DIVIDE WITH CEDAR RAPIDS

Keokuk Wins First Game Through Kline's Single in the Ninth and Drop the Second, 2 to 1.

NEW PITCHER WORKS

Patrick Hade His Debut and Appeared to Have Something—Bromley, New Outfielder, Hit Well.

Good, bad and various other kinds of baseball were crowded into fourteen innings of pastiming at Hubinger park yesterday afternoon, when the Cedar Rapids Bunnies and the Keokuk Indians divided a double bill, Keokuk winning the first 3 to 2, and Cedar Rapids taking the second game of five innings, 2 to 1. Both battles were hard fought and each was won in the last inning.

Keokuk tried as hard as it was possible to throw the first game, which was a see-saw afair clouded by much uncertainty as to the result. After playing all kinds of erratic ball in the ninth, which enabled the visitors to tie up the count, Manush and his men came back in their half and shoved over the winning count, a timely single by Kline doing the business.

Bromley Hits Ball.

Bromley made his debut, playing outfield, and in five times at bat got a single and a triple, both of which were very timely. In addition he drew a pass.

In the second game a battery of Missourians held forth for Keokuk. Means was behind the bat, as also in the first game, and Patrick a tall flinger worked the five inning period. He hails from Moberly and as the pride of that village was wired to by a local sport writer when the Indians needed a twirler. Patrick was not disappointing in the least, although he had the ear marks of being new to league ball. He has speed and quite a little stuff and with better sport would at least have gotten a draw.

The First Game.

Whittaker and Brown opposed each other in the first game and for the first five inning it was a real pitchers' battle. Not until the fifth was there any scoring. In this round some loose playing gave the visitors a run.

And it all came after two were down. McCarthy singled and went to second a moment later when Whittaker pegged low to catch him napping at first. Manush made a poor stab for the ball, but it was a hard stop. On top of this was placed a single by Smith, which enabled McCarthy to score. Smith pilfered second and Wambsganns lifted a high foul which Kline failed to take in. The batter was retired later on a long fly to center.

Keokuk tied up the count in the sixth. Seneff singled, moved to second on Brown's error, and scored when Jack doubled, Jack reached third on a passed ball, but Miller and Hilly could not score him.

In the eighth Keokuk put another over when Whittaker doubled, Seneff got an infield hit, and Manush tore a safety to left.

Keokuk Erratic in Ninth.

It looked like Keokuk was going to have a big blow-up in the ninth. Ward scratched one in the short field and R. Brown drove one into right. The ball was fielded in to Jack, who might have caught Ward at third. He hesitated until it was too late and then heaved high to Manush. The ball struck Manush's glove and went through, and a run counted. A moment later Jack got hold of a ball and heaved three feet over first, and it was up to Miller in center to save the game. He did so beautifully. First he captured a fly with one hand which he made difficult for himself by not playing the ball well. Next he brought the game to a close by a catch and perfect throw to the plate, cutting down Brown, who had a good chance to score.

Miller scratched a hit to open the ninth with the score tied. Hopes were temporarily blasted when Hilly struck out, apparently on purpose. Bromley singled, Jenkins struck out for Means, and Kline drove a beauty to center which won the game.

Second Game.

The second game was chopped to five innings. For the first three neither side scored. In the third Cedar Rapids got two lucky scratch hits to open the inning and then R. Brown tore off a single which scored a run. The next three men were easy outs.

Keokuk tied up in the fourth when Hilly got to first on a difficult roller to short, and Bromley hit for three bases. The Indian pinch hitter, who was McGaffigan this time instead of Jenkins, drew a base on balls and Kline and Patrick failed to deliver even a long fly on which Bromley could have scored.

Wambsganns' double and Seneff's error gave Cedar Rapids the winning run in the fifth and Keokuk could do nothing with Hofer in her half.

GARRETT TRIES TO ASSAULT FAN

Umpire Went Up Into Grandstand After John J. Crimmins, Jr., at the Close of Yesterday's Game.

ARRESTED AND FINED

Night Court Held by Justice Leindecker and President Justice of of League Pays the Fine.

Umpire Garrett, star indicator man of the Central Association, had a "run in" with John J. Crimmins, Jr., a baseball fan at Hubinger park yesterday afternoon, and after going up into the grandstand when the game was over and trying to assault Crimmins, was landed in jail.

Garrett barely escaped being mobbed by the angry fans and had it not been for the good work done by Officer Barney Conn would have been more roughly handled.

Changes Decision.

A decision at the plate in the fifth inning of the second game started the trouble. Garrett called Wambsganss out and then safe, and this run was a bread winner for the Bunnies. After the decision Crimmins, from a nearby seat in the grandstand, passed a few remarks at Garrett. The latter stepped over and yelled:

"I'll meet you at the gate after the game."

Goes After Crimmins.

The last half was resumed and the incident forgotten. Immediately when the game was over Garrett tore off his mask and breast protector and hurried up into the grandstand. No one interferred until he met Crimmins, who was coming out with the crowd. Quick as a cat, and before Garrett could deliver a blow, Crimmins dove into a clinch.

A hundred fans surged around the two men, with Officer Barney Conn in the midst. Garrett was pulled away and shoved to the ground. Pop bottles were raised and fists moved angrily in Garrett's direction. Lying flat on his back, it looked as though he would be trampled on and badly hurt.

Garrett Arrested.

Finally Officer Conn managed to get Garrett and Crimmins outside and into President Myrle Baker's automobile. They went to the police station, where Garrett was detained. Crimmins did not wish to prosecute, but Chief of Police Kenney filed an information, charging assault and disturbing the peace.

Officer John Leidecker was secured from his residence and brought to his downtown office in order that Garrett could pay a fine and escape further detention. Instead of pleading guilty, however, his plea was one of not guilty and he was committed to jail under $100 bonds.

Justice Pays Fine.

President Justice of the Central Association, heard of the affair and later came around and had Garrett given a second hearing before the justice. This time Justice paid the fine of $10 and costs, amounting in all to $12.85.

Western Polo Tourney on.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 22.—That the victory of the American defenders of the international polo trophy at Meadow Brook, Long Island, has greatly increased interest in the sport in this country was evident here today when the western summer tournaments began. The contests will last through August 30, and will be played on the Colorado Springs Country club's field. On September 1, the Denver Country club's tournament will begin. It will last through September 6. Fives representing eight Colorado clubs, and teams from the cavalry posts at Fort Robinson, Neb., and Fort Riley, Kan., will participate. Trophies valued at $10,000 have been offered.

Drivers Try Elgin Course.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 22.—Race drivers entered in the Elgin races next week took advantage of the absence of Elgin police today to familiarize themselves with changes in the course, though official practice does not open until Monday. Joe Dawson, Bill Endicott, Harry Grant and Ralph Depalma sent their cars around the track at a merry clip and after several laps predicted that the elimination of the "hairpin" curve, a danger spot in last year's races would result in record breaking performances this year. Entries in the Elgin races close at midnight tonight.

No Use to Argue.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The "umpiress"—and in the words of Pitcher Doc White of the Chicago White Sox, who worked with her "believe me she had a good eye and nobody kicked."

Mrs. J. E. Waters is the new lady umpire and she has her first try out at the game promoted by the Lawlawn Business Men's Association. Mrs. Waters umpired bases and White took the more perilous job behind the catcher.

Big Tennis Matches Today.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—Another large society gallery turned out today to witness the Mc-Loughlin-Clothier match in the all comers singles of the national tournament at the Casino. The ex-champion was expected to force McLoughlin to the limit although the champion was a decided favorite. Clothier, however, is playing a wonderful game. The Williams-Law and Whitney-Stachon match today also attracted considerable attention.

Hurts Arm While Warming up.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 22.—While warming up before yesterday's game, Willie Mitchell, Naps' star southpaw, developed a soreness in his arm which may keep him out of the game for a week or more. Mitchell was Manager Birmingham's most dependable twirler.

Hard Hitting Record.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 22.—Thirty-nine base hits totaling fifty-five bases, a season's record, were made in yesterday's game between Grand Rapids and Evansville, the official scorer, announced today. Grand Rapids made twenty-three of the bingles and won, 15 to 8.

Auto Polo Will be Introduced at Hubinger Park Next Week

Auto polo has reached Keokuk. It will be played at Hubinger park every afternoon for four days next week.

It is a new game, and is replete with thrills, and causes nervous shivers to go up the spine of the spectators. This game is said by those who have seen it in the east to be so exciting that there are but few of the spectators who know the score at the end of the game.

In almost every period of the game the machines are overturned or crash head-on, spilling the occupants, and themselves turning turtle, which is not the best thing in the world for the drivers.

Five specially built automobiles and ten men are required to play this game, which would test the skill and daring of the drivers and the mallet wielders. These drivers come from all walks of life, some having been aviators.

To each of the four machines there is a driver and a mallet wielder, while in the fifth there is the umpire and the driver. Two cars are stationed at each end of the field, while the ball is placed in the center. At the signal of the umpire, who is on the side, the cars dash toward the ball at terrific speed that is seldom seen in such small machines. From then on the game depends almost entirely upon the skill and daring of the drivers and mallet wielders.

This umpire has a real job also. He is compelled to see the ball at all times, and this, of course, necessitates his being in almost every mix-up, and there are several of these in each contest.

Five 10-minute periods constitute a game, and each goal means a point.

The game is practically in its infancy, but even as it is now played there are enough thrills to last one for many days. It has come here from the east, where it originated come eight or ten months ago.
