Never Too Late.

There is good and bad in the wayside inns
On the highways of our lives,
And man can never be free from sins,
No matter how hard he strives;
Yet even when down destruction's grade
On the wrong pathways tread,
In spite of a thousand errors made,
"It is never too late to mend."

There are crosses heavy for men to bear
And pleasures to conquer, too,
There are joys and woes that each must share
Before the journey is through,
But men may be poor for human aid,
And trusts and right defend,
And hope will never this proaic break,
"It is never too late to mend."

'Tis never too late for a noble deed,
For, blessed by the angel's tears,
It plants in the breast of man a seed
That will grow in after years;
And words of kindness, of hope and cheer,
Will always comfort lend:
We need live for love and hatred fear—
"It is never too late to mend."

It is never too late to mend, my lad,
No matter what people say,
And be man's nature ever so wholly bad,
Even if old and gray;
And in our journey toward the grave,
Until we reach the end,
There is time to change and time to save—
"It is never too late to mend."

England supplies three-fourths of all the dolls carried by the children of civilized nations. Even the so-called French dolls—those with china heads—are made for the most part in England, the head alone coming from France.

Only thirteen out of ninety-one samples of coffee analyzed during one month in Paris were pronounced pure. One specimen package is reported to have contained the following ingredients: Red earth, flour, coffee grounds, caramel, talc, plumbago, vermicelli, semolina powder, bean dust, carrots, bread crusts, acorns, sawdust, red ochre, brick dust, ashes, mahogany shavings, vegetables, earth and sand.

Near the equator perpetual snow covers the mountains at the height of 15,207 feet; in latitude 60 deg. it is found at 3,818 feet, and in 75 deg. at 1,916 feet. The main cause of this is not that the solar rays possess less heat in the higher regions, as the contrary has been proved, but that the portions of the earth's crust projecting far up into the atmosphere, as is the case with high mountains, possesses less of the interior heat of the earth, being more subject to cooling by radiation, which has caused their temperature to descend to such a very low degree that even a midday tropical sun cannot raise it to 32 deg. F.

A private in an English infantry regiment receives 25 cents a day; a lance-corporal, 31 cents; corporal, 41 cents; lance-sergeant, 50 cents; sergeant, 56 cents; color-sergeant, 72 cents and quartermaster-sergeant, $1. These rates are subject to the following reductions, viz., One cent a day for washing, and 6 cents a day for groceries and vegetables. These consist of tea, coffee, sugar, pickles and green vegetables. After these deductions, then, the guy of a linesman is 17 cents a day; but, as he has to provide his own under clothing, a further reduction of 2 cents daily is made, thus reducing his actual pay to 15 cents. The pay of the privates in the famous Coldstream Guards averages only about 10 per cent in advance of these rates, with equal reductions for messing and washing.

There was no city in Europe with a million inhabitants at the beginning of the present century, the most populous being London, with 865,000 persons. There are now five European cities with upward of a million inhabitants, and the first two of which contain in the aggregate, 7,000,000 persons. In America, at the beginning of the century, there were no cities that would now be regarded as more than fourth class towns; the population of New York was about 60,000. At the last census there were twenty-six in the United States which exceeded that figure.

"These are the times spoken of in the Scriptures, Ichabod," said Hannah Smiley solemnly, as she picked up the stitches she had dropped. "Wars and rumors of wars, and—" "Same old times, Hannah," replied Ichabod, cheerily. "It's always been so ever since I was a boy. I don't see anything new in the situation." "Well, you're blind as an old bat, Ichabod Smiley. Why, England's got the Soudan and Russia at Penjdeh, and Riel in the Northwest, and—" "Yes, of course, I know all that, but that doesn't signify. Riel may Winnipeg or two, the Mahdi may Sonakim one, and the Russians may ravel the fringe out of the Afghan—" Just then the old lady came in with a wet cloth and bathed Ichabod's head, or there is no knowing where he would have brought up.
