TOURIST LINER CLEVELAND DELAYED---WILL BE OFF PORT THIS AFTERNOON AT THREE

(From Thursday Advertiser)

Welcome to Honolulu Will Be Carried Out by Launch to Around-the-World Visitors.

Leaving Yokohama one day late, the Hamburg-American "Round-the-world" cruising liner Cleveland will not be off the port of Honolulu until three o'clock this afternoon and may not be alongside the Alakea wharf until five o'clock or later.

Lack of wireless communication between the steamer and the local station gave the local agents, Hackfeld & Co., no opportunity until yesterday morning to know that the vessel was approaching Oahu so slowly. Captain Kier stated in his message to the agents that if his vessel met no bad weather he was certain to be off port about three o'clock.

Through the efforts of the promotion committee, and the agents, the Cleveland will not leave for San Francisco until half-past six o'clock Saturday morning, thereby giving the 380 tourists two nights and one day in Honolulu, reversing the usual schedule which is for two days and one night in the Paradise of the Pacific.

Leis for Tourists.

Secretary Wood of the promotion committee has engaged a launch which will take out members of the committee and a committee of young ladies who will adorn the passengers with leis. This bevy of young women is composed of Miss Bernice Dwight, Miss Margery McGuire, Miss Ellen Dwight, Miss Minnie Todd and Miss Ethel Carter. The launch will be loaded with leis and as soon as the young ladies are permitted to go aboard they will give their fragrant greetings to all the tourists.

The promotion committee boat will be used exclusively for the committee and the young ladies and two or three others. Other launches may be used by representatives of fraternal societies including the Elks and Shriners, who always give a warm welcome to the tourist brothers. They generally find aboard the big steamer a large and jolly bunch of Shriners and Elks. The fraternal entertainment consists of a reception, auto drives around town and the visitor are given all sorts of opportunities to see the sights by day and night.

Owing to the late arrival of the Cleveland, the majority of the passengers may dine aboard the liner this evening, and afterwards will go around the city as they choose, not personally conducted. There are two Hawaiian entertainments provided for this evening. Bonine is giving a display of his motion pictures of Hawaiian scenes, including the Volcano of Kilauea in action. Ernest Kaai and his Hawaiian troubadours will give a musical entertainment, with the hula as one of the features.

The program for Friday is a luncheon at the Moana Hotel. There will be round-the-island trips in autos and trips to nearby sights in and around town.

Dr. F. E. Trotter of the United States quarantine service will extend the courtesies of the port to the steamer. A full force of his staff will meet the liner and pass it without delay.

Mail in Heaps.

Heaps of mail is being sorted at the office of Hackfeld & Co., for the Cleveland passengers. Shipping Manager Klebahn has taken upon himself the task of mail assorter. The mail is being sorted alphabetically and placed in bags which are alphabetically labeled. There are thousands of pieces of mail, but the majority of it is advertisements of San Francisco hotels, and business houses. Each hotel and firm, in thus endeavoring to attract the attention of the tourists, has mailed an envelope to each one. Each firm therefore addressed about 350 pieces: with twenty firms making use of the mails in this manner, the total of pieces runs far up into the thousands.

Railroad Men Ready.

Jules Clerfayt, representing the Southern Pacific Railway; H. T. Holmes, the Western Pacific, and Mr. Moses, the Santa Fe route, will all meet the steamer at quarantine and made their plans for routing the passengers. There is considerable rivalry among the railroad men and all have begun little schemes to outwit the others.

They are traveling on the Cleveland, under permission of the treasury department, thus getting around the coastwise passenger law. When the Cleveland first came here from New York, the United States government proposed to fine the company in the sum of $200 for each person aboard, on the ground that the vessel, by starting from New York and finishing at San Francisco, two American ports, was violating the coastwise law. The matter was dropped, however, and the government is now permitting the law to be broken without any fuss, except as it applies to residents of Hawaii.

The Cleveland is well supplied with literature about the Islands, this having been sent to Yokohama by the promotion committee. Lectures on Hawaii have been given during the trip from Yokohama by Mrs. Langdon Reed, the social director.

New Commander.

The Cleveland comes to Honolulu this time under the command of a new master, Capt. Th. Kier, well known in the Atlantic service. He succeeded Captain Dempwolf, the pioneer. It was Captain Dempwolf who steadied the vessel the last time she came here when the local pilot, Captain Sanders, dropped dead on the bridge just as the big vessel was passing the stern of the United States cruiser Colorado. The ship struck the Colorado and inflicted slight damage. When the pilot dropped dead, Captain Dempwolf immediately assumed command and personally guided the vessel into her berth with the ease of a veteran who had sailed in the harbor during all his career.

CUTICURA CURED TWO BROTHERS

One had Face Covered with Itching Eruption—Eyesight was Affected—Raw, Itching Humor Spread Over the Other from Head to Feet in a Single Day—Dreadful

SKIN-TORTURES YIELD TO EASY TREATMENT

"In 1907 my face broke out in a mass of itching sores which finally affected my eyesight. I tried several highly recommended salves that cost one dollar an ounce, but to no avail. A friend of mine urged me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment as he was sure of good results from his own experience. I used the Cuticura Ointment for about six weeks, after washing thoroughly with the Cuticura Soap. My face is in perfect health now which I owe to the Cuticura Remedies. I shall always stand by them as one of the greatest blessings to the suffering thousands. Arthur D. Gridley, 532 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Apr. 9, 1909."

"In the middle of the night of March 30th I woke up with a burning itch in my two hands and I felt as if I could pull them apart. In the morning the itching had got to my chest and during that day it spread all over my body. I was red and raw from the top of my head to the soles of my feet and I was in continual agony from the itching. I could neither lie down nor sit up. I happened to see about Cuticura Remedies and I thought I would give them a trial. I took a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and used the Cuticura Ointment. I put it on from my head down to my feet and then went to bed. On the 31st of April I felt like a new man. The itching was almost gone. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and during that day the itching completely left me. Frank Gridley, 525 E. 138th St., New York City, Apr. 27, '09."

LARGE FUND IS SUBSCRIBED ALREADY

Contrary to the general supposition the declaration of Perley Horne, president of the Kamehameha Schools, that the soldiers and adventurers from the mainland regarded the Hawaiian girls as their legitimate prey, is not to be permitted to go unchallenged. A fund of several hundred dollars has been raised among the officers and men of the various posts on Oahu, and it is understood that when the subscription list closes, the money will be turned over to a firm of prominent lawyers with instruction to bring suit against Horne for slander and libel.

Horne, it will be remembered, was a speaker at a mass meeting held in the Bijou theater some weeks ago, and during his address took occasion to blame the soldiers with the downfall of Hawaiian girls.

Horne's attack on the soldiery caused intense indignation, not only among the enlisted men and officers stationed here, but among residents of the city, a number of whom sent communications to the newspapers, defending the soldiers and protesting against what they termed a slander.

Then the territorial grand jury made a report in which it went out of the way to absolve the soldiers from all crimes against sex, and further declared that in the opinion of the investigating body, the soldiers had been grossly slandered in the attack made on their characters.

Throughout the storm raging about him, Professor Horne stood firm, refusing to retract his statement and reiterating it when occasion offered. The enlisted men, feeling that some action should be taken to protect them from similar unwarranted attacks, designated a committee of sergeants to raise a fund for the prosecution of Horne, and to secure attorneys.

The sergeants in question called on Attorney Lorrin Andrews and consulted with him, with the result that he drew up the petitions which were circulated through the various regiments.

The majority of the sergeants on the committee, it is understood belonged to the Fifth Cavalry, and when that regiment was ordered back to the mainland, it was supposed that the matter of prosecution had been dropped.

It has developed, however, that the officers took up the matter and that they have been at work quietly raising funds to be used in starting the prosecution.

Captain Jamieson, stationed at Fort Shafter, is understood to be the custodian of this fund which is said to total in the neighborhood of $1000.

Attorney Lorrin Andrews said yesterday that while he had not been consulted lately on the matter, he understood that the army had no intention of letting the matter drop, and that quite a fund had been raised to prosecute Horne.

It is said that one reason for the delay has been the repeated desire of General Macomb to take the matter up with the war department while in Washington, and that it is probable that department will sanction the plan of action which it may be decided to carry out.
