STRIKE DEADLOCK LIKELY TO BREAK INSIDE OF HOURS

While Developments On Surface Are Unimportant, Shipping Men Are Expected To Act

STEVEDORES APPEAL TO COAST FOR HELP

They Also Send Word To Australia That Certain Cargoes Loaded Here Are 'Unfair'

On the surface there was no development in the longshoremen's strike yesterday, both sides standing pat. It is hoped, however, that there will be some action by shipping men today looking towards ending the trouble. There was no general conference yesterday, but, as usual, shipping men were discussing the strike thoroughly.

Union men have made a definite request that San Francisco union men declare all cargoes unfair, beginning with the Matson steamer Lurline and the Oceanic steamer Sierra, both of which are due to arrive in San Francisco today, it was stated by officials yesterday. The former cablegram, in substance, was a request, inasmuch as it said that the cargoes were unfair, but it did not contain a definite request that the San Francisco union act, the explanation of union men here being that they considered the statement of their attitude sufficient.

Australia Also Gets Appeal

Moreover, cablegrams were to be sent to Australia asking union stevedores there to refuse to discharge the Oceanic steamer Sonoma, which sailed for Sydney, via Pago Pago, yesterday, and the Canadian-Australasian steamer Makura, due tomorrow from Vancouver for Suva, Auckland and Sydney, and the statement was made that the Honolulu union men are confident that the request will be acceded to. Australia is one of the strongest union countries in the world, if not the strongest.

Mayor Lane suggested arbitration yesterday. He gave Joseph E. Sheedy, chairman of the maritime affairs committee of the chamber of commerce, a memorandum which proposed that three men from each side meet under the presidency of a seventh man.

Mayor Wants Arbitration

The mayor believes the dispute should be arbitrated, but he admitted that the men are holding out firmly for forty and fifty-five cents, although the closed shop, already abandoned, and the no-discrimination stand, which, in a sense, succeeded the closed-shop demand, have been thrown out altogether. Moses K. Kahue, secretary-treasurer of the union, said that the single demand now was forty and fifty-five cents. The men consider that they are able to guard themselves against discrimination because of membership in the union.

J. R. Galt, chairman of the committee of the chamber of commerce which heard union and shipping men Saturday, said that his committee evidently had finished its work, unless one side or the other sought its services. No request looking towards this was made yesterday. Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said that he had been busy during the day trying to bring about an understanding, but he had nothing definite to report. Mr. Brown thought both sides to blame—the men for going out as they did and the companies for their attitude.

Many Stevedores Available

There were stevedores in abundance yesterday. The Oceanic steamer Sonoma had twenty-two working—enough for her, as she handled very little cargo. It was on the Matson steamer Wilhelmina that the great number was. There were seven gangs, of about 250 men in all, on the Wilhelmina yesterday, and there had been that number Sunday night. She was to be worked all last night. Two trainloads came in yesterday morning. It was stated that there were so many men that all could not be used, and some were sent to the barge Bennington to be ready for the Matson steamer Manoa, due from San Francisco this morning with 7608 tons of cargo for Honolulu. In all, it was estimated, there were 600 men available. Of these, 375 were Filipinos, fifty Hawaiians, 100 Japanese and seventy-five Chinese and Koreans. The Filipinos were not union men, strictly speaking, although many of them had taken meal tickets from the union at different times. This has led to much bad feeling. There was no trouble yesterday and little or no picketing.

Mayor Lane's Attitude

Mayor Lane, who has been following the strike situation carefully in order to keep in touch with all its phases, said yesterday that if the men and the employers had reached a deadlock, the only way to settle the differences would be by arbitration.

"Arbitration," said the mayor, "has been recognized in all civilized communities as the proper way to settle differences. I think the present strike of the stevedores could be settled in this way. An arbitration committee should be appointed to weigh all the claims of the men and the objections of the shippers. I cannot see any better way out of the difficulty.

"Recently when the United States was threatened by a general tieup of all the railroad systems, a committee representing 3700 manufacturing industries, employing more than 3,000,000 persons, petitioned President Wilson to settle the railroad troubles by the principle of arbitration. I believe that he should have made an effort to reach an agreement in this way rather than forcing through expeditionary legislation.

"The spirit of arbitration rules a large part of the industrial world and should be invoked in the present instance. If a just demand need fear the light of arbitration, and no unfair demand can or should survive it."

Women Guests of Newspaper Win Trip In Newspaper Contest

MISS ANNIE E. HORVAT (Left) and Mrs. Stella M. Iddings, Who Are In Honolulu As Guest of San Francisco Bulletin

Californians Come At Expense of Coast Paper, And Glad They Made Voyage

FOUR months of unremitting labor in a popularity contest was rewarded yesterday when Miss Anna E. Horvat of Tormey, California, and Mrs. Stella M. Iddings of Berkeley, stepped from the gangplank of the steamer Sonoma and had their first glimpse of Hawaiian life.

The women are here as the guests of the San Francisco Bulletin and under the supervision of the De Luxe Tours Company will make a tour of the Islands. The sightseeing expedition will begin this morning with an automobile trip around the Island of Oahu.

When seen at the Moana Hotel yesterday the women were enthusiastic in their praise of the little that they had seen of Honolulu.

"The Islands are just wonderful," was the comment of Miss Horvat. And the sentiment was echoed by her traveling companion, Mrs. Iddings.

Then the women told how they had succeeded in winning a trip to Hawaii.

"It was this way," explained Mrs. Iddings. "The San Francisco Bulletin offered a number of prizes to the women who secured the greatest number of subscriptions. I had heard so much about the Islands that I determined to win one of those prizes. So we worked at all hours and under all circumstances. We sold subscriptions in the street, in churches, in movie shows, in sewing circles, in restaurants and in all places where people congregate. The first prize was an automobile. But we are glad that we got a lesser prize for the pleasure of seeing Hawaii cannot be measured in terms of automobiles."

While in the Islands the women will make extensive notes which will be expanded into illustrated articles to appear in the San Francisco Bulletin.

YOUNG JAPANESE ARE NOT HOPELESS

Consul-General Moroi Says They Are Certain To Become Good Americans

That American citizens of Japanese parentage will become good, useful, loyal and industrious Americans, is the opinion of R. Moroi, consul-general of Japan, who has been studying the development of American born Japanese in the Islands.

When asked yesterday by a representative of The Advertiser what conclusions the consul-general had reached as a result of his inspection of conditions on Oahu and Kauai, Mr. Moroi said:

"Americans seem to pay particular attention to the future of its citizens of Japanese parentage. But this is natural, as they are anxious about the citizens of the future. They have had a lesson in the case of the Germans many of whom show examples of mistaken patriotism.

"If Japanese children are not able to become Americanized, as many Americans think, it will be a serious question for the United States. This is why both Americans and Japanese are working to inaugurate a campaign for the education of citizens of Japanese parentage.

"Personally I am interested in this work and never lose an opportunity to advise young Japanese to become useful American citizens. The young Japanese in Hawaii are the touchstone of the ability, loyalty and patriotism in the United States. If they fail in this test the effect will be bad on both countries and may strain the relations between the two nations.

"I believe, however, that the American citizens of Japanese parentage will become useful and loyal Americans. At least this is the opinion formed from a study of this island and Kauai."

MUNICIPAL TAXATION CONTINUES TO GROW

The taxpayers already pay about $40,000 more per biennial period in interest, commissions and expenses on bonds than they pay for schools, City Treasurer Conkling said yesterday. The board of health also gets more than the public schools, the last appropriation having been $889,000. Interest on bonded indebtedness foots up over $700,000, quite a sum to pay on money that has already been spent, he said.

GAMBLING NETS GOOD SUM

As a result of gambling raids made by the police during Saturday and Sunday the city government is $265 richer. In police court yesterday thirty-five defendants forfeited six dollars bail each and eleven paid fines of five dollars each.

LLOYDS TO PRODUCE OPERA THAT FAILED

British Corporation Which Lost On Account of Rain Fathers Open-Air Performance

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 3—The great open-air production of the opera "Aida," which was to have been given in Ewing Field on Saturday evening, and which had to be called off on account of rain, is to be given this evening, under the management of Lloyds of London.

The underwriting corporation lost a premium of $25,000 because of the rain on Saturday, and the object of this evening's performance is to regain this amount. If the receipts go over $25,000, the surplus will be turned to various charities.

This operatic event has been looked forward to as one of the greatest artistic ventures even given on the Pacific Coast. Madame Johanna Gadski is to sing the leading role, assisted by such stars as Julia Claussen, Clarence Whitehill, Henry Welden and Italo Picchi. The chorus is to be more than one thousand strong, with a ballet of several hundred.

MOLOKAI SETTLEMENT INTERESTS SOCIETY MAN

Talbot Hanan, millionaire of Castlewood, Newport, and New York, wants to assist Molokai Settlement. He intends to give a great social function and bazaar in New York this fall or winter, for the benefit of the hospital.

This information was contained in a letter from Hanan to A. P. Taylor, secretary of the promotion committee, received in yesterday's mail. Taylor had written suggesting that Hanan, who passed through Honolulu three years ago, when the liner Cleveland came this way with a large party of round-the-world tourists, revisit the Islands and see for himself the changes in the city since he was here.

In his reply Hanan said that he feared it will be impossible for him to come here soon, but that he wished to be able to do something for the Territory, and asked for information regarding the needs of the Molokai Settlement.

"If it is self-supporting," he says, "we can send it instruments, bandages and the like. Or it is possible that other things are needed. Let me know and we will do what we can to help."

Taylor will send copies of the letter to Brother Dutton, at Kalawao, and Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, head of the board of health, and they will be asked for suggestions which will be forwarded to Hanan.

CATERPILLAR TRACTOR FALLS THROUGH BRIDGE

Stone, manager of the Hawaii Telephone company, sent a letter to the commission stating that his company considered the decision fair, "The decision is just," the letter said, "and will eliminate all chances for argument and ill-feeling between the telephone companies and their subscribers."

SAN FRANCISCO'S AQUARIUM PLANS REPORTED CHANGED

Coast City May Open Large One In Proposed Golden Gate Park Museum

COLD 'THROW DOWN' FOR HAWAII, ASSERTS THAYER

Secretary of Territory Is Much Worried By Rumors From the Mainland

Wade Warren Thayer, secretary of the Territory is much worried by news he received in the mail yesterday, announcing that San Francisco has changed its mind regarding the establishment of an aquarium in the Hawaiian building on the old exposition grounds. The plan now is, Mr. Thayer learns, to open a monster aquarium in Golden Gate Park, where it is proposed to establish a great museum. The plan is being backed by M. H. de Young, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and other influential San Franciscans.

"If that report is true," said Thayer yesterday, "then it is a cold throw down for Honolulu and the Territory, for we have already practically given the Hawaii building to the Exposition Preservation League, and offered to share the expense in maintaining an aquarium with Hawaiian fish.

Letter From Chairman

"Just recently I received a letter from E. O. McCormick, chairman of the committee in charge of that work, asking me to attend a luncheon conference at the Palace Hotel, September 21, at half-past twelve o'clock, in regard to establishing a permanent aquarium in San Francisco. That letter adds:

"'Under the auspices of the Exposition Preservation League, a good start has been made toward obtaining the necessary building and equipment, and they have already secured the cooperation of local institutions, the state and national governments.

"'It is a fact that the food fish of this coast are neither known nor consumed in one-tenth the quantity that they should be. We believe that the establishment of a permanent aquarium in San Francisco on a scale worthy of a great sea port will be of tremendous educational and commercial value.

"'A committee of representative business men had agreed to organize this aquarium under the auspices of the Exposition Preservation League, and we hope that you will meet with us next Thursday to discuss the matter. Please let us have your acceptance on the enclosed card as soon as possible.'

Unable To Attend

"I replied, saying that I regretted being unable to attend the luncheon, and making some suggestions along lines I had mentioned, while in San Francisco. I pointed out that the Territory proposes giving the Hawaii building to the league, and has already given the league a lease for nine months, to cover the time which must elapse before the legislature can grant us permission to dispose of the building permanently.

"I also recalled the fact that I had suggested that it seems but fair that the building should bear some outward sign of the gift, such as a bronze plate suitably inscribed. I also suggested that placards or notices be placed upon the tanks containing the fish, showing where they came from and what they were.

"In conclusion I urged that the league make an estimate of the cost of maintaining the building and at least two tanks of Hawaiian fish, and that the estimate be sent here as soon as possible. I agreed to present to the legislature a recommendation that a certain amount per annum be appropriated for the purpose, on the basis of half for the Territory and half for the league."

FORMER MAGISTRATE JUDGE MAHAULU DIES

Well-Known Hawaiian Passes Away At Beretania Hospital After Short Illness

Judge Archie S. Mahaulu died at the Beretania Hospital at half-past twelve o'clock this morning, after a week's illness.

Friends of the well-known Hawaiian magistrate have feared for several days that he could not survive the attack of blood-poisoning which followed upon an ulcerated tooth.

Judge Mahaulu was one of the better known Hawaiians having been prominent in politics in this Island for many years. He was for a long time magistrate of Waialua, but was not reappointed when his term expired some months ago. Later he became probation officer for the juvenile court, but the loss of his former position worked upon his mind and he was never quite himself.

Judge Mahaulu was well known for his church work and his interest in golf. He was exceedingly popular at Waialua in Hawaiian and other circles. He was a native of this city and aged fifty-two years.

Among those leaving last night for Maui and Molokai in the Mikahala were Mrs. George Townsend and infant, Miss R. Bishaw and Miss A. Foster.
