THE INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION COMPANY, NEW York.—At Steinway Hall, on April 5, 1875, there was drawn from the whole number of bonds issued by the Industrial Exhibition Company the following forty series:

193, 507, 512, 1129, 1438, 1966, 2714, 2974, 3123, 3277, 3285, 3368, 3848, 4293, 4162, 4193, 4314, 4472, 4749, 5404, 5558, 6000, 6046, 6333, 6717, 6781, 6791, 6816, 6855, 7364, 7375, 7377, 7809, 8346, 8660, 8678, 8747, 8910, 9726, 9962.

Each of the above series representing 100 bonds—making a total of 4,000 bonds.

According to the plan of issue of the bonds of the company these 4,000 bonds will receive the interest on the whole loan for three months, amounting to $150,000. No interest falls due or becomes payable on any of the bonds issued by the company until it is drawn in a series drawing, and the remaining bonds await their turn and are drawn in a subsequent public allotment. The allotment for the distribution of the interest on these 4,000 bonds above enumerated will be held at Steinway Hall, Monday, June 7, 1875, at 5 P. M., when the public are invited to be present.

3,990 of the above-named bonds will be entitled to receive $24 each, and 100 will receive larger sums, varying from $50 to $35,000.

The company redeems a portion of its bonds every three months in this manner until the loan whole has been redeemed and each bond has been redeemed with a premium.

THE MANUFACTURERS OF THE WORLD ARE INterested partners in the success of the Palace of Industry and its permanent exhibition.

The commercial metropolis of this continent is the city of New York. The people of the United States make their largest purchases and their most frequent visits here.

When the Palace of Industry is completed every manufacturer can lease for a year or a period of years space for the exhibition and sale of his merchandise. Thus, at very moderate expense, he can advertise his business and reap a profit from direct sales.

All the space leased by manufacturers will be lighted, ventilated, warmed and cleaned by the Industrial Exhibition Company at the expense of the company.

The Palace of Industry will be a fireproof building, and will afford to the manufacturer, the exhibitor and the dealer facilities for the promotion of business never before offered. The building will be sufficiently completed to begin business in November, 1876, immediately on the close of the Philadelphia Centennial.

Jury awards of prizes will be entirely omitted from this exhibition. The goods exhibited will stand before the public on their own merits, the test of actual competition and public inspection being really a far more accurate proof of excellence than the testimony of any jury, however free from special influences.

Responsible manufacturers are already applying for space, and applications are invited from all who contemplate making use of the advantages offered by the Industrial Exhibition Company for the display and sale of goods of any and every description.

The premium mortgage bonds of the company have, in addition to their other valuable features, this one, of great importance to every manufacturer—namely, that they will be received at par for space taken, or for admission money.

The immediate attention of every manufacturer, large or small, is invited to these bonds, which are of twenty dollars each.

Send for full descriptive circulars to the office of THE INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION COMPANY, 12 East Seventeenth street, near Broadway, New York.

ARCH. JOHNSTON, AUCTIONEER.

A CARD—RETROSPECTIVE.

VENI—VIDI—VICI.

MANY YEARS AGO IT OCCURRED TO MR. JOHNSTON that there was no good reason why a straightforward business could not be done in selling Horses and Carriages AT AUCTION just as Real Estate, Dry Goods and other Merchandise are sold. He was told by old auctioneers that it was impossible. That it was useless to try to gain public confidence. But WITH A FIRM DETERMINATION, HOWEVER, to deserve success and an abiding confidence in the result, MR. JOHNSTON commenced.

The second year found the business in the full tide of successful experiment. That tidal wave of success has been surging heavily and steadily ever since. The "AUCTION HOUSE OF ARCH. JOHNSTON" is now one of the features of the metropolis. It has long since achieved a world wide fame, and its growth in public favor knows no diminution.

TWO YEARS SINCE Mr. JOHNSTON'S lease having expired, the business was removed to the present SPACIOUS PREMISES, 19, 21, 23 and 25 THIRTEENTH STREET, near University place, the most central location in the United States.

Heartily Mr. JOHNSTON thanks the Public, and he will continue to strive to deserve the confidence and patronage heretofore so liberally bestowed.
