FINAL SESSION OF CONVENTION TAKES IMPORTANT ACTION

Association Decides To Send Expert To Mainland To Study Refining Values

R. RENTON HIND URGES MAKING OF PAPER HERE

Believes Big Industry Can Be Built Up With Bagasse As Basis of Manufacture

THOUGH improvement of the refining value of Hawaiian raw sugar was the main subject discussed by the members of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association yesterday in the closing session of the thirty-sixth annual meeting, much other important business was transacted during the day.

Today will be spent by the members in a tour of the Waipio experiment station, lands of the Oahu Sugar Company plantation and cane fields of Ewa plantation.

LABOR QUESTIONS

The vital subject of labor, bonus payment and plantation management was taken up in executive session yesterday morning.

Recommendation to the board of trustees that action be taken to maintain a qualified raw sugar expert on the mainland during the coming season to study the refining value of Hawaiian and other sugars was one of the results of the exhaustive discussion in this subject.

The dicussion also resulted in the adoption of a resolution expressing the sense of the association that it is desirable that Hawaiian plantations ship sugar of large uniform grains and not less than one-half of one per cent ash. The matter was referred to the trustees for further action.

URGES PAPER MAKING

Reporting on his investigation of the commercial possibilities of manufacturing pulp and paper from bagasse, R. Renton Hind strongly endorsed the launching of a paper manufacturing business here. The meeting referred the matter to the trustees with a recommendation that a proposal from a mainland firm to supply estimates be investigated.

An amendment to the by-laws of the association was adopted providing that hereafter members becoming one year in arrears in the payment of dues and assessments should be automatically dropped from the association.

FORESTRY REPORT

After consideration of a comprehensive report from the committee on forestry, submitted by L. A. Thurston, chairman, showing the excellent results of reforestation thus far and the urgent needs of the Territory in this direction, the association adopted a resolution urging co-operation between the Territorial and the several county governments and private land owners to put into effect a plan of reforestation, from the standpoint of conservation of water, with particular reference to Oahu. The resolution calls on the forestry department to formulate a working plan and asks that a meeting of interested parties be called at an early date.

WILLIAM G. SCOTT DIES AT KAIMUKI

Former Resident of Maui and Prominent Mason Buried By Local Lodge

William George Scott, of 1633 Eleventh Avenue, Kaimuki, formerly a resident of Paia and Kahului, Maui, died at twelve-thirty yesterday morning in The Queen's Hospital, following an illness of several months' duration.

Funeral services were held at three o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Masonic Temple by Honolulu Lodge No. 409, F. and A. M., the deceased having been a charter member of Lodge Maui. The body was cremated yesterday, and the urn containing the ashes will be deposited in the Masonic plot, Nuuanu Cemetery, next Sunday afternoon.

The deceased was a native of Harwich, Essex, England, where he was born on April 18, 1867, being at the time of his death forty-nine years old. He arrived in the Islands in 1886 and had made his home in Hawaii ever since.

He took an active part in the Revolution of January, 1895, and held in esteem a certificate which read as follows: "This certificate of active service is granted to William George Scott, who served as a private of Squad 17 of the Citizens' Guard of Honolulu in suppressing the rebellion against the Republic of Hawaii during the month of January, A. D. 1895." This certificate is signed by John H. Soper, adjutant general, and Sanford B. Dole, who was commander-in-chief.

Mr. Scott was captain of police in Honolulu during the revolution, and later was appointed deputy sheriff of the Island of Maui, when he removed to the Valley Island. After that he was head luna for the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company at Puunene, Maui, going into business later in Paia. He was for several years license inspector in Maui, and retired from active business in June, last, coming to Honolulu with his family to reside here.

Mr. Scott was twice married, by the first wife there being a son, Walter J. Scott, who graduated from St. Louis College with the class of '16. By the second marriage, Mrs. Scott, who was a Maui girl, and four children, Nellie Isabella, Clare Elizabeth, Jennie Marie and Violet Blanche Scott, survive him.

The father of the deceased is still living in England. There are four brothers, who are all with the British colors at the front in Europe. There are also four sisters living in England.

Mr. Scott was a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of the Loyal Order of Moose. He was a man of sterling qualities and had a large circle of friends.

POLICEMAN DIES MAKING AN ARREST

John Huihui Falls Dead Shortly After Capturing Assailant of Mrs. G. W. R. King

Death in the performance of his duty was the sad but honorable end that fate put to the career of John Huihui, a bicycle officer of the police force, who dropped dead yesterday afternoon at Kaimuki after arresting a Japanese accused of an assault and battery on Mrs. G. W. R. King.

Huihui, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Asch and G. W. R. King, deputy territorial auditor, had gone out to arrest the Japanese. They caught the man in Eleventh Avenue. Shortly after performing his duty, Huihui dropped dead. Death is attributed to heart trouble.

At noon yesterday Mr. King sent word to the police station that a Japanese cook had struck Mrs. King twice. When the officers and Mr. King arrived at the latter's residence they found the man had left the place. They were told the Japanese had gone to Eleventh Avenue, where he was eventually captured and taken into custody. The Japanese will probably be charged today in the police court.

The body of the dead man is at the city morgue, where it will be posted this morning. The funeral will likely take place this afternoon from Silva's undertaking parlors, Kukui, near Nuuanu Street.

Huihui resided at Hala, near Apaki Avenue, McInerny Tract, Kalihi. He had been connected with the police department since April 22, 1912, and was considered an efficient officer. He was a native of Hawaii, about thirty-six years old, and leaves a widow and several children to mourn his loss.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN ASKS CITY TO PAY FOR INJURIES

Mrs. Alice M. Parsons of Los Angeles, through her attorneys, Thompson, Milverton and Catheart, has asked the board of supervisors to pay her $85.50 for expenditures incurred as a result of falling through a water manhole on Hotel Street near the Armory on November 27 last. In a letter Mrs. Parsons, who was a tourist, asserts that she has no intention of benefiting by the city's carelessness and wishes the matter settled without litigation.

She claims the manhole was covered with grass and invisible and that in the fall the ligaments of her left leg were torn and that she was otherwise bruised.

MAUI PROUD OF ITS EDUCATIONAL SHOW

This Section of Fair Was One of the Most Important At Wailuku

The praises of Maui and her untiring citizens in producing so comprehensive a county fair as the one just closed, have been voiced by every visitor to the island during the Fair time. Many of the inhabitants themselves were astonished at the size, the variety, and the quality, of the many exhibits.

They may well be proud also that they came out several thousand dollars to the good to be used in a similar fair next year. But perhaps the most permanent good achieved is evidenced in the great interest shown at the many exhibits housed in the gymnasium of the Alexander Settlement, known during the fair as the "Domestic Arts and Sciences and Hawaiian Curios Building," exhibits of a purely educational and cultural nature.

Beautiful oil paintings of D. Howard Hitchcock, Ambrose Patterson, and E. W. Christmas; water colors of G. S. Rohrbach, artistic photo work from Gurrey's and R. W. Perkin's; excellent amateur photography by Alonzo Gartley, and rugs, mats, innumerable things carved from Hawaiian woods, china ware decorated by residents of the islands; tapas, stone curios, and calabashes, made up this exhibit.

Exhibit Time Extended

So deep an impression did this collection of arts and crafts and curios exhibits, make upon the people, that a demand was made upon the committee to keep this building open Sunday afternoon and all day Monday after the rest of the Fair had closed, so as to give to those who were too busy during the days and nights of the Fair, ample opportunity to study the many interesting displays. This was done, and a number of excellent talks were given in connection with these several exhibits, by D. Howard Hitchcock, J. F. G. Stokes, Curator of Polynesian Ethnology of the Bishop Museum, and Paul Steele of the Y. M. C. A., on Monday afternoon, December 4.

The live-stock, agricultural, and commercial, exhibits in themselves were educational and, therefore, invaluable. But such fairs are certainly worth while when thousands of persons can be so attracted to exhibits of a purely educational and cultural nature as to demand an extension of the time. In the Hawaiian Curios division alone, more than five hundred specimens were brought forth from the shelves or cabinets of Maui residents. Many of these specimens were rare and of unusual design. Visitors at these exhibits were frequently heard to remark, "O, if I only knew they wanted such things, I have several that are as remarkable as any here." The committee, headed by Rowland B. Dodge, feels confident that next year and in subsequent years, the number of specimens will, therefore, be doubled or trebled.

Grat Display of Calabashes

The display of calabashes alone was a joy to the connoisseur. There were two deep shelves running the entire length of the gymnasium covered with calabashes of every size, shape, surface, and quality. It is worthy of note that the success of this curios division of the exhibits of the Fair was due almost entirely to Rowland B. Dodge, who himself collected most of the specimens from the family shelves and cabinets in all parts of the Islands, and arranged them on the exhibition racks. The committee of judges to award prizes for this division consisted of J. F. G. Stokes, chairman, George P. Cooke of Molokai, and R. E. Lambert, recorder. Both Mr. Stokes and Mr. Cooke were enthusiastic about the specimens they had to examine. They spent four hours in these examinations before completing their awards, more than an hour of which time was spent among the calabashes.

Many of the curios loaned for the Fair are of priceless value, and the owners will not part with them at any price. One or two decided to present the more valuable specimens of their collections to the Bishop Museum, and a number of others loaned theirs so that casts may be made from them to be displayed in the museum cases, for the benefit of the general public.

Paul Steele, citizenship-education secretary of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A., demonstrated to several thousands of visitors to this building, by means of pictures and charts and books, the work that is being done for Filipinos, Japanese, Hawaiians, Chinese, and other races, under the citizenship-education committee of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. Rowland B. Dodge is inaugurating the same kind of work on Maui, personally conducting citizenship clubs and classes four evenings a week on the plantations of the island. The assistance Mr. Steele was able to give by his demonstration is highly appreciated by Mr. Dodge and his committee. Most of those who listened to Mr. Steele were members of the races the citizenship work is designed to reach.

BATRACHIANS WANTED TO BATTLE ON GUAM

The Governor of Guam has asked the secretary of the navy for a supply of frogs and toads. According to the reports of the Governor, the island is infested with a plague of snails which is held responsible for a horn disease that is threatening the cattle with extinction and the Governor of Guam wants the secretary of the navy to supply him with a force of frogs and toads to eat the snails.

The request has been referred to the department of agriculture and the department of commerce. As snails are an edible dish, suggests the Army and Navy Journal, perhaps a French cook, who knows how to serve them, might be sent also.

CHOLERA DECREASES IN PORTS OF JAPAN

Cholera in Japan is rapidly decreasing. At Kobe, where the disease has been prevalent, on October 24 no cases were reported.

According to a report received yesterday by Dr. F. E. Trotter, surgeon in chief of the public health service, the outlook for the quick banishment of the dreaded disease in Japan is very good.

At Osaka, for ten days ending November 15, there were only nine cases and nine deaths, a marked decrease.

From August, which was the commencement of the cholera epidemic in Osaka, there has been a total of 948 cases and 574 deaths.

Yokohama is fortunate and through the diligent work of the health authorities at that port, for the weeks ending November 25, there were only ten cases and four deaths.
