ANTHRAX IS SCATTERED BY FIENDS IN MACHINE

Members of Food Commission State That Officials Are Believed To Be On Trail of Devils Engaged In Spreading Disease

EPIDEMIC COMPLICATING MEAT SHORTAGE PROBLEM

Immediate Increase of Grazing Lands For Cattle Is To Be Arranged If Possible By Commission To Meet Conditions

Here are a few of the facts brought out at the food commission conference yesterday with cattle men:

The fiends spreading anthrax among Island cattle are believed to be operating in an automobile along public highways scattering the virus on grazing lands.

As yet no "absolute" evidence of the identity of the criminals has been secured.

In the face of a threatening meat and dairy products shortage in the Territory, the deadly disease is the most serious problem facing ranches and dairies.

Two hundred and fifty animals have already been destroyed by the malignant epidemic.

Two of the best veterinarians available in San Francisco arrive today to aid in the fight against anthrax.

To forestall the proposed material reduction of herds, the food commission will immediately arrange for the opening of more lands, both public and private, for grazing purposes.

IMMEDIATE increase in the lands available for grazing purposes is to be arranged by the territorial food commission as the first step in a campaign to combat the threatening shortage of meat and dairy products in the Territory—a problem made more acute by the anthrax epidemic spread, deliberately, through herds on three islands.

Members of the food commission reached this decision yesterday after a lengthy conference with ranch and dairy men of Oahu, called to discuss the cattle outlook and devise ways and means of handling the situation.

Fear Spread of Plague

Faced by the imminent danger of increase in the anthrax infected area, the present and prospective inroads of the deadly disease on Hawaiian meat and dairy production and the problem presented by a curtailment of cattle imports, the proposed material decrease in Island herds, hastened by the malignant epidemic, and the increased demand on local meat supplies, the conference considered every possible precaution that could be taken to forestall the threatening shortage. The decision to increase the areas available for grazing purposes is only the beginning of a series of negotiations to place the cattle industry of the Islands on a firm footing despite the extraordinary conditions caused by the war and the activities of the anthrax spreading fiends.

Situation Is Serious

The seriousness of the anthrax situation was repeatedly emphasized by the speakers, and it was pointed out as one of the potent factors in forcing ranchmen to decrease their herds and one of the immediate problems that must be solved before the threatening meat shortage could be effectively met.

"The most serious thing facing the ranches of the Territory," said L. L. McCandless, "is the anthrax epidemic. If anthrax ever gets started in the wilderness or forest and highland grazing fields, it will be impossible to stop its rapid run, or to get the serums and vaccines to the herds of these pastures.

Many Animals Dead

"Two hundred and fifty animals in Island herds have already died of anthrax.

"All the centers of infection are pasture lands adjacent to government roads. If the anthrax is being spread by human agency, as we have every reason to believe, the persons responsible are driving along the public highways in an automobile and throwing the anthrax virus into the nearby fields.

"Ranches with cattle in out of the way places apparently have nothing as yet to fear from anthrax unless the methods which we now believe are being used are changed.

NEW MEN TAKE OFFICE

The Fireworks Begin At Once

Mayor Fern Starts Pilikia of a Partizan Nature By Announcing Sweeping Decapitation of Office Holders and Appointment of Bourbons

THE new city administration took office at noon yesterday and started on its way with an internal scrap, which, though small, was the precursor of a general engagement which is expected to bring into play tonight the big guns, poison gases and submarines of the two political parties of which it is composed.

A not unexpected row over patronage, in plain words, a squabble over jobs, marked the beginning of the new administration. John Lane had hardly retired to private life and a contemplation of the unprofitableness of politics and the ingratitude of democracies, and Joe Fern had hardly had time to warm the seat of power after an absence therefrom of two years and a half, when the trouble broke out. And the end thereof is not yet.

It was just after twelve o'clock noon, and the old board of supervisors, headed by John Lane, mayor, had but just adjourned sine die, to the remark of ex-Supervisor Larsen, "Now let the band play for the corpse," when the new mayor, Joseph J. Fern, entered the assembly hall, supported by and leaning heavily on Supervisors William Ahia and Lester Petrie. Fern looked like a very sick man and was plainly unable to stand without aid. A special seat was provided for him and he sat down with his secretary, Palmer P. Woods, at his side and his physician, City Physician Richard M. Ayer, standing near by.

The retiring members of the board, William Larsen and Dan Logan, had sung their swan songs at the final meeting of the board and vacated their seats. Ex-Supervisor Horner was spared the pain of seeing his seat occupied by another, having departed for the Coast to recuperate from the strain of his arduous labors as a member of the board. In their places sat the new members, E. A. Mott-Smith, Charles H. Bellina, Lester Petrie and William H. McClellan.

A large supply of flowers was presented to the new mayor, "Princess" Theresa distinguishing herself by handing up a big bunch of American Beauty roses.

The new administration had hardly taken its seat, having previously taken the oath of office, when the row started. Supervisor Arnold, who is evidently to be the spokesman for the "Solid Five," moved that a credentials committee of three be appointed. The mayor appointed Arnold, Ahia and Petrie. Following a short recess the committee reported back that the credentials of the new mayor and the seven supervisors were O. K. The report was adopted and the roll was called. All seven supervisors—William Ahia, Charles N. Arnold, Charles H. Bellina, Ben Hollinger, E. A. Mott-Smith, William H. McClellan and Lester Petrie, answered "present."

Then Petrie, heading a Democratic bombing party, chucked a fizzing grenade into the Republican dug-out. "I move," he said, "that the rules of the previous board be adopted as the temporary rules of this board pending organization."

Arnold, chief smoke-eater of the Republican faction, promptly emerged to give battle. He moved an amendment to the motion to the effect that Paragraph 7 of Section 7 of the old rules be substituted by a new rule to the effect that "the board shall establish rules of procedure and appoint all standing committees."

The effect of the amendment would be to take away from the mayor the right to appoint standing committees and place it in the hands of the board, which in effect meant the Republican Solid Five.

Petrie hopped up with blood in his eye. "I think it is in poor taste to offer an amendment of that kind at this time," he said. "It only has political significance."

But Arnold refused to be squelched and insisted upon a vote on his amendment. It carried by the significant majority of five to two. Arnold then moved, and it was carried, five to two, that under suspension of the just adopted rules the matter of the appointment of standing committees be deferred until the regular meeting of the board tonight.

After this little but significant flurry Mayor Fern took up his message. He stated, however, that he was not physically able to read it himself and asked his secretary, Palmer Woods, to do so. Mr. Woods did.

Following the reading of the message, Arnold, who was doing all the talking for the Republican side of the house, said:

Promises Cooperation

"On behalf of the Republican majority of the board, I wish to thank you, Mr. Mayor, for that message and to assure you, on behalf of the majority of the board, that you will have the hearty cooperation of the majority of the board in the projects you desire to carry out, so far as we shall find it possible."

That was too much of Petrie, and he got up. "I wish to assure you, Mr. Mayor," he said, "that you will have the cooperation of the members of the board who were not referred to by the last speaker. You will have the whole board behind you."

Then Fern, with the most innocent air in the world, as if he didn't expect to start a bit of trouble, remarked in his sick voice: "I have a second message, which the secretary will please read." Whereupon Secretary Woods read a little communication from the mayor which promptly knocked into a cocked hat any fond hopes of harmony that may have been cherished by the fatuous. In brief, the new mayor started at the top of the list of Republican office holders and went straight through to the bottom, blithely chopping their heads off and appointing deserving Democrats in their places. Only two of the old office holders found places in Fern's list of appointees—Dr. James T. Wayson, city and county physician, and Dr. Richard G. Ayer, emergency hospital physician, who is also Fern's private physician.

The mayor didn't stop with department heads; he went straight down the line, appointing school janitors assistant janitors, fish market janitors and park keepers. This notwithstanding the fact that the old board, just before going out of office, enacted a law which is now in effect, combining the office of superintendent of Kapiolani Park and the public baths with that of general park superintendent, and placing in the hands of the new office holder, A. K. Vierra, the appointment of all janitors and park keepers. And that ordinance being law, even if the mayor did or could fire Vierra and appoint another in his place, the power to appoint the politically powerful janitors and park keepers is no longer in his hands.

His Duty Is Done

Anyway, Mayor Fern has now done his "duty" by Paunhi Street, and when the Republican Solid Five turns down his appointments, as turn them down it will, Fern can say to Paunhi Street that he "done his best".

In his list of appointments the new mayor proposes to oust City Engineer George M. Collins and put in his place John H. Wilson, Democratic national committeeman. He would replace W. L. Frazee as electric light superintendent with William H. Stewart, who used to be a policeman. Fire Chief Charles H. Thurston he would supersede by A. E. Carter, now harbor police officer. The job held down at present by Harry Murray, that of superintendent of the water and sewer works, Fern would present to that vociferous orator of Democracy, Manuel Pacheco, while Harry Juen, sometimes prominent in Democratic circles, will, if the mayor has his way, preside over the city parks and playgrounds in place of A. K. Vierra.

List of Appointments

The mayor's supplemental message, announcing his appointments, read as follows:

"Whereas, by law the terms of office of the officers and employes of the City and County of Honolulu appointed by the late Mayor and Board of Supervisors terminate this day.

"I do hereby appoint and submit for approval the following persons to fill the positions set before their respective names. Such employment to take effect not later than July 31st, 1917.

"City and county engineer, John H. Wilson.

"Chief engineer fire department, A. E. Carter.

"Superintendent Electric Lighting Department and Police and Fire Alarm System, Wm. H. Stewart.

"General manager of Water Works and Sewer Departments, M. C. Pacheco.

"Superintendent of Kapiolani Park, Horace N. Crabbe.

"Superintendent of Parks and Playgrounds, H. A. Juen.

"Purchasing Agent and Committee Clerk, A. Blom.

"Assistant Purchasing Clerk, G. H. Evans.

"Building Inspector, J. Fernandez Lewis.

"Plumbing Inspector, Wm. P. St. Clair.

"Band Master, Robert H. Baker.

"Messenger Mayor's Office, Arthur Kahaawinui.

"Inspector of Garbage Department, Sam Lehua.

"Milk Inspector, John K. Fern.

"Superintendent of Public Grounds and Public Buildings, John Markham.

"Fish Inspectors, George J. Fern, D. L. Kahaleahu.

"Park Keepers, Municipal office Janitor and Messenger, F. G. Robello.

"Mayor's Chauffeur, Jas. J. Fern.

"City and County Physician, Jas. T. Wayson.

"Meat and Food Inspector, David Kanuha.

"Meat Inspector and Veterinary Surgeon, A. R. Rowat, D. V. S.

"Keeper of Public Baths, E. J. McCandless.

"Emergency Hospital Surgeon, R. G. Ayer.

Arnold managed to confuse the issue by moving that Dr. J. T. Wayson be appointed city and county physican. The Democratic minority objected, and the foxy Arnold withdrew the motion.

Arnold next moved that all city office holders remain in office until the matter of appointments should be taken up again. Again the Democratic minority, apparently, however, without sensing the purport of the motion, objected, and again Arnold gracefully withdrew his motion.

Arnold then moved that the board adjourn until seven-thirty o'clock tonight. This carried and the trouble was over for the moment.

During the six months which ended Saturday there were issued by the building department 653 permits. The costs of the building for which these were issued were to be $1,077,585.15. In June there were 101 permits and the estimated costs were $223,542.60.

BRUTAL MOBS SLAY SCORES OF NEGROES

do what they could, they could not prevent snipers stationed on the roofs of buildings from shooting down negroes in the streets below.

Mayor Mullman ordered a number of large motor trucks to go through the districts where the mobs were thickest and take such negroes as they could find to the municipal building for safe keeping. This was done but the crowded negroes fled in a panic when the lights in the building were extinguished in some manner and the report went abroad among them that the mob had attacked the building.

Other negroes formed a barricade near the postoffice and shot into bodies of troops sent by Colonel Tripp, commanding the guard, to patrol the bridges over the river.

This same body of guardsmen met a mob, armed with rifles and torches on its way to the quarters of the negroes in the vicinity of Third Street and promptly dispersed the crowd with a volley fired over the heads of the men and women, and then kept the rioters on the run with their bayonets.

PROPOSES TRADE FOR PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

(Special Cablegram to Nippu Jiji)

TOKIO, July 2—Declaring that the relations between the United States and Japan are now very friendly, and a proposal that Japan should offer to trade her South Sea possessions, largely taken from the Germans, for the Philippines, marked today's session of the imperial diet.

The relations of the two countries were again the main subject of discussion. One of the speakers, M. Ketara, attributed the misunderstanding to the ambiguity of Japan's Chinese policy as it appears to America. He said that Japan is suspected in America of an intention to exploit China. Another speaker suggested a resolution calling for negotiations by Japan to exchange the Japanese South Sea Islands for the Philippines.

Foreign Minister Motono smiled as he said that the relations of the two countries have never been better than at present and that "the cordial understanding is the result of frankness."

JOYOUS WELCOME IS GIVEN TO AMERICANS

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

A PORT IN FRANCE, July 2—(Delayed)—Picturesque scenes took place here when the American troops arrived. As the transports steamed into harbor, in a long line, at an early hour, the news that the Americans had arrived spread like wildfire. Crowds gathered to see the landing. Whistles blared a welcoming din. Bands were hurried to the waterfront and played national airs and cheers went up of "Vive la France! Vive les Etats Unis!" Flags were flown everywhere, both French and American.

PROSECUTION RESTS IN MRS. MOONEY CASE

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3—The prosecution late yesterday afternoon finished the presentation of the state's case against Mrs. Rena Mooney, accused of complicity in the bomb outrage on the occasion of the preparedness parade on Market Street, unless it shall be necessary to call other witnesses or to recall some of those who have already testified in rebuttal after the defense has been presented.

The one hundred and thirty-third witness for the prosecution was on the stand in the trial of Mrs. Mooney yesterday afternoon and when the prosecutor had said that is all and the defense announced no further question the announcement of "prosecution rests" a recess was taken and the defense will begin the presentation of its case this morning.

DESERTER SHOT AND KILLED IS REPORT

An unconfirmed rumor was current among the soldiers in town yesterday that a deserter from Schofield Barracks was shot and killed by a sentry just below the Twenty-fifth Infantry cantonment Sunday afteroon.

It was said that he deserted just after April 6, the day the United States declared war on Germany, and had been living in an out-of-the-way place near the cantonment. According to this same rumor, the deserter was walking past the garden, at which a sentry is stationed, and was ordered to halt. Three times the sentry gave the order, and as often it was unheeded. The sentry then pulled his rifle and fired. It was said that each bullet took effect and that the victim died instantly. Efforts to confirm the story at Schofield last night were unsuccessful.

DEPARTMENT ORDER HITS GUARD HERE HARD BLOW

Turns Down Flat Recommendations of General Strong and Appeals of General Johnson That Militia Be Called To Colors

REASONS GIVEN INDICATE GRAVE MISUNDERSTANDING

Hints In Official Correspondence Show That Washington Authorities Were Misinformed Regarding the Local Sentiment

THE recommendations of Brig.-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, commander of the Hawaiian department, that the National Guard of Hawaii be mobilized for training have been disapproved by the war department, the endorsement to that effect having been received in yesterday's mail.

The reasons for this disapproval, as stated by the department, were similar to those announced to the adjutant general of the national guard several weeks ago by Brigadier-General Mann, chief of the bureau of militia affairs.

In this letter, General Mann stated to General Johnson:

"That decision was rendered by the secretary of war after careful consideration of the several important features involved in the question how to treat the Hawaiian National Guard in its relations to vital economic affairs in that Territory, and not until statements or recommendations of the Delegate from Hawaii and the Territorial Food Commission, and others, had been presented and considered."

The public announcement yesterday—the first clear-cut statement of any sort to be issued regarding the prospect of the National Guard of Hawaii—gave rise to inumerable prophecies that this "finished the guard."

Guard Is Still Fighting

It was taken for granted that this announcement would take the remainder of the spirit out of the guard and that resignations and applications for discharge would do the rest.

This attitude is not shared by the guard headquarters.

Emphatically worded cables have been rushed to Delegate Kuhio asking him to reconsider his recommendations. These cables go from the Delegate's closest political friends in Hawaii, from the adjutant general of the guard and from the food commission, whose original recommendations helped in keeping the guard in the armory.

"The national guard," stated General Johnson yesterday afternoon, "will soon be as strong as ever, within the limits of the new organization. This word from the war department is definite, but it is not final. The letter to General Strong is dated some time back. Conditions change from day to day, and the new recommendations may yet have their effect. The letters I have received from General Mann are such that it is plain that the war department wishes to encourage the guard as much as possible. The department's desire to have in these Islands a strong guard ready for service has not changed."

Cables To Kuhio

The adjutant general cabled to Delegate Kuhio last Friday, assuring him that such information as he had received previously, that led him to believe that the Territory as a whole did not wish to see the guard in the field, was a mistake. The actual state of affairs was put up to him, and there is not the slightest doubt in the minds of local officials that the Delegate will reverse his recommendations to the war department.

Backing up the adjutant general's cable, the strongest political supporters of Delegate Kuhio in the Islands, men whose names are invariably connected with the Delegate's in politics, cabled him that they had read the adjutant's cable and endorsed it heartily.

On top of this, the food commission cabled its opinion favoring mobilization as emphatically as possible. This cable also went back Friday and said, in effect:

"Hawaii is willing to discharge her whole obligation to the nation, both from the military and economic standpoint. The food commission does not oppose the mobilization of the guard as at present consolidated."

BIRTHS IN JUNE MORE THAN DOUBLE DEATHS

Hand Falls Twice As Heavily On Men As Upon Women

Births during June, as reported, more than doubled deaths in Honolulu, according to the statement issued yesterday morning by the bureau of vital statistics. During the month there were 121 deaths and 246 births. It was a month of wedding, also, as June is supposed to be, for the average for the month is more than three couples entering into wedlock each day in June, 106 for the thirty days.

The scythe of the reaper was wielded more cruelly upon the male than the female sex last month for the records show that eighty-four men and thirty-seven women were cut off, infant mortality, however, children under one year of age makes up nearly a fourth of all the deaths, there being thirty, and those under five years numbering thirty-nine.

By nationalities the Japanese fared worst with thirty-two deaths but in proportion to population the toll came heaviest from the Hawaiians of whom there were twenty-seven besides fifteen part Hawaiians. The list gives a total who died of eighteen Chinese, eleven Portuguese, ten Americans, three Filipinos, one British and three of other nationalities.

As usual here and elsewhere tuberculosis was the most common cause of death, the total being twenty-two, and no other disease approached it in fatalities. Cancer, heart disease, broncho pneumonia, cerebral hemorrhage followed each with seven deaths and brights disease next with six. Deaths from external causes also numbered six.

Juso Umido, a Japanese of Lahaina, yesterday filed in the federal court a petition in bankruptcy. He gave his liabilities as $15,331.53 and his assets as $8904, of which he claimed $330 as exempt.
