CITY GLOBULES.

There has been no fire alarm during the present month and still the laddies are not happy.

The fair for the benefit of St. Michael's parish begins to-night at the town hall in the Sixth ward.

The Northwestern Poultry exhibition commences to-day in Morton & Wharton's building, on Bridge Square..

The case of William Ramsden, charged with selling liquor to a minor, will come up before Judge Flint this morning.

Trout Brook engine No. 4, which has been out of service for the last ten days, owing to repairs, will be ready for duty this afternoon.

Thomas Grace, Jr., was the recipient of a unique ring yesterday, manufactured from pipe stone, the gift of friends in Nobles county.

At the meeting of the board of public works to-day the city engineer will submit a communication relating to the bad drainage of the district court house, with suggestions for its improvement.

The funeral of the late P. W. Kenny, will take place this morning from his late residence, No. 13 East Twelfth street. The cortege will be preceded by the Pius Ninth society, of which deceased was a member, and the Great Western Band.

Charles T. Jessrang, the 15-year old son of Station Keeper Jessrang, left St. Paul on Saturday for Helena, Montana, where he has decided to court fortune by striking out for his own living. The trip is an extensive undertaking for so young a man, and the spirit shown is worthy of imitation.

The sneak-thief Skinner is at his monkeying again, and as there is no particular love lost between him and the police, he had better leave town to avoid further trouble. Night before last he went through a shanty occupied by a colored family on Robert near Fifth street, making his escape before the affair was discovered.

The new electric light skating rink, located on Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth streets, was formally opened on Saturday evening. The ice was in perfect condition and the enterprise was inaugurated under the most favorable auspices. A large number of persons participated in the sport, and the occasion was enlivened by music from the Great Western band.

A Minneapolis jail-bird, named Mitchell, was released from the bastile of that community a day or two since, having served a four months' sentence for an attempt to blow open the safe in Heffelfinger's shoe store. Yesterday he was found prowling around St. Paul by Chief Webber, who intimated that as the city wasn't large enough to hold both of them, he had better seek more congenial quarters. He didn't seem to "tumble," and was placed in the lock-up to await further orders.

The dramatic branch of the German society gave a delightful performance at the Athenæum last night, being the representation of a new comedy entitled "Kissing in the Tunnel." The plot upon which the play hinges is exceedingly trivial, but in elaborating his idea the dramatist has evolved a series of very ludicrous and highly pleasing situations. The performance was witnessed by a large number of citizens, and the impersonations were marked by some very realistic and decidedly fine character acting.

A few nights since the sleepy town of Minneapolis was visited with another of her frequent and mysterious robberies. A "booze" dispensary, conducted by one Dailey, was broken into and robbed of 700 cigars and two sets of billiard balls. The proprietor of the saloon visited this city yesterday in quest of the thief, being accompanied by a special policeman named Nash. After an all day's search they succeeded in arresting a young fellow named Slaughter, who is supposed to have been implicated in the robbery.

MAJOR WHITTLE'S LAST MEETING.

Christ Knocks on the Door of the Sinner's Heart, and Would Have Admittance.

An overcrowded house greeted Major Whittle last evening, among whom were many of the large number who had accepted Christ under the Major's preaching. Before the service, Major Whittle asked all who had accepted Christ, and all who desired to be Christians, to meet him and Mr. McGranahan at the lecture room of the Baptist church, at 7:30 this evening, this meeting to be for this class only.

The evangelists purpose this week to preach in the outlying churches, and to hold morning prayer meetings, bible meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and the young people's meeting at the usual place.

This closes up a series of very interesting, and it is hoped profitable meetings of eight weeks.

The question now will occur, to what good has all this time been expended? In other words, what good has been accomplished that the pastors of the different churches could not do? How many have been converted? How has the money been raised, and how much? All these questions doubtless will be asked, and not answered, for the reason that it is almost impossible to do so.

Among those interested we think there is but one voice—the meetings have been eminently successful, so far as the number who have accepted Christ is concerned. No one but God can tell, as no record has been kept of the names. As to the influence, the secondary influence, of the meetings it has been great and powerful, and we think will last for years. Financially speaking, the expenses have all been paid, and no public collection has been taken, nor has money been spoken of in public, saving the collection for the rent of the gospel garden.

The remarks for the evening were from Galatians 3:20, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." Major Whittle said: I wish to say a few earnest and solemn words to the unconverted of St. Paul before I leave. Evil has put special honor upon His son; it is He that stands at the door and knocks. He is some time to appear upon earth as the king of the world, but now it is a friend's hand that knocks at the door of your heart. Forget, my friends, the speaker, the pastors and the church; but I beg of you not to forget Him who would come in. There He stands, patient, kindly—waiting on you; but the time will come when He will sorrowfully turn from you. That time has not come yet. You and I are selfish. God is kind and good and he knocks at the door of your heart oh, how often! and in how many different ways! Remember the laws are on your side. God has cleared the way to the door of your heart. The bolt is not on His side, but on your side. Christ, when he was on earth, never went where He was not invited, and never stayed away when he was invited. Many would force God into their heart by some act, but in vain—just open the heart and the Lord will come in. Don't humiliate God in this way. Don't keep his son on the outside, but open the door and let Him in. If you don't open the door it is because you wont. It is not that God does not love you, for he does, and oh so much! Now my friends the last message I have to leave with you is, open the door of your heart and let the Savior in.
