HONOLULU, SEPT. 14th, 1881.

Trade is very quiet, prevailing along the wharves for the movement of produce actually moved, there is little doing of importance transacting. Business in the country is reported as being very dull indeed. Reports are very favorable as to the prospects for harvesting, owing to the fine weather for the past month, having considerably cleared off the rains of the rainy season. Arrivals from foreign ports have been very numerous during the past month, with a good deal of shipping in port, as a few weeks since.

We have to chronicle arrivals for the week—Sept. 8th, Kaiana, from Christmas Island; Sept. 9th, Kaiana, from Kaloa; Sept. 10th, Kaiana, from Christmas Island; Sept. 11th, Kaiana, from Kaloa; Sept. 12th, Kaiana, from Christmas Island; Sept. 13th, Kaiana, from Kaloa; Sept. 14th, Kaiana, from Christmas Island; Sept. 14th, Brig Wm. G. Irwin, from Hilo; Sept. 14th, Brig Wm. G. Irwin, from Hilo; Sept. 14th, Brig Wm. G. Irwin, from Hilo
