku for their local entertainments. A few evenings ago 200 passengers were carried up to that metropolis to see Messrs. Payne & Xavier.

Mr. Glade left by the steamship Australia, he goes to take a much needed rest. Our business men have had a very tiring and harassing time lately. It has evidently told on some of them.

We looked through Mr. Furneaux's studio the other day and found he had added many interesting sketches of Maui scenery to his collection. He has some nice views of Hanauma from various points.

Mons. Batard has imported 200 seeds of the carob tree. Many of these are growing and we may hope in a few years to see them as widely spread as the algeroba. The pod of the carob is a most nutritious food for horses and cattle.

Mrs. Armstrong and her daughter, Mrs. Weaver, left for the States on Monday. After a long life of usefulness on these Islands this estimable lady goes to end her days in the land of her birth; it is unlikely that Hawaii will ever see her again.

The South Sea woman, who was stabbed at Ahuimanu ten days ago is doing well, and will soon recover. We hear that it is quite a common thing for these untaught children of nature to use the knife; several cases have been reported to us.

We are informed by one of his friends and admirers that Sir ( ) Cebac Moreno, the beloved, is expected to return by the December steamer. We have a shrewd suspicion that certain parties have written for him.

Over 3,000 letters were dispatched by Postmaster General Brickwood per steamship Australia, Oct. 25th, for San Francisco and the East. Quite a large newspaper mail was also sent by the same steamer.

Captain Jacob Brown will soon be himself again walking the deck of government steamship Pele. We have noticed a sadness in the captain's expression during the time the new boiler was fitting. Doubtless he feared our coasts were unprotected.

Professor Pascoe, the magician intends visiting Hilo during the coming week, where he will open his Palace of Wonders for a short season. We understand that the Professor has been quite successful on Maui and Hawaii.

The U. S. S. Pinafore sailed on Monday last for San Francisco after having been in port about two weeks, during which time her gallant commander and officers made a host of friends, and her crew conducted themselves in such a manner as to elicit the commendation of our citizens.

On Friday morning the Kapiolani, after getting under way, suddenly returned. They brought back the body of Mr. J. C. Wood, who had rolled overboard in a fit. Anoerism is supposed to be the cause of death. Deceased was a native of Bellingham, one of the smallest islands among the British Possessions. He was an old resident here.

W. W. Cole's so-n-corporated Shows—Circus and Menagerie—will arrive here by the steamer City of Sydney, en route for the Colonies, and should time permit will give exhibition during the steamer's stay in port. This combination is said to be one of the best and largest of the kind, now traveling, and is spoken highly of by the press of the United States.

Mr. S. G. Wilder has gone to look after railway matters. The proposed line in Hawaii will make a very great change in that Island, and in fact will be a direct benefit to every part of the group, for we may expect that small farmers will take up holdings on the uplands and supply us with many of the articles we are now importing at great cost, notably hay.

By the steamer Australia, on Monday last, quite a number of our prominent residents took their departure for California and the East on tours of business and pleasure among whom we noticed Judge McCully, Hon. S. G. Wilder, Miss Wilder, Mrs. C. C. Armstrong, J. C. Glade, D. K. Fyfe, J. T. Arundel, J. A. Hoppe and wife, P. N. Makee, J. Hyman and wife, J. S. Oakford and others, to all of whom we wish a pleasant passage and sojourn abroad.

We would like to know how many firms or private individuals have their mail matter ready by the time the steamer gets in. Procrastination is inherent in the human race we fear. Going round town on Monday morning we found every one scrambling away for dear life, and it would have been the same had the steamer been delayed till Wednesday or Thursday. There is much wasted power in our business houses here.

This is the way the Queenslanders speaks of us: "The Hawaiian Islands, under the Government of King Kalakaua, are imitating the Australian colonies in the matter of loans for public works, and according to the GAZETTE of that kingdom the bill introduced into the Legislature for that purpose is not framed for the benefit of the country, but for the enrichment of individuals. The extract we give below explains it more fully, and shows that the Press dares to speak out."

The peripatetic Payne & Xavier handed over the $30 they had promised to the injured man Wilson, but the citizens of Wailuku and the vicinity gave them a bumper house, the receipts footed up $285. Messrs. Girvin, Parker and Hooke were nominated a committee to receive the charitable fund. Mr. Wilson, in spite of his frightful injuries, seems likely to recover. He will be a dreadful wreck, however, his eyesight is completely gone.

The yacht Lasseliers Witch has gone for a cruise to Hawaii. Sir Thomas Hesketh will visit the crater and then go on to Mr. Parker's place to see whatever can show in the way of shooting wild cattle. On Sir Thomas' return to San Francisco we understand he will be married to Miss Sharon daughter of Senator Sharon. The Senator who represents large moneyed interests, is also the owner of the Palace and Grand Hotels.

Small pickings and stealings give very little trouble to some conscienous. We notice a bad habit among some of our youths of 18 or 19. Going along the street they will take a time, a handfull of peanuts or something of this kind from the barrows and stalls of native or Chinaman. The vender does not like to say anything and perhaps retaliates by a little theft; nevertheless a nice sense of honor among the "boys" should put a stop to such pleasantries.

KAUAI.

This Island has been favored during the past month with an unusually large amount of rain, for the season, and pastures and crops are looking green and flourishing. The most of the plantations have finished planting, and much of the young cane is well up.

The labor question looms up before the Kauai planters like a grim spectre, threatening losses and ruin. There is not a plantation which has its full complement of hands, and on most of them the roll grows shorter and shorter each day. The men leaving as fast as their contracts expire. Of course this means short crops, or rumors advances in wages.

The rice planters find the rice-bird an ever-increasing curse. One plantation alone, embracing an area of about one hundred and fifty acres, is put to an annual expense of about four thousand dollars for powder and shot and labor in the endeavor to protect the rice from the little pests. And they estimate an additional loss, from rice actually destroyed by the birds, of not less than two thousand dollars per annum, making six thousand dollars in all.

The deputy sheriff was laying his plans last week to capture a gang of Chinamen—deserters from plantations, fugitives from justice, escaped convicts &c.—who have been living for some months in the mountains back of Hanalei. Native reports place the number at about thirty, but it is improbable that there are more than ten or a dozen of them in all. They are said to be armed with old muskets, knives &c. and the deputy sheriff expects to have a lively time in capturing them.

The Labor Question.

WAILUKU, MAUI, Oct. 15th, 1880.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—By your permission, I wish to ask through the GAZETTE a few questions of mill owners, planters and other employers of labor;

1st.—Are the laborers employed by you a satisfactory kind?

2nd.—Have your laborers struck for higher wages repeatedly the past twelve months, until now a common Chinese laborer is getting $18 per month besides board, lodging, &c?

3rd.—Will their demands cease at $18, after receiving from you everything asked and thereby advanced their wages from $11 per month to $18?

4th.—Do the profits and success of your business depend upon comparative low wages?

5th.—Will not this continued increase of wages eventually absorb all profits and perhaps some original capital and force you to retire from business?

6th.—Will sending ships to China, and importing a few thousand more Chinese laborers cure the evil? when it is a known fact that in California Chinamen always demanded for common farm labor $1 per day, and none could be obtained for less, although two men out of every three among them, throughout the whole State were idle at the same time.

There however, even by combination they could not obtain more than $1 per day, as there were many laborers of other nationalities ready to take the Chinamen's place if wages were advanced a little above $1 per day.

Here it is not so, the Chinamen are masters of the situation. There are comparatively no other laborers here, and with of some concert of action among employers there is nothing to prevent (but the inability of employers to pay) their demanding and obtaining as great an advance upon their present wages the coming twelve months, as they did the past twelve months.

One planter informs me that by being compelled to comply with his laborer's last demand, has increased his pay roll $1,800 per month.

7th.—Do you hire your neighbors help after yours have struck and forced you to pay larger wages than your neighbor? if so, they may be a monkey's catspaw of you, to force the screws down on your neighbor and compel him to pay the same or greater wages than you are now paying. It seems to us that employers should be concert of action, try at least to relieve themselves of this imposition.

1st.—By establishing a uniform price for certain kinds of labor, or by demanding a certificate of applicants for labor from adjoining plantations, said certificate certifying to their former service, honorable discharge, &c., or by importing some laborers from other nations besides China, or by agitating the question until some mode of relief is discovered and adopted.

8th.—Do you not owe such action to the citizens of this Kingdom as well as to yourselves so as to insure the continued prosperity of your business, and thus insure a continued prosperity to the business of the Hawaiian Islands.

Respectfully, J. M. H.

[A Planters' Association ought to be formed without further delay. ED.]

The Colonial News.

The Colonial papers are full of notes of the Melbourne Exhibition. The criticisms on the building are not favorable; it is large but the decorations, such as statues, fountains, etc., are small. The late Sydney Exhibition is said to excel it.

There is considerable excitement in Auckland over the following rumors by a native of the New Hebrides:

On the evening of Monday, September 20th., a native of the New Hebrides Islands, who was staying in Auckland, attacked the son of the gentleman in whose service he was with an axe, and severly wounded him. Another boy who was present was also hurt. The native then ran away, taking with him an axe from the neighborhood. The police were informed soon after, but nothing was heard of him till next morning. It was then found that after leaving the house of Mr. Sankey, where the first assault had been committed, he went along the New North Road. There he overtook a man named Rees, a recent arrival from England, and murdered him by blows on the head. There was no alteration; indeed, not a word was exchanged between them. Thence the native went to a house a few miles further on, where he assaulted a woman named Mr. Melville, a settler. The latter overpowered him, disarmed and delivered him over to custody. Since then the native has been tried before Justice Richmond at the Supreme Court, and sentenced to death.

The Auckland Evening Star of October 9th has a long article upon the labor traffic in the South Seas. The complaint now is that while protection has been extended to the South Sea Islanders none is guaranteed to the white trader, and that lately the result has been a number of murders by natives. This is especially true of the Solomon Islands. An extract from a letter upon this subject concludes as follows:

"Let us have laws as strict as they can be made; let them be fully enforced upon every white man, and even only partially upon the black; let the savage be fully assured that he will be protected from all insult and injury, but that he cannot rob and murder with impunity; for even justice in this case at all events, be tempered with mercy and consideration, for his ignorance; but let some show of justice be made, some warnings given, and some punishment inflicted in cases of oft-repeated crimes, and we shall not have to mourn the loss of good, honest, kind-hearted men, like my dear old friend, Alex. M. Ferguson."

The captain Ferguson mentioned has just lately been murdered by the Solomon Islanders. There are always to sides to a question, and it seems as if in a sudden burst of philanthrophy our party have been misled. All legislation should be calm, statesmen have no business with "feelings."
