ALIEN ENEMIES ARE KEPT UPON ROSTERS OF SOME SOCIETIES

Letter From Washington Expresses Surprise That Dues Should Still Be Asked

OPINION OF WRITER NOT COMPLIMENTARY

Fraternal Orders and Social Clubs Have Presented Bills To Property Custodian

"I should think that the fraternal orders and social clubs of Hawaii would strike from their lists alien enemies instead of seeking payments of their dues." This is a part of the seathing criticism of some of the organizations in the Territory which has come from one who is connected with the office of the custodian of alien enemy property at Washington. It is evident he considers the course that has been pursued by such organizations to the credit neither of themselves nor to the people of the Territory.

Since R. H. Trent, representing in the Territory of Hawaii the custodian of alien enemy property, took over the property here of alien enemies, he has been receiving from fraternal orders, clubs and other organizations bills for dues and other club indebtedness of alien enemy members of such organizations. He was puzzled to know how to act in reference to these. It did not seem to him that, under the law and under his instructions, he could pay such bills and so he wrote to the office in Washington for advice. He received the answer yesterday. His instructions are now plain and so is the opinion of the clerk who answered his letter so far as that opinion relates to Hawaiian organizations. Unfortunately that opinion reflects upon all of the organizations of Hawaii nei, no matter whether they have or have not already taken action to get rid of the enemy aliens who were members of their organizations before the war.

Answers to Point

Answering Mr. Trent's letter the clerk says in part: "None of the payments mentioned in your letter can be made. I should think that the fraternal orders and social clubs of Hawaii would strike the names of alien enemies from their lists instead of asking payments of their dues in their absence."

In the mind of the writer the question of "hurting the fine sensibilities" of the enemy aliens does not enter into consideration. He does not go into the fine points of what the constitution and by-laws of the clubs may provide as a course to be pursued ordinarily. It is plain he considers the conditions arising from this war as extraordinary and in consequence demanding extraordinary procedure.

Much surprise was expressed that the name of Georg Rodiek was carried on the roster of some of the clubs of which he was a member for so long a period after his indictment for the conspiracy of which he later admitted his guilt. Similar surprise will probably be felt that organizations here are still carrying on their rolls as members alien enemies and requiring only a continuance of the payment of dues to welcome them back with open arms and with all fellowship when the war is over.

Duvauchelle Can't Monkey With Harbor Board Rules

Though Edward K. Duvauchelle is an overseer of the district of Pukoo, Island of Molokai, and is held to be a "pet of the board of supervisors of Maui" and also a "pet of certain rich men of the Island of Molokai," he is not going to be permitted to monkey with rules and regulations of the territorial harbor board, if action taken at a meeting of the board yesterday carries any weight.

It was charged at the meeting that trading on the esteem in which it is said he is held by the supervisors of Maui and by rich men of Molokai, he has been endangering the Pukoo wharf by mooring a hulk he owns called Arple D to the wharf in a manner contrary to harbor board rules. On the showing made at the meeting yesterday H. R. Hitchcock, wharfinger at Pukoo, was instructed by the board yesterday to enforce Rule IX in Duvauchelle's case.

This rule, in brief, directs wharfingers to take possession of craft that may be left by owners tied to government piers. It was at first suggested that the wharfinger be instructed to cut the offending boat adrift, but a member discovered that Rule IX applies to the case in question and the wharfinger was instructed to enforce this rule instead.

MONTANA BINGHAM AFFAIRS REPORTED

Manager Ballantyne Says Conditions Not So Bad As Seemed Indicated At First

Affairs have evidently not moved with gratifying smoothness with the Montana Bingham Company since C. G. Ballantyne reached Salt Lake City. He believes, however, that from now on prospects will be rosy. Stockholders here have received, or soon will receive, printed copies of a statement which will show why the assessment on the stock had to be made and for what the money so raised is to be used. A letter received by D. L. Conkling from Mr. Ballantyne, president and manager of the Montana Bingham Consolidated Mining Company, written under the date of April 4, contains some interesting information. The letter follows:

"I got your letter of the twenty sixth ult. this morning, with the newspaper clippings enclosed, all of which were very interesting in that they give me some idea at least of the feeling in Honolulu in regard to the assessment.

Values Good Opinion

"While you appear to think that I may possibly not care anything about your personal opinion in regard to this matter, I beg to assure you that I appreciate the good opinion not only of my friends but also of my enemies if I am so unfortunate as to have any. This property has immense possibilities—so large are they that even we who are on the ground and have covered almost every foot of the property do not realize how great they are, but with all that, copper in the ground is not worth a button if it cannot be taken out and milled, and to do this, money is required, which can be provided only by this assessment. Every other means has been resorted to without success.

Will Send Statements

"I have now in the hands of a printer a statement, which will be sent to every stockholder within the course of a few days, which will fully explain not only the status of the property but the purpose to which the assessment will be applied, and I hope eevry one of them will be satisfied with this, as I have, I think, very fully covered the whole situation.

"I can realize that the notice of assessment came somewhat as a surprise, but how could it be otherwise as, if I had given any advance information it would have favored some while being an injustice to others; the only thing to do, consequently, was to give the information in the manner it was given so that not only the stockholders but the public generally would be apprised at the same time, and thus prevent any unloading on the innocents.

Was Ready to Quit

"I can assure you my life since I arrived in this delightful city has been anything but a round of pleasure. I thought I had gone through some pretty tough experiences in the early days of the Rapid Transit, but they were nothing compared to what I have gone through here, and had it not been for my feeling of loyalty to the Honolulu stockholders I would have chucked the job very shortly after I got here. The stockholders do not realize how much they owe to the few Honolulu gentlemen who authorized me to draw on them for $25,000 in order to satisfy our threatening creditors here, as had that money not been received at the time it was, suits would have been instituted, judgments recovered and the property in all probability sold under execution if it did not go into the hands of a receiver. As it is now, everything looks rosy and I have absolutely no doubt as to the future outcome. We have not only a great but valuable property and those who hold their stock, I am satisfied, will have every reason to congratulate themselves before the year is out.

"Yours very truly,
"C. G. BALLANTYNE."

Mr. Conkling is now authorized to receive, receipt for and forward payments of assessments on the stock of the company.

Copies of the statement which Mr. Ballantyne mentioned were also received by Mr. Conkling. This goes in detail into the holdings of the company and into developments and there is also a financial statement. This shows a balance of liability against the company of $506,024.06. This is not so serious as might appear, says the statement, which is made up as follows:

|---|---|
| Bills payable | $35,243.50 |
| Contracts | 11,500.00 |
| Payment account Fortuna Principal | 25,000.00 |
| Payment account Fortuna Interest | 5,000.00 |
| Payment account Tiewaukee group | 37,500.06 |
| Payment account Valentine group | 27,997.05 |
| Accounts payable | 42,717.91 |
| Bank overdraft | 11,865.60 |

will be taken care of out of the proceeds of the assessment and leave a working fund of $33,412.74. The balance of liabilities, $399,600.00, is made up of bonds outstanding $177,100, bonds in escrow to secure payment on the Tiewauke group $7,500, balance on Fortuna group payable in 1919 and 1920, $100,000, and due Honolulu parties on six month notes for moneys advanced in February last, $25,000. The balance to be paid on the Fortuna mine, $100,000.00, is payable $25,000, January 1st, 1919, $25,000, July 1st, 1919; $25,000, January 1st, 1920; and $25,000, July 1st, 1920, all of these payments are to be taken care of out of net earnings. Bonds $177,100, are due June 1st, 1918 it is proposed to have extended to June 1st, 1919 when they will be paid by the sale of so much stock as may be necessary in excess of available cash. The stock in the meantime having acquired a substantial value by reason of the company's excellent financial condition and mine prospects. Bonds in escrow, $7,500, will be released and returned to the treasury upon payment of the balance of $37,500 on account of the Tiewaukee purchase included in the foregoing statement showing the disposition of the proceeds of the assessment. This leaves only $25,000 advanced by Honolulu parties due August 14th, 1918. The notes covering this advance carry the privilege of taking stock at 25 cents per share in lieu of cash, and as the stock at the due date of these notes will undoubtedly be worth considerably more than this price, the company can either deliver the stock if note holders should elect to accept it, or sell sufficient to redeem the obligation. There is now in the treasury 701,332 shares.

PROHIBITION BILL POSTPONED BY WAR

Urgent Measures Take Precedence In Congress But Hawaii's Dry Bill Is Assured of Passage

WASHINGTON, April 4—(Special to The Advertiser)—The pressing demands for important war legislation are delaying action in congress on Delegate Kalanianaole's measure for war time prohibition in the Territory. Following a conference between the Delegate, Chairman Houston, of the territories committee and Representative Hamlin of Montana, also a member of the committee, it was decided to seek a rule to have the measure considered.

The passage of this measure by congress at this session is assured, but Chairman Houston believes that while the measure is a big thing so far as Hawaii is concerned, it must wait action of congress which has many matters of great importance in the conduct of the war, that need immediate attention, such as ship building, aero construction, war finance, etc.

War Measures First

It was hoped by the Delegate to have the bill passed by the house on April one. That day was, however, given up to the consideration of war emergency matters. Chairman Houston has been instructed by the territories committee to take every possible legislative procedure to have the Kalanianaole bill receive early consideration. The only safe thing to do, the chairman and Delegate have decided, is to seek a rule with the understanding that the rule would not be pressed until the legislative calendar was cleared of many of the big war measures that are vitally connected with the vigorous prosecution of the war.

It may be the end of the month, or perhaps early in May before the measure is acted upon by the house. Meanwhile the Delegate, Doctor Wadman and those associated with them in their efforts to banish drink from the Territory for the period of the war are lining up their friends for the fight against the "wets" when the measure is finally called up for consideration.

Letters From Many Soldiers

Delegate Kalanianaole is hearing from many of the boys in the service of the Nation. Hawaiian sailors and soldiers have matters that are vital to them to be straightened out here in the departments, such as their war insurance and allotments to their mothers or wives. The Delegate is taking a keen interest in this work and said: "It is a real pleasure to be able to do these little tasks for the Hawaiians now in the service and the requests for assistance cannot come too strong in numbers to lessen the pleasure of the task."

Many of the Hawaiian boys now on the mainland seeking active service are having trouble in getting into the aviation service, which seems to be the favorite corps for volunteers. Just at present owing to the great number of students and the few machines available for training, the signal service has temporarily stopped accepting recruit students.

SPECIAL SESSION PLANS TAKE FORM

Governor Still Mum But House and Senate Leaders Are Making Preparations

While the Governor is withholding decision on the question of calling a special session of the legislature, plans for the session which leaders of both houses hold to be a necessity to give relief to the Island of Hawaii, are going forward.

Among suggestions that have been advanced is that members of the two houses donate their salaries to the Red Cross and that all costs be kept at a minimum. It is being urged that the session be made as brief as possible and that whatever legislation is needed be prepared for the opening, presented and passed with as little delay as possible. It is particularly urged that in the face of the emergency all partisan politics be laid aside.

Members of the delegation who came to Honolulu to lay before the Governor the need of a special session to enact legislation that will make available funds with which to repair damage done by the recent storm on Hawaii left for their homes yesterday. They carried away the impression that the call for the session is now a matter of days only.

H. L. Holstein, speaker of the house who has expressed approval of the purpose to hold a special session, is expected in Honolulu Saturday when he will take up questions in connection with the matter with members of the house and senate and territorial officials here.

Kilbane will install the Camp Sherman system in the other camps and will go personally to Camps Custer and Taylor.

LIBERTY LOAN IS CHAMBER'S SUBJECT

Members Who Have Bought Bonds Hear of Necessity For Boosting Campaign

|---|---|
| Balance yet to be raised in Hawaii | $1,056,350 |
| Sales yesterday | 101,450 |
| Hawaii's total purchases to date | 2,557,650 |

"Button, button, who's got the button?"

It was a simple inquiry yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the chamber of commerce by A. Lewis, Jr., of the Bank of Hawaii, as he looked around the assemblage of business men representing the biggest corporations in Honolulu, and immediately members looked down at their coat lapels. Many lapels did not carry the Liberty Loan Fund button.

There was a reaching into pockets, buttons were forthcoming and were soon attached to the lapels.

Mr. Lewis smiled and so did L. Tenney Peck, head of the Liberty Loan campaign.

The little inquiry of Mr. Lewis started something. The chamber of commerce, which had little business before it, soon resolved itself into a Liberty Loan meeting and a motion offered by Mr. Peck that every buyer of a Liberty Bond, who has received a button shall wear it constantly, was passed.

Furthermore, every member of the chamber who wore a Liberty Bond button was made a volunteer salesman to effect additional sales from persons around town who do not wear buttons and to endeavor to increase the purchases of those who already have lapel adornments.

Haste Essential

Mr. Lewis said that subscriptions must come in faster than they have. All subscriptions must be in the banks by a week from Saturday. It was necessary to use every means to get subscriptions and reduce the balance due on the whole quota of $3,614,000.

Mr. Westervelt gave some new ideas on the difference between War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds. War Savings Stamps did not meet assessments upon the community. Liberty Bonds did. Therefore, Liberty Bonds must be purchased by those who are in any doubt at all as to what they shall put their money into.

W. A. Bowen asked the bankers present to answer whether, after a person has bought a heavy amount of Liberty Bonds, they would be justified, from a bank standpoint, in seeking more funds through the banks, if their credit was good. Mr. Lewis answered in the affirmative.

The proposition was proper, but the prime object in the sale of Liberty Bonds was to effect such a sale of the Liberty Bonds, so that bonds would not come back again on the market. The object was not to have the bonds come back immediately upon the market. Mr. Bowen said the answer satisfied him and he would profit by it.

Mr. Peck referred to Liberty Bond buttons as an essential thing to display.

Won't Publish Names

The chamber decided it would be unwise to make any effort to publish the names of subscribers and amounts subscribed for, in the Third Liberty Loan.

It was asserted that to attempt to do so now, just as the campaign was in full swing would be inadvisable from many standpoints, but it would be manifestly unfair to many persons, who had placed heavy amounts in first and second Liberty Loan Bonds. In many instances, it was asserted by several persons present, including J. L. Cockburn and W. W. Chamberlain, it was known many loyal people had dug down deep and extremely heavily into their funds to buy the bonds of the first two issues. Their purchases in the third loan were light, in cases, because of sheer inability to raise money in large amounts.

Mr. Chamberlain spoke of one woman who had invested $100,000 previously in Liberty Bonds and had asked him whether she should borrow or go to extremes in securing funds to purchase heavily in this campaign. Knowing her affairs he felt she should not.

"Conscience," said several speakers including Mr. Peck and J. F. C. Hagens was one of the best incentives to persons to dig up their money and apply it to the purchase of Liberty Bonds.

OPIUM DEALERS FINED

William S. Canario and Manuel Ignacio, of Hilo, were convicted in the federal court yesterday of trafficking in opium. The two men were fined $250 and costs each. Judge Vaughan in passing sentence, said that he would send the two men to jail for a long period only for the fact that the territorial prison is now overcrowded.

According to the evidence brought out in the trial, Canario and Ignacio purchased twelve tins of opium in San Francisco for $625. Ignacio admitted having sold three tins in Hilo for $100 each, when he was arrested by the federal authorities. Canario stated that he was implicated in the transaction with Ignacio and assisted in the disposal of the dope.

At Philadelphia—Boston 14, Philadelphia 2.
At Cincinnati—Pittsburgh 8, Cincinnati 1.
At New York—New York 2, Boston 0.
At St. Louis—Chicago vs. St. Louis, rain.

While rain prevented the Cubs and Cardinals from coming together yesterday at St. Louis, three games were played in the National League yesterday. One was particularly good, but the other two battles resulted in rather one-sided scores.

McGraw's Giants won again from the Superbas in New York, the score being: New York 2, Brooklyn 0. This game, which was the best of the day was the only one in which a shutout was inflicted on the losers.

Playing at Cincinnati, the Pirates won easily from the Reds by the score of eight runs to one. The day before Cincinnati shut Pittsburgh out, 2-0. The comeback was more than pleasing to the Pirates yesterday and proves again what uncertain quantity baseball is.

The Braves walloped the Phillies in bad fashion at Philadelphia, winning the game with utmost ease, fourteen to two runs. On Tuesday the Phillies took the measure of the Braves by a 5-2 score.

Yesterday's Results

At Boston—Boston 5, Philadelphia 4.
At Washington—New York 8, Washington 7 (twelve innings).
All other games postponed; rain.

Only two games were played in the American League yesterday, the other two being postponed on account of rain. The weather has on two successive days prevented the Indians and Tigers from coming together at Cleveland. It rained also at Chicago and the return engagement between the Browns and White Sox had to go over for the day.

The Red Sox refuse to be moved from the top of the league standing and yesterday administered the third successive defeat to the Athletics. The game was a close and hard-fought one and the score medium, Boston winning from Philadelphia by the score of five to four runs.

The great game of the day was played at Washington, where the Yankees took the lead over the Senators in a twelve-inning game which resulted in a victory for New York over Washington by the score of eight to seven runs. The Yankees won the opening game of the year on Monday, but the Senators turned the tables on them on Tuesday. The tie was broken yesterday by New York making it two to one for the series so far.

OLD HAWAIIAN TRADER IS RECENTLY PURCHASED

According to information reaching here from the mainland yesterday, the barkentine S. G. Wilder, of the Alaska Salmon Company's fleet, has been purchased from that corporation and transferred to G. W. McNear Inc., recently. The terms of the sale were not made public.

The S. G. Wilder is an old-time Hawaiian Islands trader and in the years gone by was considered one of the smartest sailers then plying in the trade. She was built at Port Blakeley, Washington, in 1887, being of 557 tons net register, 166 fet long, thirty-seven feet beam and fourteen feet depth of hold, with a lumber-carrying capacity of about 725,000 feet.

Yesterday's Results

At Vernon—Vernon 8, San Francisco 2.
At Oakland—Oakland 3, Sacramento 1.
At Salt Lake—Salt Lake 9, Los Angeles 8.

While the Oaks and Tigers remain in a tie at the top of the Pacific Coast League, each of these clubs having won their games yesterday, McCredie's Bees have stolen a march on Bill Rodgers' Solons and Graham's Seals by going over them to second place in the league. The Angels sank deeper in the mire of the damp cellar.

The home boys were all winners yesterday, while the visiting brethren suffered the bitter of defeat. While the Solons on Tuesday shut out the Oaks and piled up twelve runs, yesterday the tables were turned, but the game was by far a better one, the Del Howard crew emerging victorious by the fairly small and close score of three runs to one.

The Salt Lakers delighted their backers by winning again from the Angels by the score of nine to eight. On Tuesday the Bees were also winners, score seven to six.

Tigers Defeat Seals

The tables were turned on the Seals by the Tigers, the latter emerging easy victors yesterday by the rather one-sided score of eight to two runs, while the day before San Francisco managed to slip it over Vernon by the close score of four to three.

ISLAND ATHLETES INVADE MAINLAND

Kruger and Lane, Water Marvels, and Kauhane, Cinder Path Star, Leave Today

Clarence Lane, Harold ("Stubby") Kruger and Noble Kauhane are off today for the mainland to enter school at St. Mary's College in Oakland.

This trio is well known in the Islands and the boys are leaving to conquer new worlds with the aloha of Hawaii nei not only in athletics but in general school work.

Duke P. Kahanamoku, champion sprinter of the world, is staying at home because of a sore leg and, therefore, cannot compete in the one-hundred-yard national swim at Neptune Beach on Sunday, April 28. His absence will, however, not find Hawaii unrepresented.

Ranking among the first five sprinters in the world is Clarence Lane. Outside of Duke, Lane is the fastest century and fifty-yard man in the world today. Hence, Hawaii looks forward to the national championship at Neptune Beach in the hundred yards to see Lane finishing before Perry M. McGillivray of the Illinois Athletic Club. Lane and McGillivray with Duke make up a champion trio the likes of which has never been known before.

Kruger Backstroke Star

Harold Kruger, known throughout the Islands as "Stubby" is bound to figure in the backstroke events and probably in the long swims. Plowing backwards is as easy for Stubby as straight swimming is to the average merman.

"Stubby" is a world's record holder in the century backstroke and it would not be surprising if he takes the measure of Norman Ross when they meet. The other day he negotiated the fifty yards in thirty seconds, which time equals the world mark set by Harry Hebner. Besides his prowess in the backstroke, Kruger can go some in the two-twenty and four-forty. Those who saw him go the quarter with Ludy Langer at the "Y" tank are for him any day in this distance. He may not beat Ross or Langer but with anybody else will be bound to show something.

Gridiron for Noble

Now as to Noble Kauhane. Noble is no water sprinter. The word is used advisably, for while Kauhane can swim as fast as an ice wagon can travel he can speed on the cinder path faster than a racer for fifty yards and most likely a longer distance still.

While being an excellent all-round ball player, basketball man and track athlete in the fifty yards and broad jump, Kauhane is one of the best men who ever donned the mole-skins in Hawaii. St Mary's will have an unbeatable swimming team with Lane and Kruger but with Kauhane in the football lineup something will be doing.

St. Mary's College, whose athletic fame is known throughout the country as is her success in teaching, can certainly thank Hawaii for the presents these Islands have been turning to the advantage of the California school.

It will be a Hawaii backfield when the football season comes, for Correa will be at fullback with Napihan and Noble Kauhane as halfbacks. That Noble will make good no one doubts.

The departing trio represent three Honolulu athletic clubs. Clarence Lane, formerly of Palama, is now with the newly organized Hui Makani; "Stubby" Kruger of the Healanis and Noble Kauhane of the young Waikiki Athletic Club.

GERMAN ENEMIES ARE ORDERED INTERNED

United States Marshal Smiddy received cabled instructions from Washington yesterday morning to turn over to the military authorities for internment Robert John, alias John Hansen, and Carl Koessler, convicted of being alien enemies.

Robert John, who has been masquerading under the name of John Hansen, has been posing as a Swedish subject. He was employed in the sail loft of the Inter Island Steamship Co., when run down and investigated by Marshal Smiddy.

Koessler was found hidden away in the bunkers of the steamer Pommern shortly after the vessel was seized by the naval authorities last November. According to Marshal Smiddy, the man's mind appears to be unbalanced.
