XMAS MAIL BREAKS RECORD.

It Was 40 Per Cent. Heavier Here Than Previous Year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Christmas mail this year was greater in volume than any year in the history of the postal service and was handled, notwithstanding unusual conditions, more promptly than in previous years.

Postmaster General Burleson announced to-day that complaints of delayed mail were not due to failures of the postal service, but to congestion of railroad traffic.

In New York city mail was 40 per cent. heavier than last year. Five hundred carloads were despatched from Chicago in the four day period, with 1,100 tons of outgoing parcels being handled in one day.

WAVE OF ECONOMY IS SEEN HEREABOUT

Reserve Bank Chairman Says Non-Essentials Show Big Decline in Demand.

Pierre Jay, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, says in his monthly report on business conditions in the district covered by his institution that a tendency to economy is now distinctly manifest. Mr. Jay asserts that business in several lines which was active during the fall is now reported as slightly depressed, particularly in jewelry, cut glassware, clothing, dry goods, &c. A quiet period, he says, is also reported in the theatre business, due to the public's realization of the necessity for conservation of resources and energy. Mr. Jay, continuing, says:

"Business developments during the last month have been along the line of further curtailment of industries regarded as non-essential, with continuation and increase of intense activity in the essential lines. Activity in lines doing war work has led to the ready absorption of labor released in lines which show decreasing output, and the general level of business activity can hardly be said to have changed, as it has for months past been at full capacity.

"In many cases factories have been able to change their product to adjust themselves to the war situation, a noteworthy instance being found in the automobile industry, where companies making both pleasure cars and trucks have concentrated their efforts on trucks and are running to fullest capacity, with orders booked far ahead, so that their output is in excess of the pro-war production. Other manufacturers whose products are of a character likely to be considered non-essential are considering ways and means of changing their output to war supplies or goods of an essential character.

"The effects of the economy movement, however, are not uniform among the lines that at first thought would appear to be luxuries. Dealers in confectionery, for example, report excellent business up to date and lack of sugar alone has prevented heavy increases in sales of candy. Dealers in groceries, wines, liquors, &c., report excellent trade.

"Sales of men's and women's clothing have fallen off distinctly, and the numbers of pairs of shoes being sold is estimated at 20 to 25 per cent. less than a year ago, though the money volume of sales holds up.

"In the dry goods line lessened activity is reported, particularly in silks and woollens, though sales of cotton goods continue strong, with large orders for export.

"The drug and chemical lines continue unsettled, with high prices and retarded consumption, though the volume of business expressed in money is maintained at high levels. Inability to receive and deliver goods is particularly troublesome in this line.

"Narrowing profits are reported in the paper manufacturing industry, increases in the selling prices of paper having been more than offset by increases in wages and other costs of production. Difficulty is being experienced also in obtaining and transporting pulp wood.

"A reflection of the lack of activity in building is found in the reports of lumber dealers, who state that an increasing proportion of their output is being devoted to supplying the Government or manufacturers having Government work with lumber and box shooks.

"In the metal trade activity centres on Government work. The demand for lead and zinc appears to have fallen below the supply and business is quiet in these lines. Steel stocks during the last few weeks have shown an increase, ascribed to ocean and railroad embargoes, which have permitted the completion of domestic business instead of supplying export tonnage. By far the greater portion of the business received by the steel trade is due to the activities of this Government and the Allies. Though production of pig iron is being pushed to capacity, serious handicaps are encountered through the difficulties of transporting raw materials, particularly coke, while the coke manufacturers, owing to labor shortage and inadequate car supply, are unable to ship anything like their full capacity. A shortage of pig iron during the next year appears imminent."

N. Y. LEADS IN SALES OF THRIFT STAMPS

Chicago Is a Close Second, Followed by Cincinnati.

New York city has purchased more thrift stamps and war savings certificates than any other municipality, according to reports from post offices of fifty cities throughout the country. Total sales in United States post offices alone have been 501,590 war savings certificates, totalling $2,066,550, and 2,766,258 thrift stamps, totalling $691,564.

This report does not include the distribution of thrift and war savings stamps made by the Federal Reserve banks to agents of the first and second class. It is said that the sales by these agencies would at least double the post office figures.

Chicago follows New York closely, with sales of 50,961 war savings stamps, amounting to $209,959.32, and 204,016 thrift stamps, amounting to $51,004. Cincinnati is third, Detroit fourth, Kansas City fifth and Pittsburg sixth.

Frederic W. Allen, Director of War Savings for New York, said: "I am much pleased to note the report of sales made by the post office in New York. This being the largest city in the country, it should of course take the lead in 'saving and serving' to help win the war."

Reports from the post offices of each city follow:
