WANTED—THE PATENT
AURORA OIL.
We want men everywhere to study their own INTEREST. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is no more explosive than a tallow candle. A Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney, it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible, the man can make as many as five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bile here, if we cannot prove all we say, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold wealth.

GRAND LARCENY.—A daughter of Ham, who calls herself Harriet Hawkins, was before Mr. Justice Hall yesterday, charged with grand larceny. The Squire being of the opinion that the evidence was sufficient to convict, sent the accused to a higher tribunal for trial.

OUT ON BOND.—The man John Daily, who was arrested some days since, charged with stealing a dray from a driver up in Pinch, was taken before Judge Hunter yesterday, and admitted to bail in the sum of two thousand dollars.

STEALING STAMPS.—John Williams (colored) and his wife were arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Heinrich, at the instance of Ella Black, charging them with stealing from the complainant greenbacks amounting to about seven dollars. The accused will be examined to-day.

ROBBING A PARAMOUR.—Minnie Sargum, one of the black and tan demi monde species was arrested by the Metropolitans yesterday evening, charged with robbing her paramour, Wash Taylor, of a watch and some money. Justice Miller will investigate the matter to-day.

FALSE PRETENSES.—A gay and festive swindler named W. H. Donnelly, was up before Squire Hall yesterday, charged with obtaining several sums of money under false pretenses. On inquiry the evidence was considered damaging enough to send him to the Criminal Court for trial, in default of two thousand dollars bond.

COMMITTED.—A dishonest negro servant, named Sarah Jane Thomas, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Heinrich, charged with stealing various articles of clothing from her late employer. The further examination of the case was postponed till this morning.

W. H. ANDREWS, 278 Front street, whose card is in the APPEAL, is among our most reliable and obliging merchants. He keeps fresh supplies of groceries for plantation and family use, and does a general commission business. Our country friends cannot call upon a merchant who will meet their wants more satisfactorily.

PRISONER AND GOODS.—Officers Miller and Dixon yesterday arrested Jim Jenkins, one of those recently charged with stealing a dress coat and pants, the property of Mr. Chas. Houlton who resides in Chelsea. The goods were found hid in a negro shanty in Carroll avenue. The accused was duly lodged in the Adams Street Stationhouse, and will come before a magistrate for examination to-day.

IN TOWN.—Our esteemed friend Capt. J. Harvy Mathes, formerly of the Commercial and Argus, but latterly of the Louisville Courier, is in the city putting up at the Western House. He looks as well and hearty as in days of yore. His hosts of friends were only too glad to greet him on the streets yesterday. We are glad to say that he remains in our midst a few days.

FESTIVITIES.—The festivities of the season will commence to-morrow night by a hop given by the popular proprietors of the Gayoso House to their guests and invited friends. It will be repeated every alternate Thursday night. We acknowledge an invitation to be present, and shall have occasion to speak of the hospitality of Col. Cockrell and his clever employees hereafter.

STEALING THE STAPLE.—Four negro hands (employed on the plantation of Mr. J. R. Parker, in this county) named respectively, Jas. Tuggle, Jno. Crutcher, Maggie Harris, and Maggie Crutcher, were lodged in Jail yesterday on a warrant issued by Mr. Justice Joque, charged with stealing cotton from the patch of their employer. If the offence can be proven, a trip to Nashville will doubtless be the result.

A WAIF.—The young men composing the Howard Association are in a quandary as to what disposition they will make in regard to an infant about two months old—a beautiful little girl—as to what shall be done with it. Cannot some of our female readers, who feel an interest in the cause of suffering humanity, come to the assistance of these young men, and mother this helpless infant?

DEATH OF VICTORINE.—This promising four year old child met with an accident on the night of last Sunday, which sprained herself about the loins to such a degree as to cause her death on Saturday night. She belonged to Mr. A. C. Franklin, of Nashville, who we understand, had recently refused $3000 for her. She gave promise of ranking among the fastest of American stock, had she lived, and was a beauty.

PERSONAL.—Mr. J. C. Horan, of the firm of Woodlam, Smith & Co., St. Louis, arrived in the city yesterday, on business connected with the above house.

Col. J. A. Brigland, of Cincinnati, is in the city, the guest of our esteemed friend C. F. Smith, agent of the Little Miami railroad.

Capt. Lewis, of the Atlantic and Great Western railroad, is also in town, putting up at the Overton.

MEMPHIS AND CHELSEA BRIDGE. The bridge building by the city at the northern terminus of Chickasaw street, by which the broadest and deepest part of Bayou Gayoso is spanned and Chelsea connected with the city, will cost about fifty thousand dollars. The original contract demanded twenty-five thousand dollars. There are two rows of iron piles supporting the structure quite fifty feet in hight. Three or four other like bridges must be erected, but this will be by far the most costly. The iron work of this Chickasaw street bridge is furnished by Messrs. Cubbins & Gunn.

The sale of the Trezevant lands will be continued this morning, at the intersection of Avery and Trezevant avenues, and under the influence of this lovely Indian summer weather, added to the great attractions of the sale, we anticipate a large attendance, composed of those who are interested both as purchasers and sellers. The example given by Mr. Trezevant, if imitated by others of the large land owners around the city, would give an immense impetus to the growth and prosperity of the city. A pleasant home, at your own price and on easy terms, will always bring bidders.

INSURANCE.—We are assured by the best business testimony of this city that Messrs. Vredenburgh & Sylvester do a safe, prudent and reliable line of insurance. Their object is not so much to obtain a "wildcat" reputation as to secure the confidence of the stable and honest men in our business community, and build up for their admirable Companies an honorable and enduring record. They represent the "Home," the leading Company of New York; the "Security," next in rank; the "Enterprise," of Cincinnati, by all odds the leading Company of the West; and the "Putnam," of Hartford, one of the most responsible and liberal Insurance corporations now represented in Memphis; and the reputation of Messrs. V. & S. is such that we feel no hesitation in commending them to our merchants, shippers, factors and property owners, as a firm of sound and thorough experience, liberal principles, and first class discretion in the acceptance of risks.

MEMPHIS LOYAL LEAGUES.

THEIR NUMBERS, MANAGERS AND TROUBLES.

Scramble for Offices—Internal Feuds.

An Old Citizen Gone Under—Pity Him.

Explosion of the Leagues.

There are five great Loyal Leagues in Memphis. Three are black and two white. The largest is the Brownlow League, having nine hundred black and only five or six white members. The Fred. Douglass "Council" is next in strength; said to be a pumpkin-colored society, of which barbers and mestizos are members. There are from five to ten white managers in each of the black Leagues. Drs. Shaw and Beecher, Judge Hunter and an old citizen of Memphis, now holding a rich city office, by virtue of Conservative support, are members of the pre-eminently black Brownlow Council. The city official referred to, entered the League very recently. One of his colored associates stated yesterday on Shelby street, that his conversion was too late and too sudden. It seems, moreover, that he first sought admission into the more aristocratic Lincoln Council, over whose sessions Dr. Shaw usually presides. Rejected by white men, he found ingress among blacks. How our friend of former years found it in his heart to assume obligations cunningly shaped, to control African temperament and stolidity, amazes and dumfounds all decent people. He has certainly made a leap in the dark.

"Darkness, death and deep despair Reign in eternal uproar there."

There is a white Council that holds its midnight conclaves in Pinch. The dreams of our Irish fellow-citizens have been disturbed by the wranglings of Jim Davis and associates while discussing the relative merits of the several aspirants for the Mayoralty. It seems that Mr. Davis is hard headed, and like many of his partizan friends, who deem colored voters useful machines in furnishing offices to white men, he would have a general convention of all the Leagues to nominate candidates for municipal offices. He has accomplished his purpose, and, as the story goes, all the Councils will convene on the night of the first Thursday in next month to nominate the successors of Mayor Lolland. We hear that there is a curious schism involved by recent incidents in the black Councils. It seems that Northern black men, like the illustrious Toles and Rankin, have come down upon the unletterred, honest, simple-minded cornfield colored population of Memphis, and undertaken the task of engineering the whole machinery of the Leagues. Memphis gentlemen have grown very restive under the domination of Toles and his crew, and Drs. Shaw, Beecher, Hunter, Blewis and the two Post offices, (one on Union, the other at the northeast corner of Jefferson and Third streets), have toiled assiduously to allay the ferment. To a great extent the foreign Oberlin importations have lost caste, and it is with great difficulty that Northern white men hold the reins. In fact, several old citizens of Memphis, of every hue, from a tar-bucket to "Yellow Jack," have intimated their purpose, even in the grounds, to take matters in their own hands and shake off the mastery, not only of Cannady, Rankin and Toles, but even to defy the supreme authority of Shaw, Beecher, Blewis and other white engineers of this double-faced explosive machine. It seems that of the many colored Northern gentlemen gathered here to organize these Leagues and pocket the profits, not one bore a musket in the war. The story has also leaked out that Shaw, Blewis, Hunter, and all the other Loyal Leaguers, were "bummers"—not a single musket-bearing white Union soldier has "whitened" the door of a single Council. These facts look badly, and freedmen are not wholly blind. The whole of this horrible combination, with all its dangerous elements, may therefore be destroyed by the destructive agencies which now give it strength. Many unthinking white men, drawn into the League by past partizan violence, fail to attend convocations of the Leagues. They say that if evils result, white men alone will be held responsible. The repeal of that section of the Franchise Act has been discussed in the Leagues which denied blacks the right to hold office. In the contest for the Mayoralty now conducted so violently by the friends of Beecher, Shaw and Smith, colored voters begin to learn the truth. They ask why this clause in the Franchise Act was not repealed by the former General Assembly, which was clearly invested with the right to rescind the odious prohibition. The present Legislature is very nearly the same, in its constituent elements. Why was the benefaction postponed? One of Shaw's friends has stated, in condemnation of Gen. Smith, formerly, as now, a member of the Legislature, that the "repeal so offended is designed as a fraud upon the colored people. The Legislature seeks to carry favor with blacks, conscious that the Courts must declare that the Franchise Act, save through the agency of a State Convention, can neither be repealed nor amended.

Here then lies the danger. When blacks see how they are humbugged by the Legislature, and bamboozled by Shaw, Beecher, Lewis and the rest, finding themselves simple dupes and tools of cunning, selfish tricksters, they will demand the convocation of a State Convention. In this the so-called rebels will concur. Shaw and his crew will oppose the proceeding. It must come. Delusions practiced by the managers of the Loyal Leagues cannot always shape the conduct of freedmen.

A SUGGESTION TO CITY FATHERS. We do not approve innovations in the names of streets and alleys. Especially does this apply to older districts of the city. If modern law-givers undertake a reform in local nomenclature, let them begin with their own times and suffer the venerable landmarks of the past to remain unchanged. Countless deeds of record make Chickasaw street a boundary line of city lots; saw out Adelphia, as a matter of taste, declare that the term Chickasaw shall be no more. Their decrees avail nothing. The population of Pinch is unchanged and unchangeable. A holder of property in Pinch rarely sells. He deems his home the choicest property in the choicest, most healthful district of the city. He will tell you that Pinch is ever exempt from destructive ravages of epidemics, and that Negropolis is far away. Inhabitants of Pinch are wedded to the past. They are the oldest of our citizens; their prejudices are needlessly wounded, by needless changes, and they refuse to recognize Adelphia streets. Pinch is the only part of the city in which Aldermen dignify themselves by claiming the dignities and honors of the office. On a broad silver plate in Pinch, not far from Chickasaw street, there appears on a door plate, in large capitals, "John Glancy, Alderman," clarum et venerabile nomen. Elsewhere in Memphis are names things, and not elsewhere is the past venerated. The hand of change is deemed sacrilegious in Pinch.

A CARD.

On Tuesday, the 15th of October last, a conversation took place between W. C. McClure and myself, the purport of which was as follows:

1. Mac, are you a member of the Howard Association? to which he replied, that he was not. His name was upon the roll, but he considered the Association a damned humbug.

2. Mac, you are detailed for duty, to nurse some of our yellow fever patients; to which he answered, that he would not wait upon any damned yellow fever patient.

3. Mac, we have telegraphed to Bishop Feehan, of Nashville, for fifteen Sisters of Charity; to which he answered "that this thing of Sisters of Charity was a damned old country superstition, and that he wanted no Sister of Charity to wait upon him if he took sick.

As we my duty, as a member of the Association, I reported this conversation to the Executive Committee and McClure was ignominiously expelled by a unanimous vote. A day or two after he published a card, in which he denounced my statement as a falsehood. I was then confined to my bed by sickness contracted in the discharge of my duties as a member of the Visiting Committee of the Howard Association, and was, therefore, unable to take the proper notice of the card. Upon my convalescence I sought for its author, and learned that he had left the city. Understanding yesterday that he had returned, I again sought for him, and, finding him in a store on Main street, and waiting until a lady who was present had left the store, I presented him a note, requiring him to appear before our Executive Committee and retract his offensive statements, and also make a public retraction of the same in the newspapers, or yield me the satisfaction due to a gentleman. Upon reading the note he turned pale and said he did not want to fight, and upon my insisting that he should accompany me to the back part of the store, he resisted; whereupon I told him to defend himself, and proceeded to chastise him by knocking him down, and after he got up repeated the dose, when he cried piteously for mercy. After expressing in terms more emphatic than complimentary, my opinion of his conduct and character, and my willingness to give him all proper satisfaction when he had the courage to demand it, I withdrew from the place.

I now reiterate my statement to which McClure took exception, and pronounce him a liar, a coward and a renegade.

Deeming this explanation necessary to the vindication of my character, and the information of my many friends, I am,
Respectfully,
JAMES P. GALLAGHER.

AN OLD MURDERER ARRESTED.

IS CHARGED WITH KILLING THE CASHIER OF A BANK IN OHIO.

The Sheriff Causes His Arrest. He is Held for Requisition.

A negro named Joe Warfield was arrested yesterday on the levee, by Deputy Sheriffs Jim Langford and Marsh Taylor, charged with the murder of Mr. Lang, Cashier of the First National Bank, Wilmington, Ohio, committed some time since. It appears that the prisoner had been arrested and imprisoned at Xenia, where he escaped. It was afterwards discovered by the authorities that the accused had shipped as a roustabout on the steamer Emperor for this point. The Sheriff was telegraphed to, and he detailed the officers to make the arrest. When found, Joe was engaged in coaling up. He was immediately taken before Mr. Justice Hall, who, an examination, committed him to jail to await a requisition from the Governor of Ohio.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—A very large audience was present last night to witness "everybody's favorite," Lotta, in the play of Little Nell and the Marchioness, dramatized by John Brougham, from Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop." Of course Miss Lotta rendered her parts well. Her banjo solos and clog dance never having before been equalled, except by herself. Mr. Anderson's "Daniel Quilp" was life itself; and Ellerton, as "Sylvester," never failed to elicit bursts of laughter at each appearance on the stage. The character of "Sampson Brass" was also well sustained. The Apotheosis at the close was very beautiful. A repetition of the programme is announced for to-night. Manager Thompson, with his well known desire to please all, contemplates giving, next Saturday afternoon, a matinee, so that ladies and children who object to going out at night may have a chance of seeing the justly popular Lotta.

GREENLAW OPERA HOUSE.—On yesterday the defendants in the Black Crook case moved for an increase of the injunction bonds from $2000 to $5000, which was granted by the Court, and the complainants ordered to give the increased bond by 12 o'clock to-day. The answer of defendants has been filed, and the Chancellor will probably hear the "Tale of Enchantment" in a day or two.

VARIETIES.—This house continues to draw good audiences, the singing and dancing of the various performers giving good satisfaction. The street is quiet and peaceable.

J. R. ROBERTSON has removed his office to No 48 North Court street, corner of Court and Second.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street, and 363 Main street, have received New York Ledger, Chimney Corner, Literary Albums, Banner of Light, Boston Pilot, Irish Citizen (John Mitchell's New paper), Madam Demorest's for December, American Artisan, La Crosse Democrat, Sunday Times, Police News, Police Gazette, Harper's Bazaar, Round Table, Scientific American, London News, London Punch, Gleason's Companion, Peterson's Magazine and Ballou's Magazine for December, and dailies from everywhere.

CRIMINAL COURT.—William Hunter Judge, Etc.—No cases were taken up on yesterday. In the case of Thomas Pulliam, assault with intent to commit a felony, in which the jury was unable to agree on Saturday, on motion of defendant's counsel the indictment was quashed, on the grounds of no jurisdiction. Col. George Gantt, on behalf of the committee heretofore appointed, presented and read the resolutions in regard to the death of the late M. R. Hill, Esq., and asked that they be spread upon the records and Court adjourn out of respect to the memory of the deceased. Mr. S. P. Rose presented the resolutions in regard to the death of the late D. Nolton, and referred in an appropriate manner to the character and manly virtues of the deceased. Judge Hunter responded to the resolutions and ordered that they be spread upon the records of Court, and that Court adjourn for the day. To-day the case of The State vs. Joseph Donlan, indictment for murder, will be called for trial. The defendant was arraigned on yesterday and pleaded not guilty.

THE VARIETIES THEATER.—This place of amusement has undergone a thorough renovation, and the Manager has determined to add several new and original features, such as no Theater in Memphis has ever yet ventured before. He has now in preparation a series of burlesques written expressly for "The Varieties," and abounding in local hits. The present company, selected with good judgment, is capable, attentive and meritorious—a vast improvement upon that which it superceded. The entertainments provided are pure and refined, and could not but be acceptable even to the fastidious. The notorious dens that rendered the neighborhood of "The Varieties," a byword and reproach, have been removed, and there is no more quiet and orderly part of the city now. Within the Theater, Mr. Broom maintains the most perfect order—in fact, no place of amusement in the city can exceed it in this respect. The entertainment for this evening is well selected for variety, and cannot fail to please the many who delight in humor, eccentricity and the phantasies of Thalia and Terpsichore.

Do not neglect going to Elson's.

This morning, at 10 o'clock, Col. Monsarrat will commence the sale of lots at the foot of Main and near the terminus of the Main street railroad. Don't fail to attend.
