JAPAN TO PROMOTE PEACE RELATIONS

New Premier Says Idea of Antagonism to United States Is Absurd.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Thursday, October 10.—Takashi Hara, Japan's first commoner, premier and leader of the Seiyukwai party, said today in his first statement of his policies that he and his colleagues would constantly labor on the future questions arising out of the present war. Although the alliance with Great Britain would remain the corner stone of Japan's foreign relations, he said, he wished to emphasize that his special effort would be to promote friendly relations with the United States.

"I desire well that to the American people as conveniently as you can," he said, "because my colleagues and I keenly desire to see Japan and America brought closer together and every shadow of misunderstanding removed."

With democratic simplicity and directness, Premier Hara, discussed frankly all questions put to him and produced the impression that Japan, which for the last fifty years has been largely ruled by bureaucrats, has entered upon a new and significant period of constitutional progress, in which popular opinion is more effectively to guide the nation's policies.

Began Life as a Reporter.

Beginning life as a newspaper reporter, Hara's attainment to the premiership is regarded as proving that the time has arrived when in Japan, as in America, any citizen can hope to climb to the place of highest responsibility.

Premier Hara pointed out that previous attempts to establish the party system of government has been made, but called attention to the fact that the present ministry was the first to have come into power on so clearly based an idea of parties.

"I will make it my aim to develop party government into consonance with the age in which we live," he said.

Requested to explain his view on some criticism that Japan, like the German military autocracy, may some time become militarily aggressive, Premier Hara declared that he was amazed on visiting America eleven years ago, to hear the fears voiced by some Americans that Japan's military strength was designed against America.

Calls Idea "Absurd."

"This is, of course, absurd," he said. "History shows that Japan has never engaged voluntarily in wars. It is admitted that our war against Russia was purely defensive. We have no ambition nor intention of aggression or conquest. The present war shows that our agreements were defective and this will be remedied, but Japan has no idea except to be in a proper condition for defense.

"Our victories in the Chinese and Russian wars naturally led the Japanese people to admire their army, and this, in turn, may have led to a misconception abroad of the importance which Japan gives to armaments.

"The military influence is not so dominant in Japan as outsiders may believe. Our constitution is still young, and some of our people may favor a similar form of government to the German system, but the present ministry is united in the determination to secure the constitutional development of Japan along the popular lines which the war has so indisputably demonstrated as the world's tendency and the desire of the peoples of the world.

Voice of People Must Be Obeyed.

"The voice of the people must be obeyed and the press is the great medium for that voice. I have in mind several measures calculated to embody this popular movement in concrete form."

Speaking of China, Premier Hara said he held to the open door policy of the Lansing-Ishii agreement and would constantly adhere to the policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of China.

The same, he said, was true in the case of Russia, where Japan only wished a responsible government, whether a bolshevik or otherwise. Japan, however, would never agree to see Russia dominated by German influence.

In conclusion the premier declared that Japan's expedition into Siberia was the result of a consulation with the United States and the allies, and that Japan had no intention of taking independent action in the future.

TO COMPUTE HUN DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN BELGIUM

The Belgian government already has taken steps to compute the enormous total of the damage done to property in Belgium by the Germans during their occupation of the country, according to a cablegram to the Belgian legation.

The council of ministers met at Havre and discussed measures for insuring the resumption of the circulation of Belgian coinage in the liberated territory. The council decided on various modifications of the communal law to meet the changes in the internal situation due to the German evacuation.

"In order to demonstrate its gratitude and admiration for the army," the message adds, "the assembly took under consideration a plan which would greatly increase the compensation to the families of members of the militia."
