DR. J. DELMONICO LITTLE'S
SYRUP PECTORAL.
The following is one of the thousand testimonials that we could give to the public:—
NEW YORK, March 18, 1870.
Messrs. ANDERSON & HOWELL:—
GENTLEMEN—I have much pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of your preparation of my late friend, Dr. Delmonico, Little's Syrup Pectoral, and while endorsing its complete applicability to cases of the nature mentioned in your advertisement, I may also state that I have used it in my own practice with most satisfactory results during some time. This formula was to my own knowledge originated and compounded by Dr. Little about fifteen years ago and used by him in his practice with such success that after some years the demand for it became such as to induce him to compound it in large quantities and supply it at his store in Ninth avenue. He could not, of course, as a regular physician in good standing, professionally introduce or become the proprietor of any patent or secret remedy, and therefore at all times invited the scrutiny of the medical profession, and acquainted its members with the names of all agents used by him in the composition of his Pectoral Syrup. The consequence has been that all who thus became aware of its constituents had no hesitation in prescribing it for their patients, the only difference being that he, making it up in large quantity, could supply it to patients cheaper and in a more reliable form than if prescribed and compounded impromptu.
Dr. Little's brother, W. L. Little, Esq., having disposed of the rights and formula of the Syrup Pectoral to you, I am pleased to find that you intend to enter on a large scale into its manufacture. From experience of its effects I can testify as to its merits. You have an opportunity of doing a great public good by the introduction of this most useful family medicine, and that it may also prove as remunerative to you as beneficial to the public is the wish of,
Gentlemen, yours very truly,
JOHN F. KEATING, M. D., R. C. S. E.,

FINANCIAL.

AIR LINE BONDS.
CONNECTICUT INVESTORS
will find the First Mortgage bonds of the New Haven, Middletown and Willimantic Railroad Company the most desirable form of investment now offered in the market.
The Bonds are exempt from every form of State or local taxation and from the United States income tax.
The average saving thus made will amount to two and one-half per cent, which, added to the interest received, makes them equal to a bond paying nine and one-half per cent, and this rate of income is not affected by a decline in gold.
The bonds are issued only as the work progresses, and for but one-half of the actual cash expenditures on the road. They are secured by a first mortgage on all the property of the company, of whatever kind. The State of Connecticut is made trustee for the bondholders, and every bond must be issued from the office of and be countersigned by the Comptroller. They are issued in denominations of $500 and $1,000, are coupon or registered, have twenty years to run, and are payable, principal and interest, in New York. The bonds are offered at par and interest.
