MEN WILL HEAR REPLY OF ROADS

Leaders of Brotherhood and Committee of General Managers Meet Monday

New York, June 10.—When the conference between the heads of the "Big Four" Brotherhoods of train and engine service employees, who are demanding increased pay by the adoption of the eight hour basis and the payment of time and a half for overtime, and the committee of general managers representing the railroads of the entire country is resumed Monday morning, it will be for the purpose of hearing the answers of the railroads to questions asked by the Brotherhood leaders in regard to the effect on the compensation of the men, should the Brotherhood leaders agree to have their demands considered on the basis suggested by the committee of general managers. It is believed that these answers will go to the heart of the great question at issue and that dramatic developments may follow their delivery. In fact, some Brotherhood leaders have been quoted as saying that the tone of these answers will determine whether they shall continue the negotiations or break up the conference and go at once to the members of their organizations with a referendum on a strike vote. In the view of the railway managers it is significant that every one of these questions have dealt with compensation rather than with the number of hours the men are kept in service, thus hearing out the railroads' contention that the whole purpose of the present movement on the part of the Brotherhoods is an increase in the wages of the men who are already the best paid employees in the service of the railroads. President A. B. Garretson, of the Order of Railway Conductors, who is acting as spokesman for the Brotherhoods, stated openly in the conference that their Brotherhoods recognize that their demands will cost the railroads more money, though he disagreed with the railroads as to the amount. Grand Chief Warren S. Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, put it more bluntly when he said that it is the intention of the Brotherhoods to "soak the railroads."

The railway managers were particularly pleased with the decision to have the negotiations open to the public, considering this a recognition by both sides of the justice of their contention that in this question the public has a vital and paramount interest and is entitled to all the facts from the inside. The negotiations are being held in the auditorium of the United Engineering Society, a large hall which is comfortably filled every day with the four or five hundred general chairmen and district officials of the Brotherhoods who are listening to the conferences and supplying information desired by the Brotherhood chiefs. The splendid appearance of this body of men has been the subject of much comment, as illustrating the caliber of employees who have been attracted to the service now in effect.

110,000 MEN READY FOR BORDER DUTY

Militia Already Called Out Exceeds 4,500 Men.

HOW THE STATES COMPARE

Doubtful if More Than 75 Per Cent Are Prepared For Active Duty in Mexico—May Call California, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana Militia Next.

The national guard organizations of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, the first state troops to be called into active service as a result of the Mexican situation, total more than 4,500 officers and men of all arms.

It is believed that if other troops are called the next probably will be those of California, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The total number of mobile militia troops available for service is estimated at between 100,000 and 110,000. It is doubtful if more than 75 per cent of these are prepared for the hard duty.

Michigan.—One company of engineers, one company signal troops, two troops of cavalry, two batteries of field artillery and three regiments of infantry, 2,233.

SIGNS OF PEACE?

Dispatches from Berlin asserted that Americans in the German capital believe the time ripe for President Wilson to move for peace. The German official censor passed this statement.

The apostolic delegate at Washington called on the White House with a special message from the pope to President Wilson, reported to contain an appeal for peace.

A Rotterdam dispatch said it was reported in Holland that the latest German note was framed to induce the United States to make peace proffers.

British insurance brokers at Lloyd's will wager only 1 to 3 that the war would not end by Dec. 31.

Two prominent English editors interviewed Premier Asquith's recent speech as extending the olive branch to Germany. Berlin put the same interpretation on the speech.

Financial circles in New York received positive information that a member of the British government stated in a private conversation that the war would end in a few months.

Mail advices from Berlin, passed by the German censor, declared the German people believe the war should end by November and that all the belligerents want peace before winter.

PLUNKETT WAS MARRIED ON EVE OF HIS EXECUTION

Ceremony Performed at Midnight, and He Faced Firing Squad at Dawn.

One of the most poignant of the many tragedies in the grim, sordid drama which was enacted in Ireland was revealed by the announcement in the Irish Times of the marriage of Joseph Plunkett and Grace Gifford. And the announcement lies the story of a well known and honored Dublin family brought to sorrow and tribulation by the great revolt and of two refined, artistic girls, well known in Dublin society, whose lives have been wrecked.

Behind looms the strange, mysterious figure of Countess Markievicz, who played so prominent a part in the late tragic events and who has lifted through all the pages of Irish discontent of recent years.

Joseph Plunkett was a rebel leader, one of the fiercest signatories to the proclamation of the republic who was shot. His bride, Grace Gifford, is a daughter of a London banker, a prominent Dublin soldier. In the gloomy precincts of Richmond barracks, where the rebel leaders were imprisoned, the marriage ceremony was performed at midnight.

Very scarce in this great futile tragedy can have so young the hearts of those who witnessed it as did this hurried joining together in the silent watches of the night of two young lives so soon to be severed by the inexorable decree of human justice. For a few brief hours husband and wife were left together before the last farewell. An hour later, with the dawn of a cloudless sky, the bridegroom stood facing a firing party in the barracks courtyard. A curt order, the crash of a volley and the curtain was rung down on the tragedy of two lives.

The horror of the tragedy was enhanced by the fact that Thomas MacDonagh, another of the rebel leaders who was shot, was the husband of Grace Gifford's sister Muriel. Thus within twenty-four hours both sisters were widowed.

ALASKA'S GREAT DIVIDEND.

Territory Has Paid Back Forty-two Times Its Original Cost.

By the last report of the mineral production of Alaska, which has just been issued by the federal government, one is reminded of the exceedingly profitable real estate transaction that was made forty-nine years ago by William H. Seward, then secretary of state.

The mineral received from the soil of the territory in 1915 represented a value of $32,544,250. This was more than $15,000,000 in excess of the production of the year before. The report also says that since 1868 when mining first began in Alaska, the territory has produced gold, silver, copper, tin and other minerals to the value of $300,000,000. But this by no means represents all the wealth that this valuable northern possession of ours has produced.

Funeral

Of Dr. R. G. Witherspoon Held Yesterday Afternoon at Roberts Church

The funeral service of Dr. R. G. Witherspoon, who died on Friday afternoon, was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Roberts church, the crowd being so large that the church would not accommodate all the people. The services were conducted by Dr. W. V. Frazer.

Many expressions of regret were heard yesterday after the news of the death of Dr. Witherspoon had been learned. He had not only been one of the best physicians of the county for more than forty years but also one of the most highly respected citizens.
