SOCIETY

For Mrs. H. S. Dowling. A small informal but delightful pleasant affair for Thursday afternoon was given by Mrs. B. O. Evans at her attractive home on North McDuffie street, in honor of Mrs. H. S. Dowling. Just a few of Mrs. Dowling's special friends were invited, for a little sewing party, and while all were very busy with their work Little Miss Claudiana Evans, the pretty little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evans, was rolled into the room in her go-cart. In her arms she held a pretty blue and white basket, filled with gifts for Mrs. Dowling. These had been brought by the friends present and was a complete surprise to the honor guest. A Shower For Mrs. Dowling. Mrs. H. S. Dowling, who is a popular member and a former president of the Robert E. The plans had been kept a complete secret and Mrs. Dowling was in total ignorance of their intentions until the last moment when the president in a happy and attractive little speech told her of the sympathy of her friends in the recent loss of her home by fire, and presented her with the gifts each had brought.

Delightful Meeting Robert E. Lee. The regular monthly meeting of the Robert E. Lee chapter, was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of Hotel Chiquita, the hostesses being Mrs. Tom Bolt, Mrs. B. B. Ebeckley, and Mrs. Raymond Beaty. There was a good attendance of members, and the meeting was an especially pleasant one. The most important business for the afternoon was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Mrs. R. C. Webb, president. Mrs. D. S. Vandiver, first vice president. Mrs. W. H. Nardin, Jr., second vice president. Mrs. Mimmie Milford, corresponding secretary and treasurer. Miss Edna Broyles, recording secretary. Mrs. G. N. Broyles, registrar. Mrs. J. R. Vandiver, historian. With this splendid corps of officers, the chapter is assured of a very successful year. The retiring officers, with Mrs. Raymond Beaty, as president, have accomplished a great deal of work, and much is due to their faithful effort. The program was a very interesting one, and was fully enjoyed. The first number, was the chapter prize essay, by Miss Hazel Pruitt. Her subject was "Life in Anderson During the Confederacy." This was a very fine paper, and showed much careful study, and preparation by the young writer. Miss Clara Burdine gave a very attractive reading, which was followed by a paper by Mrs. J. E. Vandiver, "Stonewall Jackson's Way." The music for the afternoon was a treat in itself, and was furnished by Mrs. J. R. Vandiver, and Mrs. W. H. Nardin, Jr. During the social session, the hostesses served their guests with a delightful course of ices and cakes.

Miss Marie Williams of Tennessee was expected last night to be the guest of Mrs. C. S. Sullivan. Miss Williams has visited Anderson quite often, and her many friends will give her a very cordial welcome. Delightful Party. Little Ruth Kay and Annie Mae Cason celebrated their fourth and fifth birthday Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cason on Crayton street. Equinox Hill. They invited a number of their friends and enjoyed themselves for a while playing games, then they were invited into the dining room where iced cream and dainty crackers were served. Both received a number of nice presents.—(Contributed.)

Shower For Miss Moseley. Miss Lella Moseley, one of June's pretty brides, was the honor guest at a delightful shower yesterday yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Keith Prevost entertained at her home on Calhoun street. This lovely home is an attractive spot to Mrs. Prevost's many friends, and about thirty were invited for this occasion. An interesting little contest on kitchen articles, was the source of much amusement, the honor guest winning the prize, for the best answer, which proved what a competent housekeeper she will make. After the contest an old negro waltz of the anti-bellum type.

FERTILIZER FACTS No. 30

Your Growing Crops Like a Growing Child Need Feeding Often Now that your growing crops are above ground, and going good, give them a helping hand, toward maturity, by a second and even a third application of fertilizer. In the case of cotton it will not only increase the yield and improve the quality of lint and seed but will hasten its maturity and beat the boll weevil. With corn and other crops, past experience has shown this method of cultivation is not only expedient but necessary to get the best yields possible. The plant food placed in the soil prevents the planting will be largely consumed by the plants by June. It is time then to feed them again and help them grow. It is not too late now to overcome a bad start by a second and then a third application of fertilizer.

Write to-day for circular Bulletin No. 25 on "SECOND AND THIRD APPLICATION OF FERTILIZER." Also Bulletin No. 9 on "FIGHT THE BOLL WEEVIL WITH FERTILIZER." SOIL IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE Southern Fertilizer Association Atlanta, Ga., U. S. A.
