NO CITY of its size in the United States occupies a more proud position than does Keokuk. No city has a more solid foundation. It is a city of homes, of substantial industries--some of them the largest of their kind in the world--a city of schools and churches. Keokuk pays more wages per capita than any other city in Iowa. It is a city loyal to itself, and this page shows what is made in Keokuk, that the people at home may more readily appreciate their duty to local manufacturers and give them patronage in preference to the outside concern.

CANTON COLLEGE WON THE DEBATE

Christian University Students of Canton Defeate Carthage College Students Friday Evening.

CARTHAGE, Ill., March 21.—Miss Evelin Garwood, of Oakland, Cal., is visiting with her family of Mr. Anna Tedd.

John Goodrich, of Chicago, spent Sunday with his little daughter, Grace, and also with his sister, Mrs. L. A. Swain.

Judge Carter, of Jacksonville, was a visitor Tuesday.

Messrs. E. A. Wilcox, Chas. Wetzel and E. G. McAnulty went to Keokuk Friday to see the docks on the Illinois river.

Seamen Manager of Mt. Sterling was visiting with Seamen C. T. Gibson.

Mrs. J. E. Williams, who has been in the hospital at Galesburg, was brought home Friday, but is still in a critical condition.

Mr. J. A. Cliff was up from Quincy Sunday.

Mr. H. Miller, deputy circuit clerk, has moved his family from Lexington to this city and they are occupying the Jacob Palmer residence.

The inter-collegiate debate between Christian University of Canton, Illinois, and the Carthage College Friday evening proved to be one of the interesting events of the season. The subject "Resolved, the additions restriction be placed upon immigration to the United States" was handled well by both the affirmative and negative. The Canton University won the debate, the judges decided unanimously that the Carthage College boys were better in their delivery, while the Canton boys had more convincing arguments.

Mr. Frederick W. Rugg, president of the Bottom Life Annuity Co., of Champaign, Illinois, was present at the debate and favored the audience with a vocal solo. A reception was held afterwards and Mr. Rugg was one of the foremost entertainers.

WAS MARRIED IN KEOKUK

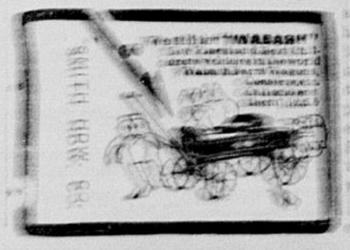
Dean of Mrs. Leonhardt of Burlington Who Married Their Friends in this Vicinity.

Mrs. Leonhardt of Burlington, who is known in this vicinity, having been a resident of Warsaw and being married to Leonhardt. The following interesting account appeared in the Burlington paper:

Anton Peter William was born in Canton, N. Y., May 25, 1848, the eldest of Silas and Pheal William, twin brothers. He was with his parents as a child in Warsaw, Ill., and in Keokuk, Iowa, and became the wife of J. S. Schramm, coming to Burlington immediately after the ceremony. Burlington remained their home. To this union proved a very happy one and Mrs. Schramm had the pleasure of seeing her husband become one of the leading business men of the city and later chief of police, a position he honored and dignified. He was a member of the Pennsylvania church and there he was very well known, his memory will be revered.

She is survived by the following children: Mrs. T. G. Foote, Harry, Frank and Charles Schramm, of this city, Ralph S. Schramm, of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. J. N. Doane, of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. Jessie C. Schramm, of Houston, Mo. Mr. Schramm died in 1899 and two sons, Homer W. and Walter S., have since passed away.

The funeral will be held from the residence, No. 610 Columbia street, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The interment in Aspen Grove will be private.



Every Time Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble.

Our Sensible Iowa Governor.

Carthage, Ill., Journal: Governor Carroll, of Iowa, was not assigned a place in the inaugural parade at Washington because he had no staff, with its uniforms and trimmings and thousands of dollars of expense, with him. But Governor Carroll is just as big a man as he was before and the taxpayers of the state are more ahead because he did not put himself on display.
