OFFICIAL PAPER OF LEWIS AND CLARKE COUNTY.

The INDEPENDENT has a larger daily circulation than any newspaper between St. Paul and Portland and a larger circulation than any other two daily papers published in Montana. It has no press room secrets; its subscription books are open to inspection, and it is always ready to prove that its circulation is as represented.

☞Entered at the Postoffice at Helena as second-class matter.

THE CEMETERY QUESTION.

The city council is engaged in its periodical wrangle about the purchase of land for cemetery purposes. It is alleged on one hand that the committee having the matter in charge is proposing to pay for a tract about three miles from the city a price at least double what the ground is worth in the market, while others argue that, all things considered, the offer is as advantageous as can be expected, because of the natural prejudice that exists against the location of burying grounds in a neighborhood. The controversy is in good shape to keep for the next six months or for as many years. Meanwhile interments continue to be made in the old dilapidated cemetery, with the assurance that the time is not far distant when the removal of the bodies to some new location will be necessary. In this condition of affairs it would not be amiss were the council to consider the advisability of retracing its steps and abandoning the plan of a city cemetery. There are undoubtedly men in Helena who would be willing to invest a small portion of their money in stock of a cemetery association, giving guarantees that the grounds shall be suitably laid out, improved and beautified, and that the charge for interment or for burial lots shall be reasonable. Such corporations have been found to work well in other cities and there is no reason why they they might not be operated to the satisfaction of all concerned in this city. It is not a part of the functions of a city government to deal in real estate, whether it be in the form of town lots or of lots for burial purposes. Moreover, a large class of people would not avail themselves of a cemetery other than that which has the qualifications required by their church, and to tax this class for the maintenance of a burial ground for the use of others would be unjust. To say that no taxation would be necessary would be preposterous, for no enterprise of the description carried on under municipal control would ever pay its way. The Jews and the Catholics have each their own burying grounds, and neither denomination would consent to abandon their exclusive cemeteries for one to be occupied in common with Protestant-Christians The sale of a portion of the proposed tract to one or both of the denominations mentioned would not alter the relations of the subject. The Catholics will have, and are entitled to have, their own consecrated ground for the interment of these who die in that faith; the Jews, while not holding as tenaciously to the point, prefer to have their own burial tract, and will without doubt continue to bury their dead in ground set apart for the purpose. These facts are potent arguments against the municipality entering the field as the owner and manager of a cemetery. The business should be left to a responsible association organized upon a business basis, and with very little encouragement from the city and county such a corporation can be induced to engage in the enterprise, to the mutual advantage of the members and of the citizens at large. There are many arguments which might be urged against the municipality engaging in this particular branch of business, and some of these may be touched upon in future discussion of the subject.

BLAINE'S FRIENDS.

Mr. Blaine is said to be much disturbed at the predicament in which his friend and political ally, Alexander Sullivan, is placed by the disclosures regarding the operations of the Clan-na-Gael in Chicago. One of the facts elicted by the coroner's inquest in the Cronin case which will stand, even though the accusations of murder should fail, as it is hoped they will, is that money contributed austensibly to aid the Irish Land league was diverted through the connivance of Sullivan and Egan to the republican campaign funds of 1884 and 1888, and the statement is freely made now, as it was in the last days of the canvass of 1884, that if Blaine had been elected to the presidency Sullivan would be given a place in his cabinet. Hundreds of thousands of Irishmen in the United States will differ with the few who pretend to believe that the cause of Ireland was identical with that of the republican party. The diversion of funds to a political party was never contemplated either by the promoters of the Land league or by those who gave of their hard earnings to rescue their native country from the oppressions of grasping absentee landlords. Neither, it is fair to pre-sume, were the mass of contributors aware that the Clan-na-Gael arrogated to itself powers such as it is alleged to have exercised for the punishment of a supposed traitor in the case of Dr. Cronin. It is yet possible for the society to clear itself from the foul imputation, and to prove to the world that there has not been flourishing in the midst of the people of America an association which assumed to supercede the law and to have the power of life and death over its own members or over persons not connected with it.

The distinction between the Clan-na-Gael and the Irish Land league should not be forgotten, for in justice to the latter and its great chief, Charles Stuart Parnell, it can be said that it and he have always shown the most emphatic condemnation of a resort to other than strictly constitutional methods.

Several prominent members of the Clan-na-Gael are likely to have their hopes of political preferment dashed, at least temporarily, by the disclosures at the Cronin inquest, for until the society clears itself of the suspicion of having decreed the "removal" of the doctor the administration will not be likely to bestow its favors upon those prominently identified with the clan. Among those who will thus be forced to wait is Austin E. Ford, nephew of the editor of the Irish World, who was slated for the office of surveyor of the port of New York in recognition of the services the Irish World rendered the republican party in the last two presidential campaigns. John F. Finerty, an applicant for the Chicago subtreasurership, will also be obliged to relinquish hope of appointment, while Richard Kerens, of St. Louis, who has been dictating a great many of the Missouri appointments, will have to take a back seat. Maroney, whom the Chicago police accused of being the actual murderer of Cronin, and who was arrested in New York but released for want of evidence, is said to have been promised a position in the New York custom house. The most fortunate of the clansmen is Patrick Egan, who was appointed minister to Chili as a small recognition of his services in winning Irish votes for the republican presidential candidates in 1884 and 1888.

EVERYTHING points to the entire success of Helena's celebration of the Fourth of July. Citizens have shown a remarkable interest in the affair, and their contributions and co-operation assure a gorgeous procession and a fine display of fireworks, which will make the day a memorable one for residents and visitors. The races will draw a crowd, and altogether the affair will be well worth a long journey to see.

CORPORAL TANNER, whose secretary was dismissed upon the alleged ground that he, and not the commissioner, was responsible for the favoring of the claims presented through one particular pension attorney, has appointed his daughter to the position, which, of course, is a government one. Mr. Tanner has not been slow to learn that a public office, under the present administration, is a family trust.

SPOKANE, the great Montana horse, will try conclusions with the best of his kind at Chicago to-morrow. The result will be watched with interest by Montanians, whose faith in the virtue of bunch grass is something more than "the evidence of things not seen," for have they not seen that the strong-limbed animal has thrown the dust in the eyes of the favorite of the blue grass country?

TERRITORIAL JOTTINGS.

The citizens of Bozeman have subscribed about $70 per month for the purpose of having the Queen City band give two open air concerts a week.

The ranges in Beaverhead county, according to a Mr. S. C. Deflenan, are in a very bad condition. The young grass has been burned by the heat and the Beaverhead river is absolutely dry in spots.

Calumet: Undoubtedly Choteau is the leading matrimonial market of northern Montana. Every marriageable female that ever struck the town has been captured within reasonable limits, but the demand is not half supplied.

River Press: The boilers and engines of the Fort Benton Roller mills are now in place, the shafting is being hung, and in a few days more the mill will commence grinding. The machinery in place is beautiful to look upon, and the mill is one of the most complete in the territory. Everything about it is of the latest and most approved design, and the proprietor, Mr. Kinney, says that its product shall be the best flour to be found in the country.

Bozeman Chronicle: Lieut. J. W. Drennan, of Troop B, Montana militia, has been ordered by the secretary of war, through the governor, to make an inspection of Fort Ellis and report forthwith as to the value of the buildings, their number and condition, together with other facts specified in his letter of instructions. He also wishes to know the causes which led to the present dismantled appearance of some of the buildings. It is evident that the wholesale robbery of lumber, sash and doors, flooring, etc., is about to be stopped and those who have been guilty of openly stealing this material brought up with a short turn.

The many remarkable cures Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes is sufficient proof that it does possess peculiar curative powers.

Sunday Excursion Rates.

As Sunday is the only day which can be claimed as a holiday of the laborer, farmer and business man alike, the Montana Central Railway company will, until further notice, make a special rate of one fare for the round trip, good for that day only, between all stations on its line, thus affording the country people an excellent opportunity of spending the day in Helena or Butte, and at the same time affording the city people a chance of spending Sunday amid the magnificent scenery of the canons of the Missouri and Prickly Pear or Central park.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating — Sick Headache — Heart-burn — Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. I resolved this spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." At Helena, Mont.

The 112th Anniversary of American Independence will be Celebrated at Helena, on THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1889,
WITH GREAT DISPLAY AND MAGNIFICENCE.

The eventful day itself always affords the occasion of a grand demonstration, but supplemented as the day will be by the assembling of the members of the Constitutional Convention that is to form the fundamental laws of the State, probably for a century, will add a significant feature to the anniversary that can never occur again. On the Fourth of July, 1889, the people will assemble at Helena as lawmakers, patriots and citizens to bid farewell to Territorial bondage and join in a general thanksgiving and rejoicing over another year's existence that shall see forty-two stars emblazoned upon the azure field of the grand old flag. At the same time there will be Four Days' Racing at the Fair Grounds by some of

MONTANA'S NOTED FLYERS.

Grand display of FIRE WORKS, MOVING TABLEAUX of HISTORIC SCENES and INDUSTRIAL FLOATS. The city PAINTED RED in the evening by the grandest pyrotechnic display ever seen in the Rocky Mountains, and by the parade of Flambeau Clubs. SEVEN FIRST-CLASS Military and other BANDS will enliven the procession and pageant with appropriate music, which will also give an open air concert, free to all. A distinguished speaker will be announced later as the Orator of the Day. The Declaration of Independence will be given by a distinguished artist. The people of Montana and the adjoining Territories are cordially invited. Excursion tickets will be issued by all the railroads, good also for the races.
