PROPOSALS FOR BEEF CATTLE.

SEALED PROPOSALS are invited until the 15th day of January, 1863, for furnishing to the Subsistence Department 2,000 head of Beef Cattle.

The Cattle to be delivered at Washington, D. C., and each animal to average 1,300 pounds gross, and no cattle admitted that weighs less than 1,000 pounds gross.

The first delivery to be made about January 20th, 1863, or as soon thereafter as Government may direct. 100 head of cattle per day will be required to be delivered under this contract.

A bond with good and sufficient security will be required.

Proposals from contractors who have previously failed to comply with their bids, from disloyal persons, or where the bidder is not present to respond to his bid, will not be considered.

The names of firms should be stated in full, with the precise address of each member of the firm.

Payment to be made in certificates of indebtedness, or such other funds as Government may have for disbursement.

All bids to be accompanied by two guarantees and directed to COL. A. BECKWITH, A. D. C. and C. S. U. S. A., Washington, D. C., and endorsed "Proposals for Beef Cattle."

Form of Guarantee.

We, ——, of the county of ——, and State of ——, do hereby guarantee that —— is able to fulfil the contract in accordance with the terms of his proposition, and that, should his proposition be accepted, he will at once enter into a contract in accordance therewith.

Should the contract be awarded him, we are prepared to become his securities.

(This guarantee must be appended to each bid.)

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of the Clerk of the nearest District Court or of the United States District Attorney.

Bids which do not comply with the above will be rejected. ja 1

GLORIOUS NEWS FROM TENNESSEE!

SPLENDID UNION VICTORY!

THE REBELS WHIPPED COMPLETELY!

NASHVILLE, 10 a. m., Jan. 5.—Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: Rebels whipped and driven from Murfreesboro', our forces pursuing. The rebels are retreating in the direction of Tullahoma. The Lord's on our side! The rebels are whipped and the Cumberland is this morning in good boating condition.
ROB'T B. MITCHELL, Brig. Gen'l.

FROM MURFREESBORO.

OFFICIAL REPORTS OF THE BATTLES IN TENNESSEE.

Details of the Engagements—Five Days' Fighting—Terrible Loss of Life—Murfreesboro' Occupied by the Federals—The Confederates Fall Back to Tullahoma.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 5.—Our advices from Murfreesboro' represent the Federal victory as complete. The entire rebel army is fleeing towards Tullahoma in great disorder.

DISPATCHES FROM GEN. ROSECRANS.

HEADQUARTERS FOURTEENTH ARMY CORPS, Department of the Cumberland, front of Murfreesboro', Jan. 3, via Nashville.—To H. W. Halleck, General-in-Chief: On the 26th of December we marched from Nashville in three columns—Gen. McCook's corps by the Nolinsville pike; Gen. Thomas's from its encampment on the Franklin pike, via Wilson's pike; and Crittenden's on the main Murfreesboro' pike. The left and center met with a strong resistance, such as the nature of the country permits—rolling or hilly routes, skirted by cedar thickets, and farms interspersed by small streams, with rocky bluff banks, forming serious obstacles.

Gen. McCook drove Hardee's rebel corps a mile and a half from Nolinsville, and occupied the place.

Gen. Crittenden reached within a mile and a half of Lavergne.

Gen. Thomas reached the Wilson pike, meeting with no serious opposition.

On the 27th Gen. McCook drove Hardee from Nolinsville, and pushed a reconnoitering division six miles towards Shelbysville, and found that Hardee had retreated towards Murfreesboro'.

Gen. Crittenden fought and drove the enemy before him, and occupied the line of Steuart's creek, capturing some prisoners with slight loss.

Gen. Thomas occupied the vicinity of Nolinsville, and was partially surprised and thrown into confusion and driven back.

Gen. Sheridan's division repulsed the enemy four times and protected the flank of the centre, which not only held its own, but advanced until this untoward event, which compelled me to retain the left wing to support the right until it should be rallied and assume a new position.

On the 1st the rebels opened by an attack on us, and were again repulsed.

On the 2d they skirmished along the front with threats of an attack, until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the enemy advanced in small divisions thrown across Stone river, to occupy commanding ground.

While reconnoitering the ground occupied by this division, which had no artillery, I saw a heavy force emerging from the woods, and advancing in line of battle three lines deep. They drove our little division before them, after a sharp contest, in which we lost 70 or 80 killed, and 375 wounded. But they were repulsed by Negley's division and the remaining troops of the left wing, headed by Morton's Pioneer Brigade, and fled far over the field, and beyond their entrenchments, their officers rallying them with great difficulty. They lost heavily, and we occupied the ground with the left wing last night.

The lines were completed at 4 o'clock in the morning.

CAMP NEAR MURFREESBORO', Jan. 3.—To Major General Halleck, Commander-in-Chief: Following my dispatch of last evening, I have to announce the enemy in full retreat. They left last night.

The rain having raised the river, and the bridge across it, between the left wing and the center, being incomplete, I deemed it prudent to withdraw that wing during the night. This occupied my time until 4 o'clock, and fatigued the troops.

The commencement of their retreat was known to me at 7 o'clock this morning.

Our ammunition trains arrived during the night, and to-day was occupied in bringing up and distributing provisions and ammunition and burying the dead, and collecting arms from the field of battle. It has been raining all day, and the ground is very heavy.

The pursuit was commenced by the centre, the two leading brigades arriving at the west side of the Stone river this evening.

The railroad bridge was saved, but in what condition is not known.

We shall occupy the town (Murfreesboro') and push the pursuit to-morrow.

Our medical director estimates the wounded in the hospitals at short of 5,500; and we have have to deplore the loss of Lieut. Col. Garesche, whose capacity and gentlemanly deportment had already endeared him to all the officers of the command, and whose gallantry on the field of battle excited their admiration.
W. S. ROSECRANS, Maj. Gen. Com'g.

LATER.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 5.—The news from the front continues most cheering. Everything is going on well, and Gen. Rosecrans is now in Murfreesboro'. He has captured rebel trains and is driving the enemy. Gen. Rosseau is unhurt. His Assistant Adjutant General, Maj. McDowell, was wounded in the arm.

The Journal's dispatches say that the fourth bloody fight took place last night. During a storm the rebels again charged us and were repulsed. Our troops hold Murfreesboro', and our advantages are decided.

Breckinridge's division is cut to pieces and routed.

On Saturday our skirmishers decoyed a large number of rebels among our batteries, when we routed them with great slaughter.

Capt. McCallock, of the 2d Kentucky Union Cavalry, says the rebel General Withers was driven almost to madness by the slaughter of his men, and an eye witness says the slaughter exceeds that of the battle of Shiloh.

Gen. Rosecrans and his soldiers are in high spirits.

On Saturday Col. Daniel McCook engaged Wheeler's cavalry six miles from Nashville, routing him completely. All is highly cheering.

The prisoners say that Kirby Smith was in the fight. The rebel canteens were found filled with whisky and gunpowder.

The Murfreesboro' Rebel of the 2d says "the Unionists fought gallantly," and admits a loss of 5,000 men.

The Union prisoners were sent to Murfreesboro' as fast as taken.

Capt. Joe Desha, of Kentucky, was wounded by a shell in the head. Adjutant Card, of the same regiment, was shot in the head by a cannon ball.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 5.—[From an Associated Press Correspondent.]—It is reported that Gen. Rosecrans has shelled Murfreesboro' this morning, and there being no reply, our forces will occupy it at noon.

The rebels had undoubtedly left, and our forces are reported pursuing.

Col. McCook attacked Wharton's cavalry near the Asylum, six miles from Nashville, killing eight, whose bodies were left on the field, and wounding many more. Only seven Federals were wounded.

The following names are to be added to the names of the killed and wounded: Captain Pinney of the 5th Wisconsin; Lieut. Hastings, of the 25th Illinois, and all the commissioned officers and sergeants of companies G, L and K are killed or disabled; Col. Scott, of the 19th Illinois, is seriously wounded. Capt. Austin, of Gen. Woodruff's staff, was taken prisoner.

Private dispatches say that the rebels, in their retreat, are burning cotton wherever they can get at it.

A number of Jews are concentrating here and at Cairo, and have appointed deputations to proceed to Washington to remonstrate against Gen. Grant's order expelling Jews from territory occupied by the Union forces.

All the reports circulated of Rosecrans having retreated to Nashville are false. The fight to-day is supposed to be in the vicinity of Christiana. The intervention of rebel cavalry between Nashville and Christiana makes it difficult to get news, but everything thus far is favorable to the ultimate success to the Union arms.

THE LATEST.

The Final Attack and Repulse of the Rebels—They Retreat to Tullahoma.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 5.—[From Associated Press Correspondent.]—The rebels again attacked our forces on Saturday afternoon. We were posted strongly in rifle-pits, and they were repulsed with terrible slaughter.

The fight continued for two hours.

At 1 o'clock on Sunday morning the rebels commenced to retreat, and Stanley's Cavalry entered Murfreesboro' and captured prisoners, guns, stores, &c.

The Federal troops on Sunday morning occupied Murfreesboro'.

The enemy have gone to Tullahoma, near the Alabama line.

The mail from Louisville arrived here tonight.

Five thousand four hundred of our wounded are in Murfreesboro'.

There are no rebel troops or guerillas on the road from Murfreesboro' hither.

The rebel Gen. Cheatham is reported to have been killed by a shell in a house at Murfreesboro'. Gen. McOwen (rebel) is certainly killed.

The enemy have been thoroughly whipped out.

Other sources of information say the Federals are driving the rebels towards Tullahoma.

INTERRUPTION OF THE REBEL RAILROAD COMMUNICATIONS.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 5.—A letter from Barboursville, Ky., says that Col. Carter did not attempt to capture Knoxville, but going eastward, cut the Tennessee and Virginia railroad, thus lessening the chance of the rebels augmenting their western forces from Richmond, which it is supposed they are attempting to do.

The Southern line is now in good working order, but was interrupted all this forenoon.

FURTHER FROM THE BATTLE-FIELD.

[Dispatches to the Philadelphia Press.]

NASHVILLE, Jan. 5, P. M.—An army courier has just arrived here from the battle-field, on Stone's river, with official reports for the United States Government, and the following dispatches from the special correspondent of The Press at Gen Rosecrans' headquarters.

MURFREESBORO, Jan. 5.—Noon—There was a terrific rain storm here yesterday. Almost every brook was flooded, but owing to a strong wind prevailing after the storm our operations have not been materially impeded.

Heavy cannonading was heard on the left of our line during last night for some hours.

The rebels attacked us in great force yesterday morning along our entire line, advancing under our terrible fire in the most desperate manner. Our men were in rifle-pits, and resisted the different onsets of the enemy in fine style, creating great havoc among the rebels.

Observing the advantage gained, Gen. Rosecrans ordered a charge of the whole army, and drove the rebels across the Stone river in great confusion, and with terrible slaughter.

The gallant 77th Pennsylvania Volunteers, from Lancaster county, under command of their fearless and skilful leader, Col. Hambright, were the first to cross Stone river and engage the enemy on the other side. Their steadiness under fire was remarked by all. They went at the rebels with a "yell" that made made the woods ring again. The war-cry was "The Keystone must conquer!"

Having crossed the river, our troops advanced at once towards Murfreesboro, shelled that village before advancing. The rebels again fell back, and our troops entered the city in triumph this morning.

Most of the rebels ran off last night towards Tullahoma, a disorganized mobbish army.

They buried their dead partially, before leaving, and also buried the bodies of some of our officers.

The body of brave General Sill was recovered near the spot where he fell on New Year's Day, at Spencer's Mill, to the left of the town.

Wounded rebels were found in hundreds in the houses of Murfreesboro, unattended and screaming for aid and attention.

Many houses in the town were demolished by our shells, when our forces were advancing upon it for the second time.

The rebels have retreated rapidly, but Gen. Rosecrans has despatched Gen. Stanley with his gallant light division after them. His cavalry are now engaged with the rear guard of the enemy.

Spies who have just arrived confirm the report of deserters that the main army of the rebels is at Tullahoma in terrible condition.

General Rosecrans says that much of our success is due to the destruction of the Virginia and East Tennessee Railroad by the Knoxville and Pound Gap expeditions.

We have seen more than two thousand prisoners at Nashville, and have many here with us. Our cavalry are bringing them in rapidly, and desertions are numerous.

Colonel Stope's regiment is now guarding a thousand of the rebel ragamuffins here.

The rebel loss far exceeds ours, and is tremendous.

I think that our loss will reach eight thousand killed, wounded, and missing, and perhaps more. It is thought that we have lost about four thousand prisoners.

Many of our noble regiments were shattered very much and weakened during the engagements, but they are in the very best of spirits, and are exulting over the victory. They say they have a general now that knows how to corner Bragg.

About fifteen hundred of our wounded were sent to Nashville to-day.

The battle proper lasted for four days.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

CAPE RACE, (via St. John's,) Jan. 4.—The steamer City of Washington, from Liverpool on the 24th ult., via Queenstown on the 25th, passed here at 7 o'clock this morning.

The steamer Hibernia had arrived out.

The ship R. T. Parsons was lost off Donegal, and the first and third officers and five seamen were drowned. The ship Rialto was also lost on the rocks near Glasgow.

The Paris correspondent of the London Herald gives a rumor of another attempt of the Great Powers to terminate the American strife.

It is semi-officially denied that L'Huys had spoken to the foreign ministers as to the advisability of mediation. The Patrie asserts that President Lincoln, on demand of Spain, had cashiered the captain of the gunboat Montgomery, and promised indemnity.

The Liverpool Journal of Commerce says that the government has issued orders that the Alabama be warned from all British ports, and notice given that if any more British property be destroyed the government will at once take steps to destroy the Alabama. The Shipping Gazette contradicts this statement, and is sure that the government will not consider itself justified in stopping the cruise of the Alabama.

The Times editorially ridicules the idea of the government being held accountable for the doings of the Alabama.

The Times has a letter from Lieut. Maury against President Lincoln, repudiating the idea of re-union. He says the South is well supplied with arms, and asserts that the customs receipts at Charleston in July was greater than during the same month for ten years.

Many of the journals attack the recent diplomatic correspondence laid before Congress, denouncing its tenor. The Times believes the tone of the government has not been faithful to the feelings of the American people.

In the Spanish Senate, General Concha opposed the policy of Gen Prim, and avowed himself in favor of a monarchy for Mexico, but of a Spanish Prince for the throne. The remarks of Senor Callante had given offense to the French government, and explanations were demanded and a satisfactory response given.

The Liverpool cotton market closed buoyant, and had recovered from the depression in prices. All qualities had slightly advanced. Breadstuffs were quiet but steady. Red Western Wheat 8s 1d a 9s 8d; Southern 9s 10d; white Western 10s a 11s; Southern 11s a 12s. Mixed corn tending upwards; sales at 28s 6d a 29s 9d; white dull. Provisions dull. Bacon declining. Tallow flat.

It is said that the Greek Assembly will confirm Prince Alfred as King. Count Hunda has also been spoken of for the throne.

Garibaldi had embarked for Capria, but returned to Leghorn, owing to a storm.
