FINANCE AND TRADE

FINANCE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, September 25, 1868.

The movements in cotton being light, very few bills are offered on any point, and there being no exchange making, except in the way of cotton bills, we report the market very poorly supplied. Rates are firmer than they were a few days ago. Several of our discount houses are buying at ¾@1 per cent premium on all points East, and selling at ¾@⅞ premium. New Orleans sight is taken at ¼ off to par and sold at ¼ per mium.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 142½ and closed at 141¾. We quote at 139@140 buying. Selling at 141.

A sale of 74 shares Memphis and Ohio Railroad stock at 16c was about the only transaction reported to-day in the way of stocks or bonds. There are orders upon the market for City bonds, on Baltimore account, to be laid down in that city at 50, or say 49 here. This demand covers both City Bonds proper and Navy Bonds, none of which are offering. Memphis and Charleston Railroad, Mississippi and Tennessee, Memphis and Little Rock Railroad stocks and bonds are nominal.

City script is in fair demand. Dealers buy at 72@74 and sell at 76@78.

County Warrants are firm. Large Warrants, 52@56; small ones, 56@58 buying. Selling at 60@62, as to size.

School Scrip, 80@85 buying. Selling at 85@88.

Police Scrip, 80@85 buying. Selling at 85@88.

COTTON.

Cotton, at the opening in Liverpool to-day, was steady—Uplands, 10½; Orleans, 10¾d; and closed flat—Uplands, 10⅜; Orleans, 10¾d. Sales 12,000 bales. Week's sales 67,000 bales, of which 14,000 were for export and 6000 for speculation. Stock on hand 422,000 bales, of which 120,000 were American. Afloat 645,000 bales, of which 200 were American.

The New York market opened dull but rather steady. At noon the demand was moderate and prices firm, with holders asking 24½c for Low Middlings; Uplands, 25½c; Mobile, 25½c; Orleans, 26c; Good Middlings, 27½c; and closed with a moderate demand at firm prices. Sales 500 bales.

In this market the inquiry was very good and holders were disposed to sell. Transactions were fair. We quote sales as follows: 3 bales Ordinary, 20c; 1 bale Good Ordinary, 21c; 3 do., 21c; 4 do., 21½c; 15 Low Middlings, 22c; 4 do., 22½c; 2 do., 23c; 4 do., 22½c; 3 do., 23¼c; 1 do., 22c; 7 do., 21½c; 18 Middling, 22½c; 1 do., 22½c; 7 do., 22½c; 12 do., 22½c; 5 do., 22½c; 8 do., 22½c; 12 do., 22c; 2 Strict Middlings, 23½; 2 do., 23c; 3 do., 23c; 2 do., 23½c.

TRADE.

The sun came out yesterday, and though cool, it was in every way a much more active business day than the preceding one. Prices are about the same on all things except feed, which is scarce and in demand. The corn crop of this region bids fair to be a shortcome, from the same cause that cut off the cotton. The grass worm, in its ravages, did not pass the young corn by without leaving its mark. The shock around the top of the ear appeared to have a peculiar attraction for these all-devouring plagues, and in many sections they have eaten it entirely away, permitting the heavy and continued rains of the last three weeks to completely saturate the grain, causing it to rot, until, as we have said before, in some regions it will not be worth gathering. In view of this, we think that corn will be high in the interior during the coming season, and planters would do well to hold any excess they may have for future disposal.

Never before have so much rain fallen at this season of the year as has poured down upon us for the last two weeks. During this time it has rained almost without ceasing, and the damage to the crops has been incalculable. The wet spell has been taken advantage of by numbers of our merchants, to paint up and put their houses in order for the coming season. J. T. Handlan & Co., we notice, are putting in a new front, which will add materially to the appearance of the well-known Walker Block. Nearly all the plain fronts in the city have been or are being removed and I show windows of fine proportions, take their places. We are becoming metropolitan in our habits and tastes at a rapid pace.

The attention of many prominent points, which heretofore have traded elsewhere, is being turned to Memphis, and if we could only create some enthusiasm among our people relative to railroads, the most sanguine hopes ever entertained about our future might be realized. The Shreveport Southwestern says, on this subject:

Memphis promises to become one of the most prominent cities in the South, in its entire connection and commercial relations, as a depot for both the Southern and Western states. Since 1865 there has been upwards of 2000 new houses erected there, many of them fine stores for the traffic of the best style, and her merchants have enterprise and heart. It would be well for business men and merchants to open trade with Memphis, as we feel satisfied that our merchants would examine stocks and prices, they would find no cause to purchase elsewhere. Let us have a business union. Make inducements to capital, that all our merchants seek the cheapest markets and more ports in connection with this point. Let such combinations be made on the basis and possibilities. It is a more near point than St. Louis and Cincinnati, and consequently would save freight, and at the same time direct trade between the places would be profitable to both.

We would suggest that a profitable trade can be built up with Shreveport, and all other cities along Red river, and that our business men should put a line of boats into this trade. Does it strike you, reader, that our suggestion is a wild one; if so, you have forgotten that the most lucrative business in the South since the war, has been that of dealing in Texas cattle. A boat could at all seasons get all the beeves she could carry at eight to twelve dollars per head freight, which would cause every steer to pay her expenses. These cattle at present are shipped to New Orleans, and from there are re-shipped to this and other ports farther North. We will revert to this subject again when we have more space to devote to it.
