COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, APRIL 26th, 1882.

Activity in commercial circles still continues. The weather is favorable to the loading of schooners, and the mild wind that set in last week enables them to make good time to and fro. The retailers may truly be said to have all they can desire to offer the public, and the bed stores are constantly replenished by the frequent arrivals from the Coast.

Having no later advices from the Coast we have no further sugar quotations to offer. The Amy Turner was despatched last week for New York making the third vessel that Messrs. H. Hackfeld & Co. have sent thither with our staple product. This vessel took the largest sugar cargo ever exported from Honolulu, valued at $36,363.36.

The arrivals for the week have been the barque Amelia from Port Blakely with lumber, and the Falcon with a large cargo of coals from Newcastle, N S W.

The departures were: The Amy Turner for New York, the Gitana and Young Phœnix for the Arctic, Lady Lampson, Forest Queen, Atlanta and Consuelo for San Francisco.

The following vessels were at the last dates under dispatch from the Coast and may be looked for in the order named: Kalakaua, Eureka, W G Irwin, W H Meyer, Lahaina and Anna.

IN BANCO.

FRIDAY, April 14th, 1882.

Charles Stein vs. G. West. Messrs. Castle & Hatch for the plaintiff. Messrs. S. B. Dole and J. M. Davidson for the defendant. Mr. Hatch argued the exceptions to the charge of the presiding Justice at the last January Term. The case was submitted and judgment reserved.

Saturday was occupied with Divorce cases.

MONDAY, April 17th, 1882.

J. Hyman and B. Ordenstein vs. Charles E. Richardson; assumpsit. Mr. Preston asked that the case might be continued in order that he might prepare interrogatories for Mr. Richardson who was too sick to be present. The Court granted the continuance, the interrogatories to be filed by 1 p.m. the day following.

TUESDAY, April 18th, 1882.

Foon Gee vs. Ah Lo and Mantlug. Messrs. S. B. Dole and J. Russell for plaintiff. Messrs. F. M. Hatch and A. S. Hartwell for defendants. This was a claim for $9,000 arising out of the sale of a boy brought here from China by the S. S. Septima in January, 1882. Foon Gee testified to the number of men shipped by Ah Lo, and to whom. Ah Lo produced a memorandum of accounts showing the moneys received by him and the amount of disbursements, and also a receipt in full for some time from Foon Gee. The case extended over Wednesday and Thursday. The Jury retired at 5.27 p.m. on Thursday and returned into Court at 9.05 p.m., with a verdict for the defendant. Mr. Dole filed the following exceptions: The Court were asked by the plaintiff's counsel to instruct the Jury that an interest in an enterprise which is not responsible for losses and expenses is not a partnership interest, and refused so to charge; but charge instead, that an interest in the profits of an enterprise might be a partnership interest. To which ruling the plaintiff by his counsel excepted."

FRIDAY, April 21st, 1882.

Young Sin vs. Kapui et al. Trespass; Mr. J. M. Davidson for plaintiff, Mr. J. L. Kaulukou for defendant. Verdict for the plaintiff with damages $50.

Manuel Joseph vs. John Silva; Trespass. Mr. J. M. Davidson for plaintiff, Mr. R. F. Bickerton for defendant. Verdict for the defendant.

MONDAY, April 24th, 1882.

The King vs. Mahoe; Perjury, second degree. The prisoner plead "Not Guilty." Mr. Preston for the Crown and Mr. J. M. Davidson for the defendant. This case grew out of the charge of Adultery that was preferred against Robert Briggs and Maleka Mills, and finally dismissed. Mr. Davidson objected to Mr. Bickerton reading from his record book inasmuch as it was necessary in order to bend a witness, that the evidence taken down must have been read over to the witness and signed by him. The Court said that was not the law here, and ruled that the record might be read. Four witnesses were produced for the prosecution, and three for the defence. Mr. Preston called Mr. Bickerton, the Police Magistrate, and Mr. Wilcox, the interpreter, in rebuttal of the evidence given by Mahoe the defendant, and also a native witness for the defence. Moku, a witness for the defence, testified that Alo told him that a sum of $300 would be paid, in case a conviction of adultery was obtained against Robert Briggs.

The Jury returned a verdict of "Not Guilty."

Lease at Kaskaasalana.

Saturday last, the Quarantine Grounds were declared open for use. Tickets were issued, to be purchased only by "those whom it may concern." Upwards of 700 tickets were sold. The loan was spread in the building erected by Messrs. Hackfeld & Co., for the accommodation of those Chinese whom it was necessary to quarantine before allowing them to proceed to their labors.

About noon on Saturday, every express in town was in requisition to convey the participants and a few invited friends across the water. Mr. Jas. Dodd took charge of our with his four-in-hand and 25 hand boys. One o'clock was the hour named, but out of deference to the wishes of the earlier arrivals, a blessing was asked by the Rev. H. H. Parker, when the feast commenced in real earnest. Over one thousand persons principally women and children passed the gatekeeper to share in the festivity.

At 1.30 p. m. H. R. H. Princess Liliuokalani and Princess Likelike arrived, accompanied by the Hon. W. N. Armstrong and A. S. Cleghorn. Mr. Davison, as Master of the Ceremonies, received the distinguished party and led them to the table set apart for them, the band playing meanwhile the Hawaii Pono. On being seated they invited several guests to join them, including Messrs. Drayton, Marshal Parke, Hon. J. M. Kapena, Hon. J. M. Kaulauoa, Hon. Chas. Gulick, Hon. Paul Kanoa and a few others. Mr. Wakefield taking charge of the bowl.

The feast continued in jolly jovial good humor all the afternoon. Towards four o'clock the assemblage had dispersed.

T. Lindsay was unanimous in all hands to be one man, but had a speech or two been made it would by elections thought have made a lasting impression on the native mind.

Last Saturday was an exceptional day at the Police Court. No business. On Monday numerous drunks were disposed of with the usual fine.

At noon to-day Mr. Jno. E. Bamard will hold an important sale of four lots of land on King street. They are part of the estate of the late Simon Reynolds.

Rumors afloat are making people prick up their ears. In spite of the promise of a very quiet session, there seems every probability of our having "lively times."

In Kaahumanu street, a new brick building is rapidly approaching completion. It will be occupied by Mr. Rogers the watchmaker, and Mr. Cecil Brown, the lawyer.

We hear of several candidates for the Secretaryship of the Legislature. It is an important and responsible post, therefore, it will be to the interest of all concerned to elect a good man.

The Y. M. C. A. held their Annual Meeting on Thursday evening last, at the residence of their retiring president, Mr. Henry Waterhouse. A report will be found in another column.

Sweet music was discovered by the band on Monday evening in the hotel grounds. There was quite a crowd on the verandah, and everyone seemed highly delighted with the music.

The various Committees of the Art Loan Exhibition will meet again this afternoon at the Library and Reading Room at 3:30. Complete reports from the Chairmen of Committees are expected.

A native named Kaaohanna, was charged with burglary at the dwelling house of C. W. Clark, on the night of the 18th inst. For want of evidence to support the charge, a nolle prosequi was entered by the prosecution.

We regret to announce that H. R. H. Ruth Keelikolani has been suffering from indisposition during the past two weeks. An improvement, however, is apparent just now, and we trust that speedy recovery will follow.

Those who are fond of oranges may congratulate themselves on the present prices, three may be had for twenty-five cents, or if a larger transaction be desired, the would-be purchaser may get seven for half a dollar.

The British ship Fusiee, 67 days from Newcastle, N. S. W., which arrived yesterday (Tuesday) morning, brings a cargo of over 2,000 tons of coal to Messrs. G. W. Macfarlane & Co. This is the largest cargo yet brought into this port in one bottom.

Express drivers now prefer the back roads to the stimmer wharf, on account of the almost impassable state of Fort street, opposite Lazar & Co's. This was particularly noticeable when a Mail steamer arrived. Wise Lehua, in hiding the defects in our public works.

A charge of assault and battery was preferred against one, James Grant, last week. He plead guilty. The circumstances as related showed that the assault was committed upon a native woman whilst the assailant was drunk, and without any provocation. He was fined $10, and costs $1.

The new Chinese interpreter assumed the duties of his office immediately after landing from the steamer. His services were found very valuable in the case of Fook Gee vs. Ahlo & Mantlug. It lasted 3 days. It would probably have occupied a week, had Mr. Le Achoong not arrived so opportunely.

Last Monday a buggy which was driven down Fort street collided with Mr. Hartwell's horse and carriage, standing at the side of the street. Result, overthrow of the carriage, the outsider driving on without stopping long enough to inquire whether any damage had been done. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Mr. Lishman and his daughter were out driving on Sunday afternoon last, when the hind wheel of the wagon came off. The young lady and a child she had in her arms got off unscathed, whilst Mr. Lishman was not so fortunate. He was considerably bruised about the body and his face is slightly disfigured.

Travelers across the Pali report that on Wednesday last, heavy falls of earth and debris with the accompanying stones rendered the passage of the incline next below the drinking fountain absolutely impassable; they add that from the appearance of the cliff above, another landslip may be expected before long.

The Odd Fellows give a ball this evening at the New Music Hall. This will be the first ball given in that building. A sectional floor has been laid over the lower part of the parquette, on a level with the stage thus giving a space of 72 feet x 35 average of 32 feet for dancing. Mr. Berger and the band will furnish the music.

Jos. Nobel and M. Moran, the two seamen belonging to the Lizzie Bell that were arrested for smuggling, under the guise of odd ten gin from said vessel, were sentenced to a fine of $50, gin confiscated. On Wednesday last a Chinaman, named Quong Sing, was charged with assaulting a native woman with a knife. Fined $10 and sentenced to one week's imprisonment.

Several runaways endangering the lives or limbs of passers-by in our streets were reported last week. Inasmuch as prevention is better than cure, the plan of licensing drivers as recommended by the GAZETTE may be again referred to. Small Chinese boys of apparently twelve or thirteen years old may be seen driving expresses, but whether the boy be in charge of the horse, or the horse of the boy, is entirely dependant upon surrounding circumstances.

On TUESDAY evening next the Ladies' Benevolent Society of Honolulu will give an entertainment at the Music Hall, the proceeds of which will go towards increasing the funds of the Society. As this entertainment, consisting of Tableaux, Music and Song combined, promises to be a fine one, and for the benefit of one of the first of Charitable Societies here, it is hoped the attendance will be large.

About 9 o'clock on Friday evening last, the fire alarm was sounded from the various stations. The Consuelo was reported as the scene of the disaster. The engines repaired thither, but fortunately found the fire was extinguished. It originated in the gallery from some unknown cause. A bulkhead was cut down. Engines have been executed, and the vessel proceeded on her voyage to San Francisco yesterday.

Daniel MacGregor, mate of the Kilmore Hope met with a most serious accident on Monday last. He was engaged in taking in railroad iron for Kahului. Owing to the sling carrying away his hand got jammed in a very dangerous manner, resulting in several cuts and bruises on the neck and his jaw being broken in two places. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital. He passed a bad night on Monday, but yesterday the bleeding was reported to have stopped and he was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

The General Committee of the Loan Exhibition will meet at the Library Rooms this (Wednesday) afternoon at 3:30 p. m. At the meeting last week, it was voted to open the Exhibition, May 1. Entertainments will be provided every evening. A lunch will be served every day at noon. The Committees wish to receive at once their lists of articles to be exhibited, that the catalogue may be printed immediately. The plans for the Library Building have been completed, and will be on exhibition. The Library will be an ornament to the city. This Exhibition ought to add a large amount to the Building Fund.

The Rev. J. A. Cruzan selected for the title of his address last Sunday evening, "Things." The text was taken from Luke xii:15 verse. "Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of those things that he possesses." He appealed to the young men to know if they are not striving to become rich, to acquire things on which to feed themselves. He expounded happiness as sought for in this world. His idea of perfect happiness would be an exact balance, the things we have and the things we desire. It takes very little to make an idiot happy. What makes him happy would be same man objectly miserable. To those who had spent their lives in the accumulation of things, he would say "Wisdom is better than riches."

The Temperance Committee have prepared a petition to the Legislature, asking for a law prohibiting the importation as well as the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages. They hope to secure the signature of the vast majority of the population. The petition is being circulated among the Hawaiians also, by a committee of their Young People's Association. It is proposed to circulate another among the Chinese. The petition is worded, as follows, viz: "To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of the Hawaiian Islands: The undersigned, residents of the kingdom, respectfully represent that. The consumption of spirituous liquors has of late alarmingly increased; that this increase has been far greater than the growth of the population for the same period; that in consequence thereof vagrancy, crime, and disorder have multiplied, increasing the burden of taxation and endangering the peace of the community; that the morals of the youth are corrupted, and that useful lives are thereby destroyed; that experience has shown that in this country there are special difficulties in executing the laws intended to restrain the sale and use of intoxicating liquors, while other laws allow such liquors to be imported without limit; that thinking men all over the civilized world are rapidly adopting the opinion, that the use of intoxicating drinks by any one is wasteful and injurious, and ought no longer to have the sanction of law; and that the present moment is a favorable opportunity for the Hawaiian Kingdom to take an advanced position on this subject among the sisterhood of nations. Your petitioners therefore pray, in behalf of themselves and for the good of all who dwell in these Islands, that a law, applying equally to all classes, may be enacted prohibiting the importation as well as the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic beverages.

HAWAII.

The Coquette left Hilo on Sunday the 16th. The Captain and a large party of passengers visited the volcano. They were much delighted with our great crater, which showed to great advantage well for their benefit. Considerable surprised was made of the manner in which they were received at the Volcano House, a full statement of the case will be handed to Mr. Jones, the owner, and the matter settled in future.

MAUI.

Mrs. Parker Makee is quite indisposed.

The dust about Wailuku and Waihee is something fearful.

The Mystery with coal for Spreckelsville arrived at Kahului on the 23d.

Plover are plentiful and one can get good shooting with very little trouble.

The mills are grinding away in fine style, and Hobron's railway is kept as busy as it can be.

The Kilauea Moe had a very rough trip up last week, she only arrived at Kahului late on Wednesday afternoon.

On Sunday, the 16th, the barkentine Emma Augusta arrived at Kahului. She brought lumber from the Sound: the cargo was for Capt. Hobron.

A correspondent writes: "People blow about the telegraph, telephone, &c. on Maui. A few days ago I wanted to send a message and was informed that the wire had been broken for the last four or five months." This record won't do for the go-ahead Island.

A new lighthouse has recently been constructed at Lahaina wharf, on the old foundation. The light is 25 feet above high water mark. The tower is slightly different from the former one. The opinion prevails that there has been an oversight in not making the building larger, so as to afford storage room for the Likelike's cargo and Mr. Turton's sugar. Mr. Jas. Hayseiden was the builder.

The Bishop of Olba has been on a visit to Maui. On his arrival he was received with all honors. A very pretty arch was erected in front of the church, and the whole place was decorated, both within and without, with leis and mottoes. Last Friday the Bishop held a confirmation at Makawao. On Sunday he was to hold one at Wailuku, and on Monday he would start for Ulupalakua and Hana via Makawao. The Bishop seems extremely popular.

Sunday, April 9th, being the Feast of Easter, the English Church in Wailuku was filled at the morning service with whites and natives. The service was commenced with the hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," to "Sullivan," and the effect of this processional, being begun by the surpliced boys, in the new wing of the school house, the sound increasing in volume as it marched towards the church, was very impressive. The Te Deum was chanted to E, and the hymns were "Ye Choirs of New Jerusalem," "The Battle is O'er, the Battle Won" and "My God and I." The Table Service was a liberal offertory was solicited, and resulted most generously in $36. This, with $20, and $7, given by attendants, and $25, the offertory of last Christmas, amounts to $81., a large advance towards what is required.

The Church was beautifully decorated. The handsome wood screen, erected and presented by Mr. H. Giles, was entwined with most lovely leis of white roses. The two reliables of the altar were filled with rich bouquets of lovely and rare flowers sent by nearly everyone in Wailuku. Suitable texts were also placed in different places in the church, and long leys of ferns were hung from corner to corner, and gathered in the center. Last month a gallery with golden cross replaced the unsightly thing which has stood there so long, and this week all the premises are being painted.

KAUAI.

At Koloa Messrs. A. Smith & Co. have just taken off 44 acres of plant cane, which yielded 296 tons of sugar, which is equal to about 6½ tons per acre.

In reference to the Sheriff of Kauai's letter relating to the shooting of a Chinaman at Hanalei, Mr. Koelling writes: "I emphatically deny the statement of Mr. Deverill, as I was in Honolulu at the time of the shooting. I failed to see the necessity of using a weapon at all, and told Mr. Deverill so. Dr. Hammond extracted the broken glass of the lamp very satisfactorily. Mr. Deverill agreed that there was no blame attached to the conduct on the part of the constables. Wishing to see justice done to a Chinaman as well as any other man, I am sorry that the investigation is accepted as it stands. As it is, the poor Chinaman will have to accept his fate of being crippled for life.

Young Men's Christian Association. Annual Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held at the residence of the President of the Association, Mr. Henry Waterhouse, on Thursday evening last at 7:30. In response to a general invitation, including the ladies, there was quite a large gathering of the elite of this city, notwithstanding the inauspicious state of the weather that evening. The avenue leading from Nuuanu Avenue to the house was illuminated with Chinese and Japanese lanterns. The verandah was similarly lit up, whilst tables and hangings were beautifully decked with flowers and ornamental vases. On the Makai side of the house a spacious marquee was erected and fitted for use which could be entered from the verandah steps without exposing one's self to the open air. Flags and palm leaves were artistically arranged around this temporary erection, in such a manner as to produce a most unique and charming effect. The large drawing, dining and sitting rooms were thrown into one, and brilliantly illuminated, the whole presenting a most elegant appearance.

At the appointed hour the President called the meeting to order. The proceedings were opened by singing the 245th number of the Gospel Hymns:

"To the work, To the work."

The Rev. J. A. Cruzan followed with solemn prayer.

The Secretary was then called upon to read the minutes of the last monthly and special meetings, which were duly confirmed.

The next thing in order was the nomination of President for the ensuing year. Mr. Dempsie was nominated by Mr. Atherton, and Mr. P. C. Jones, Jr., by Dr. Whitney.

Mr. P. C. Jones declined to accept the nomination with thanks. He said, he was an Andrew Johnson man, and a Democrat in the way of voting. He thought it was a fine name for President—a man that could talk. The Association had conferred on him the honor of electing him President in 1877, and as he was going to the States this fall, he had great pleasure in nominating Mr. Amasa Pratt for the Presidency.

Mr. As. F. Cooke seconded Mr. Frank Damon.

The balloting resulted unanimously in favor of Mr. Amasa Pratt.

For the office of Vice-President, Dr. Whitney nominated the Hon. A. F. Judd, and Mr. P. C. Jones nominated Mr. T. M. Starkey. Hon. A. F. Judd was elected.

Mr. E. Bowen was elected Secretary, and C. T. Dillingham re-elected Treasurer.

Messrs. Henry Waterhouse and Robt. Lewers were elected Directors, to assist the officers of the Association in the general management of the Association.

According to the terms of Article XVI of the Constitution and in compliance of Section 3 of the Charter, a board of Trustees was duly elected by a two-thirds vote of the members present. Messrs. C. M. Cooke, B. F. Dillingham and P. C. Jones, Jr., received the requisite number of votes.

The Treasurer presented the following report:

E. and O. E.

C. T. DILLINGHAM, Treasurer.

Honolulu, April 19, 1882.

The President remarked, that as the New Constitution did not permit of their being in debt at the end of the year, the law had been complied with to the letter.

The retiring Secretary, Mr. Dempsie, then read a voluminous report, of which the following is an abstract:

Mr. President, this Association was organized April 30th, 1869, so that it is now about to enter upon its fourteenth year. Perhaps no year since our organization has brought so much that should encourage and stimulate as that which is past. I rejoice to say it has been a year of unparalleled success. On the roll of active membership, to-day, we have 105 names, forty-eight having been added during the past year.

There have been held during the past year, ten regular and two special meetings. The attendance has been, upon the whole good, considerably above the average of former years. Through the kindness of J. T. Waterhouse, Esq., we have had the use of his building, the Lyceum, free of expense, in which we held all our meetings, also, on the same liberal terms, it has been free to us for lectures, concerts and prayer meetings. The Sabbath evening prayer meetings are, as a rule, well attended, but we would recommend that our members and friends make special efforts to sustain it, that it may become more and more, a greater source of blessing. From words spoken at one of our evening meetings, the Temperance Committee was organized, which, in turn, invited Mr. Hallenbeck to labor amongst us. The Standing Committees for religious work show a decided degree of activity, the most prominent being the Committee on Chinese Missionary work, Prison Visitation, Temperance, Employment and Early Prayer Meetings. From their several reports, we have good reason to believe that the good seed being sown will yield a bountiful harvest. The Temperance meetings are held every Saturday evening, in Bethel School, and are full of interest and life. The Employment Committee have not done all they wanted, as the number of applicants has always exceeded the vacancies. They hope their friends here and on the other Islands will notify them of vacancies, and lend them their sympathy and support. No fee is charged to either employer or employee. The Entertainment Committee beg to thank the ladies and gentlemen who have, from time to time, kindly lent their services on behalf of the Association. The lectures from Prof. Alexander and Rev. J. M. Alexander were valuable to who availed themselves of the privilege of hearing them.

We must here acknowledge with thankfulness the rich spiritual blessings that accompanied and followed the labors of Mr. Hallenbeck and Mr. Noble in our city from that date every field of Christian work received a fresh impetus. Our Association shared largely in these blessings.

Since our organization, we have had to building of our own, the undersigned has spared no effort to make it a repository for carriages. It has two stories, and is strongly built. In the detached outhouses, vehicles of all descriptions are to be found in stock, some for sale, others awaiting their owner's pleasure; a store-house containing axles, spokes and hubs of all sorts and sizes, from the heaviest bullock wagon to the slightest buggy. Running underneath the main building on the ground floor, tons upon tons of spokes, rims, felloes, naves, iron tires and spring steel, &c., are to be found.

In an entirely separate building and facing Queen street, is the horse-shoeing department. This has been adopted as experience has shown that horses will stand the operation of shoeing better when in a quiet place, that when surrounded by hammering and noises resulting from the whir of lathes and connecting straps.

Everything throughout these premises appears to be admirably arranged for the conduct of this growing trade. The newly admitted partner, Mr. Page, is a practical carriage builder, and all work is under his personal superintendence. At present there are 26 workmen engaged on the premises, seven of whom are in the painting department. A spirit of enterprise is visible in this extensive factory, and the proprietors deserve all the success which appears to attend their undertaking.

The King's Tour on Molokai.

His Majesty arrived at Pukoo, Molokai, on Wednesday, morning, the 19th inst., accompanied by Gov. Dominis, Messrs. Rolfes, and Whitney, Salutes of 21 guns on landing and leaving were fired by Mr. E. Jones. Messrs. E. Jones, S. Kupihea and J. Makakeka acted as a committee to receive the King. They went on board the Lehua in Mr. Jones' boat with a welcome to His Majesty. The King and Party landed in their own boat. Mr. Jones' carriage was in waiting. The Royal Party were conveyed to his house in Pukoo, through arches and strings of flags, the natives lying down on both sides of the road as the carriage passed by. On reaching the house, they all partook of lunch. They were received and entertained by Mrs. Jones and a number of ladies. After lunch, the King spoke to the crowd about his tour in Europe and around the world, which very much interested the natives. Mr. S. Kupihea delivered an address to the King and the Reverend Manase replied. The King and Party stayed at Mr. Jones' house all night, and at 10 o'clock next morning they all went to Kalaupoko's house and had lunch. At 4 o'clock they proceeded to S. Kupihea's, and remained there all night. At 10 o'clock the next morning, came back to Mr. Jones' house and got ready to go to Kamalo, and at 3 o'clock started for Kamakakai, which place was reached at 7 o'clock at night. All through the King's route, the road was lined with a large number of natives. The King and Party expressed themselves very much satisfied with their reception on Molokai. On Saturday morning, the King went to Kalae, Mr. Myers' residence, and returned in the evening.

The King embarked on board the Lehua at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, at Kamakakai and proceeded to Honolulu.
