THE NEW TRUST COMPANY.

OFFICE OF THE NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, 363 BROADWAY, May 27, 1867.

NOTICE.—The Trustees of this Company have the satisfaction of announcing that over three-quarters of its capital stock of one million dollars has been applied for during the last few days. The rapidity with which the stock has been taken up renders it certain that the commissioners for receiving subscriptions will be able to close the books in a very few days.

Before doing so, however, they wish to afford further opportunity for investors, particularly small ones, to obtain some of the Stock.

The Charter is considered exceedingly valuable, there having been but one Trust Company Charter granted during the past five years, and the existing organizations (only four in number) are doing a profitable business—the stock of all of them selling very much above par. The Company will furnish by mail, or personally, to all applicants full particulars of the nature of the business of this company, its prospects and the names of its officers and trustees, which includes many of the leading bankers, merchants, manufacturers and capitalists of the city and State of New York.

This company can loan its deposits only on United States or State stocks, or those of cities and towns of the State of New York. It cannot loan on business paper or other personal security, neither can any trustee borrow any of its funds, making the investment of money unusually safe.

The probabilities are that its stock will pay liberal dividends, besides annually enhancing in value.

OFFICERS:

President—JOSEPH U. ORVIS.

First Vice President—HENRY C. CARTER.

Second Vice President—BARNET L. SOLOMON.

TRUSTEES:

A Board of Trustees, consisting of Thirty-nine Stockholders, of not less than $5,000 each—a list of whom appears in the circulars of the Company.

The Books are still open at the Ninth National Bank, No. 363 Broadway, corner of Franklin street.
