COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, OCTOBER 18, 1882.

The past week has been as regards arrivals the shipping history of this port. Two vessels, in a disabled condition, can be likened to a harbor of safety. Unfortunately, one of them, the Niagara and with a holiday which ultimately resulted in a total loss of the "Hawk." Particulars of this disaster will be found in another column.

Business cannot be said to be brisk, as there is no such interest centered in the Planters' Meeting that everything else is temporarily placed aside.

The arrival of the Island from Boston produces the market with some assortment, the most important of which is "Ales." This vessel brings about 250 souls, 50 of whom are able bodied men, and the balance women and children.

The arrivals for the week have been—Niagara, Hogs and Island Maker from San Francisco, Hogs from Port Townsend and Bay from Boston.

The departures were—the Gangelar for Portland, Mary E. varth for Port Townsend, Columbia for Royal Roads and Kate for San Francisco.

Mr. L. F. Adams holds an important sale of valuable furniture to-day at the Residence of Mr. P. C. Jones, Jr.

After repeated and prolonged complaints through the press, the Government have commenced to clean the streets. The old primitive way of scraping up the road by hand, is all that is done at present, but we trust it is the incident of a thoroughly system of road cleaning.

Mr. Kohler takes a benefit at the Music Hall on Saturday next. He will be assisted by the talented Minstrels from the U. S. S. Jamestown, who drew such crowds and gave a former occasion. We look for a crowded house, as a due reward to Mr. Kohler for his unremitting efforts to please the public.

The Hawaiian bark Jabez arrived on Saturday from Bremen. In addition to a valuable cargo of European merchandise, she brings 202 German immigrants. These people are for the Kilauea plantation and will proceed to their destination by the Prince Heinrich to-morrow.

A divorced native woman appeared at the Divorce Court House the day after her suit had been granted. It was, however, on a different mission from the former. She wanted a license to marry; it was granted, and that night she was again joined in holy matrimony with the second object of her affections.

The American ship Hope came into port on Friday last in a disabled condition. She encountered the same cyclone as the Class Sprague and Fearless in which she lost fore and mainmasts, also her bulwarks. She will await orders from owners, who are probably left after which, she will proceed on her voyage to Capetown.

A row occurred in one of the saloons last Saturday night, one who told that very distinguished company he was the Attorney General of the Hawaiian Islands, and in spite of course every one knows which member of the Cabinet is addicted to this kind of amusement. A spectator was shown a while since on the manner where.

Mentions about, from the Premier's newspaper office in his residence is in a wretched condition. When they do start to repair it, it is to be hoped they will put on the whole force and accomplish the work thoroughly and with despatch. It is a disgrace to the country as it now stands. It is to be hoped that all the money raised will soon be at hand and that will be an excuse for doing nothing.

Proclaiming for the proposed regatta goes on regularly every evening. It would be a boon to the public if the take an interest in regatta affairs and a list of the various competitors were made known, and the boats' name to which they propose to row. To watch a boat race without knowing which is which, is equally as absurd as to go to the races without being in possession of a "Form card."

By a recent decision of Judge Field in San Francisco, it appears that Chinese Merchants from places other than China can be admitted into the United States without the Exclusion Act. A case was made of a merchant who arrived in San Francisco by a P. M. S. S. Co's steamer and the decision was confirmed on a favorable hearing for the prisoner. We congratulate the Messrs Williams, Dimond & Co for the information.

One day last week a native obtained some coffee from the residence of Mr. John Cummins on Beretania street, by representing to the man in charge of the premises that he had been sent for them by the proprietor of the premises. A shipment of Mangosteen and other plants arrived by last mail steamer for the Government. Mr. Jaeger has been appointed curator of these valuable plants, and under his special care, the young specimens of all tropical fruits, the Mangosteen, will we trust, in the course of time become one of our marketable commodities. Willet on the subject of fruits, the question suggests itself, can anything be done to improve the quality of the Hawaiian Mango? Compared with the mango of Manila, Singapore and Siam, it is as much inferior as hardly deserving to be classed in the same category.

On Wednesday last, the Supreme Court was occupied the whole day with the case of Lazarus vs. Fernandez. This was a claim arising out of the sale of some property on Punchbowl street by the plaintiff to the defendant. The amount agreed upon for the property in question was $4000, 75 per cent. of which the plaintiff claimed in American gold coin. This was refused by the agent of the defendant, and the matter came round into the Court. The jury retired at 5 o'clock to consider their verdict, and remained locked up until half-past three the following morning. Being unable to arrive at a verdict, they were discharged.

It is a source of considerable satisfaction to the public that Mr. F. H. Hayselden has been actively engaged in his duties as Secretary of the Board of Health. Mr. Hayselden's duties have, during the last fortnight confined him to the island of Oahu. Of course nothing but the most urgent business of the Board would have kept him away from his duties, whatever they may be in Honolulu. Some wicked and ungrounded person suggested that $1,800 a year is not usually paid a man to look after the private affairs of the Hon. W. M. Gibson, but this is mere calumny; no doubt Mr. Hayselden is furthering the good of the country and the interests of the Board of Health by his visit to Lanai.

Another phase of the family trouble between Mr Gulick and Briggs was presented to the Supreme Court last week before Associate Justice Hartley and a jury of twelve citizens. Mr Gulick claimed upwards of $1200 from Briggs for various bills alleged to have been paid by him, on the order of Briggs. Five hundred dollars of this claim was for the board of Eugenie Briggs, daughter of the plaintiff, for the period of ten months at $50 per month, since she had left her husband in August 1881, and also subsequent to the trial and conclusion of a divorce by J. R. Miles and Eugenie Briggs some time last year. The jury after a very brief deliberation, declared a unanimous verdict for the defendant. A. S. Hartwell for Plaintiff, and S. S. Dole for defendant.

On Wednesday evening last, a series of three match games of billiards, of 500 points each, was commenced at the Commercial Billiard Parlor, between James Saunders and Samuel Makaiwi. Saunders took the lead and kept it up to the first 200 points. At 214 he was passed by his opponent, who kept up to 300 when he was passed by Makaiwi, being favored with a run of luck, eventually gained a long lead, and finally finished the game when Saunders' score stood at 404. The second game will take place this evening, and the final game the day after, this week. The interest of the sportsmen would be considerably increased if there were not so many miss-cues, or so many scraps thrown away. About 200 arrives assembled to witness the match and their idea of order was completely eclipsed by their excitable and uproarious applause. There is vast room for improvement in the arrangement for spectators.

A Wonderful Substance.

The Chicago, Ill., (U. S. A.) Western Catholic recently contained the following article:—"It is believed by Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, Ohio, and by some of our most honored and respected citizens throughout the country who have used it for rheumatism with success where all other remedies have failed. We refer here to St. Jacob's Oil. We could give the names of hundreds who have been cured by this wonderful remedy did space permit us. The latest man who has been made happy through the use of this valuable liniment is Mr. James A. Conlan, Librarian of the Union Catholic Library of this city. The following is Mr. Conlan's indorsement.

UNION CATHOLIC LIBRARY ASS'N.,
206 DEARBORN STREET,
Chicago, Sept. 26, 1881.

I wish to add my testimony as to the merits of St. Jacob's Oil as a cure for rheumatism. One bottle has cured me of this troublesome disease, which gave me a great deal of trouble for a long time; but thanks to the remedy I am cured. This statement is unsolicited by any one in its interest.

Very respectfully,
JAMES A. CONLAN, Librarian.

Enthusiastically indorsed by the press, trade, and people everywhere—St. Jacob's Oil.

Hawaiian Coinage.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I have just read your article in the issue of 11th inst. discussing the question of Hawaiian coinage. You ought to speak of one item which I think is important. The Statute provides for the coinage of cents or 12½ cent coins, and the article in the P. C. Advertiser of Oct. 3rd to which you comment, says in recommendation that this has always been a favorite coin with Hawaiians. That may be true, and I think it is, and yet there be no valid reason in support of this proposition.

The Hawaiian prefers to receive for the same goods or service, the coin of which two make a quarter and eight a dollar, to the time, counting ten to the dollar. When dimes were first put into circulation, at the country of Leonard Ohage, where no payment was made to the cent unless the amount could be made even by a real or a dime, they were offered and taken for reals in dealings for vegetables, fresh fish &c. But yet usually the simple Hawaiian found that the merchant would not receive his dimes at two four and eight to the quarter, the half and one dollar. Then the Hawaiian lost confidence in the dime and for a long time refused to take it at all. At this time the five cent piece was still in use. There was a small supply of them in the country. The store keeper put his prices on the cent scale, and would blandly give you ten cents, in change for a five cents, when he sold you a 12½ cent article.

But the real bad came to be repudiated by our neighbor country whose coinage is our standard by law, and the dime and even the five cent piece have been established in opposition to our circulation. The thrifty Chinese huckster does not refuse the dime nor despise the five cent piece, and the shop keeper will give you change as far as he can, but he will make it.

We have then the decimal system here by law and in fact. Why disturb it by coining again the antiquated real. The effect will be to raise the price of small traffic wares. It is the thrifty customers of the world which have and supply coin of small denominations. The penny or cent was used in the thrifty and wealthy North, while the unthrifty South condescended to mutilate smaller than the half dime. The habit of disregarding exact change tends to prodigality and unthrift.

Experience has shown us here, as it has proved in the United States, that the dime and the real do not circulate harmonicly in the same country, and the dime and half dime, should be preferred here because 1st. they are now established here 2d because they conform to the decimal system, the system of the United States, and our own statutes, 3d because the use of the real raises the prices of what would be sold for ten cents, and finally because if we are to have the real we ought to have the half real, and the statute does not provide for these.

DECIMATE.

A Dangerous Assault.

On Friday last, an elderly man named Jacob Wilkerson, and Wilkinson, rented the house of one Mary Howard, a half white woman living on Fort street, in what is known as the Mary premises, after conversing with the woman a short time, they had a disagreement upon which Wilkerson drew a razor from his pocket, and whilst strenuously urging the woman to cut her throat, he left the left side before the effort. The woman' daughter also joined in the affray and received a slight wound on her left hand. The assailant was arrested and taken to the Police Station.

He was drunk at the time he made the attack on the woman. He was brought up on Saturday before the Police Magistrate, and remanded until Monday. The Attorney General appeared in Court on Monday and on the prisoner pleading guilty, he asked that he be sent before the Judge of the Supreme Court to be dealt with, as he considered that the nature of the charge, viz: "Assault and Battery with a dangerous weapon, obviously and immediately dangerous to life," rendered it such as to be beyond the jurisdiction of the Police Magistrate. His Honor concurred in the opinion of the Attorney-General, and the prisoner was committed accordingly. He appeared before Justice McCully yesterday morning and will be sentenced this A. M.

The prisoner had been on parole of Oahu gaol since thirteen years ago, from whence he escaped and sailed for California. There he killed a woman for which he received a life sentence, but after serving ten years he was liberated and again found his way back to his native home. His occupation was that of a barber and for his skill in that line he was termed the "King Barber." At the time of his arrest he filled the position of barber for the Hawaiian Hotel where he discharged his duties to the entire satisfaction of his patrons. His crime appears to be the improper use of a razor or other sharp edged instruments on women who refuse to accede to his demands.

Party on board the "Alaska."

Captain Nelkamp and officers of the U. S. S. Alaska entertained a number of friends on board last Wednesday. The affair was an eminently pleasant one, and nothing neglected that had been made to insure the enjoyment of the guests, and the effort had been crowned with success. No pains had been spared to make the ship look gay and attractive; not only were there the usual decorations of prettily draped flags, crossed cutlasses and small arms &c. but the gardens and gallays had been had quite contribution, and the result was a very handsome foliage and flowers that fortunately the warlike implements which force the ordinary ;—outdoors on such occasions. A pleasing feature on several capes containing mainly birds, the little yellow fellows piped up well, when the music began to play. A band, not the band but a very tolerable quadrille band, kept up a lively set of tunes during the afternoon, and those who enjoy dancing had an excellent opportunity of indulging in the amusement on a capital deck. A large number of guests were present and the officers were untiring in their efforts to see that all were well attended to and were thoroughly amused during the afternoon. Mrs. McKinley, wife of the United States Consul, opened the ladies on their cards on board. Among the guests present were His Majesty, the U. S. Minister Resident, the British and French Commissioners, the members of the Consular corps and most of our prominent people. The Alaska's band played at intervals and can be sworn to such by a national vessel that is already extremely popular amongst us.

The want of a Cemetery at Kohala

KOHALA, Hawaii, Oct 12th 1882.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Will you allow me to trespass upon your space for a few lines? It is not often that we see a complaint from this district in your paper. But there is certainly at least one cause for complaint. In a district of more than three thousand people, there is no place to bury the dead. In Kohala there are but few burial places, as they are mountained to bury their dead in travelers near their homes. But now it is with those who come from from other lands? Owing to vague and uncertain owning nearly all of the land, it is with the utmost difficulty that any can be had for a foot of land. The Trustees of the foreign church have refused to allow any more interments in the yard of that church, and rightly too, for the yard is very small and the first dozen or so graves already there fill all the space there is.

Twice in a little over a year have these Trustees been obliged to allow of burial in the church yard because there could be none elsewhere. A public meeting was held some time two years ago, and petitions drawn to find a proper site. After a time they resolved that a small piece of land might be available after a year or so, after a certain lease had expired. Then two months ago we have had another. Now in case of death which is likely to occur at any time, what are we to do? Leave our dead in the Government road as the only public place, or send we keep them to be buried in or near the place where we have lived so long.

I would like to ask if there is another district on these Islands in a similar position. Hoping I have not trespassed too much with a subject of interest to all.

A SUBSCRIBER.

His Majesty's Birthday

Several gentlemen met last Wednesday to form Committees to carry out the celebration of His Majesty's Birthday. Hon. Frank Brown was appointed Chairman of the meeting, and being duly authorized he selected thirteen gentlemen who had previously signaled their willingness to serve as the said Committee. They meet again this evening at the Armory at the same hour, to lay their plans before the public. It is understood that the Committee intend to have a torch light procession on the evening preceding His Majesty's birthday and a series of boat, yacht, swimming and tub races for the day proper. Following is the Committee: H. R. Macfarlane, Capt. A. Fuller, Capt. A. N. Tripp, C. O. Berger, Chas T. Gulick, C. H. Clark, J. W. Kawahiai, J. Monsarrat, D. Kalauna, James Keau, W. F. Wood, Frank Brown, John Cummings.

Police Justice for Wailuku.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—The people here require a Police Judge who can speak modern Anglo-Saxon. Heretofore, since Mr. Dennis died, only an illiterate kanaka has been considered sufficient for this District. This is too much for the people of this district of the coast to be adjudicated upon any comparted with civilized speaking linguists, or those of the "Heathen Chinee!" Could not this evil be rectified? or an opportunity afford now be made in Kalihiwai's place, by having been pensioned at $600 per annum since July last, on the ground that he never did a strong thing in his life, and is now too old and feeble to work; but he does work still under the impression, I hear, that he can take both pension and salary.
