COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, NOVEMBER 1, 1884.

Business during the week past has shown some slight signs of revival in most lines of trade, the good news of reduction in rates of exchange tending to lower prices of many commodities. Late advices from the Coast state that there is no active demand for raw sugars, and continued strong advices from both Europe and Cuba, tend to keep up a firm and higher market. Fish Bidding have sold at Boston, and Cincinnati, at an advance of fully 1 Mount since our last news. There is however a certain uncertainty and although advices from New York and San Francisco say that the similar conditions there of last week in Honolulu, the European production of Beet Sugar will continue an important factor in the market until the discussions of the proposed cane bill become more definitely determined.

The ship Sunbeam sailed for San Francisco yesterday with a partial cargo, and the steamer Mariposa is due from Sydney on the 5th inst., with goods and mail items to the 2nd inst.
