Extraordinary Criminal Suit.

A correspondent of the Bristol (Tenn.) News, writing from Elizabethtown, Ky., gives the following particulars in regard to a case tried at the late term of the Circuit Court:

In the month of June, 1845, a negro-trader came to the town of Elizabethtown, and purchased a negro girl of one Samuel E. Patterson. The trader called himself John Thomas, of Bowlinggreen, Ky. It appeared that he paid Patterson for his slave five one hundred dollar bills, purporting to be money issued by the Southwestern Railroad and Banking Company, Charleston, S. C. The money was soon found out to be fraudulent and worthless, but Mr. Thomas had left immediately with the slave, and was not heard of for ten years.

In 1855 Mr. Patterson thought he had got on the trail of Thomas; and in Claiborne county, Tennessee, he found a man who fully answering the description of the trader that he had him arrested and brought to trial. The name of the accused is Geo. H. Cheek, and he solemnly averred at the street that he never had been in Carter county. On the trial several witnesses of intelligence and respectability swore that Geo. H. Cheek, of 1860, and John Thomas, of 1845, were one and the same. The defendant proved on the trial, by a number of warrants, judgments, and executions, that he was in Claiborne county, Tennessee, ninety-five miles distant from Elizabethtown, the very day it was alleged he had bought the slave. An authenticated transcript from the Claiborne county court, shows that he was acting justice of the peace for that county in 1845, and these old documents were brought up to show that he was either possessed of ubiquity, or could not have been in Carter county at the time John Thomas bought the slave. But the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and sentenced him to three years in the penitentiary of the State.

A CARD.

To the Slave Makers and Slave Dealers.

DESIROUS of warning all persons who are engaged in the Slave Trade, and who may be deceived by false rumors that they may have received or will hereafter receive respecting the price of Slaves here, I will give them the value of Slaves in New Orleans.

Our Slave market is now very much depressed, and consequently we can buy very low. In consequence of the large quantities arriving here and on the way.

Prices of Fresh Boys of good stock to commence by selling here at from $15 to $20; Hospital Slaves, from $20 to $25 and Pipe Slaves from $30 to $35 per thousand of twelve hundred Slaves.

The prospect for better prices will not improve for a long time to come, probably a year from this date, in consequence of the total failure of the wine crop in Europe, and the very large stock of Slaves now on hand here, which is over six mill
