SCHOOLS STARTED WITH MORE PUPILS THAN EVER BEFORE

Thirteen Out of Thirty-Five On Oahu Show An Increase of 563

KINNEY MAKES PLEA FOR MORE LOCAL TEACHERS

Wants To See Honolulu Normal School's Enrolment Doubled This Year

Complete returns received by Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction, and James C. Davis, supervising principal for Honolulu and Oahu, from thirteen out of thirty-five government schools on the island shows an increase of 563 pupils in attendance yesterday on the opening of the 1915-6 school year over the total attendance at the same schools at the close of the 1914-15 school year on June 23, last. Returns from the other schools on this island will be received today and tomorrow. Full returns from Kauai and Maui are expected the middle of the week and from Hawaii on Saturday.

One hundred sixty-eight government schools, with nearly 800 teachers and approximately 30,000 pupils, opened yesterday throughout the Islands. The private schools, not previously opened, also began business yesterday, in practically all cases with a larger enrolment of scholars than ever before.

Big Increase Expected

The government schools closed on June 23 last with total attendance of 28,827 pupils. That more than 30,000 registered at the opening yesterday is almost certain, figuring on the increase recorded by the thirteen schools whose opening day's figures are available. Only two of these thirteen schools showed a slight decrease, which will be overcome, Supervising Principal Davis believes, in a day or two.

"There is a difference between teaching school in the mainland and in Hawaii," said Superintendent Kinney yesterday, reverting to the subject of school teachers, the annual summer school and the territorial normal school which is designed to prepare teachers for local demands.

Locally Trained Teachers Wanted

"For this reason I believe that persons who are trained in the Honolulu normal school finish unusually well qualified for the local work. Hawaii-trained teachers, those trained for the teaching profession in Honolulu and elsewhere in the Territory, are what the department of public instruction needs and wants. For these reasons I would like to see the capacity of the normal school doubled this year."

One hundred forty-four men and women were enrolled in the Normal School when the public schools closed on June 23, last, preparing for the teaching profession. When the normal opened yesterday 182 registered, with probably a considerable number more to be heard from. Domestic science and vocational work will receive more than the ordinary attention this year at the Normal. Harlan Roberts, who was connected with the Lahainaluna School on Maui the past ten years, will have charge of the budding carpenters. He succeeds E. Allen Creevey, who was detailed to take up vocational work on Kauai.

Kitchen to Resume Work

The Normal School kitchen will be reopened again this year and the appetizing five-cent lunches will be on hand as before.

Under Principal Edgar Wood the following are enrolled in the teaching faculty:

Normal—Miss Ida M. Ziegler, Mrs Lilla G. Marshall, Miss Ida G. Macdonald, Miss Ruth C. Shaw, Miss Ada S. Varney, Miss Letita M. Morgan Miss Marion D. Dean, Jane M. Otremba, Harlan Roberts, Miss Anne Van Schaick, Miss May T. Kluegel, William Meinecke, Mrs. Mary A. Schmidt. Miss Hedwig S. Otremba.

Normal Practise—Miss Margaret M Shaw, Miss Frances M. Otremba, Miss Lorna H. Jarrett, Miss Jessie L Deems, Miss Gladys Rickard, Miss Charlotte B. Betts, Miss Helen G Pratt, Miss Maude Drake.

Of the thirteen government schools which turned in their enrolment yesterday, Kaiulani School in Palama shows the greatest increase. It closed last June with 1206 and opened yesterday with 1301 pupils. Mrs. Nina L. D. Fraser, principal of this school, which is the largest in the Territory in point of attendance, has a force of thirty teachers under her direction. Next in attendance is the Royal School on upper Emma street, which closed in June with 982 and opened yesterday with 1054. Cyril O. Smith, former principal of the government school in Kapaa, Kauai, is now principal of the Royal, succeeding James C. Davis, who was recently promoted to supervising principal for Honolulu and Oahu upon the resignation of Mrs. Mary L. Gunn.

The number of the registered pupils at the close of the schools on June 23, last, the attendance yesterday not being recorded yet, was as follows for the balance of the government schools in Honolulu and the rest of Oahu:

Wailupe 24, Moiliili 369, Maemae 171, Kalihi-waena 595, Kalihi-uka 45, Watertown 92. Aiea 387, Pearl City 183, Waipahu 478, Ewa 501, Waianae 185, Wahiawa 133, Mokuleia 40, Kawailoa 117, Waialua 604, Kahuku 117, Hauula 84, Kaaawa 115, Waiahole 98, Kaneohe 216, Kailua 32 and Waimanalo 80.

Private Schools

Among the private schools Punahou reported heavy enrolments yesterday. At the end of the past school year the academy closed with 299 students and the preparatory with 450 pupils. Forty-nine students applied Saturday to take the entrance examination at the academy yesterday. Chapel exercises were held at both the academy and preparatory. At the academy exercises John Waterhouse of the board of trustees and William T. Rawlins of the alumni association made addresses yesterday, while W. W. Chamberlain spoke at the opening of the preparatory.

The College of Hawaii also opened yesterday, the coming year being expected to eclipse all that have gone by in this new institution. Among the private schools whose doors were thrown open yesterday for the new year were St. Andrew's Priory, Iolani School, Mills School, Kawaiahao Seminary, the Kamehameha schools for boys and girls, the Honolulu School for Boys, Kaimuki, the Korean Boarding School on Punchbowl, which registered sixty students as against eighty for the past year, and a number of other Korean, Japanese and Chinese schools. The Catholic schools, where more than 1500 boys and girls are being educated, opened on September 1.

The following is the registry of the thirteen schools on this island which sent in complete figures to Superintendent Kinney:

Wine and Beer Put In Discard By Supervisors

This Is To Say They Are Among City Horses Ordered Condemned

Wine and Beer have been stricken from the payroll.

City Veterinarian Monsarrat reported to the supervisors last night that the following stock in possession of the road department is in good condition: Chief, Dick, Eva, Mabel, Nancy, Becky, Ida May, Pete No. 2, Goose, Lucy, Hattie, Baby, Sweeper, Grease, Beauty, Peter, David, Geese, Honey, Tom, Shoo-Fly, Barney, Daisy Girl, Jackson, Laika, Bill and Ena.

Animals condemned for various reasons are:

Jack, Tiger, Lady, Ben, Lena, Smoke, Wine, Maria, Emma No. 2, Bee, Topsy, Beer, Mike, Emma No. 1, Pat, Patsy No. 2 and Birdie.

Wine and Beer go into the discard. Another victory for prohibition.

RESEARCH CHARTER MAY BE ENDORSED

Chamber of Commerce Is Expected To Approve Instrument In Chief Features

Approval of the Municipal Research Club's charter may be given by the chamber of commerce.

The county and municipal affairs committee of the chamber met yesterday to consider it, but did not complete the work, and will meet again at nine o'clock this morning.

The committee desires to complete its work today so its report can be made at the regular meeting of the chamber at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. If the report is not ready a special meeting of the chamber may be called to act upon it.

J. T. Warren, chairman of the committee, said the charter probably would be recommended for approval, although several recommendations for changes might be made.

The chief subject of discussion within the committee is the power of the supervisors—whether the city manager should appoint the heads of the various departments, as provided in the Municipal Research Club charter, or whether each supervisor should head a department.

CIVIC CONVENTION LIST SOON WILL BE COMPLETE

The civic convention committee of the chamber of commerce will call on members of the chamber Thursday morning to complete the list of delegates to the Lihue meeting.

There will be no difficulty in obtaining twenty members to represent the chamber, Secretary Raymond C. Brown said yesterday.

The Lihue Chamber of Commerce will pay the expenses of the delegates incurred there, and will welcome women as long as they do not increase the apportionment of 100.

CANCELING MACHINE FOR POSTOFFICE DUE

The automatic canceling machine which has been ordered for the post office, may arrive today. If so it will be set up and put in use as quickly as possible. The machine will do the work of about five men in stamping and canceling letters.

BANANA GROWERS FACE HEAVY LOSS

Fruit Will Rot Before They Can Get It To Coast Market For Lack of Ships

More evidence of the congestion of steamship traffic was presented to the chamber of commerce yesterday.

A committee of Chinese banana growers called upon Secretary Raymond C. Brown and told him they faced a big loss through deterioration of their fruit because they are unable to ship this week a large consignment. The Manoa is the only banana carrier sailing and its capacity already has been reached.

One grower said he had 500 bunches which should, but cannot be shipped this week. They will spoil before the next banana carrier sails. Another grower said he was unable to get space for 1500 bunches.

Secretary Brown told the Chinese he could give them no assistance, but would take up the question with Carl E. Stone, general traffic manager of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company, upon the latter's arrival today from Hilo, where he went to see Kilauea.

Mr. Stone is in Honolulu to see whether 1000 to 1500 tons of freight can be guaranteed to bring the steamship Great Northern to Honolulu.

The growers told Mr. Brown they could ship 15,000 bunches of bananas a week, but did not say how many they could give to the Great Northern. They did say, however, that the Great Northern's speed would make her a valuable carrier to them, and it is thought the Great Northern may get a big share of the banana freight unless contracts between the growers and other steamship companies forbid.

Mr. Stone said here last week that arrangements could be made for carrying fresh fruit on the Great Northern, the steamer having a big refrigeration space. It is thought alterations may be made in the ship if she comes here whereby the refrigeration space will be increased to care for large fruit consignments.

If this is done the problem of the banana growers may be solved, as the Great Northern would call every two weeks, thus relieving the congestion on the other ships.

FIRE HAS DESTROYED VAST ALASKAN FORESTS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

SEATTLE, September 14. — Three million acres of forests in the interior of Alaska, which are not protected by rangers, have been destroyed by fire in the last year, according to Chief Forester Graves, who has returned from an inspection of timber lands in the northern territory. It is impossible to estimate the enormous loss in dollars and cents, he says. One million acres have been destroyed yearly by fire until last year, the chief forester declares.

SHIP CARRYING ITALIAN RESERVISTS IS IN PORT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

NEW YORK, September 13.— Late today the steamer Santanna wirelessed that she was safe, the fire out, and would proceed to the Azores. The Santanna was bound for Naples from New York and carried 1600 Italian reservists, and the report that she was afire and in serious danger 960 miles east of Halifax was unconfirmed. It was learned today that her sailing date last week was delayed on account of a report that bombs had been hidden in the cargo. A thorough search was made of every part of the ship but no bombs were found.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES OF OLD AGE

Mrs. Sophia Lack, one of the pioneer residents of Hawaii, died last night at her home, 1516 Emma street. Mrs. Lack was eighty years old.

Mrs. Lack had been a resident of Honolulu since 1858—fifty-seven years—having come here from Australia and Tahiti. Her husband opened a store, and was the first dealer in sewing machines and guns and ammunition in the Islands.

Mrs. Lack lived through three revolutions and had the experience of seeing her husband's gun and ammunition stock confiscated in each revolution by the factions in control. Remuneration subsequently was made.

Mrs. Lack is survived by a daughter, Mrs. F. M. Coon; a new nephew, J. J. Lecker, and two grandsons, C. H. Nicoll and A. M. Nicoll. The latter is a resident of Hilo; the others reside here.

MR. NEWTON MEETS OUTDOOR WORKERS

Committee From Women's Circle Urge Irwin Site For New Federal Building

Members of the executive committee of the Outdoor Circle called upon Byron R. Newton, first assistant secretary of the treasury, at the office of Malcolm A. Franklin, collector of customs, yesterday morning, to speak for the Irwin site for the federal building.

Members of the committee are Mrs. A. E. Murphy, Mrs. Lorrin A. Thurston and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey. The Outdoor Circle's 310 members voted unanimously in favor of the Irwin site at the last meeting. One of the points urged is that the city plan of J. Mulford Robinson contemplated the location of the building on the Irwin site as an integral part.

Mrs. Murphy said that parking about the building with royal palms, to conform with that about the capitol and the judiciary building, would be possible were the Irwin site selected, but that it would be impossible with the Mahuka site.

After hearing the members of the committee, Mr. Newton and Mr. Franklin called upon the officers of the United States Coast Guard cutter Thetis, Capt. James H. Brown commanding.

Mr. Newton will sail for San Francisco in the steamer Manoa at four o'clock this afternoon. He will go directly to Washington to join William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in a tour of the larger cities of the States where government buildings are being erected. He expects to make his decision within three weeks. It will be announced from Washington.

"Mr. Newton leaves Honolulu a booster for the Islands," said Mr. Franklin yesterday, "and I plan to do much boosting myself during my stay in the States." Mr. Franklin sails in the Niagara Thursday to attend the meeting of collectors in New York.

GOVERNOR ENTERTAINS FOR SECRETARY NEWTON

Treasury Official Pays High Tribute To Hawaiian Charms

Governor Pinkham was host of a dinner for Byron R. Newton, first assistant secretary of the treasury, at the home of Dr. C. B. Cooper last night. Besides the Governor, Mr. Newton and Doctor Cooper, the following guests were present: Judge Sanford B. Dole, William F. Young, postmaster; John McCandless, Dr. F. E. Trotter, surgeon-in-command of the public health service; Ambrose J. Wirtz, Lorrin A. Thurston, Attorney General I. M. Stainback, Arthur Wall, Judge C. W. Ashford, Delegate J. K. Kalanianaole, Gen. John P. Wisser, Gen. W. H. Carter, Malcolm A. Franklin, collector of customs; Senator Charles F. Chillingworth, Riley H. Allen, Territorial Secretary Wade Warren Thayer, Robert W. Shingle, Superintendent of Public Works Charles R. Forbes, C. A. Brown, A. A. Young, John F. Haley, collector of internal revenue; Former Governor Walter F. Frear and Admiral C. J. Boush.

After a toast to the President of the United States, Mr. Newton responded to a toast to himself.

The guests heard the Islands and their hospitality praised in an extraordinary degree. Mr. Newton said that it was not merely courtesy that he had found here, but a deeper heart felt kindness, genuine Hawaiian kindness—which would stay long in his memory. He praised the Islands greatly, and said that he would return some day, bringing Mrs. Newton, that she, too, might enjoy what he had enjoyed and that he would be an enthusiastic booster always for the Islands.

There was music by a sextette of Hawaiian singers.

TOURIST TRAVEL MAY INCREASE ON HAWAII

Efforts have been made to increase the tourist travel over one of the automobile scenic routes of the Island of Hawaii.

The route from Hilo to Kapoho, past the famous lava trees and several Puna craters, including a visit to the warm spring, thence to the native village of Pohoiki, and Pahoa, Kaimu and Kalapana, thence through a region of beautiful tropical forest and coast scenery, hereafter may be made for $8.50. The distances is 120 miles.

Previously the cost has not been standard. L. W. de Vis Norton, publicity agent for the Island of Hawaii, has succeeded in effecting a standardization, he announced yesterday.

ICE CREAM DEALERS MAY BE PROSECUTED

Thirty two ice cream dealers face arrest on the charge of violating the territorial pure food law. The law requires that ice cream contain 14 per cent of butter fat, and A. W. Hansen federal food commissioner, says as a result of an investigation these dealers have sold ice cream containing less than the required amount. One man is charged with having sold ice cream with only 2 per cent of butter fat in it.

WARDELL CHARGE OF OPIUM RUNNING CAUSES SURPRISE

Local Customs Collector Courts Investigation of 'Honolulu Smuggling Ring'

SAN FRANCISCAN SAYS HE GOT EVIDENCE HERE

Despatch Indicates He Will Recommend Federal Inquiry On Officials of Islands

There was surprise in Honolulu yesterday over an Associated Press despatch from San Francisco which said that J. S. Wardell, surveyor of the port at San Francisco, would recommend to the treasury department a sweeping federal investigation of an opium ring said to be operating in Honolulu and the Islands.

Wardell said he believed many officials and residents of the Islands were engaged in the traffic, and that he would submit evidence he gathered while here. He refused to divulge any names.

Surprise was felt that Mr. Wardell should make public charges of this nature after only a brief stay here, and especially after a stay that did not bring indictment of E. P. Winters of the steamer Siberia, against whom he came to testify, for opium smuggling, and, a stay, in fact, that resulted in Wardell being sued for slander by Farm Coran, Chinese interpreter whom he called an "impudent dog," a "crook" an "opium smuggler" and other epithets. This suit is for $5000.

Franklin Courts Inquiry

Malcolm A. Franklin, collector of customs, said the customs office would be pleased to have an investigation made, should Mr. Wardell take to the department anything he may have learned here.

"From the collector to the office boy, we court an investigation," said the collector. "Furthermore, if there is anything wrong with the office, no one is more anxious to discover it than the collector himself."

Customs inspectors are continuously on the watch to prevent opium smuggling. Some is brought in, of course, but the big amount now held by the custom office, to be destroyed by burning, is proof that there is a vast quantity that does not escape detection.

Attempts are made to bring opium here from San Francisco, which would indicate that smugglers find it easier to take it into that port than here bringing it from the Coast because they think there would be less danger of detection than if it came from the Orient direct.

Inspectors Are Thorough

Utmost care is taken by the customs inspectors to prevent smuggling. Many men are caught at the gang plank before they get ashore, and all who might try to smuggle the drug are searched carefully. Of course, there are so many subterfuges that might be and probably are adopted, and so many things to watch, that it virtually is impossible to prevent smuggling altogether.

Any one acquainted with the facts knows, however, that smuggling is at a minimum, and that more opium has been seized during the last year than in any previous year.

This, of course, concerns only the customs officials. Whether Mr. Wardell referred to them as being in the ring is not known.

ABSENT DEFENDANT WINS CASE IN COURT

William T. Rawlins stormed and grew eloquent yesterday in Judge Stuart's court while attempting to have a case in which he was interested go over to a latter date for trial.

"My client, the defendant, is not in court," Rawlins told the court. "I don't know where he is and I need him here."

But Rawlins did not need his client in court at all, as later events proved.

"This case will have to go to trial now; there will be no more continuances. Let the case go on," said the presiding judge.

The trial did go on. The plaintiff's side of the case was heard and the replevin suit of Venzac against J. Fuji was dismissed.

Fuji was not in court, but Rawlins won the case for him without his presence.

CHAIRMAN BERNDT WILL DEPART SOON FOR COAST

E. A. Berndt, chairman of the Hawaii Promotion committee, will leave for the coast a week from today in the Matsonia. He will be gone two months. Business is the principal object of the trip, but while on the Coast Mr. Berndt will look over the field to see if conditions warrant establishment of a San Francisco office of the promotion committee after the exposition. Mr. Berndt also desires to learn the probable results of the Hawaiian exhibit at the fair. His business will take him from Portland to Los Angeles.

WOULD INCLUDE SCENIC ROUTE IN TOURIST TOUR

Arrangements are being made for inclusion in the three-day trip of tourists to Kilauea of a ride over the Hamakua extension line at a cost of probably not more than $2 extra. L. W. de Vis Norton, publicity agent for the Island of Hawaii has the matter in hand.
