Potentia.

("Potentia potis posse videatur.")

Thou canst not fail! The future all unknown
Lies in thy power—its secrets are thine own.
There's not a task that thou canst not foil;
Strong in the thought!—"As thou thyself shalt will."

Thou canst not fail! What to the world's cold view
Seems failure, in God's sight is courage true.
'Tis not thy life that's failed—sweet comfort still—
For what thy life is, "Thou thyself shalt will."

And canst thou fall, when in temptation's hour
Fiery foes assail and threat'ning sin—closely lower?
A[illegible]—escape from every ill—
[illegible]—"As thou thyself shalt will."

[illegible]ome? dark hours of pain?
[illegible] as the fallen rain,
[illegible] how they God's plans fulfil!
[illegible]—"As thou thyself shalt will."

[illegible] power? I lift my wandering eyes
[illegible] in glad and sweet surprise
[illegible] voice—Its breath my being file—
[illegible] in thee—'tis he in thee that wills."

And can it be that he in me doth dwell
Day unto day? Then I must sin disperse
My soul a temple worthy him to fill?
Thou canst not fail!—"As thou thyself shalt will."

[illegible] Bancroft.

Miscellaneous.

Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, has arrived in London.

Alexander H. Stephens was elected Governor of Georgia, by nearly 50,000 majority.

Queen Victoria has commissioned J. D. Linton to paint for her a picture of Prince Leopold's wedding.

Professor Brooks, as inventor, of Phelps, New York, estimates the length of the tail of the comet at 50,000,000 miles.

Nearly 1,500 Europeans, drawing an annual salary of $2,000,000 have been employed in the civil service of Egypt to the exclusion of natives.

Since January 1st, this year, the Board of Freedmen, in Havana, has declared free 20,000 slaves, in accordance with the emancipation law.

The receipts and expenditures of the province of Ottawa for the last fiscal year were: Receipts, $33,781,381; expenditures, $27,155,902; surplus, $6,225,478.

The coal output of Illinois last year was 9,000,000 tons, valued at $14,000,000. Illinois is now second to Pennsylvania as a coal producing State.

The Mikado of Japan has decorated Prince Bismarck with the order of the Chrysanthemum, making the fourty-fifth bestowed on the Prussian premier by various potentates.

Major General Irwin McDowell, commanding the military Division of the Pacific, has been placed on the retired list of the army lately, and was relieved by Major General J. M. Schofield.

Mrs. Mason, wife of ex-Sergeant Mason, United States Army, received last week from the publisher of the Philadelphia Press $6,52, subscribed in ten cent bits by over 5,000 contributors, for the relief of "Betty and the Baby."

Mr. Bancroft, the eminent American historian, who was a co-temporary and friend of the illustrious Prescott, Motley and Irving, who have preceded him to the other world, on the 3d of October, celebrated his eighty-third birthday.

A Texas paper describes an 8,000-acre ranch in that State entirely devoted to the breeding of ponies for children. The breeding stock consists of seven Shetland stallions and forty-five mares, all thoroughbred, and 200 small spotted pony mares. These little ponies range over the prairies like sheep, and are described as very gentle.

It is among the strange anomalies of the American dramatic stage that the negro dialect seems to be gradually disappearing from the contemporaneous drama since the abolition of slavery and the establishment of equal rights for all races, while at the same time the Irish, German and Jewish dialect parts flourish to a far greater extent on the American stage than ever was known before.

During the first half of the current year the Russian revenue exceeded the anticipations expressed in the last budget, the excess over the receipts for the first half of 1881 amounting to over $6,500,000, and the expenditures being $12,000,000 less than the first six months of 1881, although in excess of the receipts about 100,000,000, against an excess of over $28,000,000 in the first half of last year.

According to the recent dispatches from Egypt, the British authorities in that country seem to be endeavoring indirectly to make use of Mahommedan Ulemas to influence the Arabs submission of British rule, by inculcating the doctrine of passive obedience as taught by the Koran. No doubt this expedient must have been used before with the Mussulman races of India, which constitute the flower of the native troops of the Indian army.

Italy is the headquarters of the renewed system of reducing dead humanity to ashes. According to Dr. Pini, the highest authority, there have been 177 cremations at Milan. Thirteen of these incineration associations are actively working in Italy, where three distinct ovens and apparatus are doing business in three different localities, and they are preparing others at Rome, Venice, Turin, Padua, Genoa, Bologna, and Modena. Germany runs a bad second to Italy. In France they are agitating the question, but nothing has yet been done. England is practical, and thinks the burning of peoples bodies is likely to come soon enough.

General Sir Garnet Wolesley, though he would be old for one of Napoleon's marshals, is unprecedentedly young for an English commander-in-chief. His youth, indeed, is visible in his face, his voice and in every movement of his spare, active frame. His clear, blue eyes and healthy, fresh face seem to refute the power of his gray hair, which he wears closely cropped, in military fashion. The General is, and always has been, a great smoker, chiefly of cigarettes. He considers tobacco the best possible restorative after prolonged mental or physical exertions. On occasions when he has had to keep awake and alert for hours he has found tobacco more effectual than coffee, and he has smoked all night long.

The old adage about pouring "oil upon the troubled waters" is about to be tested in a most practical manner. A few weeks since a number of "distinguished individuals" witnessed the laying down of the pipes along the banks at the entrance of Aberdeen harbor, Scotland, for the purpose of putting into permanent use "the practice of pouring oil on the water to calm it in stormy weather, and thus facilitate the entrance of vessels." The Glasgow Herald states that the "Aberdeen Harbor Commissioners have been the first to avail themselves of this new plan," and that its success or failure will be watched with keen interest throughout the United Kingdom. It will be some time before the project can be tried, as the laying of the pipes is a slow process. The material to be used is fish oil, which can be obtained at a cheap rate.

Ford Castle, in Northumberland, England, around which was fought the famous fight of Flodden Field, is advertised to be let, at which antiquarians are grievously shocked. This castle is of great antiquity, though nothing certain is known of it until 1287, when it is matter of history that extensive repairs were made. Toward the end of the fourteenth century it was partially dismantled in a border fray. In 1513 it was captured by James of Scotland. This is the true date of the existence of Ford Castle. King James found that Lady Heron, wife of the possessor of the castle, had remained behind it to guard it against the enemy, while her husband was a prisoner over the border. The King became infatuated with Lady Heron ere he had long possessed the place, and for her sake, it is said, refrained from destroying it. It was this dallying, say the historians, that cost King James his awful fate on Flodden Field. Lady Heron, it appeared afterward, was in constant communication with the English General, Lord Surrey, who took advantage of the delay and rushed on to Flodden. The room occupied by the King is still preserved in the old portion of the edifice.

The estimate of the wheat product of California for 1882 is 50,000,000 bushels. We do not mention the fact so much to show up the great aggregate as to institute some comparisons. The product of only one State exceeds that of California, and that is Illinois, which produces this year a little over 51,000,000 bushels. To Indiana we find credited a production of 46,000,000 bushels, to Ohio 46,000,000, to Minnesota 41,500,000 bushels. The product of no other State reaches 40,000,000. It is a curious fact that California exceeds the Southern States combined by 1,500,000 bushels and all the middle States combined by 18,500,000 bushels. The New England States together produce only 1,100,000 bushels, while the yield for Colorado and the Territories for 1882 is 5,000,000 bushels. The total wheat yield for the country is estimated at 536,000,000 bushels. This great and constantly increasing harvest is obtained at severe expense to the soils of the States devoted to the culture. The English farmer is appalled at the agricultural capabilities of the Western World, and is anxiously waiting till, through the exhaustion of American soils and the enhanced cost of production, he will be able to successfully compete with American farmers in the markets of Great Britain.
