NEWPORT.

Incidents of Life at that Watering Place.

MRS. ——AND HER HORSES.

To come to Newport without a team, or the means to hire one for the season, is to be a marked and lonely being, condemned to go to and fro on foot, or cock one's legs on the piazza of a hotel and take enjoyment enviously. The publicans here let out teams and stable them for about four hundred dollars a month for a span. It costs quite fifteen dollars a week for the care of a single horse. The rivalry of Newport is not so much in their homes—for anybody, in this respect, can ingeniously fall back upon the arguments of rural felicity, retirement from care and fashion, &c., but nobody dare pass the ordeal of Bellevue in a cranky or rustic vehicle, while footmen in red or yellow trimmings, and cockades like a rooster's comb, and buttons which are mirrors, and gaiters which are elaborately "respectable," go by in pagant, looking over the bosoms of languid beauties, who despite their flutter and triumph, are exerting all their poor mortal energies to appear bored and nonchalant, and uninterested. Hypocracy is not so much in seeming as in unseeming.

I heard a story of a resident of a little cottage out of town, who appeared here last summer. Her equipage was magnificent, and was generally alleged to be among the finest in Newport—two coal-black steeds, a riding pony, and one driving mare, constituted her stable. She was not too old to be handsome, but just at that age when cami is both ornamental and excusable. She seemed to be all day upon the road, but folks could see nothing amiss in this as whoever possessed such a turr-out had best live in it altogether. The mystery attaching to this Mrs.——was that she never invited anybody to her dwelling. She went to the "hops," appeared daily upon the beach, and was quite affable and popular, but never dropped an allusion to her cottage. Thereat, the other ladies who were dying of curiosity, resolved to visit her unsolicited, and a commission was appointed to discover her abode and report upon it.

Far up the island, in the township of Portsmouth, they observed a little farm house, too obscure to attract attention, and their appearance at its portal threw everybody within into consternation. The place was bare of both carpets and furniture; a single room made any pretensions to inhabitability, and there my lady slept upon an iron bedstead, with a cheap wardrobe near by, for her excellent dresses, and a single mirror, without the company of which one cannot be a woman. Her beautiful harness and saddles were deposited under her nose; she had understood Newport sufficiently well to place her strength in the stable, beyond which she had scarcely the means to live respectably.

The discovery of Mrs.——'s ménage was soon followed by her unannounced exit from Newport. This summer she will probably stop at some place where the house is all-in-all and a team superfluous.

A CADET'S MARRIAGE.

The spy system is the most objectionable feature of the cadet school. When the cadets go into town they are dogged by secret police to see that that they do not drink or smoke.

Last year two of them had a prize fight on the evening of the annual "hop." It seems hard that a man educated for a fighter must be punished by his educators for fighting. We call the attention of Messrs. Coburn, Elliot and Dunn to this fact. No naval cadet is allowed to play cards, dice, or anything over which he can swear, quarrel, or lose his pocket money. He may not publish anything whatever in reference to the Naval Academy, and thus his literary hopes are blasted in the bud; a sailor should whistle, but never sing. He is refused permission to send, carry or receive a cartel; and last of all he is forbidden to marry. This caps the climax of cadet misery, and sets a premium on bobbing around. I have a story apropos of it:

Some time back before the academy removed from Annapolis a young man from one of the ardent southern states fell in love with a maiden of the town. He had opportunity to meet her frequently, and contrasting the honey and butter of these stolen interviews with the hard-tack of his barrack life, he determined to pop, embrace, and become Benedicite.

The young lady, equally ardent was not loth; but she charged him thus:

"You must not tell papa; he is a great stickler for law and duty, and knows that you have no right, being a cadet, to take any other responsibility. When you get your commission, which is all you have to depend upon, we will parade the fact, but until then we shall meet when we can, and six months will see you with a commission in your hand, there need be no fear of detection. Besides as you must marry clandestinely, so will I, and we will keep the secret in common."

At this time a traveling Methodist preacher was temporarily in town, and the twin disembleres went before him and joined hands.

Nothing remained but to keep the secret.

The preacher knew nothing of this however, and curiously let the mouse out of the trap, so that an old professor, who disliked cadets, because they besieged in squads a certain pretty daughter that he had, ascertained the fact, without ascertaining but one of the names, and he court-martialed the cadet immediately.

Despite the personal entreaties of the youth the case was brought up.

He acknowledged the fact, pleaded guilty and fell back upon the mercy of the court.

The old professor aforesaid sternly objected; he stood upon law and good policy and called for the lad's dismissal.

"You will be taking the bread out of my wife's mouth," said the cadet.

"I don't care," said the professor; "let justice be done, though the larder be empty!"

"Do you know the lady's name?" urged the cadet.

"I don't want to know it; she isn't the criminal, it is you!"

"My wife, sir, is your daughter!"

The old gentleman was overwhelmed with rage and shame.

The court, acting upon his suggestion, and partly with a sly malice, struck the cadet's name from the rolls.

So the old gentleman had to pay for a time the expenses of both daughter and son-in-law. The lad got back into the navy during the rebellion, and rendered a good account of himself.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

IMPOTENCY CURED,

DR. A. GIBSON,
Formerly of New York City, will pay one hundred dollars for proof that he ever fails to cure the above-named diseases. He will pay the same sum for the proof that any other Physician in the United States treats the same diseases with equal success.
After many years of laborious study and experience Dr. Gibson is happy in being able to announce to the unfortunate, that he has perfected a system of treatment for
of the above, and also all contagious diseases of the Reproductive Organs, with all bad effects arising therefrom, including General
DEBILITY OR NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
He has succeeded in curing cases in this city, some of whom had expended hundreds of dollars with self-styled physicians, who promise to treat all private maladies with success, and without receiving the least particle of benefit.
Dr. Gibson does not boast that he is a member of some College in London or Paris, as perhaps some others do, for the purpose of amazing the innocent, and who hold out great expectations, never to be realized. But what Dr. Gibson does claim is, that he is able to give entire satisfaction to those who repose confidence in his skill and integrity, and that he has perfected an American system of treatment which challenges any Physician of London or Paris, or any patent medicine, to equal for the radical cure of seminal weakness, and all diseases or derangements, both mental and physical, arising from sexual or secret abuse.
Dr. Gibson also claims for his new treatment the following advantages over all other yet discovered:—and, first, the agents used are in no respect disagreeable; he uses no potion of the dark and bitter, nor mercury, or any other deleterious drug; secondly, no restriction in diet or business is required; thirdly, the treatment is positive, and certain in all cases; fourthly, he is always prepared to go into any publicor private hospital in the United States, and demonstrate the innocuousness of his new treatment; and lastly, he is more well known to the world, in point of promptness, privacy, mildness, safety and convenience to the patient.
Dr. Gibson is permanently located in Cleveland, and has during the past five years performed many cures of diseases which had for years resisted all other modes of treatment. Reference can be given to individuals of the first respectability in Cleveland, Boston, New York and other cities, in regard to skill and integrity in all professional transactions.—Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, and all Chronic Diseases treated with superior success.
Medicines sent to any part of the country on receipt of ten dollars.

PRIVATE AFFAIRS,
IN WHICH
All Classes are Interested.
Farmers Drovers, Merchants, Lumbermen, Mechanics, Miners, Bankers, the rich and the poor, should ask themselves if the slightest SYPHILITIC, or so-called PRIVATE DISEASE, taint is lingering in their SYSTEMS, if so, they should apply in person, if possible; if not possible in person, by letter, and receive by return mail a blank circular of questions, which will enable any one to know positively just how they stand.
To the intelligent reader it is not necessary to publish the names of the many complications and forms assumed by this terrible scourge, yet it may be advisable to mention as most prominent SYPHILIS PRIMARY, SYPHILIS SECONDARY, and SYPHILIS TERTIARY, the latter involving the bones in its deathly action.
Every one should know, also, that many of the most obstinate and worst DISCHARGES THROATS proceed from this cause, and will, if not properly handled, ultimately result in loss of voice. Look to your true interest, and consult by letter or apply at

No books published by nor issued from this institution by which the minds of the young are poisoned and they thereby ruined.
