means all in the comfort of your glasses. This is why I no often hear the pleasing remark "Dr. Campbell I am delighted with my glasses." I laid the foundation for this remark in the examination room, it being equipped with the very latest appliances that science has imparted to man for making a differential diagnosis of your eye trouble, hence, guess work is eliminated. Then being able to enter into the spirit of one having eye trouble same nature as yours, I design and grind the glasses to please, and adjust them to the contour of the face. That's just what you get here and you couldn't get better in New York or Paris and the cost is small.

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theodor's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.
Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.
I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.
We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.
Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.
It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

A VAST QUANTITY OF FEED AVAILABLE FOR CATTLE BEING WASTED

Washington, D. C., June 23.—A vast quantity of feed available for cattle is now either wasted absolutely or put to some less profitable use, says a recent report which the department of agriculture has just published as Part IV of a comprehensive survey of the entire meat situation in the United States. Failure to utilize the full value of this material has increased unnecessarily the cost of producing meat, has diminished the profits from cattle feeding, and has discouraged many farmers from engaging in an industry essential to their permanent prosperity.

According to the report already mentioned, the loss in grain straw and corn stover amounts to more than $100,000,000 annually. Both of these products are disposed of most economically when fed to cattle in connection with some form of concentrated feed. Straw is especially valuable in carrying the breeding herd through the winter, in watering stockers, and as a supplementary roughage for fattening cattle. Stover, too, is excellent feed for wintering cattle, especially mature breeding cows. Nevertheless, in many sections of the country where these products are abundant, little attempt is made to take advantage of their value for these purposes.

Of an annual straw crop of approximately 120,000,000 tons, it is estimated that only two-thirds if put to its best use—live stock production. Of the remainder a little more than one-half is sold or turned under and the rest—15 per cent of the total crop—is burned. Burning is practically an absolute waste and although plowing under does contribute something to soil fertility, the benefit to the land is less than that which would be derived from the use of the straw to produce manure. "Of all systems of obtaining permanent soil fertility," says the report, "none is so practically or as easily available as that of feeding live stock."

The average value of all kinds of straw is placed at about $5 a ton. In many sections, of course, no such price can be realized for it, and as a matter of fact only about 8 per cent of the crop actually is sold. The figure mentioned, however, may be taken as representing the value to the farmer of straw if he will use it properly in his farming operations as feed or bedding. In order to illustrate how this may be done the report gives three sample rations for wintering a breeding herd of best cattle on straw combined with silage, shock corn, and cottonseed or linseed meal. Any one of these rations, it is said, will prove economical. They are as follows:

Rations for Wintering Breeding Cows
Ration 1	Pounds
Straw	10
Silage	20
Cottonseed meal or linseed meal 1-2	20
Ration 2:
Straw	20
Cottonseed cake or oil cake	3
Ration 3:
Straw	10
Shock corn	10
Cottonseed meal	1

In this connection it is pointed out also that feeding straw in the winter will make under certain circumstances the full utilization of summer grass. In a number of western states it frequently happens that grass goes to waste because feeders are unwilling to pay the high prices asked for it in the spring. With an abundance of straw on hand to feed the stock in winter, feeders can take advantage of the lower prices for shock corn in the fall to secure on reasonable terms at that time enough stock to pasture all the grass the following year.

The production of corn stover is shown to be that of areas across the country to approximately 945,000,000 tons a year. Over percentages of this stover are now being wasted.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance. W. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, says: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Tablets since Archer and Garrison were children. I have been using them for some years ago."

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before they are absorbed into the blood. Just as each when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of soot so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible refuse which if not eliminated from the system and which are then sent out into the blood through the very same channels by which the body gets its nutriment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy blood in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning a little hot water. This is a powerful purgative which is essential to the health of the body.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance. W. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, says: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Tablets since Archer and Garrison were children. I have been using them for some years ago."
