HAWAII OPENS RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Secretary Rath of Anti-Tuberculosis League Receives First Order from Doctor Elliot of Hilo—Hopes to Sell Half Million in Islands—Society Women Prepare to Aid.

Hawaii will probably have the distinction this year of being the first section of the United States to begin the annual Red Cross Seal Stamp campaign and to Hilo goes the honor of being the first city, so far as known to send in an order for the Christmas stamps, the sale of which has made possible the carrying on of a fight which gives promise of wiping out a disease that has needlessly sacrificed millions of lives.

Hilo in the Lead.

James A. Rath, secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Hawaii, received the order from Hilo yesterday. It came from Dr. H. B. Elliot, president of the Hilo Board of Trade. Writing on behalf of the board of trade, Doctor Elliot says:

"Hilo, Hawaii, October 20, 1913.

"Mr. James A. Rath, Director, Palama Settlement, Honolulu.

"Dear Sir:—In reference to the disposal of Christmas Red Cross Stamps, send about one hundred dollars' worth for a start. If more are needed I will let you know later. Probably Kona and Kohala can be handled from your end better than from here. Yours very truly,

"(Signed) H. B. ELLIOT."

This means that at least ten thousand Red Cross stamps will be sold in Hilo within the next eight weeks and among those who know the ways of Hiloites it is believed that twice this number will be sold.

Secretary Rath Busy.

For the past month Mr. Rath has been preparing for the Red Cross stamp campaign. Yesterday he announced that everything is now in readiness for the work. He already has received five hundred thousand stamps. This represents $5000 at one cent each and if all the States in the Union do as well as Hawaii, according to population, the fund for fighting tuberculosis will be added to this year as never before since the Red Cross Stamp fund-raising campaigns began.

Every Island in Campaign.

Heretofore the sale of the stamps in Hawaii has been confined principally to Honolulu. Last year $1889.50 was raised in this way and in the percentage column, showing the number of stamps sold by the different States Hawaii stood well up to the top of the column with a percentage of nearly fifty per cent. This is remarkable when it is known that the sales in some of the States went as low as twelve per cent of the total amount of stamps received.

However, the total sales reached close to a half million dollars last year, and so successful has the great war against the White Plague been carried on under Red Cross direction that it is believed the total sales will reach well past the half million dollar mark this year. The campaign is to be made on all the Islands in Hawaii, and stamps will be placed on sale beginning November 10.

Society Women Are Aiding.

Many of the most prominent society women of the Territory have already assured the Anti-Tuberculosis League of their support in the coming campaign. Mrs. Frances Mills Swanzy volunteered her services to aid in the work yesterday. She is already arranging to meet with other well-known Honolulu women at her home next Thursday afternoon, beginning at three-thirty o'clock. At that time the methods of conducting the Territory-wide sale of Red Cross stamps will be discussed at length, and a definite and aggressive campaign mapped out. With cooperation from the women, those in charge of the anti-tuberculosis campaign in Hawaii are confident that this year will set a new mark in the amount of money received for the good cause from the sale.

Mr. Rath is already in touch with men and women on Hawaii, Maui and Kauai, and there probably will not be a section in all the Islands by November 10 next where Red Cross Stamps will not be on sale.

Everyone Asked to Help.

Every public-spirited man and woman in the Territory will be asked to see to it that Red Cross Stamps are affixed to every letter sent out. Each one of these stamps represents one cent, that much toward the saving of a human life and the ultimate wiping out of a disease that has probably brought more misery and suffering to the world than any malady to which flesh is heir.

Secretary Rath has received encouragement from so many sources, he says, that he feels certain that Hawaii will easily raise the five thousand dollars which the half million stamps he has received represent. Just as soon as indications point to the present supply being exhausted another half million will be ordered.

"If there is any section in the country that owes much to those carrying on the anti-tuberculosis campaign it is Hawaii," said a well-known Honolulan yesterday, "and those who know the people of the Islands are confident they will not be backward in responding."

Nearly every one has occasion to write a letter. A Red Cross Stamp represents but an additional cent, a sum rich and poor alike can afford, and if every resident in Hawaii would affix one of these little messengers of health and life and cheer to one letter each week between now and Christmas, Hawaii's stamp sales will nearly pass the million mark.

Just as quick as Secretary Rath can get in touch with merchants, hotel keepers, restaurant keepers and others who will volunteer to offer the stamps for sale, a partial estimate of the number that will be need in the Islands will be made.

LOSES HAND IN POWERFUL GEAR

Felix Labradora Nearly Loses Life in Tussle with Hoist at Pearl Harbor Coaling Station.

Caught in the gears of one of the powerful hoists at the Pearl Harbor naval coaling station Wednesday afternoon, Felix Labradora would undoubtedly have been killed but for the fact that he had presence of mind to catch hold of an obstruction with his left hand and to hold himself back while the steel gears ground the greater portion of his right hand into pulp.

When the ligaments were finally torn loose and Labradora was freed, he fell into the arms of a fellow laborer, and, covered with blood, was hastened to Honolulu and to the Queen's Hospital Wednesday evening. An operation was immediately found necessary and the torn hand was amputated with the exception of the thumb.

Labradora does not seem to know how the accident occurred. He was working near the gear, he says, when in some way his hand was pulled into the mechanism and he felt himself being dragged with it.

Doctor Kerr of the United States naval station cared for Labradora while arrangements were being made at Pearl Harbor to have the injured man removed to Honolulu. It was reported at the hospital yesterday that Labradora is resting easy, and though he is maimed for life, he will soon be able to leave that institution.

JAPAN AFTER A NEW TREATY TO SETTLE TROUBLES

TOKIO, October 6.—The newspaper Jiji Shimpo says that negotiations shortly are to be reopened with the United States in regard to the California Alien Land Act.

"Japan," says the paper, "desiring to reach a fundamental solution of the California question, and finding the acquisition of naturalization for Japanese in California most difficult is about to propose a new treaty with the United States.

"Formal negotiations, which have been delayed on account of Washington's preoccupation with the Mexican trouble and the tariff, will be begun at an early date."

JOKER UNCOVERED IN KAHN BILL

WASHINGTON, October 6.—Discovery of a "joker" that might cost American manufacturers millions of dollars in the Kahn Bill, recently passed by congress to protect patents on foreign exhibits at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has caused the state department to withhold formal notification of the enactment of the law pending an effort to have it amended.

Under the terms of the act, holders of foreign patents have only to register their certificates at the branch office of the United States commissioner of patents on the exposition grounds to obtain full protection in this country until three years after the close of the exposition.

This was supposed to be harmless, but Commissioner of Patents Ewing declares it places in the hands of anybody the power to squeeze out of American manufacturers and designers an incalculable amount of money.

For a nominal fee, it is said, anybody so inclined could obtain a certificate from a foreign office of ownership of any article or design. Once the certificate was registered at the exposition grounds it would give the holder the power to compel all who might be producing the article or design to pay him damages and royalties.

TANGO AT BUCKINHAM.

LONDON, October 8.—Although Queen Mary will not countenance the tango at any ball at which she is present, Her Majesty has just consented to allow it to be danced in the servants' hall of Buckingham Palace during the coming season. The tango and other modern dances were forbidden, but maid-servants petitioned Lady Bertha Dawkins to ask the Queen to remove the ban, and Lady Bertha was successful.

WILSON DENIES HE DENOUNCED REBELS

Issues Sharp Reply to Newspaper on His Stand on the Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—Reports that President Wilson was attempting to prod Democratic senators into quick action on the Currency Bill, and a published statement that he would class as a "rebel" any Democrat who did not support him, brought out an emphatic denial today from the White House. The President made public the following letter:

"To the Editor of the Washington Post: I am quoted in your issue of this morning as saying that anyone who does not support me is no Democrat, but a rebel. Of course, I never said any such thing. It is contrary, both to my thought and to my character, and I must ask that you give a very prominent place in your issue of tomorrow to this denial. Very truly yours, WOODROW WILSON."

At the White House there was a disposition to look on the currency situation as on the way to amicable adjustment. The President, it was said today, feels that Senator Reed, of Missouri, will join the Administration supporters in the banking and currency committee, and that Senator O'Gorman eventually will side with the majority. There was no such sanguine feeling, however, with respect to Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska.

While there have been many published reports to the effect that the President was considering a statement charging the existence of a lobby by the big banks exerting control over smaller banks to oppose the bill, the White House said today the President would not issue such a statement at this time.

"Administration officials have referred privately, however, to the visit of a prominent business man to the senate banking committee and Representative Glass recently charged that the unnamed man had been "advised by some of the larger bankers of New York as to what they would like him to say before the committee, and had faithfully followed instructions."

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank, of New York, told the senate banking committee today he indorsed many important features of the Administration Currency Bill. Mr. Vanderlip, however, criticized adversely certain points, notably the independence of the regional reserve banks, the character of the note issue plan and the section compelling all national banks to become members of the proposed system.

Aside from these objections, however, he found many excellent qualities in the Administration plan, and took issue with many bankers who have criticised adversely different parts of the bill.

A repetition of the panic of 1907, from such causes as brought it about, would be impossible under the proposed banking system, said Mr. Vanderlip.

APPEALING CASE TO UNITED STATES COURT

Feeling aggrieved by the decision of the supreme court of the Territory which declared that the law, passed by the last legislature, for the protection of fish known as "nehu" and "iao," was constitutional Moke Makaiwi and several other defendants who were fined for violating the new law are going to carry their case to the supreme court of the United States on a writ of error, notice of which has been given in the territorial supreme court.

The last legislature passed a law which prohibited the fishing for nehu and iao, certain small fish used for bait, with nets longer than twelve feet. Moke Makaiwi and several others were arrested in Kahului Bay for violating this law and were after a trial in the district court of Wailuku, sentenced by Judge McKay to pay a fine. The case was then appealed on points of law to the territorial supreme court which finally declared the territorial law constitutional. It is on this declaration that the defendants now appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

GIRLS OF SCHOOL AGE.

Need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Keep Their Blood in Good Order.

Girls in their teens are often troubled with thin blood, making the complexion pale, sometimes greenish, the cheeks thin, the lips colorless. There is shortness of breath after the slightest exertion, a general feeling of weariness and a disinclination to study or work. Sometimes a slight cough causes a feeling of alarm that the lungs may be affected.

There is one remedy that will surely correct this form of anaemia in growing girls and that is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The action of these pills in such cases is direct and certain.

Every mother whose daughter is pale and thin owes it to her child's future to at once give her a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Neglect at this time may result in a lifetime of misery. Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Ben Leiber entered the police station yesterday morning, seeking treatment for a badly bruised arm and shoulder. Leiber said that he had fallen over a forty foot embankment at Fort Shafter.

LOCAL POWER FOR KANEOHE PLANT

Federal Wireless Telegraph Closes With Hawaiian Electric for Electricity to Operate Its Trans-Pacific System, It Is Said; Deal Means Power and Light for Windward Oahu.

As the result of a deal under way for some time and finally closed by the Federal Wireless Telegraph Company with the Hawaiian Electric Company yesterday morning, the latter company is to transmit power to the wireless company's station at Kaneohe on Windward Oahu in sufficient quantities to insure the operation of that plant twenty-four hours each day.

In addition, for the first time in the history of Windward Oahu, electricity for power and illuminating purposes is to be placed within the reach of every resident in that thickly settled section of Oahu.

Encouraged by Local Company.

All that now remains, it was all but confirmed in official circles yesterday morning, is the final recording of the contract and the formal procedure of securing permission from the Territory to run a pole line and stretch wires across the Lali and down to the station, a distance of about ten miles. This would require, it is estimated, not more than two months, and with the wireless motors in place the work of connecting up the great telegraph system could be easily accomplished.

To make it possible for the wireless company to make this arrangement, it is understood that the Hawaiian Electric Company has made a rate for power equally as low as that now being charged by the power companies of San Francisco and other Coast cities.

Preparations Under Way.

The Kaneohe station is already making preparations for the transformation which the change will necessitate, and what machinery and apparatus is not already on the ground is now on the way here and the change will be effected within a few weeks' time at the longest, it is said.

The Hawaiian Electric Company yesterday did not deny the story, when it was mentioned by The Advertiser, and it is known that it has been making preparations for some time, by securing poles, wiring and other electrical apparatus, for the proposed extension of its system from Honolulu to the windward side of the Island.

While the Hawaiian Electric Company lines now run fully half way to the Pali, it is very likely that the present lines will not be utilized and that a new system will be installed direct from the power house in Honolulu, by the shortest possible cut across country to Kaneohe, with provision being made for side lines for the accommodation of wayside patrons of the system.

With the installation of the extension and the furnishing of electric power to the Federal Wireless plant at Kaneohe, the great Honolulu-San Francisco wireless system will be placed in a position to do day service, in addition to the wonderful night service which it has been giving The Advertiser and Honolulu for more than a year.

Boon to Windward Oahu.

The extension of the Hawaiian Electric Company's current system through to Kaneohe will also be a great boon to the countryside, for it is almost certain that the city government will make arrangements with the electric company for the lighting of the Pali road, a road which is at all times dangerous at night.

It is also expected that Kaneohe people will hail the advent of controlled electricity, and take occasion to shelve their old-fashioned oil lamps for the more up-to-date incandescent globes of electric lights. Once at Kaneohe, neighboring villages and hamlets will not rest contented until the electric system is further extended, and before long the traveler will see the pineapple factories and other Windward Oahu industries lit up and run by electricity.

Arrangements for the acquiring of the necessary rights of way from Honolulu to Kaneohe, for the extension of the electric system are said to be practically closed.

HONOR MEN FOR MILITARY ACADEMY

WASHINGTON, October 8.—Important changes in the method of admitting candidates to the West Point Military Academy are proposed in a bill introduced by Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee. It would give the President power to appoint each year to the academy "ten honor men" from ten educational institutions having officers of the army detailed for military instruction. The list of "honor schools" would be prepared by the war department.

The Chamberlain Bill also proposes when the annual examination rank to fill all vacancies in the academy from the list of regular appointees, that candidates should be selected on the merit principle from the whole list of alternates instead of being restricted to the alternate from the district where the principal has failed.

IT NEVER FAILS.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all its name implies. It cures diarrhoea and dysentery in either children or adults, and the most violent cases of cramp colic or pain in the stomach give way to a few doses of this medicine. Safe, sure, always cures. ## Supervisors Will Carry Out Will of Citizens Expressed at Mass Meeting.

Despite the opposition of a majority of the property owners directly affected, a mass meeting of citizens before the board of supervisors, by a vote of sixteen to seven, last night decided to open Bishop street through from Beretania street to the waterfront, thus improving, claim many, one of the most important business sections of Honolulu.

The meeting was called by the board of supervisors to get an expression of opinion regarding this improvement and a definite idea as to the area to be assessed.

Prominent among those present were: W. H. Hoogs, J. J. Belser, Norman Watkins, R. Warham, James Steiner, R. R. Reidford, Albert Waterhouse, H. A. Walker, W. W. Chamberlain Ed. Towse, Guy Gere, James McLain, John O'Connor, Willard Brown, C. H. Brown, Rev. Father Valentin, W. H. McInerny, Judge Monsarrat, James Wakefield and Marston Campbell.

Supervisor Petrie stated in his opening remarks that although the law clearly defined the powers of the board, still it did not want to act arbitrarily in the matter and would be guided by the conclusions arrived at by this meeting.

Several Plans Suggested.

A general discussion then followed and several plans were laid before the meeting.

Marston Campbell was in favor of the property holders in the block bounded by Hotel and Beretania streets to bear the assessment as they were the ones directly benefited. Rev. Father Valentin representing the Catholic Mission property which comprises thirty per cent of the property affected by such an assessment, stated that if such a resolution was passed that it would be strongly opposed by him, as the extension proposed would not increase the value of the holdings he represented in proportion to the expense which this would involve.

Mayor Fern Submits Plan.

Mayor Fern stated that as the whole downtown district would be benefited by the opening of Bishop street he believed that an area consisting of all that property one hundred feet mauka of Beretania street, Ewa to Fort street, Waikiki to Alakea street and through to the waterfront, bear an equal share of the assessment.

Opposed by McInerny.

W. H. McInerny strongly opposed any consideration at all being taken of this proposed opening. He stated that there was no necessity for any such extension, that owing to the present financial condition of the community, and the uncertainty of what the future had in store, that any such move was foolish at this time. He further stated that the expressions of those who were so strongly in favor of this idea were those who would not have to bear the burden of expense. Judge Monsarrat, also a large property holder in this area, agreed with Mr. McInerny and stated that in the event of such a resolution being passed he would fight the matter in the courts.

District Embraced in Motion.

R. R. Reidford, seconded by Marston Campbell, made the following motion, which was passed by a vote of seventeen to six.

That an area comprising all that property one hundred feet mauka of Beretania street, extending Ewa to Fort street, Waikiki to Alakea street and makai to the waterfront, comprise an assessment area to bear the expense of opening Bishop street from the waterfront through to Beretania street.

Supervisor Petrie stated after the close of the meeting that a resolution to this effect would be presented at the next board meeting.

EASY FOR CLERKS TO SOLVE QUEER ADDRESS

Postal clerks between Rochester to Detroit solved the rebus of a letter bearing as its address nothing more than a rough sketch of a necktie and a corkscrew. A newspaper artist made the odd test, dropping the letter into a street mail box without the slightest hint other than the pictures as to where it should be delivered. Word has been received that the letter was promptly delivered as intended into the hands of none other than Fritz Raymond Lobb, the popsicle idol of the baseball fans.

STEEL UNLOADED IN THE MARKET

This and Unsettled Conditions Upset Prices on the New York Board.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

NEW YORK, October 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Depression in the iron and steel industry, with expectations of further slowing down in business and price reductions, gave the bears their chief argument, and selling of Steel on a heavy scale did more than anything else to lower the market today.

The situation in Mexico, expectations of a further cut in the New Haven dividend and the lowered prices for the cotton crop were other important factors.

London took a position on the bear side, selling stocks here after the slump in American securities abroad.

The fall in price occurred in the first hour, and the trend thereafter was slowly upward on largely reduced dealings. Bonds were easy. Virtually all the day's loss had been recovered when the market came almost to a dead halt.

The steady improvement was attended by progressively smaller dealings, even buying of Steel running mostly to one hundred and two hundred share lots. The market closed heavy.

Selling orders made their appearance after delivery hour, stocks coming from traders who had a good profit on earlier purchases.
